To the Legislature :

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

REPORT.

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, STATE OF NEW YORK,
ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
ALBANY, December 31st, 1898.

HON. FRANK S. BLACK, Governor and Commander-in-Chief, State of New York:

SIR.—I have the honor to submit the report of this Department for the year 1898.

THE NATIONAL GUARD.

On the 1st of January of this year the National Guard consisted of General Headquarters, four Brigade Headquarters, four signal corps, one squadron of three troops, one separate troop, four batteries, and thirteen regiments, one battalion and forty-three separate companies of infantry. There was also a hospital corps, composed of the hospital corps men of the various organizations.

February 9th, Major Charles Francis Roe of Squadron "A," was appointed Major-General; the National Guard constituted a division and General Roe placed in command of it with headquarters at Albany.

On the same day the brigade organization in New York city was discontinued, and the troops located in that city formed in two brigades, to be known as the First and Fifth Brigades.

March 21st, the separate companies in the Third Brigade were organized into seven battalions, numbered the Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Sixteenth and Seventeenth Battalions.

April 2d, the Military Code having become a law of the State, the division organization of the National Guard was discontinued and Major-General Roe placed in command of the National Guard of the State, subject to the orders of the Governor.

April 27th, the President of the United States having called for volunteers and expressed a wish that regiments of the National Guard be used as far as their numbers would permit, and nearly the whole of the National Guard having volunteered for such service, the following organizations were selected to enter the United States Volunteer service for two years:

Troop "C" and one troop made up by Squadron "A," the Eighth, Ninth, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Forty-seventh, Sixty-fifth, Sixty-ninth and Seventy-first Regiments; and it was ordered that the commanding officer of the Third Brigade should organize two regiments of twelve companies each, and the commanding officer of the Fourth Brigade one such regiment of the separate companies of their respective commands, these regiments to be known as the First, Second and Third Regiments.

The commanding officer of the Third Brigade formed the first regiment of the Third, Fifth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-fourth, Thirty-third and Forty-fourth Separate Companies and the Tenth Battalion. The second regiment he formed of the Sixth, Seventh, Ninth, Twelfth, Eighteenth, Twenty-first, Twenty-second, Thirty-first, Thirty-second, Thirty-sixth, Thirty-seventh and Forty-sixth Separate Companies of his Brigade.

The commanding officer of the Fourth Brigade formed the third regiment of the First, Second, Eighth, Twenty-fifth, Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth, Thirty-fourth, Forty-first, Forty-second, Forty-third, Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth Separate Companies, and at his recommendation the Thirteenth Separate Company was attached to the Sixty-fifth Regiment, to become one of the twelve companies of the latter for the volunteer service.

April 27th, Major-General Charles Francis Roe and Brigadier-General Peter C. Doyle were assigned to duty to command the camps to be established for the portion of the National Guard about to volunteer in the United States service, at Hempstead Plains and at the Camp of Instruction.

April 28th, the following orders (G. O., No. 10) were issued for the organization of temporary regiments and companies to replace those which entered the volunteer service:

I. It being the purpose of the Commander-in-Chief, in order to replace the organizations of the National Guard now entering the United States service, to organize new regiments and companies, brigade commanders will at once recommend suitable persons to organize regiments and companies as may be directed later.

II. The officers who may be authorized to recruit these organizations, will be appointed by the Commander-in-Chief under the provisions of M. C. 56, after having passed the required examination.

III. Companies will be recruited to the maximum strength allowed by the M. C. and members of organizations who have not volunteered with their commands, or who owing to excess of numbers were not taken with them, will form the nucleus of these new organizations.

IV. Although under the State law, original enlistments must be for five years, these new organizations will be disbanded, the officers will be rendered supernumerary and the enlisted men honorably discharged when those now entering the United States service return.

V. It is understood that those enlisting in the National Guard under this order will have the first opportunity of volunteering for service in the United States army should a second call be made by the President on this State for volunteers.

May 3d, Brigadier-Generals Robert Shaw Oliver, McCoskry Butt, and George Moore Smith with their staffs were ordered to report for duty at Camp Black to Major-General Roe, and Brigadier-General James McLeer was placed on duty at Brooklyn. These officers were relieved from duty in the month of May, as soon as their services were no longer required with the volunteers.

May 7th, the Twenty-second Regiment was selected for service in the United States Volunteer army in place of the Thirteenth Regiment, and one battalion of the latter attached to it to complete the organization.

The Thirteenth Regiment, except the portion which volunteered and which was attached to the Twenty-second Regiment, was disbanded.

May 15th, Colonel Luscomb was authorized to re-organize the Thirteenth Regiment.

Under your orders of April 27th, the organization of the One Hundred and Eighth, One Hundred and Twelfth, One Hundred and Fourteenth, One Hundred and Twenty-second, One Hundred and Forty-seventh, One Hundred and Sixty-fifth, One Hundred and Sixty-ninth and One Hundred and Seventy-first Regiments, the One Hundred and Tenth Battalion, the One Hundred and First, One Hundred and Second, One Hundred and Third, One Hundred and Fifth, One Hundred and Sixth, One Hundred and Seventh, One Hundred and Eighth, One Hundred and Ninth, One Hundred and Twelfth, One Hundred and Thirteenth, One Hundred and Fourteenth, One Hundred and Fifteenth, One Hundred and Eighteenth, One Hundred and Twentieth, One Hundred and Twenty first, One Hundred and Twenty-second, One Hundred and Twenty-fourth, One Hundred and Twenty-fifth, One Hundred and Twenty-ninth, One Hundred and Thirtieth, One Hundred and Thirty-first, One Hundred and Thirty-second, One Hundred and Thirty-third, One Hundred and Thirty-fourth, One Hundred and Thirty-sixth, One Hundred and Thirty-seventh, One Hundred and Forty-first, One Hundred and Forty-second, One Hundred and Forty-third, One Hundred and Forty-fourth, One Hundred and Forty-sixth, One Hundred and Forty-seventh, and One Hundred and Forty-eighth Separate Companies, and Troop "CC", was commenced to replace organizations entered into the United States service.

When the War Department sent recruiting details into the State to recruit the volunteer organizations in the field to 106 enlisted men per company, these new organizations furnished in many instances almost the full number required for the corresponding volunteer organizations.

When under the second call of the President three regiments of infantry and three batteries were to be organized, the new organizations, as well as the National Guard batteries and the regiments and companies which had not been selected for volunteer service, again furnished appreciable numbers of men; the regiments and companies not selected for volunteer service having also furnished men for those entering the United States service under the first call.

Under these circumstances and in view of the prospect of an early muster out of about half of the State volunteer organizations, recruiting for new National Guard organizations was arduous work and their officers deserve full credit for their efforts and services. There were recruited for these organizations, it is estimated, about nine thousand men, fully three thousand of whom entered the United States volunteer service.

Major-General Charles Francis Roe, commanding National Guard, entered the United States service as Brigadier-General, U. S. Volunteers, June 10, and returned to the State service September 10, 1898; while on this duty he was replaced in his National Guard duties by Brigadier-General James McLeer.

October 6th, the following orders (G. O., No. 18) were promulgated:

The re-establishment of the organizations of the National Guard which have entered the United States service as volunteers and are now about to be mustered out and to return to the State service, is placed in the hands of the Major-General commanding the National Guard, and will be based on the following general principles :

1st. Ten days after the muster out of the United States service, muster-rolls in duplicate must be made of each company and the field and staff of the returning organization, one to be retained and one forwarded to the Adjutant-General through the channel.

2d. On this muster-roll must appear the names of officers and enlisted men who were regularly commissioned or enlisted members of the National Guard at the time the organization was mustered into the United States service, whether they volunteered or not.

3d. Officers of the National Guard who do not desire to continue in the service of the Guard, should promptly tender their resignations, and enlisted men of the Guard who desire to be discharged from the State service, should promptly make application to the proper officer, after the muster-rolls have been made.

4th. Applications of enlisted men, who have been in the volunteer service, for discharge from the State service, should receive favorable action on the part of the officers authorized to grant it, provided the reasons set forth be deemed proper and sufficient.

5th. Commanding officers of organizations about to be replaced by the organizations in whose place they were organized, will at once prepare muster-out rolls and discharges for the enlisted men of their respective commands who were regularly enlisted therein, so that when their muster out is ordered there need be no delay.

6th. They will also make all necessary arrangements to transfer all State and organization property to the commanding officers of the old organizations, and to close their accounts with the Chief of Ordnance.

7th. Commissioned officers of new organizations when replaced by organizations returning from the volunteer service, will be rendered supernumerary, and the men enlisted in the former organizations will be honorably discharged upon the disbandment of their company or regiment.

November 15th, the following instructions were issued to the Commanding Officer, National Guard :

I. Such appointments and elections of officers as it may be desired to have appear in the annual register should reach the Adjutant-General's Office, Albany, on or before December 15th, 1898. Also all accounts of whatsoever nature to be paid this year from the funds under the control of the Adjutant-General of the State, must be forwarded not later than December 15th, 1898.

II. The Commander-in-Chief has decided that it is but just to allow, and does therefore allow to the officers of the new organizations about to be mustered out, as re-imbusement in part for the expense incurred in equipping and uniforming themselves, the sum of $30 and $50 respectively, according as they are dismounted or mounted officers, subject to the following regulations:

1st. The voucher of the officer to be accompanied by the officer's affidavit that he has purchased at least one officer's blouse, one pair officer's trousers, one campaign hat, one sword, one sword belt and plate and one sword knot, and if the officer be a mounted officer, in addition one pair spurs and straps, one pair gauntlets and one pair boots.

2d. That these vouchers and affidavits should be made in duplicate and handed at the time of muster out to the mustering-out officer, who will forward them with his approval or disapproval to the Adjutant-General.

III. Although an allowance has been made to each of the new organizations, it may not have been sufficient to discharge all their obligations; the Commander-in-Chief therefore directs that the mustering-out officer of a new organization receive from its commanding officer certified bills of such accounts as may have been incurred and have not yet been paid, each bill to be in duplicate, receipted and supported by affidavits that the account is true and correct, that the articles charged have been furnished and that the price charged is reasonable; also certified to by the commanding officer of the outgoing organization. These bills will be forwarded to the Adjutant-General as promptly as possible for adjustment and payment.

And November 22d, the following additional instructions:

1st. Before a new organization will be ordered mustered out, the muster-rolls of the old organization which is to take its place must be received at general headquarters, such rolls should therefore be forwarded without any delay.

2d. The mustering-out officer to be the Inspector-General or the commanding officer of the corresponding old organizations.

3d. The commanding officer of the new to turn over to the commanding officer of the old organization all State, regimental or company property for which he is responsible, as well as the books and records of the new, which shall remain with the old organization.

4th. That such of the enlisted men of the new organization as shall desire, be transferred to the old organization before the muster out takes place.

5th. That, the new organization being but of a temporary nature, such of its officers as have held commissions in the corresponding old organization and did not enter the volunteer service but accepted commissions in new organizations, shall have the privilege to return under their former commissions to the organizations in which they held such commissions at the time of their accepting commissions in new organizations, provided they resign their new commissions, such resignations to take effect on the muster out of the new organizations.

6th. All other officers and those who do not desire to take advantage of the privilege set forth in subdivision five, will be rendered supernumerary.

7th. The officers of old organizations, temporarily serving with new organizations, shall be relieved from duty with the latter and return to duty with the former upon the muster out of the new organizations they are serving with.

8th. Muster-out rolls of the new organizations must be made in duplicate, one of which will go with the records of the new to the corresponding old organization, and one to the Adjutant-General.

Upon their muster out from the United States service in October, November and December, there returned to the State service: Troop A; Troop C; the Second Regiment, consisting of the Sixth, Seventh, Ninth, Twelfth, Eighteenth, Twenty-first, Twenty-second, Thirty-first, Thirty-second, Thirty-sixth, Thirty-seventh and Forty-sixth Separate Companies; the Third Regiment consisting of the First, Second, Eighth, Twenty-fifth, Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth, Thirty-fourth, Forty-first, Forty-second, Forty-third, Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth Separate Companies; the Eighth, Ninth, Fourteenth, Twenty-second, Sixty-fifth and Seventy-first Regiments, and with the Sixty-fifth Regiment the Thirteenth Separate Company.

November 28th, the battalion of the Thirteenth Regiment, serving with and as part of the Twenty-second Regiment, Infantry, New York Volunteers, having been mustered out, the men enlisted by Colonel Charles H. Luscomb for the Thirteenth Regiment were ordered to be discharged, and the officers serving with this part of the Regiment rendered supernumerary, and Major George D. Russell of the battalion of the Thirteenth Regiment, authorized to re-organize and re-establish the regiment with his battalion as a nucleus.

December 2d, authority was given for the muster out of the One Hundred and Fourteenth Regiment, and the One Hundred and Sixth, One Hundred and Seventh, One Hundred and Ninth, One Hundred and Twelfth, One Hundred and Eighteenth, One Hundred and Twenty-first, One Hundred and Thirty-first, One Hundred and Thirty-second, One Hundred and Thirty-sixth, One Hundred and Thirty-seventh and One Hundred and Forty-sixth Separate Companies, and these organizations declared disbanded.

December 9th, the One Hundred and Twenty-second Separate Company was disbanded and ordered to be mustered out.

December 17th, the One Hundred and Twenty-second Regiment, the One Hundred and Second, One Hundred and Eighth, One Hundred and Twenty-fifth, One Hundred and Thirtieth, One Hundred and Thirty-fourth, One Hundred and Forty-first, One Hundred and Forty-second, One Hundred and Forty-third, One Hundred and Forty-eighth Separate Companies were disbanded and ordered to be mustered out.

December 20th, the One Hundred and Thirteenth Separate Company was disbanded and ordered mustered out.

December 22d, the separate companies of the Fourth Brigade were organized into battalions as follows:

The Thirteenth, Twenty-fifth, Twenty-ninth, Forty-second and Forty-third Separate Companies to constitute the First Battalion.

The First, Eighth, Thirty-fourth and Forty-seventh Separate Companies to constitute the Second Battalion.

The Second, Thirtieth, Forty-first and Forty-eighth Separate Companies to constitute the Third Battalion.

And Captains M. B. Butler, Forty-second Separate Company, William Wilson, Thirty-fourth Separate Company, and A. M. Hall, Forty-eighth Separate Company, were appointed Majors of the First, Second and Third Battalions, with headquarters at Niagara Falls, Geneva and Oswego, respectively.

