REPORT OF THE ADJUTANT GENERAL

ALBANY, December 31, 1933

SIR:—Herewith is submitted the report of The Adjutant General of the State respecting the administration of the Division of Military and Naval Affairs of the Executive Department for the year 1933, pursuant to Section 17 of the Military Law.

NATIONAL GUARD

In the National Guard a high state of efficiency continues to be maintained. The active strength of the formation on this date is 1,386 officers, 20 warrant officers and 18,358 other ranks.

For changes in organization, field training dates, service school graduates, small arms matches, award of decorations and other pertinent data see Appendix D.

FEDERAL STATUS

In the report of the undersigned for the year 1931 the matter of a proposed amendment to the National Defense Act was noted. On June 15th of this year the President of the United States approved this amendment, which changes the status of the National Guard of the various States to the extent of constituting it a reserve component of the Army in peace as well as in war.

The effect of the amendment is twofold in its beneficial provisions respecting National Guard forces. Namely, making them immediately available in the event of a national emergency, through a "call" by the President without the necessity of "draft" under the provisions of a selective service law.

Again under the new amendment all units of the National Guard who in the future may enter Federal service will retain their State identity and at the conclusion of such service return to their State status.

Beyond this the amendment makes no material change in the organization, policies and functions of the National Guard of the respective States.

The annual report of the Commanding General, New York National Guard, is attached hereto as Appendix A.

NAVAL MILITIA

The Naval Militia during the past year has continued to maintain a high state of morale and general efficiency. The active strength of the formation on this date is 137 officers and 1,542 other ranks. The annual report of the Commanding Officer, New York Naval Militia, is attached hereto as Appendix B.

RESERVE COMPONENTS

The National Guard Reserve has a strength on this date of 13 officers and 2,126 other ranks.

The State Reserve List has a strength on this date of 387 officers.

The Retired List has a strength on this date of 204 officers.

The Independent Organizations recognized by the State have an active membership on this date of 650 officers and other ranks.

TOTAL STRENGTH

The total strength of all uniformed forces indicated above is as follows:

Active officers and enlisted men.....	21,443
Reserve and Retired officers and enlisted men.....	2,730
Independent organizations	650
Total	24,823

FINANCIAL OPERATIONS

A statement of financial operations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1933, including State appropriations for the general expenses of the military establishment, expenses for armory maintenance and federal funds allocated and expended during the same period is attached hereto as Appendix C.

STATE ARSENAL

The general activities of the State Arsenal are reported as follows:

Transportation of Federal property required the issue of 767 government bills of lading. Troops to and from Camps of Instruction, special service schools and other activities used 673 transportation requests.

State funds for the several activities at the Arsenal were requested by 225 State requisitions and 591 State vouchers were issued. State purchase orders to the number of 200 were issued for supplies used in this building.

An analysis of the operations of the property accounting section of the Arsenal for the calendar year discloses the following:

and Disbursing Officer, which agents are appointed by the Adjutant General of the State.

Funds for expenses, camps of instruction, are secured on estimates compiled and submitted by the U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer to the National Guard Bureau, for all expenses incident to the training camps, payable from Federal funds. In defense of such estimates, it is necessary for the U. S. Subsistent stores in the value of $120,422.35 were purchased and issued by the U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer. In addition to this, $22,027.17 for fuel and $11,311.72 for forage was expended and these commodities issued by the U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer.

Funds have been obtained from the Public Works Administration for the following construction at National Guard Camps in this State, allocated as follows:

Locality	Character of Work	Estimated Cost

Plans and specifications covering the above projects are completed and have been submitted to the Chief, National Guard Bureau for approval. After such approval, invitations for bids will be published and contracts made for this construction by the U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer. The disbursement of funds for Public Works Administration differs from the usual, and an additional symbol number to be used on all checks covering expenditures against these funds has been assigned to the U. S. Property and Disbursing Officer. These funds must be accounted for separately from other funds.

Fifty-three invitations for bids were issued during the calendar year 1933, resulting in the execution of 153 formal contracts and 102 Purchase Orders. Twenty-three leases on target ranges, etc., throughout the State were renewed, inasmuch as existing law and regulations require that leases be made for one year only, renewal options covering the balance of the term of the lease.

A total of 169 requisitions for motor transport supplies and equipment were filled at this arsenal. Forty-one (41) motor vehicles were overhauled for use at this arsenal and camps of instructions and 29 for use by other units. Sixty-one (61) repair jobs, such as body repairs, minor motor repairs, etc., were completed.

The sum of $3,465.68 was obtained from the National Guard Bureau for the repair and maintenance of camp sites for the period subsequent to the last current field training season of 1933.

The motorization of the Light Field Artillery has been accomplished in the 104th F. A., which is now equipped with 1½ ton trucks and station wagons and pneumatic tires with roller bearing wheels on the 75 M/M field pieces. It is expected that the 105th F. A. will be similarly equipped in the next year.

The issue of the new serge and elastique uniform has been made to a few of the regiments and Brigade Headquarters Companies. The National Guard Bureau will furnish additional uniforms this coming year and it is believed that the entire guard will be equipped by 1935.

Due to lessened appropriations economy has been necessary in all issues since July 1, 1933, and all requisitions for equipment and supplies have been carefully scrutinized to prevent waste of funds. The co-operation of the field has helped to materially decrease demands for clothing and material and made it possible to keep troops equipped in the face of materially decreased appropriations for such items after July 1, 1933.

