Alderman MURPHY, of the Sixth Ward, and Mr. Saxon, one of the celebrated firm of Saxon & Co., the Monitor and iron-clad builders, were among the conscripts. About midway in the proceedings the door of the wheel flew open and let many ballots fall upon the floor. The interruption was, however, only momentary.

The Sub-Districts heretofore have corresponded numerically with the Wards; hereafter they do not.

At 2 o'clock the afternoon session was opened, and Capt. GARGOIR delegated Messrs. DEANE, TAYLOR and VAN BRUNT to count the ballots for or the Seventh Ward. They announced the number to be 1,500, of which 375 are to be drawn as the quota for the District, with the 50 per cent. additional.

The first name taken was that of JAMES WARD, Atlantic-avenue and Classon. The others are herewith arranged alphabetically:

EIGHTH WARD.

The Third Sub-District is bounded by Flatbush-avenue, the city line of Brooklyn, Third-avenue, First-street, Gowanus Canal and the shore of the river as far as the New-Utrecht line, and the Special Committee chosen to count and examine the ballots was composed of Alderman TALLMADGE, Supervisor McGRATH and Messrs. SHERMAN and DANIELS; the arrangement being that an Alderman and Supervisor of each Ward should be present to perform such duty. 909 ballots were put in the wheel, 133 to be drawn.

NINTH WARD.

The Fourth Sub-District is bounded by the city line, Flatbush-avenue, Flushing-avenue, Broadway, Nostrand-street, De Kalb-avenue, Atlantic-street and Bedford-avenue. A recess of an hour having been enjoyed, this final section of the day's draft was taken up about 3 P. M., and Alderman TIERNAN and Supervisor HERMANN proceeded to examine and count the ballots, which they announced to be 2,600 in number to be deposited in the wheel, whereof 376 were to be drawn. The drawing then proceeded.