The Third Regiment, National Guard, organized April 27, 1898, under the provisions of G. O. No. 8, c. s., A. G. O., was at the same time disbanded, and the officers commissioned in it rendered supernumerary.

The One Hundred and Eighth, One Hundred and Ninth, and One Hundred and Sixty-fifth regiments, National Guard, were declared disbanded and ordered mustered out.

December 26th, the One Hundred and First and One Hundred and Forty-seventh Separate Companies were disbanded and ordered to be mustered out.

THE NAVAL MILITIA.

January 1st, 1898, the Naval Militia consisted of two battalions, each of four divisions, and one separate division.

Battalions consisted heretofore of four divisions, but under the new Military Code, which became a law April 2d, 1898, an additional, a special, division was allowed to each battalion.

April 4th, orders were issued to organize a special division for the First Battalion, and April 22d, the increase of this division by 54 petty officers and firemen was also authorized.

April 15th, the organization of a Separate Naval Division, to be known as the "First" and to be located in New York City was authorized.

November 3d, the increase allowed the special division of the First Battalion April 22d, was ordered to be dropped, returning that division to a peace footing.

VOLUNTEERS.

First Call.

April 23d, 1898, the President of the United States issued a call for one hundred and twenty-five thousand volunteers, to be furnished by the States of the Union.

April 25th.

The following telegram was received by the Governor from the Secretary of War, Hon. R. A. Alger:

"The number of troops from your State under the call of the President, dated April 23, 1898, will be twelve regiments of infantry and two troops of cavalry. It is the wish of the President that the regiments of the National Guard or State Militia shall be used as far as their numbers will permit for the reason that they are armed, equipped and drilled. Please wire as early as possible what equipments, ammunition, arms, blankets, tents, etc., you have and what additional you will require. Please also state when troops will be ready for muster into United States service, details to follow by mail."

April 26th.

In view of the fact that the President desired that the National Guard should be used to fill this call as far as practicable, and that under the Constitution of the United States, the National Guard (Militia) of the State could be ordered into the service of the United States only to repel invasion, to execute the laws of the Union and to suppress insurrection; it became necessary to ascertain which of the organizations of the National Guard were willing to enter the United States service voluntarily, and, to obtain such information, Special Orders No. 64 were issued, as follows:

"As a demand has been made upon the State of New York by the President of these United States for volunteers, and as he has requested that the quota to be sent from this State be made up as far as possible from the National Guard; the Commander-in-Chief directs the commanding officer of the National Guard to have the commanding officers of each infantry organization in the State assemble at once their respective commands in uniform in their armories, and there by an individual expression, freely and voluntarily given, learn how many officers and enlisted men of his organization desire to be mustered into the service of the United States for the term of two years, unless sooner discharged, to serve where ordered by the proper authorities."

"The result of the above instructions to be telegraphed direct to general headquarters, stating in the telegram the present enlisted strength of the organization, and exactly how many officers and how many men desire to volunteer."

The following communication dated April 25th, 1898, from the Secretary of War was received by you this day, and referred to this office:

To the Governor of New York:

SIR:— Under the Act of Congress "to provide for temporarily increasing the military establishment of the United States in time of war, and for other purposes," approved April 22, 1898, and call for 125,000 volunteers, by direction of the President I have the honor to request you to provide from your State the quota of volunteers, as follows :

Twelve regiments infantry, two troops cavalry, to serve in the arms of service designated for the period of two years unless sooner discharged. Attached will be found a statement showing the organization for artillery, cavalry and infantry.

Please cause the Adjutant-General of the Army to be informed of the time your quota will be at its rendezvous, as it will be met as soon as practicable thereafter by an officer to muster it into the service and pay of the United States. The mustering officer will be instructed to receive no man, under the rank of commissioned officer, who is in years over forty-five or under eighteen, or who is not in physical strength and vigor. As soon as mustered into the United States service, it is the intention that troops from your State shall be assembled with others for instruction and service under the direction of the Major-General commanding the army, at some point or points to be designated hereafter. It is desired, for reasons stated in telegram of this date, that, as far as practicable, the National Guard be given preference.

The rendezvous for your State will be Peekskill. If, for any cause, it is found necessary to change point of concentration, your recommendation is requested.

Bands may be organized from the strength of regiments as in the regular army, viz.: See paragraph 245, Army Regulations, 1895.

Very respectfully,

R. A. ALGER,
Secretary of War.

April 28th.

In Special Orders, No. 67, of the same date, Major-General Charles F. Roe, commanding the National Guard, with his staff was placed on duty until further orders and directed to "instruct the commanding officers of the brigade by telegraph to have the organizations selected for service in the Volunteer Army of the United States move so that they reach the camps at Hempstead or Peekskill, as the case may be, on Monday next at about 4 o'clock p. m.," and informed that "orders will be sent direct from general headquarters as to the hours of departure, the road to be used, etc."

In General Orders, No. 9, issued this day, supplementary instructions were promulgated for prompt compliance and observance by all concerned, as follows:

In accordance with the telegraphic request of the Adjutant-General of the United States Army, dated April 27th, 1898, and addressed to the Governor, being as follows :

“Mustering regulations of the War Department provide that medical officers before being mustered into the service of the United States will be required to pass satisfactory examinations as to character and professional ability before a board of army or civilian surgeons, or both, designated by the Surgeon-General. An army surgeon has been designated to conduct physical examinations for volunteers at each State rendezvous. The Secretary of War requests that you provide two civilian physicians to constitute with the army surgeon a board for carrying out the above provisions.” Doctors C. E. May 4th.

Commanding officers of camp at Hempstead and of the Camp of Instruction were requested to have regimental commanders make requisition at once on this office for what is needed; 1st, blankets, ponchos, packs and leggings; 2d, overcoats, blouses, trousers, caps, campaign hats, rifles and cartridge belts.

Doyle, Robert Shaw Oliver, McCoskry Butt and George Moore Smith, Brigadier-Generals, the positions held by them in the State service. Roe is a West Point graduate and ex-army officer; Doyle is an ex-volunteer officer, War of Rebellion, and Oliver is an ex-army officer. The others have seen long service in the National Guard of this State."

Lieutenant-Colonel Davis, U. S. Army, chief mustering officer, telegraphed to this office: "I am just in receipt of telegram from Secretary of War saying that the President has decided that the rank of the regimental surgeon is major, and the rank of the two assistant surgeons of each regiment is first lieutenant."

Brigadier-General James McLeer, Second Brigade, was placed on duty at Brooklyn.

In order to expedite the filling of requisitions and to look after the care and welfare of the troops, I left Albany this day and proceeded to New York city where I had consultations from time to time with the Chief of Ordnance and the Commanding General and whence I visited the two camps repeatedly.

The Secretary of War telegraphed the Governor under this date: "Kindly inform me number and kind of tents you can loan or sell to quartermaster's department, with view to their immediate use by the volunteers now being mustered in. The question of return or compensation for this property will be considered by this office on terms of equity. Give us all possible."

May 6th.

The following telegram was sent by this office to the Secretary of War:

"The quota called for from this State is now under canvas which, if desired, can be taken with the troops after their muster in on conditions named in your telegram. There are about 1,500 wall tents and 480 conical wall tents. It will leave us without tents."

The commanding officers of the camps were informed that the Secretary of War states: "The physical fitness of a candidate for a commission is so essential a pre-requisite, the Governor will at once recognize the absolute necessity for the medical examinations prescribed in the mustering regulations for both officers and men, and that the Surgeon-General of the Army exacts the same physical standard of volunteers as of regulars."

The Surgeon-General of the State was placed and directed to remain on duty until the troops of this State were mustered in the United States service, and orders were issued that his recommendations should be followed.

Major E. O. Roessle, Commissary, Third Brigade, was relieved from duty with the Commissary-General of Subsistence and returned to duty with his Brigade Commander.

May 7th.

The Adjutant-General of the Army telegraphed as follows:

"All tents from your State you can spare, will be gladly received by quartermaster's department to be used so far as necessary for New York volunteers, and the remainder for other troops wherever required. The matter will be settled upon some equitable basis."

In reply to this, Adjutant-General Corbin was notified of the telegram to the Secretary of War sent on the 6th, and the same repeated to him; to which he replied as follows:

"Thanks for your telegram of even date. The Quartermaster of the Army will be instructed to correspond with you in the name of the Secretary of War, concerning the transfer of the tents. It is the intention of the Secretary of War, as soon as new ones can be manufactured, to have them replace those you turn in."

The Surgeon-General of the Army telegraphed to the Governor:

"Please request your Surgeon-General to nominate to the mustering officer a sufficient number of candidates for the hospital corps from which the medical examining board will select for enlistment 13 hospital stewards, 16 acting hospital stewards and 355 privates." Notice of the foregoing was given as requested.

The officers and enlisted men of the Thirteenth Regiment, then on duty at the Camp at Hempstead Plains, were detached from their regiment, and placed under the command of Major George D. Russell who received authority to form of them four companies and to recruit them to the maximum of 81 enlisted men each. These companies were to form one of the battalions of the Twenty-second Regiment on arrival at the camp of the latter.

The Twenty-second Regiment, having volunteered its services, was ordered to be organized into eight companies and to proceed to Camp Black for entry into the United States service; the four companies of the battalion of the Thirteenth at the camp were to join and become part of the Regiment.

May 8th.

The following telegram dated May 7th, 1898, from the Secretary of War to the Governor, was received in this office this day:

"It is the intention to order to Camp George H. Thomas, Chickamauga National Park, Ga., the first four regiments of infantry of your State which shall first be completely equipped. Every effort should be exerted to complete as fast as possible each regiment in turn, rather than all simultaneously. Report by telegraph when first regiment will be ready, also any subsequent changes in date as to when regiment will be ready.”

May 9th.

The Secretary of War telegraphed to the Governor this day, as follows :

“ Referring to my telegram of May 7th, we wish everything you can furnish, as the Government is going to have hard work to equip its troops in time for service. Please have inventory of State property furnished with view to its return or accounting for. The organizations to be equipped for Chickamauga should have everything required for field service, arms, ammunition, accoutrements, camp equipage, tentage etc.”

And later :

“ Referring to my telegram of May 7th, you are informed that, owing to changed conditions, the destination of troops of your State mentioned therein has been changed from Camp George H. Thomas, Ga., to Tampa, Fla., and they will be sent there provided your troops are uniformed, armed and equipped ready for service.”

May 10th.

The following telegram was sent to the Honorable Secretary of War :

“ The Governor is ready to start troops fully uniformed and equipped as soon as General Davis reports men mustered. Will report definitely this evening from Hotel Waldorf, New York city.”

Brigadier-General George W. Davis, United States Volunteers, chief mustering officer, was by telegraph requested to meet the Adjutant-General this evening at the Hotel Waldorf, New York city.

Brigadier-General James McLeer, Second Brigade, was authorized to uniform and equip such members of the Thirteenth Regiment as were volunteering to fill up the four companies at Camp Black, from the property issued heretofore by the State to the commanding officer of the Thirteenth Regiment, ordered disbanded.

The Adjutant-General of the United States Army was telegraphed to this effect:

“In supplying our troops we require canteens and Merriam packs, which we cannot obtain elsewhere. Can United States supply these?”

The answer to this, received in due course of time, was unfavorable.

May 11.

The Adjutant-General of the United States Army telegraphed to the Governor as follows:

“Secretary of War bids me state to you this situation: There are a number of vessels leaving New York to-night, to-morrow and early Friday morning for Key West. It is desirable that, if one or two regiments of your State are thoroughly armed, uniformed and equipped with tentage, etc., for field service, they be placed en route so as to reach New York in time to take advantage of these ships going south. It is thought that the men will be more comfortable than going by rail, and as these ships are chartered by the day, just so much railroad transportation will be saved; but, unless your regiment or regiments can reach New York so as to be on board early Friday morning, it is not necessary to consider the proposition. Should you find that they can, you will place yourself in communication with Colonel Kimball, the depot quartermaster, Army Building, New York, in order that he may perfect all arrangements for transportation from railroad to outgoing ships. Secretary of War will be obliged if reply by wire can be sent during the night, same to be addressed to Adjutant-General whose office will be open until midnight.”

The Governor received the following telegram from the Secretary of War, Honorable R. A. Alger: “It is now desired that two regiments of infantry of your State, as soon as mustered, armed and equipped, be sent to Tampa. Please inform me when it will be possible for your troops to move. If not fully equipped, but sufficiently so to travel, it may be considered best to have them go and complete equipments, etc., at Tampa. A detailed statement of the situation as to your troops is requested as soon as it is possible for you to give it.”

May 12th.

General H. C. Corbin, Adjutant-General of the United States Army, telegraphed to the Adjutant-General of the State :

“It has been determined that the Seventy-first New York Volunteer Regiment is the only one to go by transport to Key West.”

And to the Governor of the State :

“Secretary of War bids me inform you the United States mustering officers have been instructed to report all regiments mustered into United States service, full name of colonel commanding, to what extent lacking in arms, ammunition, uniforms, clothing, equipment and tentage ; and that from the moment of muster in to United States service organizations will cease to be under the orders of State authorities and the orders for their disposition, transportation and supplies will be controlled by the War Department alone. The colonels and commanding officers of separate organizations will be instructed by the mustering officer to report by telegraph to the Adjutant-General of the Army immediately after muster in. Please acknowledge receipt.”

May 13th.

The Governor of the State received the following telegram from the Honorable R. A. Alger, Secretary of War :

“Two regiments, infantry, your State having been mustered into service will be ordered to-day to proceed to Chickamauga. It is desired that the State authorities furnish all supplies possible in way of clothing, camp and garrison equipage and all appurtenances for a soldier in the field, including tents which are much needed. On arrival at Chickamauga these troops, with those of other States, will be thoroughly equipped and moved to the front. This was found to be better than to attempt to thoroughly equip the regiment at the State rendezvous. Ordnance, quartermaster's and subsistence departments are concentrating at Chattanooga supplies to meet situation.”

May 16th.

In response to an inquiry the following telegram was received from Brigadier-General Stanton, Paymaster-General, U. S. Army :

“All volunteers accepted by the Government will be paid from date of enrollment. Rejected recruits will receive no pay, but only transportation and subsistence from the place of enrollment to rendezvous and return."

In accordance with the directions of the Governor an inquiry was sent to the Honorable Secretary of War to this effect :

"Will the United States reimburse the State of New York, should the Governor decide to pay the volunteers of this State from the date of their enrollment to the date of their muster in to the United States service?"

