COL. RICE, OF THE 44TH PROMOTED TO A BRIGADIER GENERAL.—The gallant and heroic Col. J. C. Rice, of our 44th (Ellsworth) Regiment, was, on Thursday, presented with the commission of a Brigadier General. His host of friends in this city will rejoice at the advancement of this brave officer.

THE CORNING LIGHT INFANTRY.—S. W. Stryker has been appointed Lieut. Colonel of the Corning Light Infantry, headquarters at the Delavan House Block. Col. Stryker was formerly Colonel of the Ellsworth Regiment, and has seen service. He is universally admitted to be an excellent disciplinarian and thorough soldier. The Colonel of the Regiment is James J. Byrne, of New York. Here is an excellent opportunity to enlist in a fine regiment that will soon be filled to the maximum standard. The Captain who brings the first full company will be entitled to be appointed Major of the Regiment.

COL. JAMES C. RICE MADE A BRIGADIER GENERAL.—Our citizens will be pleased to learn that our former townsman, Col. JAMES C. RICE, has been made a Brigadier General. He has earned this honor by his long service, and by his gallantry in every battle fought by the Army of the Potomac. He originally went out as a subaltern in a New York Regiment, was engaged in the first battle of Bull Run, was subsequently promoted to the Lieut. Colonelcy of the 44th, of which, soon after going into active service, he was made Colonel, and of which, except when acting as Brigadier, he has had the immediate command through all its glorious history. We share fully in the general satisfaction with which this announcement will be received.

ONE more of the "bravest and best" of our young men has been stricken down in the deadly shock of battle. GEORGE B. WORRETT, of Co. K, 44th N. Y., was instantly killed in the battle of Gettysburg last week, by a rifle ball in the neck. He entered the service last summer with some of his fellow students of the Normal School at Albany, and has been a devoted, earnest and faithful Soldier of the Republic. He was a noble, Christian young man, and very many in this county learn the mournful news of his death with emotions of deep and sincere sorrow.

The Penn Yan ~~Albany~~ records the death of Geo. B. Worrett, of that village, a member of the 44th N. Y., who was instantly killed in the battle of Gettysburg. He entered the service last summer from the Normal School at Albany, in company with quite a number from our county.

A meeting will be held at the hotel of D. Mond, in Poolville, on Monday evening, July at 7 o'clock P. M., to take measures for sending representative from the town of Hamilton to the Ellsworth Regiment.

THE PEOPLE'S ELLSWORTH REGIMENT

To the Town and Ward Ellsworth Association of the State of New York.

The Executive Committee of the State Ellsworth Association announces that the General Government have accepted the "People's Ellsworth Regiment," but with the condition that the Regiment shall be ready for marching orders within twenty one days from the 24th ultimo. This condition the Committee find themselves unable to comply with, in consequence of the towns of the State having failed as yet to respond to their call, and thus furnish the men and means to make up the Regiment. Under these circumstances, the Committee have resolved to call together the men already selected, and to allow the towns which have furnished men and means, to select as many more men, from any town in their several counties, as they shall choose, up to the number of five men each, without raising any additional funds, and to muster them into service under the call of the Governor for 25,000 men. (Provided, that each man selected shall come up to the standard of qualification, heretofore prescribed by the Committee.)

By availing themselves of this opportunity, the Government will clothe and arm the men, and thus relieve the Committee from that expense; and the soldiers of this regiment can avail themselves of the provisions of General Order No. 15, which is as follows:—

"Every volunteer, non-commissioned officer, private, musician and artificer, who enters the service of the United States under this plan, shall be paid at the rate of fifty cents, and if a Cavalry volunteer twenty-five cents additional, in lieu of forage, for every twenty miles of travel from his home to the place of muster, the distance to be measured by the shortest usually travelled route; and when honorably discharged, an allowance, at the same rate, from the place of his discharge to his home and an addition thereto to the sum of one hundred dollars.

"Any volunteer who may be received into the service of the United States under this plan, and who may be wounded or otherwise disabled in the service, shall be entitled to the benefits which may have been or may be conferred on persons disabled in the regular service, and the legal heirs of such as die or may be killed in service, in addition to all arrears of pay and allowances, shall receive the sum of one hundred dollars.

With the money collected in the various towns and paid into the treasury of this Association, under our first plan of organization, the Executive Committee will purchase for the use of the regiment such additional articles of uniform, arms and wearing apparel, as will add to the comfort and efficiency of the men of this regiment.