NEW ARMORY CONSTRUCTION

During the 1933 session of the Legislature appropriation was made and approved in the sum of $100,000, for an armory for the 106th Ambulance Company, 102nd Medical Regiment, Ticonderoga.

On December 5th of this year the new armory of the 106th Field Artillery, at Buffalo, was formally opened with impressive ceremonies by Lieutenant Governor M. William Bray.

Tentative sites have been inspected and preliminary drawings are being prepared for the proposed armory at Schenectady.

Bids for the new armory at Ticonderoga were received December 29th and contracts will be awarded and the work started early in the coming year.

EXPLANATION

Details with respect to requirements indicated above, are as follows:

Schenectady.—Present structure built in 1897 (is 36 years old). Originally built to accommodate two infantry units. At present occupied by a battalion headquarters and four units of infantry. A new armory should be provided at a cost of $450,000, plus cost to county for land.

Corning.—Present structure rented and inadequate for proper training of a medical unit. An armory should be provided at a cost of $100,000, plus cost to county for land.

Utica Infantry.—Present structure built in 1894 (is 39 years old). Originally built to accommodate two infantry units. At present occupied by battalion headquarters and three infantry units. It is estimated that additions could be made to this armory which would provide adequate quarters at a cost of $200,000, plus cost to county for additional land.

Syracuse artillery.—Present structure rented. A battery of field artillery organized in 1911 has occupied the Arena building at a rental that has increased from $3,500 to $9,500. A modern armory should be built for this unit at a cost of $300,000, plus cost to county for land.

Middletown.—Present structure built in 1890 (is 43 years old). Originally built for one infantry unit, now occupied by a battery of field artillery. Has no accommodations for animals. An addition to this armory should be provided at a cost of $100,000.

Mount Vernon.—Present structure built in 1898 (is 35 years old). Originally built for one infantry unit. At present occupied by a battery of field artillery. Has no accommodations for animals. Is the smallest State armory and entirely inadequate for present day requirements. A new armory should be provided at a cost of $250,000.

Poughkeepsie.—Present structure built in 1891 (is 42 years old). Originally built for one infantry unit. At present occupied by two units of field artillery. Has no accommodations for animals. A new armory should be provided at a cost of $250,000.

Rochester Cavalry.—Originally built for a troop of cavalry. At present occupied by regimental headquarters and two cavalry units. It is estimated additions could be made that would provide adequate quarters at a cost of $75,000.

Rome.—Present structure rented and inadequate for proper training of a medical unit. An armory should be provided at a cost of $100,000, plus cost to county for land.

SOLDIERS' BONUS BUREAU

Under constitutional authority a bonus for New York veterans of the World War was provided pursuant to chapter 19, Laws of 1924. The sum of $45,000,000 was realized from the sale of bonds authorized by law, this sum having been augmented by premiums amounting to $659,565, the latter sum also being appropriated for bonus purposes under chapter 208, Laws of 1925.

A Commission, consisting of the Adjutant-General, the Comptroller, the Treasurer and the Attorney-General, administered the disbursement until April 22, 1926, when its functions were absorbed by The Adjutant-General.

Each eligible veteran, upon application, received the sum of $10 for each month of service with the colors, between April 6, 1917, and November 11, 1918, with $150 as the maximum payment. Under chapter 209, Laws of 1925, an additional appropriation of $2,500,000 was made. Chapter 26, Laws of 1925, added the next of kin to those who were killed or died in the service or prior to February 28, 1924, as eligible to receive the bonus. Under chapter 267, Laws of 1926, a further appropriation of $300,000 was approved. Chapter 676, Laws of 1931, extended the time for filing claims to July 1, 1932, and made an appropriation of $250,000. At an extraordinary session of the Legislature in 1931 to carry out the provisions of an act creating a temporary emergency relief administration, the sum of $584,000 was appropriated by chapter 799 for the payment of bonuses, $30,000 of which was made available for administration expenses. Under chapter 120, Laws of 1933, an additional appropriation of $90,000 was made for bonus payments and $25,000 for administrative expenses, bringing the total appropriated for bonus purposes to $49,408,565, out of which there has been paid to December 1, 1933, in bonus and administration costs the sum of $49,261,972.78, leaving a balance of $146,592.02.

Under the original law no claims could be received after May 1, 1927. Since the reopening of the Bureau on April 23, 1931, many unsettled claims have been reopened, while 10,135 new claims have been recorded. The Bureau closed for the receipt of applications July 1, 1932.

There has been received a total of 427,794 claims of which 413,399 have been paid, with an average payment per claim of $117.23 at an overhead cost of $1.85 per claim. There are still in the process of adjustment 6,199 claims. Of the total claims received, 25,257 applicants were not credited as having had an actual residence in the State at the time of their enlistment. Of the total troops furnished by the State 91,070 failed to make claim for this bonus.

VETERANS' RELIEF BUREAU

The number of applications for relief to date total 10,799; of this number 4,493 have received the sum of $250, the maximum permitted under the present law.

Under chapter 589, Laws of 1922, $1,000,000 was appropriated for the bureau. In 1923 under chapter 326 another million dollars was appropriated. Of this total, $68,891.29 reverted to the State treasury through lack of reappropriation, leaving a net balance to the bureau of $1,931,108.71. Under chapter 708, Laws of 1931, $75,000 was appropriated. In 1932 the bureau obtained through the Temporary Emergency Relief Administration of the State the sum of $100,000 from funds appropriated under chapter 567. In 1933, $50,000 was appropriated under chapter 120, making the gross total available $2,156,108.71.