May 17th.

In response to telegram of the 16th, the following was received from the Adjutant-General of the United States Army :

"United States will pay all accepted enlisted men from the date of enrollment and officers from the date of muster in, and will bear expense of transportation and subsistence only in cases of rejected recruits from place of enrollment to place of rendezvous and return."

Orders were issued that to each of the regiments about to enter, or already entered into the United States service, there will be allowed one additional major and three battalion adjutants.

Brigadier-General Ludington, Quartermaster-General, United States Army, telegraphed to the Governor :

"Please request colonels of regiments coming to Washington to inform this office by wire quantities, kind and sizes of clothing and tents that troops from your State ordered to camp near Washington will require upon arrival at camp in addition to what they bring with them. Owing to unavoidable delay in obtaining large quantities required, organizations should come as fully equipped as possible."

May 18th.

The following telegram was sent to General Ludington, Quartermaster-General, U. S. Army :

"The Governor is in receipt of your telegram of yesterday as to regiments going to Washington and would gladly comply with your request, but, as the War Department does not notify him when it orders regiments out of the State nor where it orders them to, he is not able to do so."

And the following to the Adjutant-General, U. S. Army:

"The Governor requests that New York regiments be not ordered out of the State before their commanding officers have rendered to him an inventory of the State property they take with them into the United States service."

Copies of the "Manual for Army Cooks," "Handbook of Quartermaster's Stores" and "Manual of the Medical Department" were sent to the commanding officers of the volunteer organizations of this State.

May 21st.

The following telegram was sent to the Honorable Secretary of War:

"Is it your decision that a squadron of cavalry is permitted to have a surgeon? Will you grant Governor Black permission to commission Dr. Leale, of Troop A, as Surgeon, N. Y. Volunteers? He is reported as having passed a very successful examination."

The reply to this, when received, was to the effect that two companies of cavalry could not be allowed an assistant surgeon.

May 26th.

The Adjutant-General of the Army telegraphed to the Governor: "Secretary of War has decided that volunteer officers of the same grade, rank according to muster into United States service. When commissions of such officers bear same date, relative rank is determined by previous length of U. S. military service under commission, and in absence of such service, by lot. Secretary considers it very desirable that the commissions bear same date as muster into service."

May 27th.

The following was telegraphed to the Adjutant-General of the Army by this office: "The Governor regrets he did not know the wishes of the Secretary of War sooner, as a few days ago he decided on the course to take in the matter of rank of colonels from this State."

May 28th.

The following inquiry was made of the Adjutant-General U. S. Army: "Has Governor authority to appoint a major for the two troops of the State now in the field?" The reply to this received May 31st, was "there is no authority for appointment of major for two troops of cavalry."

The Adjutant-General of the Army was also asked by telegraph as follows: "Mustering officers, Chickamauga Park, are reported to refuse muster in of officers until they show commissions. The order of the Governor appointing them should be as good as a commission, otherwise there will be long delays."

May 31st.

The following was received from General Corbin, Adjutant-General, U. S. Army: "It is regarded by War Department unwise to muster officers of State regiments into United States service without commissions, in view of requirement of section 6 Volunteer Army Act, and the rule governing musters in the late Civil War. The rule is that the production of a commission is an indispensable pre-requisite to muster in and Secretary of War is not inclined to set it aside."

The following telegram was sent to all commanding officers of New York volunteer organizations: "If you have not forwarded pay rolls for State pay, do so at once. There is absolutely needed a report from each company, giving names of men rejected, date of their enlistment and of rejection, else they cannot be paid. Please be prompt about this."

June 1st.

This office telegraphed to the Adjutant-General, U. S. Army: "As regards muster in of officers on commission only, the Governor desires to represent that an order from him appointing an officer is as good as a commission, and that officers without commissions have been mustered in on his orders at other points and times. It is not always practicable to issue a commission to an officer immediately on his appointment, and not to muster him in puts an unnecessary hardship on the officer."

June 2d.

The following was received from the Adjutant-General of the Army: "The appointment of an officer by the Governor should secure his muster. This is authority for the mustering officer's guidance."

June 3d.

Reports were received that mustering officers still failed to muster in officers, and the following letter was addressed by me to the Adjutant-General of the U. S. Army :

“SIR:— I have the honor to confirm and add to telegrams sent this day. The Governor would appreciate it if orders were issued so that, on presentation of an appointment from him to a commissioned officer, that officer could be properly mustered in at each or any of the National encampments. This will avoid requests to you which in your overburdened state should be a relief.”

Finally under date of June 17th, a telegram was received from the War Department as follows: “Instructions telegraphed commanding generals of all army corps to recognize appointments of Governor of New York as equivalent to commission.”

As this Department has been criticised in regard to the delay in paying the men of the New York organizations entering the United States service, attention is called to the telegram sent under date of May 31st to the commanding officers of these organizations, and to two telegrams sent June 9th and 10th, respectively, to two regimental commanders, which latter are quoted here :

“If your pay rolls are correct from day of enrollment, showing those mustered in and those rejected, with additional pay allowed for long service to men of this State, send them by quick delivery or express to Paymaster-General, S. N. Y., New York city, immediately. The State is more anxious to pay than is easily imagined, but the law will not permit it until complete and correct pay rolls are submitted. Please repeat these statements to other New York State commanding officers at your camp. We are now working about thirty men endeavoring to correct vital errors made in pay rolls submitted by officers in the field,” and

“Your telegram at hand. Not a single one of your company pay rolls was correct. We have corrected them here by muster-in rolls, and you will be paid as soon as the Paymaster-General can get to you. You can say to any interested officer that there was not a single pay roll in the State of New York that was correct. Publicity should be given to this as a matter of fairness to Pay Department.”

June 15th.

Brigadier-General James McLeer, 2d Brigade, was relieved from special duty at Brooklyn.

June 17th.

Brigadier-General Howard Carroll, Chief of Artillery, was placed on special duty in connection with a tour of inspection of the Volunteers of this State now in various camps in the South. His report on his return was rendered to the Commander-in-Chief.

Under the orders of the War Department as to constitution of regiments, a regimental adjutant, a regimental quartermaster and a regimental assistant surgeon held the grade of a first lieutenant and there were but two majors and no battalion adjutants allowed. Under the Military Code of the State there are allowed three majors and battalion adjutants for regiments of twelve companies, and the grade of a regimental adjutant, regimental quartermaster and assistant surgeon is that of captain. As soon as the act of Congress, approved April 22d, 1898, was promulgated and the purport of section six brought to my attention, proper commissions, with grade as provided by the State Code, were issued to these officers. The part of the section of the act referred to, applicable in this case, is as follows:

“ Provided further, that when the members of any company, troop, battery, battalion or regiment of the organized militia of any State shall enlist in the volunteer army in a body as such company, troop, battery, battalion or regiment, the regimental, company, troop, battery and battalion officers in service with the militia organization thus enlisting, may be appointed by the Governors of the States and Territories and shall, when so appointed, be officers of corresponding grades in the same organization when it shall have been received into the service of the United States as a part of the volunteer army.”

This, being an act of Congress, modifies the orders of the War Department and the orders based upon them as they relate to National Guard officers who came under this provision.

As there were, however, mustering officers who declined to muster in the officers in the increased grade, the following letter was, addressed to the Hon. Secretary of War, and copies of it were furnished to the commanding officers of the N. Y. Volunteer organizations :

July 8th,

“SIR:— I have the honor to call your attention to section 6 of the act of Congress approved April 22, 1898, entitled ‘An act to provide for temporarily increasing the military establishment of the United States in time of war and for other purposes.’

“This section provides ‘that when the members of any company, troop, battery, battalion or regiment of the organized militia of any State shall enlist in the volunteer army in a body as such company, troop, battery, battalion or regiment, the regimental, company, troop, battery and battalion officers in service with ‘the military organization thus enlisting, may be appointed by the Governors of the States and Territories and shall, when so appointed, be officers of corresponding grades in the same organization when it shall have been received into the service of the United States as a part of the volunteer army.’

“Upon the first call of the President this State furnished twelve regiments, all taken from its National Guard, the organized militia of the State.

“The Military Code of the State provides that among the field and staff officers of the regiment there shall be three majors; one regimental adjutant of the grade of captain; three battalion adjutants of the grade of first lieutenants; one regimental quartermaster of the grade of captain; three battalion quartermasters of the grade of first lieutenants; one commissary of subsistence of the grade of captain; two inspectors of small arms practice, one of the grade of captain, the other of the grade of first lieutenant; two assistant surgeons of the grade of captain. The Governor did not appoint battalion quartermasters nor inspectors of small arms practice, but did appoint the regimental adjutant and regimental quartermaster and the assistant surgeons; and he is informed that these officers, who under the State law hold the grade of captains, are mustered in as first lieutenants, while, as he is credibly informed, like officers of other States have been mustered in according to their State rank.

“Governor Black directs me to bring this matter to your notice, knowing that, as soon as you will be made aware of this violation of the act of Congress, you will issue the necessary orders to rectify this error and cause the regimental adjutants and quartermasters and assistant surgeons of the twelve regiments furnished by this State to be mustered in as captains.

“In connection with this matter, I am also instructed to call your attention to section 55, S. O. 155, Headquarters of the Army, A. G. O., July 2, 1898, which musters out Frank B. Edwards, he having been at first erroneously mustered into the said regiment as battalion adjutant.

“As stated above the State law provides for battalion adjutants, the first Regiment was organized as a National Guard Regiment and the Governor fails to see the justice of the action taken in mustering out this officer, and therefore requests that this order be revoked and the officer ordered to join his regiment.”

July 9th.

I telegraphed the Adjutant-General, U. S. Army, on the same subject as follows :

“The twelve regiments furnished are National Guard organizations. It has been brought to the notice of the Governor that regimental adjutants and quartermasters and assistant surgeons have been mustered in as of grade of first lieutenant, while the State law makes them captains. They have commissions as such now and Governor Black requests that the act of Congress be complied with and those officers be re-mustered in proper grade. The law of the State provides for battalion adjutants, and one of the First Regiment was discharged July 2d. The Governor requests that the order discharging this officer be revoked and that battalion adjutants be allowed to these regiments in accordance with the act of Congress.”

REPORT OF MAJOR-GENERAL ROE.

HEADQUARTERS NATIONAL GUARD, N. Y.,
 STEWART BUILDING, 280 BROADWAY,
 NEW YORK CITY, July 1, 1898. }

Adjutant-General, S. N. Y.:

SIR — I have the honor to submit the following report of the establishment of the camp at Hempstead Plains, known as Camp Black:

On April 22d received an order from Adjutant-General directing me to examine the range at Creedmoor, with a view of establishing a camp. On inquiry found water was very scarce at that place and space very limited. Colonel Olin, Assistant Adjutant-General of my staff, strongly recommended Hempstead Plains as a place suitable for encamping thousands of men. Colonel Olin was directed to communicate with Judge Horace Russell and sent this telegram:

NEW YORK, April 23, 1898.

HON. HORACE RUSSELL, Southampton, L. I.:

Would you allow State to use portion of Hempstead Plains free of charge for purpose mentioned in our conversation the other day?

STEPHEN H. OLIN,
Asst. Adj.-Gen.,
 280 Broadway.

NEW YORK, April 25, 1898.

Major-General ROE, Headquarters Nat. Guard, Albany, N. Y.:

Judge Russell answers my telegram of Saturday: "Yes, most willingly."

STEPHEN H. OLIN,
A. A. G.

This information was communicated to the Adjutant-General.

In Albany about 6 p. m., April 27th, 1898, I received G. O., No. 8, c. s., A. G. O., Par. X of which requires that a camp be established at Hempstead Plains, L. I., to be commanded by Major-General Charles F. Roe.

The following telegraphic order was sent to commanding officer First Brigade, 8 West Fifty-second street, New York city :

In compliance with G. O., No. 8, c. s., A. G. O., the following organizations of your brigade are selected to enter the service of United States as volunteer regiments : Ninth and Twelfth Regiments. Orders in detail will follow by mail. Each regiment will consist of twelve companies, of three officers and eighty-one men each.

CHAS. F. ROE,
Maj.-Gen.

Same order was sent to commanding officer Second Brigade as to Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Forty-seventh Regiments. Same to commanding officer Third Brigade as to regiments made up of separate companies known as First and Second Provisional Regiments. Same to commanding officer Fourth Brigade as to Sixty-fifth Regiment and Third Provisional Regiment made up of separate companies. Same to commanding officer Fifth Brigade as to Eighth, Sixty-ninth and Seventy-first Regiments.

On Thursday, April 28th, the following telegraphic order was sent from Albany to each of the brigade commanders, namely :

ALBANY, April 28th, 1898.

Commanding officers First, Second, Third and Fifth Brigades:

You make every arrangement for the organizations designated to move to Garden City, leaving Monday. The hour of departure and route to be taken will be furnished later from General Headquarters, Albany. Take all equipments and camp equipage and three days' rations based on State allowance of forty-eight cents per man.

CHAS. F. ROE,
Maj.-Gen.

Same order was sent to commanding officer Fourth Brigade, except that the troops were directed to move Sunday.

Thursday, April 28th, about midnight I left Albany with my aide, Major Greer, arrived in New York 6.30 a. m., met my commissary, Colonel Hurry, to whom I had telegraphed. Ordered him to take steps at once to provide rations for nine thousand men at camp on Hempstead Plains, L. I., near Garden City, to have the rations there Monday, May 2d, for three days and to arrange to have rations delivered every three days thereafter.

At 8 a. m. proceeded to Long Island City, met Colonel Olin, Major Andrews and others of my staff and proceeded by train to two miles east of Garden City, left the train and selected the site which became Camp Black. Colonel Olin knew the approximate location through the kindness of Mr. Prescott Hall Butler who represented the owners of the A. T. Stewart estate. The representatives of two water companies and a pump company being on the ground, they were invited to offer bids for supplying the camp with water. The proposition of the Hempstead Water Company to lay about five miles of pipe to supply nine thousand five hundred men with water for three months, to supply barrels and keep them filled with water until line was completed, all for the sum of six thousand five hundred dollars, was accepted. Work was begun on the pipe line on Saturday, April 30th, pipe secured in New York and shipped by rail. Water was delivered by pipe by Wednesday, May 3d, and the line was completed by Thursday May 4th. This line of pipe ran in rear of whole camp, which was one and a half miles long, with a faucet at each street, one hundred and thirteen faucets in all.