Any town desiring to be represented in the regiment, and not heretofore having taken action, can select a man, on raising the sum of twenty dollars, or as many men as they chose at that rate, but all men selected must comply with our standard of qualifications, viz.:

That the soldier to be selected in each town and ward be an unmarried man; not less than five feet eight inches in height, active, able-bodied, and not to exceed thirty years of age, and of good moral character.

Arrangements have been made by which it is expected that the pay of the men will commence the day after their arrival in this city.

All men selected before the 8th day of August will report themselves for duty on that day, at the City Hall, in Albany.

All selected after that date will report themselves for duty at the camp of the regiment, in Albany, on the 20th of August.

We earnestly appeal to the patriotic citizens of every town in the State to furnish a representative for this regiment, and ask our young men to come forward and give their aid to the country in defence of its time honored flag.

We call upon the patriotic press of the State to give publicity to this circular.
By order of the Committee,
CHARLES HUGHES, Secretary.

The People's Regiment in Honor of the late Col. Ellsworth.

From present appearances, this is likely to be in all respects, the best regiment that ever trod the soil of America. Its members are to be composed of young, unmarried men, one from each town and ward throughout the State. These men are to be not less than five feet eight inches in height, under the age of thirty years, of moral worth, and, so far as possible, those who have some knowledge of military evolutions. They are selected by a committee of three, who are appointed by the subscribers to the fund from the several towns and wards. The subscription lists, as soon as completed, should be sent to Hon. ERASTUS CORNING, Treasurer of the Association, at Albany, and a duplicate list to CHAS. HUGHES, Clerk of the Court of Appeals, (for record and publication) who is the Secretary of the Association. The sum of $150,000 is to be raised by subscription in sums not to exceed one dollar each, by means of which this Regiment will be armed with the most approved weapons, costume and tent equipage. It is to be accompanied with at least two howitzers.

We understand the Executive Committee have under consideration the most effective brass-mounted Enfield rifle, at a cost of $40 a piece, and are hastening to conclude as to the uniform, and receiving propositions for the best camp equipage. We learn, also, that the Committee are in the daily receipt of over one hundred and fifty letters from different parts of the State, enclosing large subscriptions, offering to enlist, and making inquiries in reference to the project. Those who could not assuage their patriotic ardor by so limited a subscription as one dollar, have added the names of their entire family, and then follows, "and twenty others"—subscribing one dollar for each.

The friends of our much-respected fellow-citizen, EDWARD P. CHAPIN, the present acting Assistant District Attorney, are pressing his name for a captaincy in the proposed regiment with every assurance of success, and if they succeed, as we are morally certain they will, Erie county will be honored with "the right of the regiment."

Subscriptions will be opened in every town and ward in Erie County, and the regiment is to be completed and mustered in Albany during the present month. The towns and wards in our county should not contribute less than one hundred dollars each, and before next Saturday night, if the call be promptly responded to, our subscription lists and money will be off for Albany. Erie county has no regiment yet in active service. The one in Elmira is not likely to go at present. Our people now have an opportunity to send a soldier from each ward and town to the best regiment the nation has ever seen, and we feel assured that they will gladly contribute their mite towards this noble and patriotic undertaking.

THE PEOPLE'S ELLSWORTH REGIMENT.—

Four of the companies belonging to this Regiment held an election yesterday, which resulted in the selection of STRYKER, REVERE, CHAPIN and CONNER, as Captains; and LARABEE, McROBERTS and SIDWAY, as First Lieutenants. The proceedings were conducted with entire unanimity, and the very best feeling prevails among the men.

The Regiment is steadily filling up, every day bringing additional members from different quarters of the State, and those now assembled at the barracks come up fully to the standard originally adopted as the passport to admission. They possess all the physical qualifications that could be required, and are pronounced by all who have visited their quarters to be the genuine material for soldiers. They are under drill six hours during the day, instructed by experienced and competent officers, most of them having belonged to the original Chicago Zouaves. Their leisure hours are devoted in great part to athletic exercises—fencing, boxing, ball-playing—while their evenings are passed in singing, a glee club having been formed, in aid of which some tuneful citizen has furnished them with a medeon and a hundred song books.