Actual payments for relief of sick and disabled veterans to date amount to $1,795,153.72. Expenses of relief commissioners and administration to date are $284,397.54. The expendable balance is $76,557.45, of which $25,000 is unrequisioned from the State Comptroller. The sum of $42,146.87 is in the hands of the various Relief Commissioners and $9,410.58 is in the Bureau fund.

Previous statutory provision gave The Adjutant-General authority to grant an extension of payments in specially needy cases to the extent of an additional $250 under which provision 157 received an additional payment of $250. This authorization was stricken from the law in the 1931 enactment.

The bureau is represented by a resident commissioner in each assembly district throughout the State. The commissioner makes the necessary investigation to determine the eligibility of an applicant to be given relief. He prepares all papers, makes the relief payments, renders the periodical reports and returns, and discharges the multiplicity of duties that must necessarily result from the position.

These gentlemen serve without pay; they give their time and efforts to the work without recompense and altogether are rendering a service to the State of a high patriotic value.

New York Monuments Commission

The New York Monuments Commission for the Battlefields of Gettysburg, Chattanooga and Antietam.

Owing to the extreme age of the one surviving commissioner, and the fact that the secretary of the Commission has been retired at the statutory age of 72 years, the undersigned removed the office of the Commission on December 1st from the State office building in New York City to the State Arsenal in Brooklyn,

The personnel of the commission now comprises but two persons, both veterans of the Civil War.

It is recommended that upon the suspension of their activities by reason of disability, the activities of the Commission be transferred to the war record bureau of this office and further appropriations for pay and maintenance discontinued.

Examinations of Enlisted Men for Admission to the United States Military Academy

The Annual Competitive Examination for enlisted men of the National Guard for cadetships at the United States Military Academy was held, under the direction of this office, at New York City, Albany and Buffalo on November 10 and 11, 1933.

Fifty-seven candidates competed. The six having the highest average of proficiency have been selected by Your Excellency, to take the entrance examination on March 6, 1934, and if successful will enter the Academy on July 1, 1934.

The practice of allotting these cadetships to soldiers of the National Guard was authorized by Congress May 4, 1916, and since that time the manifest interest throughout the National Guard in this splendid educational opportunity has constantly increased.

Eligibility for appointment requires the candidates to be between the ages of 19 and 22 years, enlisted men of a Federally recognized unit of the National Guard who have served as soldiers therein not less than one year prior to date of entrance into the Academy.

REMARKS

In conclusion the undersigned wishes to say he firmly believes he bespeaks the sentiments of every officer and man of the military establishment of the State, in expressing warm appreciation and thanks for the sympathy, generosity and military fellowship, Your Excellency has displayed upon every occasion where the interests and activities of the service have been involved.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANKLIN W. WARD,

Major-General,

The Adjutant-General.

APPENDIX A

Report of the Commanding General, New York National Guard

The following report on the affairs of the New York National Guard for the calendar year 1933 is made in accordance with paragraph 6, Military Regulations No. 80, State of New York.

1. General. In spite of many economies which were made necessary by general financial conditions throughout the country, the New York National Guard has had a very successful year, has maintained its strength as authorized, has made excellent progress in training (especially in marksmanship), and has occupied several new and up-to-date armories which were completed during the year. In view of the general conditions of unemployment, from which our citizen-soldiers in their civil lives suffered exactly as did all other classes of our people, and the facts that our men are now drilling without pay for a quarter of their armory drills, that they suffered a fifteen per cent reduction in pay for all other drills, that ammunition allowances for the year were reduced, and, in the case of pistol ammunition, were cut out altogether, and that we could not ascertain whether Federal funds would permit of our annual field training until one week prior to the scheduled opening of our camps, I consider that the spirit displayed has been and is excellent, and that we have come through a very trying period without loss of efficiency or morale.

2. Strength. During the past twelve months the average strength of the New York National Guard was 20,861. The highest figure, 21,547, was reached in March, and the lowest strength, 19,955, was in October. The maximum allotment allowed by the War Department, 21,475, was exceeded in March by 72, and again in April by five, but close supervision of enlistments, coupled with a restriction on enlistments for ninety days prior to each organization going to field training, reduced this strength to the authorized figures. The condition of our strength is very satisfactory, despite the fact that a considerable portion of our enlisted personnel, due to unemployment, enrolled in the Civilian Conservation Corps. Effective as of October 31, 1933, the War Department has further curtailed the authorized maximum strength of the New York National Guard to 1,499 commissioned officers, 22 warrant officers, and 19,485 enlisted men, a reduction in the aggregate of 469 from our last allotment.

3. Attendance. The percentage of attendance at armory drills for the past year was 89.06, as compared with 88.19 for 1932. The attendance at field training was 93.45, as compared with 95.21 in 1932. The heaviest losses to the Civilian Conservation Corps occurred during the months of May and June, and the restrictions on enlistments acted as a bar to replacing these losses. In view of this fact, the attendance at field training must be regarded as excellent indeed, and as the best evidence of the high morale of the Guard as a whole. The Colonel Frank H. Hines Attendance Trophy, awarded to the organization showing the highest percentage of attendance at armory drills, annual muster, and annual field training, was won for the third successive year by the 27th Division Aviation, with a grand average of 96.93. The 212th Coast Artillery was second, with a percentage of 96.28, and the 106th Field Artillery was third, with 96.23.