On Thursday, April 28th, the commanding officer of the Seventy-first Regiment was directed to send one company to Hempstead Plains to guard property. The company detailed was "H," Seventy-first Regiment, Captain Joyce, which arrived about 2 p. m., April 28th, went into camp and rendered most excellent service, guarding property, working daily moving and unloading canvas and stores until the camp was fully established on May 2d. This company was the first in the field of the New York troops and deserves much praise.

The following were placed on my staff per S. O., 68, c. s., A. G. O.: "Colonel William Cary Sanger, Assistant Chief of Artillery, and Colonel Nelson H. Henry, Assistant Surgeon-General, are detailed temporarily for duty on staff of the commanding officer of the National Guard." The following officers were also detailed on my staff for duty at camp at Hempstead, per S. O., 72, c. s., A. G. O.: Major David P. Arnold, Commissary of Subsistence, Fifth Brigade, Major N. B. Thurston, Twenty-second Regiment, and Major Avery D. Andrews, Squadron "A."

The regiments designated to go to camp on Hempstead Plains received their orders for movement direct from the Adjutant-

General and the arrangements were made by General Howard Carroll, Chief of Artillery, for transportation by rail from Long Island City on Monday, May 2d. These arrangements were successfully carried out, and the troops were turned over to me at Camp Black, whither I had proceeded with my staff by special car early on the morning of May 2d.

A battalion of the Third Regiment was the first to arrive about 11 a. m., and the others followed with intervals of half an hour to an hour. The last regiment arrived about 6 p. m. Officers of my staff met each train and conducted the troops to their respective camps.

Troops of Cavalry A and C arrived about 6.30 p. m., having marched from their respective armories. At 7 p. m., the entire command, numbering about 8,000 men, was under the shelter of canvas, had straw for their tents and wood for cook fires, all of which had been provided and hauled to the camp; and the baggage was moved from the trains by means of wagon transportation, principally farmers' wagons. These arrangements had been made and were carried out by Colonel John I. Holly, Quartermaster on the staff of Major-General, commanding guard and the camp.

General Orders, No. 1, as follows, were issued May 2d:

By command of Major-General Roe,

STEPHEN H. OLIN,
Assistant-Adjutant General.

The Forty-seventh Regiment arrived on the morning of May 3d, having been authorized to delay movement until that date.

A branch post office of the United States was established in a tent on May 4th. The New York and New Jersey Telephone Company submitted, under date of May 2d, a proposition to connect the division and nine regimental headquarters at Hempstead Plains by a local telephone system of eleven stations for one year or less, for the sum of $1,485.00. By authority of the Adjutant-General this proposition was accepted. This local system was connected with the long-distance system and the rate to Brooklyn and New York was fixed at twenty-five cents for five minutes conversation or less. The telephone system worked satisfactorily and was of great benefit to the command. A telegraph line was also established connecting with the main line.

CAMP BLACK, GARDEN CITY, L. I., }

General Orders, }
 No. 2. }

I. By direction of the Governor the troops in camp will constitute three brigades as follows: The Sixty-fifth Regiment and the Second and Third Provisional Regiments will form a brigade which Brigadier-General Robert Shaw Oliver is assigned to command. The Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Forty-seventh Regiments will form a brigade which Brigadier-General McCoskry Butt is assigned to command. The Sixty-ninth and Seventy-first and the First Provisional Regiments will form a brigade which Brigadier-General George Moore Smith is assigned to command.

II. The headquarters guards will hereafter be furnished by the brigades in turn in the following order: May 5th by General Butt's brigade, May 6th by General Oliver's brigade, May 7th by General Smith's brigade. For to-day Colonel William Cary Sanger is detailed as field officer of the day and the guard will be detailed by the C. O., Seventy-first Regiment.

III. On and after May 5th brigade commanders will in their brigades require the performance of all duties imposed by G. O., No. 1. They will preserve order in their respective brigades, and will give such assistance to the Provost Marshal as he may require.

By command of Major-General Roe.

The Seventy-first Regiment was mustered into the service of the United States on Tuesday, May 10th. The Fourteenth Regiment on May 16th. The Sixty-fifth, Second and Third Provisional Regiments' muster was completed on May 17th. Troops A's and C's and the Sixty-ninth Regiment's on May 19th. The First Provisional Regiment's on May 20th. The Twenty-second and Forty-seventh Regiments' muster was completed on May 24th. The brigade commanders were relieved from duty and ordered to their home stations when the regiments of their brigades were mustered into the United States Volunteers.

The Regular Army having established a subsistence department, the respective regiments were supplied by the regular commissary as soon as mustered in. General Pennington, United States Volunteers, having been ordered to command the volunteer camp, arrived May 25th. General Roe and staff were relieved from duty on May 25th and returned to home station.

The weather from May 2d to 25th, inclusive, was wet and damp and particularly bad for new troops, but owing to the favorable location of the camp site and the peculiar quality of the soil, the health of the command was excellent and remarkable. (See Surgeon Henry's report herewith.) The duties of Provost Marshal were very onerous, but were performed most excellently in a thoroughly impartial and courteous manner by Col. William Cary Sanger, who thus removed many burdens from the shoulders of the commanding general.

The duties of Quartermaster and Commissary were performed by Colonel Holly and Colonel Hurry, respectively, in the most praiseworthy manner. Their attention to duty and the energetic way in which it was performed was a constant gratification to the commanding general. Major Arnold, Commissary of the Fifth Brigade staff, was of the greatest assistance to Colonel Hurry, Commissary, and the service rendered by him was most excellent. To Major Arnold I extend my personal thanks.

The medical department of the camp was looked after by Colonel Henry, Assistant Surgeon-General of the State, and everything pertaining thereto was so intelligently and satisfactorily carried out as not to cause me one moment's uneasiness.

The other members of the staff, Colonel Olin, Major Greer, Major Holland, Major Williams, Major Thurston and Major Andrews were ever attentive to their respective duties, and always on the alert to anticipate every wish of the commanding general.

The discipline throughout was most excellent and I think the State of New York has every reason to be proud of its National Guard and in my opinion the guard thoroughly demonstrated its usefulness. Although forty or fifty per cent. of certain organizations did not volunteer or were rejected for physical reasons, the skeleton was left and the officers and non-commissioned officers were able to handle large numbers of recruits and put them into a good military shape in a very short time. The State of New York furnished its quota, 12,000 men, in three weeks with comparatively little friction and thereby established a reputation for military efficiency excelled by no other State.

His Excellency, Governor Frank S. Black, visited the camp on Thursday, May 12th, about five p. m. The entire division of nine regiments of infantry and two troops of cavalry was formed and passed in review before him.

In closing this report I want to call attention to the excellent work done by the Long Island Railroad Company. Sidings were put in, sheds erected and every facility afforded for the transportation of troops and supplies. The officials of the road were universally polite, obliging and ready to meet any demands made on them.

Reports of Colonel Hurry and Colonel Henry herewith enclosed.

Respectfully,

CHAS. F. ROE,

Major-General.

Report of Colonel Hurry, Commissary of Camp Black.

MAJOR-GENERAL CHAS. F. ROE, N. G. N. Y.,

No. 280 Broadway, New York city.

Sir:—I have the honor to make the following report in connection with commissary work done at Camp Black:

According to orders I reported to you in New York City on Friday, April 29th, at 8 a. m., and acting under your instructions proceeded at once to make arrangements for commissary stores for 9,000 men. Contracts were made with Messrs. Acker, Merrall & Condit for groceries, Messrs. Armour & Co., for meats, Messrs. Fleischmann & Co., for bread and Messrs. Wilson Bros., for vegetables. On arrival at Camp Black on Monday, May 2d, the supplies were on hand and ready for delivery. Messrs. Armour & Co., provided their refrigerator car, which held a three days' supply of fresh meat, and Messrs. Fleischmann & Co. delivered each morning 9,000 loaves of fresh bread. During the encampment there were 142,377 rations issued, for which \$43,869.31 was paid, which would make cost per ration $30\frac{81}{100}$ cents. This cost would be reduced by \$1,400 worth of supplies turned over to the United States Commissary after the troops were all mustered in, which would reduce the cost per ration to $29\frac{82}{100}$ cents. The organizations which reported were not provided with ration returns, consequently issues were made to each organization and a receipt taken in a book kept for that purpose from the officer acting as commissary, the issues were made to conform with the State allowance. I would most urgently recommend that some instructions be given the commissaries of the various organizations as to the proper cooking and handling of the rations. There was in many cases an absolute lack of knowledge on the part of the men detailed as company cooks. I am indebted to Major David P. Arnold, Commissary of the Fifth Brigade, for his assistance in the department, and his efforts contributed largely to the prompt delivery of the supplies.

Respectfully,

GILFORD HURRY,

Lieutenant-Colonel and Commissary.

Report of Colonel Nelson H. Henry, Assistant Surgeon-General.

□ COOK TENT

○ STORE TENT

Hospital proper was formed by arranging six hospital tents in the form of a cross.

Monday, May 2d, I reported at Camp Black to Major-General Roë, commanding; medical officers of the respective commands as they reported were directed regarding their duties; sinks or latrines were arranged, one for each company, 100 feet in rear of company cook tent.

The water supply, carried by pipe lines from the Hempstead Water Works, was hardly established, causing some inconvenience during the first few days due to an inadequate supply; this was soon remedied; some few wells were sunk giving a good quality of water.

Samples from both these sources of water supply were examined with the result shown in the following communications:

SIR: — Following the instructions of Adjutant-General C. W. Tillinghast, 2d, I visited the camp at Hempstead, Long Island, on the third instant; personally examined the sources of water supply and took samples of such water for chemical and biological examination. Permit me to report that the results of these examinations are exceedingly satisfactory. I find the water supplied the camp to be as pure as, if not purer, than any water that it has ever been my fortune to analyze. I inclose herewith the analytical results.

Assistant Surgeon Medwin Leale of Squadron A was in camp with Troops A and C, and, while he qualified before the examining board, could not be mustered into service as no provision could be made for a medical officer for a mounted force less than a squadron.

Lieutenant-Colonels Herman Bendell, Walter E. Lambert and John Duncan Emmet, respective surgeons of the Third, Fifth and First Brigades, were present in camp and gave valuable assistance.

The weather during most of the period of this tour of service was very trying; repeated cold rains caused much discomfort and put the command to a very severe physical test. Even with these climatic changes there was a remarkably small percentage of sickness.

Until the field hospital was erected, the kind offer of the Nassau Hospital Association was accepted and severe cases of illness were transferred to the Nassau Hospital of Hempstead. I take this opportunity of thanking the Association and Dr. S. N. Lanehart, attending surgeon, for the kind attention and care bestowed upon those placed under their charge.

The following orders and communications established a system looking to the welfare and sanitary condition of the command:

Instructions to Brigade Surgeons:

General Orders, }
No. 4. }

I. Secure complete roster of medical officers.

II. Secure complete roster of hospital corps of regiment in your respective command, stating qualification of men and vocation. Hospital corps men have been brought to camp as privates and commanding officers have been directed to detail them to surgeons forming regimental hospital corps. In case hospital corps men have not been brought to camp with their respective commands for any reasons and are desirous of volunteering for hospital corps duty, their names and qualifications should be secured in order that they may be communicated with at the proper time.

III. Ascertain whether respective commands have proper medical supplies; each command is expected to have one medical and surgical chest, proper number of hospital corps orderly and hospital corps pouches, medical officers' field surgical cases. Where wanting, requisition should be promptly forwarded, also requisition for blanks and sick report book.

IV. A field hospital will be established in due time; in the meantime, through the kindness of those in charge, the Nassau Hospital, Hempstead, has been placed at the disposal of Major-General Roe, and medical officers duly authorized will have charge of the cases through the kindness and courtesy of Dr. S. N. Lanehart, attending at the hospital, who is willing to render every assistance in his power. At present the nursing force at the hospital, I am informed, is sufficient. Should, however, the medical officer in charge of the hospital deem it necessary and called for, he may ask for detail of sufficient number of hospital corps to act as orderlies in the hospital under the direction of the nurses in charge.

To the Secretary of the Board:

SIR:—I respectfully call your attention to the fact that the present enlistment of volunteers for duty in the United States service causes to be collected together a large number of men and may cause dissemination of contagious diseases. As many of these men are destined to see service in the Government, I deem it prudent that such action be taken as to prevent smallpox by vaccination.

I therefore recommend that the services of the board be tendered to those in charge of the volunteer service, to perform free vaccination by officers of this board at any hour of the day or night as may seem suitable to have the same performed.

Respectfully submitted,

HEADQUARTERS CAMP BLACK, May 12, 1898.

To Surgeons of Brigades of Generals Smith, Oliver and Butts:

SIRS:—The Board of Health of New York city having tendered free vaccination and virus to the men of this command, I would recommend that all men not having been vaccinated, and those desiring further vaccination, be prepared to receive the same. Due notice will be given of the arrival of physicians from the Health Board, probably to-morrow morning.

Respectfully,

NELSON H. HENRY,
Surgeon-in-Chief.

NEW YORK, May 13, 1898.

DR. NELSON H. HENRY,
Surgeon-in-Chief, Headquarters, Camp Black:

DEAR SIR:—Yours of the 12th inst., in respect to furnishing vaccine points, is received. In reply I beg to inform you that I have mailed to your address this day one hundred (100) points as requested. It seems that you must have misunderstood the letter forwarded to you in regard to free vaccination, as far as the furnishing of vaccinators is concerned. This department offered to furnish vaccinators for the enlisted troops within the city limits only, and at the camps it was presumed the officers of the regiments would perform the necessary vaccinations if the virus were furnished by this department.

Very respectfully,

C. GOLDERMAN,
Secretary pro tem.

Vaccine virus was received but not used, I regret to say, to the extent I should have desired, owing to the many duties otherwise engaging the time of the men preparatory to their early departure from camp.

As commands were mustered into the United States service they ceased to render morning sick reports; this necessarily has caused the consolidated sick report to be incomplete; nevertheless as commands were almost ready to have their sick taken charge of at the hospital and continued to draw upon the State for medical and surgical supplies, the following report may be considered almost correct:

It was early ascertained that the United States Government medical department could not be depended upon to furnish supplies to our commands within at least two weeks after entering the service. I therefore took the responsibility of replenishing medical and surgical chests, and also delivered an extra surgical supply in two cases, not only to the commands at Camp Black, but also to the Eighth, Ninth and Twelfth Regiments at Peekskill, Camp Townsend. The Twenty-second and Forty-seventh Regiments did not receive these cases containing extra surgical supplies.