They all read the newspapers and keep posted up in the progress of the war. In their ranks are quite a number of graduates of Yale, Union and other colleges. Profanity and intemperance are utterly tabooed among them. Indeed, although they have been together but a week, a temperance organization has already been established. So far, the Regiment is all that can be desired, and bids fair to be an honor to themselves and the State.

Ellsworth Regiment.

At a meeting of the People's Ellsworth Regiment, held at the Barracks on Monday last, Messrs. I. Russel, S. W. Tanner and E. A. Nash were appointed a Committee to draft resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting. The following preamble and resolutions were presented and unanimously adopted:—

We hold in grateful remembrance the late gallant ELLSWORTH, whose short eventful career had won the admiration of all—combining in his life the strictest habit, the highest military talent, the loftiest patriotism; and, whereas, we deem all those acts commendable and useful, which have for their object to hold up before our soldiery his bright example as worthy of imitation; and, whereas, we deem that they not alone fight the battles of our country who enter the field and shoulder the musket, but also they who seek to cheer and elevate these—who seek to kindle anew in each bosom a purer patriotism, a higher aspiration, a nobler manhood; therefore,

1. Resolved, That we, the members of the People's Ellsworth Regiment, hereby express our approbation of the ballad entitled "Ellsworth's Avengers," and tender our sincere thanks to A. Laura Hudson, its talented authoress. The song finds a ready response in every heart, and is worthy of him of whom it is written.

2. Resolved, That we extend our thanks to George S. Dawson for his generous donation of a sufficient number of copies of the "Ellsworth's Avengers" for the Glee Club of this Regiment.

3. Resolved, That a copy of the above Resolutions be forwarded to A. Laura Hudson, and a copy of the same be published in the city papers.

J. RUSSELL,
S. W. TANNUR,
E. A. NASH,
Committee.

ALBANY, August 15, 1861.

THE PEOPLES' ELLSWORTH REGIMENT.—

This Regiment has now about four hundred good men in camp and about two hundred more are being raised for it.

To fill up the Regiment, much exertion on the part of its friends will be required, and the Executive Committee earnestly urge every town in the State to send forward their representatives at once.

We shall receive daily all that are sent according to our last circular, until the regiment is full, which it probably will not be earlier than the 10th of September.

Will our friends in the counties of Wyoming, Steuben, Tompkins, Monroe, Onondoga, Orleans, Oswego, Broome and Genesee take action to send forward their representatives at once?

Speech of Rev. A. D. Mayo,
 At Tweddle Hall, Wednesday Even'g, Sept. 25,
ON THE PRESENTATION OF UNIFORM TO
CAPT. ALLEN,
 Of the People's Ellsworth Regiment.

CAPTAIN ALLEN—A number of your personal friends, in this city, desire to testify their interest in you by the gift of a suit of Military Clothes; and they have requested me to present this uniform to you to-night, with a few words of encouragement appropriate to the occasion.

It must be no common emergency which draws together so large an assembly to witness a ceremony of this kind; which commands the teacher to leave his school-room and lead men to the field of battle; and requests the clergyman to deliver to him the weapons and equipments appropriate to his martial calling. Nothing but a danger of the last magnitude could justify you in forsaking your noble occupation of instructor of the young for that of captain of soldiers; or excuse me for bidding you "God speed" in your new career. For the highest work in which man can be employed is the education of his fellow beings; and things must be in a desperate strait when a successful teacher has the right to change his occupation. But that emergency has arisen; that danger is upon us; we are just in that strait that every man who has the strength and ability to serve his country on the field of battle should become a soldier; and every man who has not this kind of ability should use that which he has to send him forth and sustain him with all his might.

For during the last year a power has risen up into armed revolt against the very existence of a Republican Government and the highest form of modern society in our beloved country. It would seem that our glorious Western Continent had been reserved to afford mankind a new opportunity to establish a form of human society which should secure the best welfare of the whole people. After four thousand years of almost perpetual war, the Eastern Continent lies still in the bonds of despotic governments, and a state of society constructed for the elevation of the few upon the oppression of the many. There is not a people on that entire Continent which chooses its own rulers or guides its own destiny. But this is not the end of human affairs. Man is still young, and ready for new enterprise; and here, on this virgin continent, has the Creator opened a magnificent field for his future career. Here we have fondly hoped he might throw off the chains of old dynasties, casts and superstitions, and learn to live in the exercise of that spiritual and civil freedom, which is the crown of manhood, whereby he may reach the noblest ends of existence.