4. Organization. The conversion of the 104th Field Artillery from horse-drawn to motor-drawn was accomplished during the past spring. The Headquarters and Headquarters Battery, 52nd Field Artillery Brigade, was similarly converted prior to field training, and this change was accomplished most satisfactorily, without any loss in efficiency or morale. The National Guard Bureau has notified the State that, in a very short time, all horse-drawn artillery will be converted to motor-drawn. This will affect the 105th Field Artillery, stationed in the Bronx and Brooklyn, and the 156th Field Artillery, with six stations in the Hudson Valley.

In my last annual report I made mention of the reorganization of the 106th Infantry, and the splendid work done by its regimental commander, Colonel Frank C. Vincent, in materially reducing a heavy debt. It is a source of pleasure to report that the entire indebtedness has been liquidated, and that the progress forward in training, efficiency, and esprit has been most noticeable.

On January 19, 1933, the New York National Guard lost a most distinguished soldier, Brigadier-General Mortimer Drake Bryant, who, at the time of his untimely death, was in command of the 51st Cavalry Brigade. Enlisting as a private in Troop "C," Cavalry, on November 1, 1897, General Bryant gave almost thirty-six years of continuous service of the highest order to his State and nation. General Bryant served through all grades from private to Brigadier-General with honor and distinction, in the cavalry forces of the State; as an enlisted man in the New York Vounteeer Cavalry in the Spanish-American War; as Commanding Officer, 2nd Squadron, 1st New York Cavalry, on the Mexican border during 1916 and 1917, and as Commanding Officer, 106th Machine Gun Battalion, Division Machine Gun Officer, 27th Division, and Commanding Officer, 107th Infantry, during the World War. General Bryant was wounded in action at Arbre Guernon, France, in October, 1918. His services during the World War were recognized by the United States Government by the award of the Distinguished Service Medal, and by the King of Belgium with the Croix de Guerre with palm.

Brigadier-General William M. Kerby, retired, who saw service in the Civil War and in the Spanish-American War, died at his home, Auburn, New York, on January 2, 1933, in his ninetieth year. General Kerby's service, starting with the 3rd New York Artillery in January, 1862, extended down to 1912. Most of this service was performed in what is now the 108th Infantry. At the time of his retirement he was Inspector of Rifle Practice, performing the same duties as the State Ordnance Officer does at present. General Kerby was a splendid type of officer, who gave unsparingly of his time and effort to the State military forces.

Brigadier-General Oliver Benedict Bridgman, retired, formerly Commanding Officer of Squadron "A" and of the 1st Cavalry, died suddenly at his home in New York City on Friday, June 23, 1933. General Bridgman's services to his State extended from 1889 to 1914, and were marked by conscientious effort of a high order.

Other deaths in our State military forces included Major Edwin Gould, retired, at New York City, on July 11, 1933; Major Dwight C. Broga, Medical Corps, Regimental Surgeon, 10th Infantry, at Rome, N. Y., July 23, 1933, and Captain Archland M. Best, 10th Infantry, who was drowned near Hudson, N. Y., July 23, 1933.

On June 24, 1933, Brigadier-General George Rathbone Dyer, commanding 87th Brigade, reached the legal age limit for service, and was, by your order, placed on the retired list in the rank of Major-General. General Dyer's military service to his State and nation extended over a period of forty-four years, and was marked by splendid accomplishments. As the senior military member of the Armory Board of the City of New York, General Dyer gave unselfishly of his time and effort. His services to the State since 1906 as a member of the New York and New Jersey Interstate Bridge and Tunnel Commission, and later as a member of the New York Port Authority, which services were and are still being performed without remuneration, are most worthy of mention.

Majors John H. O'Connor and Thomas A. Maguire, Senior Medical Officers respectively of the 71st and 165th Infantry, were during the year promoted one grade and retired on reaching the legal age limit of service.

To succeed General Bryant in command of the 51th Cavalry Brigade, I nominated Lieutenant Colonel Nathaniel Hillyer Egleston, formerly of Squadron "A," and later of the 101st Cavalry, an officer of more than twenty-five years' distinguished service. In the 87th Brigade it was my pleasure to nominate the senior regimental commander, Colonel William Richard Pooley, who, for forty years, has rendered exceptional services, both in his military and civilian capacity, to his State and nation. To succeed Colonel Pooley in the command of the 174th Infantry, Lieutenant Colonel Ralph K. Robertson was nominated. All of these officers have been commissioned by you.

Colonel William A. Taylor, Assistant Adjutant-General, who for several years has commanded the 369th Infantry in addition to his other duties, has been appointed State Quartermaster and relieved of command of the regiment. Special mention should be made of the splendid work performed by Colonel Taylor in reorganizing this regiment, and in bringing it to a high state of efficiency. Lieutenant Colonel John G. Grimley has been promoted to Colonel, and placed in command.

5. Service in Aid of Civil Authorities. There have been no calls during the year for military service in aid of civil authorities. However, a number of calls have been made and met for the use of armories and for financial assistance in connection with relief work. The opening of the Amsterdam armory, at your request, to provide sleeping quarters for the unemployed of that neighborhood, was exceptionally well handled by Captain Robert J. Harrison, of the 105th Infantry, and the system and efficiency displayed in the conduct of this work received the highest praise from the civil officials interested therein. In the metropolitan district National Guard units, by means of reviews, exhibitions, and direct donations, raised over $15,000 for the Gibson Committee on Unemployment Relief, and a campaign to continue the work during the present fiscal year is now in progress. At Camp Smith, and at several rifle ranges, emergency unemployment projects have been conducted not only to the great benefit of the National Guard, but to the frequently-expressed appreciation of the civil authorities.