Lieutenant Colonel W. E. Lambert assisted me in the purchase of these surgical supplies from Seabury & Johnson.

Special Orders, }
No. 12. }

Lieutenant-Colonel W. E. Lambert, General Butts' Brigade, is detailed to direct purchase of medical stores with leave to go to New York. He will report to Colonel Henry, Surgeon-in-Chief, for instructions. Lieutenant-Colonel Holly will furnish transportation.

By command of Major-General Roe.

HEADQUARTERS CAMP BLACK, May 13, 1898.

The C. O.

SIR: —

I. You will notify your medical officer that a division field hospital is now established, located in the rear of the Forty-seventh Regiment, and that as far as possible they will discontinue their regimental hospitals.

II. Surgeons will carefully examine their medical supplies and forward requisition to the field hospital where necessary.

III. Surgeons will be prepared to make return of State medical property and stores in their possession.

IV. Upon being mustered in the United States service each regiment will receive from the field hospital, unless otherwise provided for by the United States Government, the following medical stores packed in two cases, so as to be provided for emergency in case of division of command; this property will be receipted for by the regimental surgeon; and I would further advise medical officers upon being mustered into service and called away from this command, that they notify through the proper channel the United States medical department what medical property and stores they are provided with, at an early date.

Each case will contain as follows :

190 regulation "first aid" packets.

2 pounds absorbent cotton in $\frac{1}{4}$ pound packages.

25 yards absorbent gauze.

2 rolls rubber adhesive plaster, ten yards, three inch.

1 bottle sterilized catgut, No. 2, three strings in bottle.

1 dozen needles, half curved, assorted.

1 dozen needles, straight, assorted.

Q. S. muslin or bandages.

1 can plaster-of-paris in 5 pound cans.

NELSON H. HENRY, .
Surgeon-in-Chief.

Two cases were, by direction of Colonel F. V. Greene, shipped to his command at Key West.

NELSON H. HENRY,
Surgeon-in-Chief.

The following medical and surgical supplies were required and secured upon requisition. This in no wise approached the extravagant requisitions forwarded to me by regimental surgeons, but amply met all needs of the service, replenished medical and surgical chests of commands leaving camp and, as well, left at Camp Black the field hospital well supplied upon the termination of my detail:

Complete hospital furniture and apparatus was also secured, placing the division field hospital in condition to render care, assistance and comfort to the men of the command; this fully established field hospital with contents was secured by the United States government much to my regret, as I should desire to see the State secure one plant of similar character. Upon leaving Camp Black a complete inventory was taken of property on hand, examined by board of survey and receipted for.

The amount of bills contracted was as follows :

Schieffelin & Co., May 9	$111.45
Schieffelin & Co., May 11	64.60
Schieffelin & Co., May 12	113.47

Total	$968.59

Bills were rendered in triplicate and all on hand upon May 25th were delivered to General Davis.

From the above amount $35.62 should be deducted, as a claim for that amount has been presented to the Long Island railroad; only one gallon of whiskey was received, other amount ordered was destroyed or lost in transit.

In order that there should be no misunderstanding in the medical department, the following circular was issued; most of the patients at this time in the field hospital were United States volunteers:

HEADQUARTERS OF MAJOR-GENERAL COMMANDING, }
CAMP BLACK, May 20, 1898. }

To the Commanding Officers of Regiments and Troops:

SIRS: — I desire to call the attention of the medical officers of your respective commands to the fact that sanitary regulations and medical directions issued from these Headquarters will continue to be strictly complied with whether officers are in State or volunteer service.

The field hospital and ambulance service are under State control, but the courtesy of the same will be extended to the volunteers as long as they are at this post or until further orders.

It is to be expected that surgeons of the volunteer service and members of the hospital corps will render such service as may be deemed necessary, and that those detailed to hospital duty will not be relieved without timely notice to Headquarters and until further provisions can be made.

The hospital of the State will supply requisite medicine in small quantities to the volunteer service, for which proper receipt will be required, until provision is made by the general government.

Respectfully,

NELSON H. HENRY,
Surgeon-in-Chief.

May 23d, Private J. A. White, First Separate Company, Third Regiment, became insane; transferred to field hospital, having been mustered into service; advice was obtained from General Davis and he was transferred in charge of Assistant Surgeon Ashley to Bellevue hospital.

Examination of Volunteers: Much comment has been made upon the large percentage of rejection of volunteers on account of physical disabilities. When it is considered that many of the commands in camp were largely recruited with considerable haste and only a short time before put to the test, it can partly account for the figure of rejections, nevertheless it would seem that in some commands medical officers had been lax in their examinations and that, had the State standard been maintained at home stations, much time and expense would have been saved.

Medical officers must be more careful and thorough in the future, and the standard raised rather than lowered.

It has been contended that the examinations were too strict and perhaps in some instances, where the surgeons had an almost unlimited supply to select from, they certainly adhered more closely than absolutely necessary to the regulations; but, on the other hand, considering that the troops may be called upon to perform service in a country the climatic conditions of which are such as to tax the constitution of the very healthiest men, their action was fully justified.

Camp Duty and Instruction. — There is no question in my mind but that the plan of camp field duty and instruction followed at Camp Black is the proper one to be adopted by the State, and I recommend it be carried out in the future; the allowance from the State, I am almost certain, will prove sufficient to secure company cooks, the men will be well provided for and receive instruction not possible in any other way; officers should be allowed to have a mess by themselves.

It was my observation that, where commands had had any previous field experience of this character, they adapted themselves readily to conditions presenting themselves, their men were happy and well fed, their camp one of order, and sanitary completeness; this was particularly noticeable in the case of the Sixty-fifth Regiment.

I cannot close this report without an expression of the appreciation I feel of the courtesy shown me by Major-General Roe and the members of his staff with whom I had the pleasure to serve. New York should be satisfied with and proud of the record of Camp Black.

Respectfully,

NELSON H. HENRY,
Assistant Surgeon-General.

REPORT OF BRIGADIER-GENERAL PETER C. DOYLE.

HEADQUARTERS CAMP TOWNSEND,
NEAR PEEKSKILL, NEW YORK, May 24, 1898. }

Adjutant-General, S. N. Y., Albany.

SIR:—I have the honor, in compliance with regulations, to submit the following report on the administration of this camp from May 2 to May 24, 1898, inclusive, pursuant to G. O., No. 8, c. s., A. G. O. :

I assumed command on the morning of the 2d of May.

The following staff appointments were made (G. O., No. 1, dated May 2): Colonel G. James Greene, Assistant Inspector-General, S. N. Y., as Assistant Adjutant-General. S. O., No. 69, c. s., A. G. O.

Lieutenant-Colonel Floyd S. Crego, Surgeon, Fourth Brigade, as Surgeon.

Major Elwood O. Roessele, Commissary, Third Brigade, as Chief Commissary.

Major Robert L. Banks, Jr., Third Brigade, as Assistant in Commissary Department. S. O., No. 72, c. s., A. G. O.

Major Lauren W. Pettebone, Inspector, Fourth Brigade, as Inspector.

Major Martin Carey, Judge-Advocate, Fourth Brigade, as Judge-Advocate.

Major Charles M. Ransom, Inspector of Small Arms Practice, Fourth Brigade, as Inspector of Small Arms Practice and Ordnance Officer.

Major Henry C. Wadsworth, Commissary, Fourth Brigade, as Commissary.

Major John H. Ball, Supernumerary, as Quartermaster.

Captain Wm. H. Smith, A. D. C., Fourth Brigade, as A. D. C.

On May 3, Colonel Joseph G. Story, Assistant Chief of Ordnance, S. N. Y., having reported for duty in compliance with S. O., No. 74, c. s., A. G. O., was announced as Chief Quartermaster of the camp. (G. O., No. 2½.)

On May 3, Major Robert L. Banks, Jr., was relieved from duty at this camp by S. O., No. 75, c. s., A. G. O.

On May 4, Major E. O. Roessle was relieved from duty at this camp by S. O., No. 77, c. s., A. G. O.

Colonel Joseph G. Story, Chief Quartermaster, was announced as Chief Commissary. S. O., No. 4.

On May 17, Colonel G. James Greene was appointed Colonel of the Ninth Regiment N. Y. V. I. S. O., No. 90, c. s., A. G. O.

On May 18, Major Lauren W. Pettebone, Inspector, Fourth Brigade, was detailed as Assistant Adjutant-General (G. O., No. 9), vice Greene relieved.

I found that the Chief of Ordnance had all the tents erected for three regiments to arrive, that the water system of the original camp had been extended to the north parade ground, where the two regiments were to be quartered, and that an extensive addition to the mess hall was practically completed.

The regiments ordered to this camp were the Eighth, Ninth and Twelfth N. G. N. Y., and they arrived here in the inverse order in which they left New York.

The Ninth was assigned to the old camp, the Eighth to the camp to the west of the mess hall and the Twelfth to the camp to the west of the Eighth.

Wood floors for tents were used in the camp of the Ninth, while the Eighth and the Twelfth were so supplied only for officers' tents. A liberal supply of straw was furnished and, notwithstanding the fact that it rained almost daily for the three weeks the troops were quartered here, so successful was the system of drainage in each regiment that the men suffered little discomfort from having to sleep on the ground, while the very small number of sick, as shown on the consolidated morning reports, indicates that officers gave careful attention to the sanitary condition of their respective camps.

Sinks were dug for the camps of the Eighth and Twelfth Regiments for the men, while the officers of the three regiments used the one erected for their use in the old camp.

With the ease that has characterized the change of troops in the days when this camp was used for instruction purposes, the regiments settled themselves in their respective camps and took up the routine of duty prescribed in G. O., No. 2, Camp Townsend.

Considering the large number of recruits with which each organization reached camp, and that to this number additions were being made daily as the result of the physical examinations in progress, I deemed it advisable to confine instruction in drill to squad work almost entirely, both in close and in extended order, and not until after ten days so spent were company drills permitted.

Battalion and regimental drills were entirely omitted, and I think that nothing has been lost by so doing, as all but the very latest recruits now thoroughly understand the fundamental instruction, the school of the soldier, and the more advanced work will be quickly learned.

Particular attention was given to the subject of guard duty. Each regiment had its own camp guard and in addition there was a headquarters guard for provost and out-post duty under command of a field officer.

No evening parades were held until the arrival of Doring's Band, May 5, which the Commander-in-Chief so thoughtfully sent here, when the regiments alternated in holding parade. The work of the band was of the most satisfactory character and added much to the efforts of the officers to keep the men in good spirits under circumstances most trying to those unused to the hardships incident to the service.

Every means was employed to hasten the recruiting of the regiments. At the beginning recruits were brought from New York and examined here, but the percentage of rejections was so large that it was seen that their method would entail a heavy expense upon the State unnecessarily, and a surgeon from each regiment was therefore sent to its armory where the examinations were made and the recruits forwarded to camp daily in charge of a commissioned officer.

As soon as a battalion was recruited to its full strength it was mustered in the United States service with a Major and a Battalion Adjutant.

The record of the mustering is as follows :

Twelfth Regiment, May 13.

First Battalion, Eighth Regiment, May 14.

Second Battalion, Eighth Regiment, May 17.

Third Battalion and Field and Staff, Eighth Regiment,
May 19.

First Battalion, Ninth Regiment, May 17.

Second Battalion, Ninth Regiment, May 19.

Third Battalion, Ninth Regiment, May 20.

Field and Staff, Ninth Regiment, May 21.

The Twelfth Regiment's muster was the first completed and in compliance with his orders Colonel Leonard immediately made requisition on the Chief Quartermaster, U. S. A., New York city, for transportation to Chickamangua, the new station of the regiment.

Notice that the regiment would be moved by transport to Jersey City and thence proceed to its destination by Pennsylvania railroad, was received at 9 o'clock on the evening of Monday, May 16, and at 10 o'clock the following morning the regiment marched from camp and embarked on the steamer Glen Island with all its stores, camp equipage, etc.

The muster of the Eighth Regiment was completed late in the afternoon of May 19, and its marching orders were received Saturday evening to move Monday, the 23d instant, at the same hour and by the same means.

The Ninth Regiment completed its muster Saturday noon and broke camp early on the morning of the 24th instant and, after passing in review before the Commanding General, embarked on the transport Glen Island. Permission was granted by the Quartermaster's Department to land at foot of West Twenty-second street, New York, and thence march to Cortlandt Street Ferry for Jersey City. A sufficient detail was left on board to transfer stores, etc. from the boat to the train, so that no time was lost in starting as soon as property was loaded.

As the Ninth Regiment moved out of camp the artillery detachment fired a salute, the flags were lowered, and the camp formally closed. The Commander-in-Chief visited the camp with his staff on the evening of Wednesday, May 11. The troops were paraded for review by him and a proper salute was fired. He visited the camps of the different regiments, mess hall, etc., and expressed his satisfaction with the general condition of the camp.

On May 5, Major Maus, Surgeon, United States Army, and Doctors Nichols and Jones, Examining Board of Surgeons, commenced the examination of regimental surgeons.

On May 6 the Regimental Surgeons commenced the examination of the troops.

On May 22, at the evening parade, I had the honor of presenting to Brevet Brigadier-General William Seward his commission in the presence of his old command.

I wish to express my great satisfaction in being so fortunate in having General George W. Davis, Major Maus, Captain James Parker, Lieutenant Granger Adams and Lieutenant Babcock, U. S. A., detailed for duty at this camp.

Duncan & Co., of Newburgh, N. Y., who had the contract to feed the troops, performed this duty most satisfactorily.

Colonel Joseph G. Story and all my staff rendered most valuable and efficient service, and I take this opportunity for thanking them.

Copies of all reports and orders were mailed daily to the Commanding Officer National Guard and to the Adjutant-General.

Major John H. Ball was, on May 24, mustered into the United States service as Quartermaster of the Ninth Regiment, N. Y. V. I.

The Commander-in-Chief and you made a most thorough and careful examination of the camp in all its departments and expressed perfect satisfaction with the conditions as found in that everything possible for the health and comfort of the troops was being done.

Respectfully,

PETER C. DOYLE,
Brigadier-General.

VOLUNTEERS.

SECOND CALL.

May 28th.

The Secretary of War telegraphed to the Adjutant-General of the State :

“It is estimated that about 3,993 enlisted men will be recruited to fill to the maximum the organizations already in service from your State. It is desired to know how far you will be able to furnish the above number.”