For two centuries that portion of the Continent included in the loyal States of our Union, has led all the people upon it in their march towards Liberty organised into a free society and a Republican Government. We have, one by one, put away from us every obstacle to success in this great experiment. We conquered the savage tribes that resisted our occupation of the Garden of the New World. We drove back the two leading powers of Europe, France and England, from their early attempts to keep us in a state of provincial dependence. We abolished a national church; a hereditary aristocracy; and set free every bondman on our soil. We invited the people of every nation and clime to abide with us. We have subdued nature and become prosperous, intelligent, powerful; and have now declared before God and man that these United States of America, as the leading civilization on this Continent, shall continue forever to be what our sainted fathers saw in vision, and wrote out for us in words little short of inspiration.

But now the leading class in eleven States of this Union have revolted against this. They declare that our idea of society, a Government of the whole people moulded by the highest influences of modern times, is a failure. They have formally and solemnly set themselves to destroy our nationality. Not in any hasty passion, but by long preparation, by elaborate conspiracy, by the forms of revolution, have they torn away from us, erected a hostile Government, and declared war against us. We forbore with them as long as we supposed they were madmen; now we see they are sane, determined in their preference for despotism. We know what they are about. We now see that the reigning class in these seceded States is only the old Satan of despotic society, which has crushed out the liberties of every people in the old world. What the Pharaohs were to the Hebrews; what Philip was to Greece; what the Caesars were to Rome; what the Bourbons were to France; and the Stuarts to England; and the Hapsburg to Hungary; and Bomba to Naples; what every tyrant in ancient or modern times has ever been to the mass of the people; that is the league of generals and politicians and priests which has elected itself into that portentous combination, the so-called Confederate States of America! It is no new thing that this Government proposes to do; its enterprise is as old as the world and dates back to that day when Satan erected the first despotism on the virgin soil of Eden. It is simply another attempt of the everlasting enemy of mankind to overthrow a nation that promises to become the leader of a Continent and the light of the world. Jefferson Davis and the men arrayed with him are not fighting for any such small game as to preserve their control over 4,000,000 of persecuted and enslaved Africans; but to put down the entire system of Republican Government on this Continent, and establish upon its ruins an aristocratical Government wherein the few shall forever rule the many. These men see that the like of them have succeeded in every age in subduing and governing the people. They see that every attempt on this Continent to found a Republic has failed. They have succeeded in conquering the people in eleven States of this Union, and throwing four other States into civil war. They have every despotic influence in the world on their side, from the oldest numbskull that wears a crown, down to the seediest penny-a-liner that disposes of the American Union over his chop and pot of beer in his thundering leader in the London Times. They have an army of 200,000 men besieging the entire border of the loyal States; why should not they succeed?

My friends and fellow-citizens, they will succeed unless we, the entire people of the loyal States of this Union, unite at once, and concentrate every energy and appliance God has given us to put them down. They don't want negotiation; they don't want any compromise; they don't want peace; but before all other things they want victory. They want to subdue this entire Nation to their style of government. They want to brush away our whole order of society and establish in its place that which now curses the old world and has cursed it for four thousand years. They will try their uttermost to subdue our whole country. If they fail in this they will try as hard to sunder it, and carry off enough to make a new oligarchy: and failing in this, they will prolong the war and work all the mischief they can for us and our posterity. They are the strongest power on this continent to-day except one—that is, the Government of the United States; and that Government consists of the people of twenty-three loyal States, not yet half awake to the magnitude of their danger or the majestic proportions of the strife in which they are engaged.

My friends, officers and soldiers of the People's Ellsworth Regiment—You are marching along the only path to a settlement of this great conflict. Somebody must be utterly defeated beyond hope of a rally before there can be any peace in these United States. If you do your whole duty in the field; if we who stay behind do our whole duty at home; if every man who can swing a sword or shoulder a rifle, holds himself as a minute man for his country's call; if every rich man holds his money for the order of his Government; if every man of gifts and culture lays them all on the altar of his native land; if every woman leads man in this great work, as woman always has been the guiding angel to every achievement of humanity; if we can forget old enemies, old parties; forget the dear loaves and fishes, stale or new; forget our offices and our self-seeking, and close up as one heroic, invincible band of brothers, we shall conquer. We can have a complete victory—a victory that shall bury these satellites of despotism so deep that no son of theirs, to the remotest generation, will dare to ask, "where is their grave?" We can make the name of Jefferson Davis and his company of politicians and captains and parsons so infamous, that the name of Benedict Arnold will emerge into a sort of respectability. We can so effectually dispose of this last attempt to crush the people of the United States, that whoever henceforth desires to enter business in that line will turn his back even on the region of the border ruffian and the wilds of Texas in disgust and despair. We can bring every revolted State to submit to the Government, and obey whatever administration the people establish at Washington: and we can make that Government such an one as our blessed fathers foresaw—a government founded on the golden rule of equal justice to all mankind.