Nine armories in the City of New York are now being used daily by the Civil Works Administration for the registration of prospective workers on approved projects for public works construction.

6. Training. For the training year 1933, the following objectives were prescribed for all organizations, based upon the requirements of the National Guard Bureau:

- a. Attendance of 90 per cent of strength present in camp.
- b. Condition, completeness, and care of uniforms, arms, equipment and material.
- c. Camp administration and routine, to include:
 - (1) Preparation and rendition of records and reports.
 - (2) Sanitation and personal hygiene.
 - (3) Camp supply and mess management.
 - (4) Interior guard duty, discipline, and military courtesy.
 - (5) Ceremonies.
- d. Qualification in basic weapons of 40 per cent of personnel authorized to fire.
- e. Performance of field firing exercises.
- f. Proficiency of headquarters, service, and medical units in specialist duties.
- g. Performance and solution of combat and tactical exercises.
- h. Efficiency of command and staff.

In order to determine more readily the state of training of all units and organizations, in accordance with the above training objectives, a detailed system of training inspections was inaugurated at Camp Smith in 1933. This system, which is conducted by Division staff officers, and is in addition to the regular Federal inspections, will be extended to other training camps in 1934.

Based upon the detailed Federal and State inspection reports, it is gratifying to state that in the main all of the above training objectives were satisfactorily reached, and in some instances exceeded, by all organizations of the New York National Guard in 1933.

The percentage of attendance at the several field training camps in 1933 is referred to elsewhere in this report. In this connection, it is noteworthy that, under an established policy in this State, enlistments are suspended in all organizations three months prior to field training. Thus, only those enlisted men who have received the required basic instruction in the armories are available for field training. This policy has been favorably commented upon by the War Department as producing a more uniform state of training.

With regard to qualifications in basic weapons, the following comparative table shows a steady increase during the past three years in the percentages secured:

Weapon	1931	1932	1933
Rifle, Caliber .30.....	.23	.324	.502
Automatic Rifle316	.267	.524
Machine Gun408	.455	.461
37 mm. Gun and 3-inch Trench Mortar..	.85	.80	.872

Due to the lack of .45 caliber ammunition, no pistol or revolver firing was conducted during the target practice season 1933.

Considering the ten infantry regiments alone in the State, their qualifications with the rifle numbered 2,498 of the 4,244 firing, or .588 per cent. This is the highest percentage of rifle qualifications ever attained by the infantry of the New York National Guard.

The qualifications with the automatic rifle in 1933, namely .524, was likewise an outstanding achievement.

The two cavalry regiments in the State also secured notable increases in 1933 in rifle and machine gun qualifications.

All of the above very satisfactory increases in qualifications were secured under greatly reduced ammunition allowances.

The reports and analyses of service practice by the field and coast artillery during the 1933 field training period, despite the limitations in ammunition supply, all indicate a satisfactory proficiency in the primary weapons with which these units are armed.

The 52nd Field Artillery Brigade Headquarters and Headquarters Battery and the 104th Field Artillery performed their field training, 1933, for the first time as motorized organizations.

The Division Aviation again performed a successful and useful schedule of cooperative missions with the other branches, including artillery observation, infantry and cavalry liaison, and target-towing for the anti-aircraft artillery.

The Engineer, Signal, Medical, and Quartermaster units, as well as the Divisional Special Troops, are all considered as making satisfactory progress in their specialist training, both in the armories and in the field.

The 27th Tank Company, after several periods of field training at the Tank School, was ordered to Camp Smith in 1933 for the purpose of co-operative training with the infantry regiments.

A detailed schedule of defense against chemical warfare was carried out at all field training camps. Due to the limited equipment, this instruction was offered to selected personnel only in each unit, but several demonstrations were conducted for observation by all available troops.

Apart from the above phases of technical training, the primary emphasis throughout the training year was placed upon developing the combat efficiency of all arms and branches, and their state of readiness for active service. With this in mind, additional time and attention were given to marching and bivouacking, to supply and evacuation, to field firing, and to appropriate tactical exercises, especially for the smaller units. Command post exercises were also conducted for the training of higher staffs, to include the battalion, with emphasis upon troop leading. In this connection it is believed that a definite cycle of training has now been established, extending over the normal three-year enlistment term, and divided generally into the disciplinary, technical, and tactical phases. This system is in accord with the present training doctrines of the War Department.

Due to the Federal economy program, the issue of equipment was greatly curtailed in 1933, enforcing additional care for that now on hand. One important exception was the issue of the new serge and elastique uniform, with which approximately one-half of the troops are now equipped.

Due to the detail of Regular Army officer personnel to the Civilian Conservation Corps in 1933, only five of the forty Regular Army instructors were available for duty during the field training period. This resulted in an added responsibility for National Guard officers of all ranks in the conduct of training and administration. The very satisfactory results secured are, it is believed, a true indication of the efficiency of command and staff generally throughout the New York National Guard. In addition, this experience was of the greatest value to such officer, and denotes their ability to assume the duties and responsibilities which would normally be theirs in the event of mobilization.