To this the Adjutant-General replied :

“The Governor of this State directs me to say that he can furnish immediately any number of volunteers you require for any branch of the service named and for any purpose desired.”

May 29th.

The Adjutant-General of the Army telegraphed to the Governor :

“Under first call for 125,000 men, it was contemplated that the number of original organizations called for should have the maximum strength stated below ; but on account of additional organizations having to be accepted, this maximum had to be reduced to 81 enlisted men per company. The maximum above contemplated is 106 enlisted men per company of infantry, 100 per troop of cavalry, 173 per light battery, 200 per heavy battery, 1,326 of all grades per regiment of infantry consisting of 3 battalions of 4 companies each. Secretary of War bids me now say it is the wish of the President to apply, in accordance with the law, so much of second call for 75,000 as may be necessary to fill organizations already in the service from your State to the maximum just stated. The Secretary of War bids me say that recruiting officers will be detailed to make and superintend, under army regulations, enlistment for this purpose of the number of men wired you May 27th. Please name one or more competent field officers of respective regiments already in service from your State, to be detailed under orders from War Department for this duty."

May 31st.

The Adjutant General sent the following to General Corbin, Adjutant-General, United States Army :

"Referring to telegrams of 28th and 29th instant, in the first you estimate about 3,998 enlisted men will be needed to fill the maximum. The maximum of a regiment, as we make it, is 1,280 enlisted men. For 12 regiments it is 15,360, add 2 troops, each 100, makes total 15,560. According to muster-in rolls we have furnished 11,876 enlisted men. Allow 14 enlisted men who have been promoted to commissions, and it would require only 3,600 to fill the regiments to the maximum of enlisted men.

"We propose to raise the necessary recruits at the points from which the regiments or companies came, and leave the selection of recruiting officers to you. We desire to know, further, what else is required of the State to fill its quota under the second call, so that we can go ahead and accomplish the work. This State can comply with any requirement you make upon it at once. We only desire full and complete instructions."

And the following was received from General Corbin :

"Your message May 29th (28th) received. Message from this office of May 29th explains the situation. Thanks for your cordial co-operation. An examination of your rolls shows an enlisted strength of 11,850, to recruit which to the maximum, would require 15,560, the difference being 3,710. Orders are in preparation for immediate issue, contemplating the details of recruiting parties from each regiment already in the service, consisting of one officer, one non-commissioned officer and one or two privates, to proceed under instructions from the War Department to localities where regiments were raised for the purpose of accomplishing this recruitment. The matter of new organizations from the balance of your quota out of the second call, will be taken up in the near future and will probably admit of two additional regiments and two battalions from your State. Your message of the 31st received. Slight differences in figures are mere details that must be determined by tri-monthly returns."

June 1st.

The following was telegraphed to the War Department by the Adjutant-General of the State:

"Your telegram 1st instant at hand. Governor only waiting for detailed instructions before informing you he is ready to provide two regiments and two battalions of infantry. Advise as soon as you are ready to send officer, non-commissioned officer and one or two privates to the home station of each organization. Also how soon you wish these men to be prepared for muster. In that way I can facilitate the matter. I understand that you will require 25 additional men to each company of infantry now having 81 men."

Recruiting officers reported in June from time to time, and received the blanks sent by the War Department and instructions so far as the State authorities were permitted to give.

Instructions were also sent to commanding officers of armories permitting the use of the latter as recruiting stations and offices.

The recruiting officers were advised to recruit first from the new organizations of the National Guard and then from new members of the latter.

According to their reports, when they had recruited the required number of men, they went back to their respective organizations with 3,772 recruits, as follows:

For Troop A	22
For Troop C	20
For the First Regiment	301
For the Second Regiment.....	318
For the Third Regiment.....	303
For the Eighth Regiment.....	337
For the Ninth Regiment	337
For the Twelfth Regiment	309
For the Fourteenth Regiment	302
For the Twenty-second Regiment.....	300
For the Forty-seventh Regiment.....	280

For the Sixty-fifth Regiment	333
For the Sixty-ninth Regiment	303
For the Seventy-first Regiment	307
Total	3,772

The Governor received the following telegram dated June 18th, from the Secretary of War :

“Under the President’s second call, May 25, 1898, after filling to the maximum the organizations already in United States service from your State, you are requested to furnish three new regiments of infantry, each to consist of one colonel, one lieutenant-colonel, two majors, one adjutant (extra lieutenant), one quartermaster (extra lieutenant), one surgeon, two assistant surgeons, (first lieutenants), one chaplain, one sergeant-major, one quartermaster-sergeant, one chief musician, two principal musicians, three hospital stewards and twelve companies, each to consist of one captain, one first lieutenant, one second lieutenant, one first sergeant, one quartermaster-sergeant, four sergeants, twelve corporals, two musicians, one artificer and eighty-four privates maximum, seventy-eight privates minimum ; and in addition thereto three batteries of light artillery, each consisting of one captain, one first lieutenant, one second lieutenant, one first sergeant, one quartermaster-sergeant, one veterinary sergeant, six sergeants, nine corporals, two farriers, two artificers, one saddler, two musicians, one wagoner and eighty privates. The mustering officer, Major S. R. Jocelyn, Nineteenth Infantry, ordered to Albany this evening, has been directed to confer with your representative concerning details affecting comfort, shelter, subsistence of organizations, and the order in which they should be mobilized for muster. To save expense and for other reasons that will occur to you, it is suggested that preliminary physical examination be made of men before they are taken from their homes. Blanks mailed to Adjutant-General of State. You are requested to constitute a board of three reputable physicians for the purpose only of examining the regimental medical officers nominated by you, these physicians to receive ten dollars per day and traveling expenses to the place of meeting of board and return. The regimental medical officers will then be mustered into United States service to assist mustering officer with physical examination of men. The recruiting of men for the old companies will be conducted by the officers now in the field and under orders from this office."

June 20th.

On inquiry, the Adjutant-General of the Army telegraphed: "Companies should have one wagoner; omitted by error."

June 21st.

The following telegram was received by the Governor from the Adjutant-General of the U. S. Army:

"If regiments about to be mustered into the service of the United States are organized as part of the militia of the State, and three majors are in service therewith under the State law when regiments are presented for muster in to United States service as such, then the third major may be mustered into such service."

June 22d.

The following telegram was sent to the Secretary of War:

"Governor Black would be pleased to receive an answer to telegram sent you on the 19th instant relative to arming, uniforming and equipping troops under second call which contains no instructions regarding this matter."

To which the following reply was received:

"Secretary of War has decided that new regiments from your State will be uniformed by the Quartermaster's Department. Kindly inform me where each regiment will assemble, giving name of the Quartermaster of each regiment, and clothing will be shipped at once."

June 25th.

In accordance with the instructions of the Secretary of War, Doctors C. E. Jones, of Albany; C. E. Nichols, of Troy, and W. C. Duboise, of Syracuse, were appointed members of a board to examine medical officers to be appointed for the three new regiments, and were notified to meet at the Capitol at noon, June 27th.

The Adjutant-General of the Army was informed that:

"The original plan of this State was to raise one regiment at Buffalo, two battalions at Syracuse and one regiment and one battalion at New York, using armories in each place as recruiting stations. It may be, however, that the United States Government would prefer naming some one place of rendezvous, possibly Camp Black, so saving extra expense on transportation of supplies; and, if point of rendezvous is designated by the Government, will tentage be available? Advise what your wishes are."

Major Francis Townsend Underhill, First Brigade Staff, and Major William T. Parsons, Sixty-fifth Regiment, and Mr. Norton Chase, formerly Major, Tenth Battalion, were appointed Quartermasters of the new regiments, subject to the required physical examination; they were assigned to regiments June 30th.

Assistant Surgeon Daniel S. Burr, Seventeenth Battalion, Lieutenant-Colonel William E. Spencer, Assistant Surgeon-General, S. N. Y., and Dr. B. S. Booth, late Assistant Surgeon, Sixth Separate Company, were appointed Surgeons; Assistant Surgeons John Wood, Tenth Separate Company, William Alfred Burgess, Sixteenth Battalion, John Wilson Poucher, Fifteenth Separate Company, and Doctors L. K. Graves, Marshall Clinton and A. L. Haynes were appointed Assistant Surgeons of the new regiments, subject to the prescribed examination. They were assigned to regiments June 30th.

June 27th.

The following General Orders (No. 8) were issued this day:

I. Pursuant to the second call of the President of the United States for volunteers, and owing to the fact that unlike the first call the National Guard is not asked for, this plan will be followed:

One regiment, to be known as the Two Hundred and First Regiment, Infantry, N. Y. Vols., will be recruited at the Twelfth Regiment, N. G., N. Y. Armory, in New York city;

One battalion, to be part of the Two Hundred and Third Regiment, Infantry, N. Y. Vols., will be recruited at the same place;

One regiment, to be known as the Two Hundred and Second Regiment, Infantry, N. Y. Vols., will be recruited at the Sixty-fifth Regiment, N. G., N. Y. Armory, in Buffalo;

Two battalions, to be part of the regiment known as the Two Hundred and Third Regiment, Infantry, N. Y. Vols., will be recruited at the N. G., N. Y. Armory, in Syracuse.

Recruiting officers will be assigned later.

II. The first preference will be given to individual members of the National Guard, although it is the strong wish and desire of the Commander-in-Chief that National Guardsmen shall not leave the State, but shall remain here to keep intact their respective organizations for the very honorable task of home defense. The remainder required to complete the quota will be recruited from civil life. Further details will be given to the recruiting officers.

III. Enlisted men, as volunteers from National Guard organizations, before leaving their home stations must be thoroughly examined by a medical officer of their respective organizations, and commanding officers will permit none to start except such as, in the judgment of the Surgeon, will pass the physical examination of the United States Volunteer Surgeons.

Under these conditions, the commanding officers of their respective organizations are authorized to issue to these men orders for transportation from their home stations to the nearest recruiting station only; of which orders three copies must be forwarded to these Headquarters.

After acceptance by the United States Surgeons, the men will be quartered and subsisted by the State until mustered into the service of the United States, and will be dropped from the records of their respective organizations by reason of removal, etc. Instructions will be sent to all railroads so that the orders of commanding officers for transportation will be honored.

IV. For the carrying out of paragraph III, commanding officers are instructed to place their Surgeons on duty and relieve them immediately the above-mentioned requirements are fulfilled.

V. The State will not furnish arms, equipments or uniforms. All of the above will be furnished accepted men by the United States Government. This by the direction of the Secretary of War.

The commanding officer of the Seventh, Twenty-third and Seventy-fourth Regiments, each was addressed as follows:

“You are invited to nominate to the Commander-in-Chief officers or men, as you decide, from your command to receive the following commissions in one of the three new regiments to be organized on the second call: One for Major; three for Captains; three for First Lieutenants in the line; three for Second Lieutenants in the line. If practicable, all of the above will be assigned to the same regiment. It is expected that the fact of their nomination by you will be a guarantee of fitness. Answer promptly by wire."

And the commanding officer of the Fourth, Tenth, Eleventh, Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Twenty-third, Twenty-seventh, Twenty-eighth, Thirty-ninth and Fortieth Separate Companies, each, as follows:

"You are invited to nominate to the Commander-in-Chief officers or men of your command, as you may think best, to be commissioned in the new regiments under the second call: One each for Captain, First Lieutenant and Second Lieutenant, all for line positions. Where practicable they will be assigned to the same regiment. It is expected that the fact of their nomination by you will be a guarantee of fitness. Answer promptly by wire."

The various transportation companies which would be used in sending recruits to the rendezvous were communicated with, as follows:

"You are hereby requested to instruct the proper employes of your road to honor orders for transportation for enlisted men from their respective home stations to the nearest one of these points: New York city, Buffalo, Syracuse, when order is signed by the commanding officer of an organization in the National Guard of this State. Rate as heretofore, one and one-half cents per mile."

The Adjutant-General of the Army was requested to grant leaves of absence to the following:

Captains W. S. Schuyler, Fifth Cavalry; H. W. Hubbell, First Artillery, and S. Y. Seyburn, Tenth Infantry, to accept colonelcies of new regiments, and that they be ordered to report to the Governor.

June 28th.

Lieutenant-Colonel Gilford Hurry, Commissary, National Guard; Major E. O. Roessle, Commissary Third Brigade, and Major H. C. Wadsworth, Commissary, Fourth Brigade, were detailed to act as Commissaries on the part of the State for the troops to be assembled in New York city, Syracuse and Buffalo, respectively.

The commanding officers of the Seventh and Twenty-third Regiments were informed by telegraph that each could nominate three additional captains; the commanding officer of the Seventy-fourth Regiment, one additional captain; and the commanding officers of the Fourth, Tenth, Eleventh, Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Twenty-third, Twenty-seventh, Twenty-eighth, Thirty-ninth and Fortieth Separate companies, each, one additional first lieutenant for the three new regiments.

June 29th and July 2d.

The Chief of Ordnance was authorized to purchase mattresses and blankets and issue same to the State Commissaries for use of recruits of the new regiments at New York city, Syracuse and Buffalo.

July 9th.

The commanding officers of the One Hundred and First, One Hundred and Second, One Hundred and Fifth, One Hundred and Eighth, One Hundred and Thirtieth, One Hundred and Thirty-fourth, One Hundred and Thirty-fifth, One Hundred and Thirty-sixth, One Hundred and Forty-first and One Hundred and Forty-sixth Separate Companies were directed to :

“Send to depot nearest Syracuse or Buffalo on Monday early the National Guardsmen who have volunteered and passed. If there be outsiders who want to enlist, report by wire to colonel of regiment.”

The commanding officers of the Sixteenth, Twenty-third, Twenty-seventh, Twenty-eighth, Thirty-ninth and Fortieth Separate Companies were instructed as follows :

“Send all the National Guardsmen of your company who have volunteered and passed examination to depot Syracuse Monday early, also send appointed officers who have not yet passed examination of volunteer surgeons. This done recruit under orders of colonel of regiment, but report number of recruits in each party forwarded by you to this office.”

The commanding officers of the Fourth, Tenth, Eleventh and Seventeenth Separate Companies received directions to :

“Send all the National Guardsmen of your company who have volunteered and passed the examination to the depot of the Two Hundred and First Regiment on Tuesday early, but instruct officers that they and men are for the battalion of the Two Hundred and Third Regiment to be organized in New York city. Also send such of the appointed officers as have not yet been examined by volunteer surgeons, for examination.”