So, Captain, when any man, at home or abroad, asks you what you are fighting for, you can reply, What good thing am I not fighting for? You go to fight for modern society;—which means, the preservation of every thing which has been gained during the troubled centuries of the past. You fight that you can go to the ballot-box and vote for the man you choose. that I can preach the Gospel as I understand it; that these schoolmistresses who gave you your epaulets can teach the history of liberty to our children; that the poor man can own his wages and become independent by honorable toil; that our homes may be sacred, peaceful and secure; that all those numberless blessings which made us a free and happy people may be retained and given to our posterity. If ever a good man ought to fight now is the time. Nobler than the cause of Greece, when her little armies marched against the swarms of Xerxes; nobler than the cause of England, when Cromwell bent the handsome neck of Charles Stuart under the axe; nobler than the cause of America, when Washington drew his sword, is our cause to-day. There never was a time when there was half so much in the world worth preserving as is our Government and order of society to-day; and you are fighting to preserve it all. The freedom, progress, success of every class of men is involved in our success. If you conquer, every man, woman and child among all these 30,000,000 rise towards the light. If you are defeated, all as go down towards that slavery which the new Tyranny declares its chief cornerstone.

We send you forth to be fit soldiers of such a cause. We shall not be satisfied with mere physical bravery, or any animal courage. Your enemies have plenty of that; any well-trained war horse has more than either of you. We shall demand of you the highest order of moral heroism, which includes all the courage of which intelligent and religious men are capable. First conquer your lower selves by discipline, that places you beyond reach of panic on the field, or any evil course in camp. Be temperate; be patient; be cool; be enduring: be the last to hurry your comrades into any madness of attack, and the last to leave any post your country calls you to defend. Leave to your foes the luxury of riot and plunder, and insubordination, and profanity, and insane rashness of soul. They belong to the old order of things, and are going to their own place. But your columns face the Orient; your banners shine with the light of God's new day; your songs prophecy of the glorious ages to come. They are the soldiers of a hoary tyranny struggling against its fate. You are the People's regiment; the soldiers of modern ideas; the volunteers in a war for the regeneration of man. Fill your souls so full of the inspiration of your sacred cause that your weapons of war shall become instinct with the life that leads you on. Then your bullets will fly winged with a message of freedom to mankind. Then the line of fire that runs along your platoons shall flash a light down the vista of the generations to come. Then your charge of bayonets shall be the rush of the irresistible future, before which all things decaying and detested of man and God goes down. March, officers, soldiers, of the People's Ellsworth Regiment! The spirit of our departed heroes will show you the foe; we, the people, are behind you to fill your broken ranks, and make you great our own.

THE PEOPLE'S ELLSWORTH REGIMENT.
ITS ORIGIN, RISE AND PROGRESS.

From the Albany Morning Express, 19th.

Elmer E. Ellsworth was born near Mechanicville, in Saratoga county, N. Y., April 23, 1837, and was, therefore, at the time of his death only twenty-three years of age. In his early youth he manifested strong military inclinations. He lived at home until twelve or thirteen years of age, during which time he received a good common-school education. He was always a close and diligent student. On leaving home he went to Troy, and was employed for a number of years as clerk in a store in that city. But the narrow limits of the counter were not sufficient for the development of his talents and ambition and leaving his business, he went to New York, where he remained about two years. Some six years since he removed to Chicago, arriving there penniless, and without a profession or certain means of support; but by his industry, perseverance, and energy, he soon achieved an honorable position in that city. The exciting exploits of the French Zouaves at Sebastopol led him to investigate this description of drill. He was at this time connected with the National Guard Battalion of Chicago, and on the 19th of March, 1856, the Chicago Cadets were organized into a company, under the direction of the Battalion, the object being to secure the services of the very best members of the Battalion, and those most likely to enter into the spirit of the work, in order that the new organization might excel all others in the country in drilling in every branch of tactics. Capt. Ellsworth was chosen to the command, and he and the company were instructed in their duties by the present Rebel General of the Kentucky forces, Robert Buckner, who was then in command of the Battalion. After close attention to military study and drill, the Cadets made an excursion eastward in 1860. The novelty of their drill, their fantastic dress, and the precision of their evolutions, attracted universal attention, not only from military men, but the public generally; and Zouave military organizations sprung into life in nearly all the Northern, Eastern and Western States.