Under the provisions of General Orders 14, these Headquarters, 1933, all officers of the New York National Guard below the grade of lieutenant colonel, and all candidates for commission, are now regularly enrolled in the Army Extension Courses. Experience has shown that these Extension Courses provide not only an excellent means of developing and standardizing the professional qualifications of officers and non-commissioned officers, but also facilitate the promotion of officers and their attendance at the several Army Service Schools. During 1932-33, twenty-six officers and eleven enlisted men successfully completed special courses at Army Service Schools, as follows:

Command and General Staff School.....	3
Infantry School, Field Officers' Course.....	2
Cavalry School, Field Officers' Course.....	1
Infantry School, Company Officers' Course.....	9
Cavalry School, Troop Officers' Course.....	1
Field Artillery School, Battery Officers' Course.....	4
Coast Artillery School, Battery Officers' Course.....	2

Chem. Warfare School, Line and Staff Course.....	1
Chem. Warfare School, Unit Gas Officers' Course.....	1
Engineers' School, Natl. Guard and Reserve Officers' Course..	1
Signal School, National Guard and Reserve Officers' Course..	1
Infantry School, Communications Course, Enlisted Men.....	5
Cavalry School, Enlisted Men's Course.....	1
Field Artillery, Communications Course, Enlisted Men.....	1
Coast Artillery, Communications Course, Enlisted Men.....	2
Air Corps, Enlisted Men.....	1
Medical School, Enlisted Men.....	1

The New York National Guard short-wave radio net, as reported upon last year, was further developed in 1933. Twelve separate stations, located in the various armories throughout the State, are now operating in this net, as follows:

Greater New York.....	5
Yonkers	1
Albany	1
Troy	1
Syracuse	1
Hoosick Falls	1
Buffalo	2

Application has been made to the Federal authorities for the assignment of a special wave-length for the use of this radio net, which will assist greatly in its development both for training purposes and for possible use in case of emergencies.

I have always considered that the interest of the public in the New York National Guard is one of our greatest indications of health and strength. This interest has increased rather than decreased during the past year. All public armory reviews have been well attended, and at Camp Smith, in addition to large crowds on all visitors' days, all records were broken on the occasion of your Excellency's visit to the 369th Infantry, in September, when 2,200 cars and 77 large buses were parked in the Camp, and an estimated crowd of 15,000 people attended.

Second only to this, in regard to number of visitors, was the day, slightly before, when the Camp, for the first time in its history, had the honor of a visit from the President of the United States. On this occasion President Franklin D. Roosevelt, to our great pleasure, showed that he maintained the interest in the New York National Guard which he always displayed as Governor, and reviewed the 87th Brigade.

Our annual review at Camp Smith in honor of the civil officials of the Village of Peekskill was also held as usual, and relations between this community and the Camp are most satisfactory.

7. Athletics. Due to economic conditions, it was necessary, for the second consecutive year, to forego competition for the Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., Championship Baseball Trophy; also to discontinue the inter-regimental track and swimming meets at Camp Smith and other stations. However, the baseball diamonds, the swimming pool, running track, and handball courts at Camp Smith were used to capacity, and a keen athletic interest maintained. The same interest in all outdoor sports was found at Fort Ontario, Pine Camp, and Fort H. G. Wright. With the expected return of better business conditions, it is planned to renew inter-organization competition.

The Military Athletic League, due to the same economic reasons, was forced to abandon its annual novice indoor track and field meet. However, the championship meet was held in the 245th Coast Artillery armory, Brooklyn, New York, on Saturday, April 1, 1933, and the home organization was successful in winning the Haskell Trophy, emblematic of the championship. This Trophy, which becomes the permanent property of the organization which wins it three times, has now been won twice by the 106th Infantry, twice by the 107th Infantry, and once by the 245th Coast Artillery. Keen competition not only by all three of the above organizations, but also by the remainder of our forces in New York City, is expected at the annual meet to be held in New York City late in March, 1934.

Soldier boxing in armories continues to suffer from the present business conditions. At the present time the organizations conducting soldier boxing are the 106th Infantry, the 212th Coast Artillery, and the 102nd Medical Regiment.

8. Inspections. The plan inaugurated in 1932, of holding State armory inspections separate from the Federal inspections, has continued to prove successful. It has enabled the inspecting officers to cover administration thoroughly and exhaustively, and it is believed that it has proved of great benefit to the organizations inspected. The State inspections of training were conducted during the field training encampments. It is believed that this plan has proved in practice to be both economical and effective.

The accounts of the quartermasters at Camp Smith and Pine Camp were inspected at intervals throughout the field training period, and checks made of the presence of men whose names appeared on the payrolls. Payrolls of the construction department at Camp Smith and Pine Camp were also verified from time to time. Post hospital, headquarters mess, and provisional ordnance detachment accounts at Camp Smith were audited periodically.

Nineteen special investigations were made and reported on during the year.

9. Permanent Plant.

(a) Armories. We have been most fortunate during the year in opening the new armories for the 106th Field Artillery, of Buffalo, the 174th Infantry, at Jamestown, and the 156th Field Artillery, at Newburgh, Kingston, and Peekskill. In depression times I feel that the State has been very generous to us in this respect. I wish especially to express my appreciation of the generosity of the State and of the splendid work done by the Adjutant-General in so quickly securing the funds, drawing plans, and supervising the work necessary for the replacement of the 106th Field Artillery armory at Buffalo, which was totally destroyed by fire in 1931. A new administration building for the 369th Infantry, in Manhattan, is practically completed, and work is proceeding (unfortunately, very slowly) on the new armory for the 104th Field Artillery in Jamaica. In regard to needed construction for the future, the Adjutant-General and I are entirely in accord as to the localities entitled to early attention, and he will undoubtedly cover this question in his report.