The commanding officer of the One Hundred and Twenty-fourth Separate Company was ordered to :

“Send to depot of the Two Hundred and First Regiment, New York city, on Tuesday early, the National Guardsmen who have volunteered and passed, but instruct them that they are for the battalion of the Two Hundred and Third Regiment organizing there also.”

July 12th.

Major David P. Arnold, Commissary of Subsistence, Fifth Brigade, was detailed to assist Lieutenant-Colonel Gilford Hurry, Commissary on the part of the State, in New York city.

July 13th.

Commanding officers of the new regiments, whose recruiting was limited heretofore to members of the National Guard organizations, received authority to recruit civilians.

July 15th.

Orders were issued for the recruitment of the three batteries called for under the President's second call for troops, officers appointed and the batteries designated the Fourth, Fifth and Seventh Batteries, Light Artillery, New York Volunteers. The Fourth and Fifth Batteries were recruited in New York city, with headquarters at the armories of the Second and First National Guard Batteries, respectively ; the Seventh Battery, at Rochester with headquarters at the State Armory at that place. Lieutenant-Colonel Gilford Hurry, Commissary, National Guard, was charged with quartering and subsisting the Fourth and Fifth, and Major E. O. Roessler, Commissary, Third Brigade, with quartering and subsisting the Seventh Battery.

Brigadier-General Howard Carroll, Chief of Artillery, S. N. Y., was charged with the carrying out of these orders.

As soon as practicable after muster in the United States service, the companies of infantry and the batteries were sent by the United States authorities to Camp Black, and the muster in placed them beyond the jurisdiction of the State authorities.

First United States Volunteer Engineers.

May 21st.

General H. C. Corbin, Adjutant-General, U. S. Army, inquired by telegraph of the Adjutant-General of the State: "Will the State of New York authorize Colonel Griffin to use Peekskill Camp without charge for First Volunteer Engineers under proper regulation for care of State property?"

To this the Adjutant-General of the State replied: "Authority will be given Colonel Griffin to use camp at Peekskill for purpose named, under condition of your telegram."

June 15th.

The following letter, dated New York city, June 14th and addressed to the Adjutant-General of the State, was received this day, from Colonel Engene Griffin, First Regiment, United States Volunteer Engineers:

"GENERAL:— I have the honor to request that I be authorized to occupy the Peekskill Camp with the First Regiment, United States Volunteer Engineers, on Monday morning, June 20th, under such regulations as you may prescribe for the care of the State property.

"I would further request that my regiment be permitted to use the kitchen, mess hall, bath house, water supply and such tents as may be available, under same conditions."

In reply to this letter the Adjutant-General addressed the following to Colonel Griffin:

"SIR:— I have the honor to acknowledge your communication of the 14th instant, and to say by direction of the Adjutant-General, that the Commander-in-Chief grants permission for the use of Camp Townsend, at Peekskill, for your regiment. He will give instructions so that water will be furnished, but before granting your request for the use of the mess hall, would ask if you have arranged with Duncan & Company to cater for your men. This is asked because this firm is the owner of part of the kitchen utensils, and should be consulted before permission is granted. Reply by telegram had better be made.

"We have no tents we can furnish. It is understood that all expense incurred and damage done, if any, is chargeable to the United States Government."

Brigadier-General William Barclay Parsons, Chief of Engineers, was detailed to take charge, under Chief of Ordnance, of the grounds, buildings and other property at Camp Townsend, while the First Regiment of United States Volunteer Engineers was located there.

June 16th.

The following telegram was sent to the Chief of Ordnance of the State:

“The Governor has granted the use of grounds, buildings, water, etc., at Camp Townsend to the First United States Volunteer Engineers from the 20th, United States to be responsible for all damage. General Parsons in charge of property under your orders. Have everything in order to turn over to Colonel Griffin on the 20th.”

June 17th.

And the following:

“Authority has been given to Colonel Griffin, First Engineers, to use water, bath houses, sinks, mess hall, and all pertaining thereto. He purposes to contract with Duncan for subsistence. Tentage is not to be furnished except for General Parsons. For more information apply to these headquarters, and also consult Colonel Griffin, 335 Broadway, New York city.”

The following letter, dated June 16th, was received from Colonel Eugene Griffin, First Regiment, United States Volunteer Engineers:

“GENERAL:— I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your letter of June 15th, granting permission for the use of Camp Townsend, near Peekskill, N. Y., with the understanding that all expense incurred, or damage done, if any, is chargeable to the United States Government.

“In reference to the use of the mess hall, I have just wired you as follows, which telegram is now confirmed:

“‘With full authority from War Department have arranged with Duncan & Company to cater for men at Camp Townsend. Contract will be made to-morrow on return of Regimental Quartermaster from Washington.’”

And the following addressed to him:

“In reference to my letter of yesterday's date (15th) regarding the use of the State grounds, and buildings at Peekskill, by your regiment, the Governor desires a written communication from you to the effect that all expenses incurred by the State, and damage done to the buildings and grounds be made good by the United States ; and that said communication be approved by the Adjutant-General of the United States Army."

June 18th.

The following letter was this day sent to the Chief of Ordnance of the State:

"I am directed by the Governor to inform you that he has granted the use of the grounds and buildings, water, etc., at Camp Townsend to the War Department, for the First Regiment, Engineers, United States Volunteers, commencing on the 20th instant, and that Brigadier-General Parsons, Chief of Engineers, S. N. Y., has been placed in charge of the grounds and buildings under your supervision.

"It is understood that the United States will be responsible for all damage done to State property. I have, therefore, the honor to request that you will have everything in proper shape to be turned over to Colonel Eugene Griffin, First Regiment, Engineers, United States Volunteers, on the 20th instant."

Colonel Griffin telegraphed June 17th to this office, telegram not received until the 18th, as follows :

"Earnestly request I be allowed to have six of the large double tents for so-called luxury row, Camp Townsend."

And the following telegram was sent in reply :

"Permission is granted you to use six of the large double tents for so-called 'luxury row,' Camp Townsend, under same provisions and conditions as other State property."

June 20th.

The following was received from Colonel Griffin of the volunteer engineers :

"Request General Flagler be authorized to leave pump engineer in camp at expense United States. I will be responsible."

In reply to which the Chief of Ordnance received instruction as requested.

The same day Brigadier-General William Barclay Parsons, Chief of Engineers of the State, telegraphed as follows:

“Please instruct Ordnance Department to loan United States Volunteers the seventy tents now at Camp Townsend. I leave for Peekskill immediately.”

And Colonel Griffin of the First United States Engineers wrote to the Adjutant-General:

“GENERAL.— I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of yours of June 17th, and thank you most heartily for your very kind offer to afford every possible facility to us at this time.

“I have telegraphed you to-day asking for the seventy wall tents, which Colonel Story informs me he has at Camp Townsend. As our tents have not arrived, it is very important that we should have these, and in any event they will be of great use to us at the camp as our supply at best will be very small. The government will only furnish us with ‘A’ tents, and on the basis of four men to a tent, and no special allowance is made for the non-commissioned officers or for the staff.

“Thanking you again for your kindness in everything relating to the use of Camp Townsend, I am,

“Very respectfully.”

To General Parsons’ telegram the following reply was sent by telegraph:

“The Governor grants permission for you to use the seventy wall tents, under conditions named, until your tentage arrives. This will authorize Assistant Chief of Ordnance, S. N. Y., to issue.”

June 28th.

The Adjutant-General of the Army addressed the following letter dated June 27th, received this day, to the Governor, who referred it to this office:

“I am advised by Colonel Eugene Griffin, First United States Volunteer Engineers, who is organizing a regiment for the volunteer brigade, that you have kindly consented to the use of the State camp at Peekskill, N. Y., as a rendezvous for that regiment of the engineer brigade, and that, as a slight consideration therefor, he has promised that all expenses incurred by the State in connection with said rendezvous and damage done to the buildings and grounds shall be made good by the United States.

“I desire, in behalf of the Secretary of War, to confirm this agreement, and at the same time to express the thanks of the department for the use of the grounds and premises.”

August 5th.

The First Regiment, United States Volunteer Engineers, left Camp Townsend, and

August 8th

Brigadier-General William Barclay Parsons, Chief of Engineers, rendered the following report, as to his duties at the camp :

“Under Special Orders, No. 113, dated June 15, 1898, section 5, I, as Chief of Engineers, was ‘placed in charge of the State camping grounds and buildings at Camp Townsend, Peekskill, N. Y., subject to the supervision of the Chief of Ordnance.’

“I now beg leave to report that, under the authority of the above-mentioned orders, I took charge of the camp on June 20th, when the first detachment of the First United States Volunteer Engineers, under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Hodges, went to Peekskill. At 4 p. m., on August 5, the full regiment, under command of Colonel Eugene Griffin, United States Volunteers, marched out of the camp en route to Porto Rico, and the camp was turned back to me by the regimental quartermaster, he having accounted satisfactorily for all the property of the State entrusted to his care. I thereupon turned over the property to Colonel J. G. Story, Assistant Chief of Ordnance, S. N. Y., and received from him a receipt for all the property entrusted to me.

“Before finally leaving the camp, all tents had been struck, rolled up and turned in, tent floors piled and the whole grounds neatly policed—in fact, the grounds were turned back to the State, if anything, in better condition than when they were received by the regiment.

“Under the orders appointing me, I acted under the supervision of the Chief of Ordnance. I have therefore made to him a report in full.

“Between the dates above mentioned, namely, June 20, and August 5th, a complete regiment was organized, mustered in, clothed and equipped in full, and converted from raw recruits into a fairly-well disciplined body of troops.”

U. S. Volunteer Signal Corps.

Brigadier-General Greely, Chief Signal Officer, U. S. Army, telegraphed to the Adjutant-General of the State as follows:

“Major E. B. Ives has been appointed Captain, Volunteer Signal Corps, and as soon as confirmed will consult with you with reference to enlistment of two signal companies from New York. There will be no State quota, but I have been desirous of enlisting New York men together under New York officers as far as possible.”

May 27th.

The Adjutant-General telegraphed to General Greely:

“I shall be glad to hear from you and will co-operate in every way I can.”

June 24th.

First Lieutenant Henry G. Opdyke, U. S. Vol. Signal Corps, reported at this office under orders to recruit for his corps, and the commanding officer of the Third Signal Corps was ordered to place such quarters in the armory of his corps as Lieutenant Opdyke may deem necessary for this purpose at the latter's disposal.

June 28th.

Captain Edward B. Ives, U. S. Vol. Signal Corps, reported at these headquarters and presented the following communication from himself, addressed to the Adjutant-General of the State:

“SIR:—In regard to the acquirement by the United States of certain signal property belonging to the State of New York, I have the honor to inform you that I am authorized by the Chief Signal Officer of the Army to say that, upon the purchase of identical articles by the State, the bill for the same will be promptly paid upon presentation to the Chief Signal Officer, U. S. A., at Washington, D. C.

“The bills, when presented, must be accompanied, as vouchers, by one of the copies of the receipts given by the United States officer to whom the property has been delivered, and must be certified to as correct and just by the Commissioned Purchasing Officer of the State.”

In accordance with this request the following orders were issued :

“Special Orders, No. 122—III. Commanding officers of Signal Corps will turn over to Captain Edward B. Ives, U. S. Vol. Signal Corps, or such other officer as may be designated by the Chief Signal Officer of the U. S. Army, such signal implements as he will call for or select, and they will furnish him with invoices of the articles they turned over in duplicate, and receive from him receipts in quadruplicate, three of which they will forward to these headquarters, using the remaining one to account for the property on their respective property returns.

“This property is permitted to be taken by the United States, with the express understanding that the Chief Signal Officer of the Army will reimburse the State the cost of replacing the articles taken under this order, when bills therefor will be presented to him by the State.”

The services rendered by those who entered the Volunteer Signal Corps is testified to by the commendatory order issued by the Chief Signal Officer of the Army. With two or three exceptions all of those who entered the Volunteer Signal Corps saw service in the West Indies.

From what I have seen in actual service, the organization of the New York State Signal Corps is almost exactly suited to the service it is liable to be called on to perform. I would recommend that while the aggregate of each corps remain what it is at present, each should consist of one captain, one first lieutenant, one assistant surgeon with rank of first lieutenant, one second lieutenant, three first class sergeants, six sergeants, eight corporals, and the remaining quota to be privates. That it be provided that every member of the Signal Corps who shall be a telegraph operator certified to as such by the manager of a telegraph or railway company shall when on duty receive not less than $2.50 per day. That any member of the Signal Corps who shall be an electrician or lineman and certified to as such by the manager of an electric light, railway, telegraph or telephone company, shall when on duty receive not less than two dollars per day. The reason is that it is difficult to get such men to enlist who while on military duty do the same work they are accustomed to do while not on such duty and yet in the former case get less pay than in the latter. At the same time it is absolutely essential to have a certain number of such technical men in each company, not less than four each.

The United States requires that two-thirds be telegraph operators or electricians. This number is not necessary in the National Guard.

The instruction in the National Guard is entirely suitable to attain the best results if carried out according to the regulations and code, with one exception. All the members should learn how to build and equip telephone lines complete. It requires no especial training to learn to do this. They should know how to string a line, do rough interior wiring and put in position the switch boards and instruments. Each man should be proficient in this. The torch as a means of signaling should be abandoned. It was never used in actual service. In regard to equipment, the present equipment of each Corps is about perfect. I would recommend, however, that each Corps be provided with two sets of International code flags, and two International code books so as to be able to communicate with the navy. This is very important. Each armory in the State should be equipped with a set of Ardois system of electric light signals. It is the most rapid means of night signaling, and the only method possible when there are many lights in the neighborhood tending to confuse the reader. This method is also used in the navy. I would recommend that one wire cart, a battery wagon, two hundred lance poles and a certain amount of line material be kept in store at the State arsenal to be used at camp for instruction in the construction of military telegraph lines.

The men should be armed only with the pistol. The carbine is in the way and not used. The pistol should be cal. 0.45. A small caliber has not sufficient stopping effect. The saber should be retained as a part of the full dress.

The New York Signal Corps has always held pre-eminence as a scientific military organization in this country, and there is every reason to believe that it will continue to do so. It has the proud distinction of being so well equipped for war that the United States came to it to buy its signal equipment when war broke out. This equipment was thoroughly up to date and was used at the front and proved satisfactory.