On the return of the Zouaves to Chicago, Ellsworth relinquished the command, and devoted himself to the study of law, in President Lincoln's office. He was very much beloved by the President, and accompanied him to Washington, and was one of the most active and attentive of Mr. Lincoln's traveling companions. It was expected that he would be placed in some important position in the War Department, but it is not probable that such a position would have been in accordance with his desires. Immediately upon the outbreak of the war he sought active service, and went forward to New York and commenced the organization of a Zouave Regiment from members of the Fire Department of that city. The freedom and dash of the Zouave drill exactly suited the spirit of the firemen, and in an incredibly short time a full regiment had been formed, and was ready for Washington. To aid him in the undertaking he called around him several of his old comrades in the Chicago Cadets, all of whom took charge of companies and labored diligently in perfecting the organization.

In due time the Regiment proceeded to Washington, and were assigned a position of great importance and danger at Alexandria. They entered the town on the morning of the 24th of May, and soon after landing Col. Ellsworth observed a secession flag waving over the Marshall House. He entered the hotel with a few men, and enquired of a person whom he met who put it up. The man replied he did not know, that he was only a boarder there. Col. Ellsworth, Lieut. Wisner, the Chaplain of the Regiment, Mr. House, a volunteer aid, and four privates, went up to the roof, when Col. Ellsworth cut down the flag. The party were returning down the stairs, preceded by private Brownell. As they left the attic, the man who said he was a boarder, but who proved to be the landlord, Jackson, was met in the hall, having a double barreled gun, which he levelled at Francis E. Brownell, one of the Zouaves. The latter struck up the gun with his musket, when Jackson pulled both triggers, the contents lodging in the body of Ellsworth. Brownell, with the quickness of lightning, levelled his musket at Jackson and fired, the ball striking him on the bridge of the nose, cutting through the skull, killing him instantly. As he fell Brownell thrust him through with his bayonet, and the assassin immediately expired.

It is unnecessary we should refer to the deep sorrow and gloom which hung over the loyal States for weeks after this melancholy tragedy. It fired the blood of the North, and a cry for "Revenge!" went up from every city, town, village and hamlet. On the morning of the 25th of May the Express called for vengeance on the accursed traitors who were seeking to destroy the Government, not only, but to assassinate true and loyal citizens wherever they could be found. The feeling increased and became widespread, and the people resolved that the death of the gallant Ellsworth should be most terribly avenged.

On the afternoon of the 25th of May, the day succeeding the murder of Col. Ellsworth, a communication appeared in the Evening Journal, over the signature of "Retribution," from which we made the following extract:

Let the People of New York, his native State mingle with their tears, practical plans for avenging his death. Let each town and ward, in every county and city in the State, provide by subscriptions of $1 or less, for the complete equipment of one man, to be selected from said town or ward, the men to rendezvous at ALBANY at as early a day as possible, and be organized into a Regiment or Regiments, to be called the "Ellsworth Avengers." Let the men be between the ages of 22 and 30, of undoubted courage, and models of physical development, and endurance, to be enrolled for the war."

The author of these suggestions was CHARLES BELL, Esq., then an Alderman of the 9th Ward.

On the evening of the 25th of May, an organization was effected in this city to carry out the suggestions made by Ald. Bell, and the following gentlemen were elected officers of the "Ellsworth Association of the State of New York":—

President—Hon. Geo. H. Thacher, Mayor of Albany.

Treasurer—Hon. Erastus Corning, M. C.
Secretary—Charles Hughes, Clerk Court of Appeals.

Executive Committee—Hon. James M. Cook, John K. Porter, Hon. Lymah Tremain, Jacob I. Werner, Henry A. Brigham.

It is not necessary we should repeat the details of the proposed organization, as they are familiar to nearly every person.