(b) Camp Smith. Both State and Federal funds were necessarily smaller than usual in 1933. By careful economy, however, the Camp was kept in thorough repair, and several new projects were accomplished. From State funds we were able to do about half of the project of taking down the sandhill and filling in the swamp at the entrance to Camp, which we hope to complete next year. This will add, when completed, several acres to the usable ground of the Camp, and will be available for the purpose of parking area for trains, thousand-inch ranges, or even for a small campground, if needed. From the profits of the Post Exchange we put in four more complete streets of framed concrete floors in the West Camp, and also completed the grading in Putnam Valley. This valley has been in an unfinished state ever since the building of the swimming pool, some ten years ago. It is now completely graded, and adds greatly to the available drill field and combat firing field for the Camp, instead of, as before, being unusable land right through the middle of the training area.

Federal funds were expended for general upkeep and maintenance, especially of target ranges, for the construction of a target house at the combat range butts, and for complete renovation of the Camp incinerator and the East Camp sewer.

As indicated elsewhere in my report, we were fortunate in having funds allotted to us by the Temporary Emergency Relief Administration for work at Camp Smith. With these funds we have been able to work steadily on clearing out and reforesting the wooded areas of this Camp, which were previously so thick that they were useless for maneuver purposes. Now the entire Wendover and McCoy areas can be used for small combat problems. A 1,500-yard machine-gun and 37 mm. range has been cleared between Manitou Mountain and Anthony's Nose, and some eight hundred cords of cord-wood stacked for future consumption. In the improvement of the State property alone I consider that this has been a most valuable project. It is still continuing.

We are applying to the National Guard Bureau and to the Civil Works Administration for a number of projects for the improvement of the Camp, grading, concrete tent floors complete, and permanent road construction, on which we hope to receive favorable action. From the State, during the coming fiscal year, we have asked only for minimum requirements for upkeep, maintenance, and repair.

(c) Pine Camp. Federal funds only are used at Pine Camp, and in 1933 were limited to maintenance and repair. Funds were also allotted by the State Emergency Relief Administration for additional clearing of artillery ranges. For 1934 we have made request for a number of needed construction projects, to be financed from Civil Works funds.

(d) Fort Ontario. The National Guard camp at this post was kept in repair and in thoroughly usable condition. No new construction has been requested by my headquarters, although an extensive reconstruction program for the post has been asked for by Second Corps Area authorities. We do not object to this plan in principle, but feel that the moneys expended thereon should not be charged against National Guard funds.

10. Administration. While we have not yet reached the desired goal, we have made progress during the year in standardizing property and financial accounts, and eliminating shortages. Our new system of State inspections is aiding materially in this work, and we are receiving thorough co-operation from the United States Property and Disbursing Officer, Colonel William A. Taylor. Many organizations, I consider, are in absolutely satisfactory condition in the above respects, many others are making satisfactory progress, and only a few have not made successful and satisfactory efforts to adjust irregularities. In the case of the last-named I propose to introduce drastic measures on January 1, 1934.

The plan reported in my last report for eliminating jail sentences for absences from drill has worked well during the year, and has practically eliminated such sentences. In aggravated cases, and for special reasons, I have authorized the sending of habitual offenders to jail, but such cases have not numbered more than three for the entire year, a great contrast to former conditions.

Our magazine, "The New York National Guardsman," has passed successfully through a hard year, and we have established a definite policy for the necessary additional financial support to take the place of subscriptions. For 1934 we have secured several contracts for high-class advertising, and at present only the difficulty in making collections prevents my reporting that my program for 1933 was fully carried out. Were all bills due for 1933 collected and deposited the desired result would have been attained. The accounts referred to are believed to be good, but affected by present business conditions. A vigorous collection campaign, now being conducted, should result in their speedy liquidation.

The Camp Smith canteen had a successful season, and produced a revenue in excess of what could reasonably be expected. With your authority, 3.2 beer was sold in the canteen, and in my opinion such sale kept men in camp, and prevented their going to other localities outside of camp, where more powerful and harmful drinks would have been obtained.

Authority to use beer in armories has also been granted during the year, and has produced excellent results.

The Pine Camp canteen had a hard year, owing to the difficulty of securing reliable bidders for concessions, and the expenses of the talking pictures, which are shown there free on three nights of each week. I have had a thorough canvas of the situation made; we will institute a decided reorganization in 1934, and I hope to succeed in placing this canteen on the same satisfactory financial basis as the one at Camp Smith.

11. Recommendations. As usual, my recommendations are few, and really consist only of a request that we may continue to receive in the future the same support that we have received in the past. I feel that the National Guard has cooperated thoroughly in the State's desire for economy. I hope that those in authority will realize this, and will also appreciate my feeling that at present we have reached the limit in economy, which, if exceeded, will result in loss of efficiency. I hope, therefore, that our financial support may be maintained at least at its present status.

I wish to express also my appreciation of the sympathetic interest shown by your Excellency in the New York National Guard, and the cooperation that my office has received from the Adjutant-General, the Director of the Budget, and other State officials with whom we have come in contact during the conduct of the year's duties.

WILLIAM N. HASKELL,
Major General.

APPENDIX B

Report of the Commanding Officer, New York Naval Militia

1. In accordance with provisions of paragraph 6, R-80, Regulations Military Forces of the State of New York, the following report of the affairs of the New York Naval Militia for the twelve months ending November 30, 1933, is submitted:

2. Strength. The strength of the New York Naval Militia as of December 1, 1933, was 1,684 as compared with 1,637 on December 1, 1932. In view of the continued unfavorable economic conditions, the establishment of the Civilian Conservation Corps, and other abnormal situations, has brought on casualties beyond normal, it will be noted that the strength of the organization has remained unimpaired.

