

Transcriber Notes: Transcription is line by line so the reader can follow the written diary. The dates at the top of the pages do not correspond to the dates in the entries. Perhaps due to the paper shortage in the South, he used a diary that was available but I cannot verify that theory. Capitalization, punctuation, spelling and spacing are transcribed as written. Many entries have words or parts of words written over the decorative border lines on the pages. This is only noted in the transcription if it impacts the content or understanding of the entry. When possible the spelling of names has been verified. Codes are found throughout the diary. Short codes are recreated to the extent that modern keyboards will allow. Passages where codes are extensively used are copied into the transcription. I was not able to find a key for the code but I suspect that if the key can be found the information will be interesting. The name -J. M. Malbone - is written on the top of the pages of the diary and can be read when the diary is closed. On the first page and in some diary entries the name of the diarist is J. M. Malbon. The duties of his assignment at the quarantine camp at Gordonsville, VA are described in the entry dated April 12, 1863.

This 25th of Feby 1864

Remembered Friend. I feel thankful that I'm blessed with this another opportunity [opportunity] of writing to you – to Let you know how we are getting along – this leaves us all well except bad colds. My children have not gotten well yet with the hooping [whooping] cough -we hope this may find you well & hearty. we hope _ your arm have got well.
We feel sorry for you, no friend yes, no kind friend to pity you, no mother to sooth [soothe] your brow.
We do hope that God will hasten the time when we all shall meet again. Oh! What a great old time – though we are in the enemies lines. We forget not our friends that is far away

It is quite healthy generally in this neighbor hood [neighborhood]. I have had hard task to undergo[.] My children have had the hooping [whooping] cough ever since last Sept, for near 2 months we knew nothing about sleep night or day[.] They are getting better now God has seen fit to remove my darling boy Fletcher from earth to heaven. Oh it grieves my very heart But I mourn not as those that have no hope. My loss is his gain[.] I have hope that we will meet again and will not always be parted[.] I pray to almighty that we may meet him where no farewell tear is ever shed[.] I must tell you how we are getting along as to times – we are surrounded by Yanks[.] But Ah my heart is weary waiting

Waiting for the End.

Ah my heart is weary with sighing

Sighing for the End we are here in in [duplicate in text] the hands of the Yanks and we have to dodge them as we can.

There is no one place to stop at for fear of being betrayed. The negroes make themselves very busy. The Yanks have taken old man Garriet Whitehurst, our [?] neighbor as you may say.
They have him and E Garrison now in prison. What is it for - Why - being a friend

A good one – when a little boy & going to school we use to have a play – or that is we use to give our pockets Two names, and in the “world and the other out of the world” The one in the world we would keep empty and the other we would keep our trinkets in – one day – I was in company with some Ladies & lady friend, & I remded [reminded?] this[?] this lady of our back school days – one of these girls asked this lady for something – said she did not have it – when I reminded her of the pocketes [pockets] she asked how was that, I told her, that we too keep our Hazzel nuts [Hazelnuts] in the pocket which was assigned[?] out of the world – she remarked to the girls. Girls you