The officers of the Association immediately set at work to carry out the plan proposed, and it met with great favor in nearly every section of the State. Our neighbors in Troy seemed to be disposed to find a great deal of fault at the time, and several very harsh and ungentlemanly articles appeared in the papers of that city, in some of which the motives of the officers of the Association were impugned, and in others they were charged with initiating the movement in order to secure positions for friends and favorites. To the credit of the State be it said, that this feeling of animosity—engendered wholly by prejudice and envy—did not extend beyond the limits of our sister city; and that it continued to exist, and still exists, we judge, from the fact that the city of Troy has not furnished a single member for the Regiment!

Spite of the opposition of our Trojan neighbors, the officers of the Association pressed forward in their great and good work, devoting their time and means to its advancement, fully resolved on carrying it on to success. Of the labor performed by the Secretary, Hon. Charles D. Hughes we desire to speak briefly. For months he has been almost constantly employed in the work, receiving and responding to hundreds of letters, besides attending to scores of matters which claimed the attention of the Executive Committee. In order to forward the movement, and to avoid any delay, he remained in town during all the summer months, and for no other purpose than to faithfully discharge the duties imposed upon him. This much we have deemed necessary to state as an act of simple justice to Mr. Hughes.

About the middle of August, the men who had been selected as members from different sections of the State were ordered to report for duty at Albany, which they did, and were quartered at the Barracks, under a General Order, which provided that all regiments or companies raised in the State should be under the direction and control of the Governor. To facilitate the work of organization, the Executive Committee modified their original requirements, which had the effect to cause renewed activity throughout the State, and in a short time men were sent forward from nearly every County in the State. The Executive Committee, who were permitted by the Governor to name the officers of the regiment, selected Capt. S. W. Stryker of New York, to take command of the regiment, and he immediately reported himself for duty, and has been most untiring in his efforts to perfect the regiment in discipline and efficiency.

Colonel Stryker is quite a young man, but 26 years of age, and yet he is every inch a soldier and an officer. He was born in Harlington, Somerset Co., N. J. In 1854 he moved to Chicago, where he united himself with the National Guard Battalion, which gave life to the celebrated Cadets. He joined the Cadets with Colonel Ellsworth, and was one of his most devoted and warmest friends. He was for a time Captain of the Cadets, and when the Governor of Illinois called for volunteers to fight the Mormons, he raised a company and tendered their services to go to Utah. When Colonel Ellsworth conceived the design of organizing the Fire Zouaves, he called about him several of his old comrades. Col. Stryker was among the first to respond; and he, together with others of the Cadets, accepted positions as Lieutenants for the express purpose of instructing the men in the school of the soldier, and perfecting them in drill and discipline. Col. S. was chosen 1st Lieutenant of Co. B, and besides was acting Adjutant of the regiment at the time of Ellsworth's death. He came on with the remains, and had charge of them until they were interred. As soon as he was informed of the proposed organization of the Ellsworth regiment, he resigned from the 1st Fire Zouaves and applied for an appointment in the new regiment. The Executive Committee, after very careful deliberation, unanimously resolved that the then Lieut. Stryker was just the man for the Colonelcy, and assigned him that position. The wisdom of the Committee has been most clearly demonstrated. They could not have found a man who could have given more general satisfaction to the members of the regiment, nor one better qualified for the highly responsible duties of commanding officer. Thoroughly skilled in military knowledge, a man of undoubted courage, and a rigid disciplinarian, he has succeeded in bringing his regiment, already, to a state of perfection that would hardly be looked for in an organization a year old. He has the faculty of making himself thoroughly understood by his men, and while he demands a most strict obedience to orders, he at the same time personally looks after the welfare of his men, and by his friendly intercourse with them wins their confidence and respects. It may well be said "he is the right man in the right place."

After Col. Stryker took command he immediately commenced drilling those at the Barracks, and perfecting the details, of companies, in order that everything might move harmoniously, and result in the complete success of the undertaking. As recruits arrived daily they were assigned places, and at once began the study of a soldier. And so the work proceeded, day after day, until the ranks of the Regiment were filled up to the full number, ten hundred and forty-six men—men of character, standing and intelligence, such men as we might well believe to be the representatives of the people of the State of New York.