3. Attendance. The 1933 average attendance at drills was 82 per cent, which figure also obtained for the period 1932. Giving consideration to the complete stoppage of drill pay on or about May 20, and that the organizations are now receiving pay for only 24 drills per annum, it is gratifying to point out that the attendance of our organizations has not suffered, indicating a good sense of loyalty within the Command.

4. Small Arms Firing. The attendance at these exercises was 1,156 for 1933, as compared with 1,151 men in 1932. Two hundred and fifty-six men qualified as marksmen for the current period as compared with 262 during 1932. Weather conditions for the practice were fair. The average figure of merit for 1933 was 74.3 as compared with 60.5 for the 1932 period, which is an indication of better shooting for the current period. The Brigade Match was won by the 1st Battalion for the first time in a number of years. This organization also won the 2nd Battalion Trophy Match for the second successive year. All of the larger organizations were represented in the Cruikshank, Rogers and Wingate competitions. There is a continued improvement in marksmanship over the previous year.

5. Training Duty. During the 1932 period annual training duty afloat was abandoned in favor of the rigid application of Federal economy with regard to Naval Reserve affairs. While there was considerable doubt regarding the training period afloat this year, the turnout for this duty was of satisfactory nature. Very early in the Spring cruises were definitely announced, ships assigned, and itineraries published, and suddenly within a few short weeks of the assigned training dates these cruises were entirely cancelled. Appeal was made to the Congress, the Secretary of the Navy, and the ranking officers of the Navy Department, which resulted in a restoration of the cruises, with short notification to our Commands and with some more or less inconvenient changes in the dates assigned. One thousand two hundred and one men and officers participated in a 14 day training period afloat with pay. Unfortunately, due to the political situation in Cuba, it became necessary to curtail the last cruise participated in by officers and men of this Command, with the result that they were able to perform only half of the training period afloat allowed. In view of the fact that the Navy Department limited the number of officers and men for the performance of training duty, the number turned out represents an exceedingly excellent percentage of those authorized. In addition to the training duty with pay, 71 officers and men performed voluntary duty afloat in various destroyers of the training squadron for varying periods. This duty was entirely voluntary, for which no pay or allowances obtained.

6. Week-end Cruises. Collectively, our men and officers engaged in 76 week-end cruises on various types of vessels, which were cruised 8,052 collective miles and manned by a collective total of 1,126 men. Due to the continued problem of unemployment the performance of this duty was in a sense a relief to the individuals participating, and at the same time resulted in excellent training for a large number of men. The use of small boats by groups of enlisted men in charge of petty officers increased through the 1933 period. A crew of the New York Naval Militia took second place in a whaleboat race held in lower New York Bay, which was won by a New Jersey division. This race is to become an annual event with an Interstate air, and is conducive of still greater interest in the use of small boat equipment.

7. Naval Academy Appointments. During the year 1933, three members of the New York Naval Militia won admission to the United States Naval Academy. The successful candidates were:

- 1st Battalion, Foley, Paul F., S2c.
- 3rd Battalion, Phaler, Walter L., S2c.
- 4th Battalion, Madley, E. P., S2c.

This is an increase of one man over the 1932 period.

8. General Efficiency of the Brigade. Because of the omission of the 15 days training afloat from the Naval Reserve program during the Summer of 1932, and for other reasons, the Naval Reserve Inspection Board changed the basis on which merit ratings were computed, resulting in a somewhat lower standard than for the previous year. However, the general condition of the Command was of satisfactory character and the standing as follows:

Unit	Commanding officer	Location	NYNM STANDING
			This year	Previous reports
BATTALIONS
4th	Lieut. Sampson Scott	Whitestone	1	3
3rd	Lieut. R. C. Wiestling	Rochester	2	1
1st	Capt. Theodore Nelson	New York	3	5
9th	Lieut. Comdr. F. J. Bailey	Buffalo	4	2
2nd	Comdr. J. T. Kane	Brooklyn	5	4
DIVISIONS
Two highest Fleet Divisions:
15th Fleet Division,	Lt. Cdr. J. M. Gall	Oswego	1	1
13th Fleet Division,	Ens. H. M. Rice	Watertown	2	9

The Naval Reserve Inspection Board has been and is now in process of making its Inspections for the Navy for the current fiscal year, and from the reports completed and furnished to these Headquarters to date, it is gratifying to state that there is a very marked improvement in the condition of the units over that reported for the previous year, which unquestionably indicates that the training cruise performed afloat is essential to the promotion of good efficiency in the organization.

9. Armories. The 31st Fleet Division, New Rochelle, N. Y., took possession of its new quarters on January 1, 1933. The 4th Battalion at Whitestone, N. Y., has obtained from the City of New York Relief Funds for the construction of a suitable building which should be ready for occupancy during the latter part of 1934. New armories are desired at Dunkirk, Ossining and Watertown, N. Y., also improved Boat House facilities at Oswego, N. Y.

10. There has been a further marked improvement in the relationship of the Naval Militia with the Navy Department during the period of this report. It is believed that the policies of the Commanding Officer in this regard will tend to cement this interchange of confidence as time progresses.

F. R. LACKEY,

Rear Admiral, N. Y. N. M.