Albany, Erie, and Herkimer counties each furnished more members than any other single County in the State, the two former furnishing a full company each, and the latter the greater portion of a company. Nearly every County in the State is represented in the Regiment, by some of the very best young men of their respective localities—men who came up to the requirements of the Committee, and who have shown themselves to be gentlemen in every sense of the word. The rapid improvement of the Regiment we think can be easily accounted for. Each member felt that he was assigned to a proud and responsible position, that he was the representative of a constituency who would expect from him a faithful account of his stewardship, and that he could not be unmindful of his duty, without bringing reproach and discredit upon those who had conferred honor upon him. Actuated and prompted by such feelings each and every man devoted himself assiduously to his task, which was rendered pleasant by the care and attention of the officers, and their personal endeavors to instruct them. Thus the Regiment has been brought to its high standard, and thus it will become one of the best, if not the very best, organized in the State.

The officers of the Regiment are all excellent soldiers, as is evident from the excellent drill, and the discipline maintained. They are all young, active, energetic and intelligent, and endeared to their men. We venture the assertion, that in no Regiment can there be found such a cordiality of feeling as exists between the rank and file of this really crack organization.

The Lieutenant Colonel is James C. Rice, of New York, a brother-in-law of W. A. Rice, Esq., of the firm of McClure & Co., of this city. He was formerly a Captain in the Garibaldi Guards, and came from Virginia to enter the Ellsworth's. He is 30 years of age, and is well qualified for the position he holds.

The Major is James McKown of this city. When the Barracks were opened in this city, Brig. Gen. Rathbone assigned him a position on his Staff, and he acted as Major. He has seen service, having done duty during the Mexican war. Those who know him best, know him to be a good soldier and a competent officer.

The Adjutant is E. B. Knox. He was born in Eastport, Me., and is 25 years of age. He was one of the Chicago Cadets, and was known as the "Little Corporal." He joined the Fire Zouaves under Ellsworth, and acted as 1st Lieutenant of Co. A. He has seen service, and hard service too, as he was at the battle of Bull Run with the Zouaves. To speak of his qualifications for the position of Adjutant would be superfluous, as he is known to be as good a soldier as ever wore an epaulette.

The Quartermaster is Frederick R. Munday, of Seneca Falls. He was taken from the ranks and promoted to the position he now holds, on account of his peculiar fitness to discharge its duties.

The Surgeon is Dr. — Frothingham of New York, and the Assistant Surgeon Dr. — Bissell, of Erie County, both gentlemen skilled in medicine, and enjoying the reputation of being at the head of their profession.

The Chaplain of the Regiment is Rev. Loomis H. Pease, of Saratoga. He is a man of very complete and thorough education, being a graduate of Williams College, receiving the highest honors of his class. He is an eloquent speaker, and several years traveled in Europe, where he visited the camps, and became quite conversant with the regime of the Continental and English Military Departments, peculiarly qualifying him for the position he holds. He is a man of very liberal views, and free from any sectarianism. He is 35 years of age, very social in his disposition, and highly respected by the Regiment. His powers of endurance have been pretty well tested, as he traveled all over the Holy Land on foot, showing pretty conclusively that his marching capacity is of the first order.

The members of the Non-commissioned Staff are as follows.

Geo. B. Henderson, Sergt. Major; 24 years of age, of Utica.

Henry C. Howlett, Quartermaster's Sergeant; 28 years of age, of Mohawk, Herkimer co.

Co. K.—Captain, Wm. H. Miller; 1st Lieutenant, ——— Jones; 2d do. F. R. Munday.

We have thus briefly sketched the origin, rise and progress of this splendid Regiment, which is to leave our city, for Washington, on Monday afternoon next. That it will do credit to the Empire State, will not be doubted by those who know the material of which it is composed. The Ellsworth's will make their mark wherever they may go, and their war cry will be "REMEMBER ELLSWORTH!"

The gentleman comprising the Executive Committee of the Ellsworth Association, to whom we are mainly indebted for this unexcelled military organization, are deserving of the highest praise for their energy and perseverance, and for the manner in which the entire work has been managed. The whole expense incurred by the committee, in perfecting the organization, will not reach one hundred and fifty dollars. With the money raised by subscriptions throughout the State, a complete fatigue uniform (Zouave style) has been purchased, as also many necessary articles of clothing. The Regiment will, therefore, leave the city as completely equipped as any that has gone from this State.

The citizens of the State of New York have every reason to feel proud of the Ellsworth's, as we have no doubt they are; and we know that we express the sentiment of the people when we say, that they have every confidence in their ability and willingness to maintain its honor, and fight manfully against all Rebels and traitors wherever they may find them.