Under the new code, my office ceases to exist at the end of the year and this will be my last report. I leave the State signal service with regret. The work was most congenial to me and my heart was in it.

Although a professional soldier and a graduate of the United States Military Academy, I refused a commission in the National Guard and preferred to enter the State service as an enlisted man in the Signal Corps. I served as private and sergeant and in due time became first lieutenant, then captain and finally major and chief signal officer. Passing thus through all the grades I felt singularly closely bound to the entire organization. I have given many years to the work and trust what I have done has resulted in permanent benefit to the State forces and to the science of signaling.

Very respectfully,

EDWARD B. IVES,

Major and Chief Signal Officer, State of New York.

Volunteer Organizations Furnished by the State of New York in the Spanish-American War.

To complete the account of volunteers given so far, sketches of the organizations, as far as such could be prepared from the data on hand, are herewith submitted. General features and salient points only are given; minute details must necessarily be left to regular regimental histories; matters which are purely of a regimental interest, of no material import to persons not members of the regiment, where such were found, are also omitted.

Of the Naval Militia no such accounts can be furnished, owing to the fact that in that service no organizations entered into the United States service as such.

TROOP "A," NEW YORK VOLUNTEER CAVALRY.

Squadron "A," National Guard, having volunteered its services, its commanding officer was authorized in General Orders, No. 8, General Headquarters, State of New York, dated Adjutant-General's Office, Albany, April 27, 1898, to select from the three troops of the squadron sufficient officers and enlisted men to form one troop of cavalry to enter the service of the United States.

August 7th, broke camp at 7 p. m., and marched on military highway northeast six miles; encamped at 10 p. m., on field on north side of road.

August 8th, broke camp at 7 a. m., marched six and one-half miles on highway, through Juana Diaz, towards Coamo. Halted at noon and camped for night near small stream on north side of road, near General Wilson's headquarters.

August 9th, "boots and saddles" was sounded at 5.30 a. m., and Captain Clayton, Lieutenant Claus and 70 men left camp with all arms prepared for action and marched rapidly towards the American front, near Coamo. Here the troop waited about thirty minutes during the firing of the artillery at the Spanish blockhouse, protecting the highway leading into Coamo. The captain then executed a flank movement to the right, and was directed to proceed through the woods and thickets to take the baths of Coamo, and cut off retreat of Spaniards by that route. On reaching the baths the Spaniards had fled. After a hurried but thorough search, the troop trotted rapidly into Coamo, then in possession of American troops. The troop pushed rapidly through the town and started in pursuit of the Spaniards, occasionally dismounting to fight on foot and ascertain if the road was flanked by Spanish rear guard. A number of bridges were crossed, all of which the enemy had attempted to destroy, but apparently had been forced to abandon them on account of our close pursuit. Eight men had to be left on the road above Coamo on account of exhaustion of horses. The troop advanced up the pass five miles above Coamo, towards Aibonito. The troop was advancing in column of fours with an advance guard well to the front, still in pursuit of the Spanish rear guard, when suddenly a Spanish battery from hill on the left opened fire and fired eight shells at the troop. The troop was dismounted and line formed. The horses sent to a sheltered spot two hundred yards in rear. Sharpshooters were designated to fire on any of the enemy showing themselves. Flankers were sent out and preparations made to hold the position against any party the Spaniards might send out. It was evident from the length of their trenches, and the number of them and their two field pieces, which we could see, that they were in force in a strong position, about 1,500 yards in front of us. The troop remained here watching the enemy and reconnoitering on both flanks, were re-enforced by Company F, of Third Wisconsin Infantry, about 8 p. m.

August 10th, details were sent out on scout duty. About 2.30 p. m., firing was heard further up the road, an attempt being made by the enemy to cut off a detail of five men who were sent to reconnoiter the path leading to the east. The troop fighting on foot and supported by Company F, Third Wisconsin, advanced up the pass and a skirmish fire was kept up for about two hours, the result being that the firing parties from the Spanish entrenchments were driven back to their breastworks, leaving the troop and Company F, occupying the next hill in advance of the outpost. Our advances were made in good order and advantage taken of all cover. No further attempt was made by Spaniards to come out of their trenches.

This information was sent back to General Wilson by a trooper.

August 11th, the troop remained encamped at the outpost in Aibonito pass mentioned in report of August 10th, the troop's ox carts having reached the pass and being quartered about one-half a mile further down the road. Considerable reconnoitering was done on both flanks of enemy's position. At 5 p. m., orders were received to return to Coamo and get in shape for the next advance. Lieutenant Claus and 13 men were left on outpost to accompany Major Flagler on a scouting party. Captain Clayton and the troop returned to Coamo and were quartered for the night in the grounds of the Hospital of the Sacred Heart of Jesus at Coamo. On the morning of August 12th, a camp was established on a bank of Cayon river, opposite division headquarters.

August 13th, at 5 p. m., troop marched to Coamo baths and encamped for the night. At 7 a. m., August 14th, broke camp and returned to former camp on river bank at Coamo, at which point the troop established a permanent camp.

August 11th, the detail of 13 men under Lieutenant Claus left outpost at 3 a. m., to accompany Major Flagler and Lieutenant Riggers on a scouting expedition. The detail marched about five miles to the east and northeast and was upon the extreme left flank of the American forces during the firing of the American batteries in the Aibonito pass but was out of range of the Spanish fire. At 3 p. m. the detail went further up to the left of the military road, passing two abandoned Spanish block houses and camping on river bank in pass, returned to Coamo camp August 13th, at 12 m.

August 14th, Lieutenant Tuttle and 10 men under command of Major Flagler, accompanied by Captain La Trobe, Signor Pons and a guide, left camp to arrest marauders, explore road and passes and protect the plantation of Signor Pons. August 15th, four prisoners were taken near plantation of Signor Pons, but were released by Major Flagler, after warning. August 17th, reached Barros and visited the alcalde. Encamped that night one mile outside of Barranquitas. On morning of August 18th, three Spanish officers of civil guard visited the camp and requested that the detail not enter the town. Returned to camp near Coamo, August 18th, about 1 p. m.

August 12th, at 5 a. m., a detail consisting of Sergeant Debevoise and 24 men under command of Col. Biddle and accompanied by Captain Breckenridge of General Wilson's staff and Captain Gardner of the Sixteenth Pennsylvania, left Coamo camp. The detail proceeded up a trail about three-quarters of a mile, to the west of the military road for about three miles. A masked battery, manned by about 50 or 75 men, Spanish soldiers, fired six volleys of musketry at the detail. In the meantime the detail dismounted, horses were led to shelter behind a knoll, the detail under command of Colonel Biddle, returned the fire. Firing was continued for about half an hour, the Spaniards not leaving their trenches. Firing then ceased; the detail returned to their horses and took another trail leading to Barranquitas and camped for the night about one and one-half miles from Aibonito. Returned to camp August 13th, 1 a. m.

August 18th, Corporal Armstrong and 8 men were detailed to go to Juana Diaz. This detail was re-enforced August 19th by Corporals Norton and Theall and 6 men. On the 19th, a corporal and 3 men from this detail were sent to Coto, and arrested one Figuera, by order of Captain Allison, Provost Marshal. Three men were also sent to a nearby plantation to protect it from fire. On Saturday the 20th, this detail was occupied in guarding and patrolling Juana Diaz, Coto and surrounding country.

August 20th, found the command encamped at Coamo, attached to First Division, First Corps. August 21st, the command was transferred to General Ernst's First Brigade, First Division, First Corps. August 23d, ordered to Port Ponce to be transported to United States for muster out of service.

August 24th, broke camp at 10 a. m., and marched to Ponce. Encamped at 6 p. m. at General Wilson's headquarters. August 31st, detail of Acting Sergeant Armstrong and 17 men rejoined command, having returned from Juana Diaz.

In accordance with section 1, General Orders, No. 8, General Headquarters, State of New York, dated Adjutant-General's Office, Albany, April 27, 1898, the commanding officer of the Third Brigade, National Guard, Brigadier-General Robert Shaw Oliver, ordered to organize two regiments from organizations of his brigade, formed one of these two regiments of the Tenth, Twelfth and Seventeenth Battalions and the Forty-fourth Separate Company of his Brigade, and designated it the "First Regiment, National Guard, composed of organizations of the Third Brigade." The regiment thus organized consisted then of Companies A, B, C and D of the Tenth Battalion, the Fifth, Fourteenth, Sixteenth and Twenty-fourth Separate Companies of the Twelfth Battalion, the Third, Twentieth and Thirty-third Separate Companies of the Seventeenth Battalion and the Forty-fourth Separate Company. It appearing that the Sixteenth Separate Company would find it difficult to recruit the required number of men, it was relieved and replaced by the Fifteenth Separate Company.

The organizations above named were located at the time: Companies A, B, C and D, Tenth Battalion at Albany, the Third Separate Company at Oneonta, the Fifth Separate Company at Newburgh, the Fourteenth Separate Company at Kingston, the Fifteenth Separate Company at Poughkeepsie, the Twentieth Separate Company at Binghamton, the Twenty-fourth Separate Company at Middletown, the Thirty-third Separate Company at Walton and the Forty-fourth Separate Company at Utica.

The medical examination of the officers and enlisted men developed the fact that quite a number of men could not be accepted, and others were sent from the home stations of organizations to replace them.

The regiment was mustered in the United States Service and became in accordance with General Orders, No. 11, Adjutant-General's Office, State of New York, series 1898, the "First Regiment, Infantry, New York Volunteers," May 20, 1898, and remained at Camp Black until June 11, 1898.

Major Emmet and Assistant Surgeon Griffith, and Companies A, B, C, D and F went in a government transport to Fort Wadsworth, and Lieutenant-Colonel Stacpole, Major Chase, Surgeon Davis, Chaplain Schwartz and Companies E, I, K, L and M went in a government transport to Fort Hamilton.

June 15, Company H joined headquarters at Fort Columbus.

The regiment performed the usual duties incident to occupation of garrisons, and received while at these garrisons 301 recruits.

July 13th, at 3 and 11 a. m., the first and second sections of the train arrived at San Francisco, Cal., and the troops carried in them proceeded to Camp Merritt. On the same day the regiment was assigned to the First Brigade, Independent Division, Eighth Army Corps.

July 14th, 8 a. m., the third and fourth sections arrived and the troops joined these at Camp Merritt.

July 15th, at 8 a. m., the regiment was moved to the Presidio of San Francisco, the change being made owing to the bad sanitary condition of its former camping ground.

July 29, Colonel Barber, Quartermaster Winthrop and Assistant Surgeon Griffith, sailed from San Francisco on steamer "St. Paul" for Honolulu in order to select a camp for the regiment, assigned for garrison duty at Honolulu, and to choose a site for the new Hawaiian Post. The troops aboard her left and joined the regiment on the "Irwin Track."

August 30th, camp of companies C, E, I, K, L, M, and detachment of Company D, removed from race track grounds to "Irwin Track" upon which companies F, G and H were already encamped.

SECOND REGIMENT, INFANTRY, NEW YORK VOLUNTEERS.

In accordance with Par. I, General Orders, No. 8, General Headquarters, State of New York, dated Adjutant-General's Office, Albany, April 27th, 1898, the commanding officer of the Third Brigade, National Guard, Brigadier-General Robert Shaw Oliver, ordered to organize two regiments from organizations of his brigade, formed one of these two regiments of the Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth Battalions of his brigade and designated it the "Second Regiment, National Guard, composed of organizations of the Third Brigade." The regiment thus organized consisted then of the Sixth, Seventh, Twelfth and Twenty-first Separate Companies, constituting the Thirteenth Battalion; of the Ninth, Eighteenth, Twenty-second and Thirty-second Separate Companies, constituting the Fourteenth Battalion; of the Thirty-first, Thirty-sixth, Thirty-seventh and Forty-sixth Separate Companies, constituting the Fifteenth Battalion.

The organizations named were at the time located: The Sixth, Twelfth and Twenty-first Separate Companies at Troy; the Seventh at Cohoes; the Ninth at Whitehall; the Eighteenth at Glens Falls; the Twenty-second at Saratoga Springs; the Thirty-first at Mohawk; the Thirty-second at Hoosick Falls; the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh at Schenectady, and the Forty-sixth Separate Company at Amsterdam.

Upon the recommendation of the brigade commander, General Oliver, the Governor appointed April 29, 1898:

Captain Edward E. Hardin, Seventh United States Infantry, Colonel, and

Major James H. Lloyd, Thirteenth Battalion, National Guard, Lieutenant-Colonel of the regiment.

Pursuant to Special Orders, No. 70, dated Adjutant-General's Office, Albany, April 30, 1898, the organizations of which this regiment is composed left their home stations on May 2d in time to take trains for Camp Black, at Hempstead Plains, Long Island, as follows:

The Ninth Separate Company, at 5 a. m., the Eighteenth Separate Company, at 5.15 a. m., the Thirty-first Separate Company, at 5.45 a. m., the Seventh Separate Company, at 6.00 a. m., the Twenty-second Separate Company, at 6.20 a. m., the Thirty-second Separate Company, at 6.30 a. m., the Forty-sixth Separate Company, at 7.15 a. m., the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh Separate Companies, at 7.30 a. m., the Sixth, Twelfth and Twenty-first Separate Companies, at 8.00 a. m.

At Camp Black the component parts of the regiment received regimental designations as follows: The Sixth Separate Company became Company A; the Seventh Separate Company became Company B; the Twelfth Separate Company became Company C; the Twenty-first Separate Company became Company D; the Thirty-sixth, became Company E; the Thirty-seventh became Company F; the Thirty-first became Company G; the Forty-sixth became Company H; the Ninth became Company I; the Eighteenth became Company K, the Twenty-second became Company L; and the Thirty-second became Company M.

The medical examination of the officers and enlisted men, developing the fact that quite a number of men could not be accepted, recruits were sent from the home stations of the organizations to replace the men rejected.

The regiment was mustered in the United States service and became in accordance with General Orders, No. 11, Adjutant-General's Office, State of New York, series 1898, the "Second Regiment, Infantry, New York Volunteers," May 16 and 17, 1898; Companies A and D being mustered in on the latter date.

May 18, 1898, the regiment, under orders from the War Department, dated May 15, left Camp Black by rail in two sections at 10.15 a. m., for Long Island City, from this point by transports to Jersey City, where it was presented with a National flag by the Sons of the Revolution, and from thence by the New Jersey Central, Philadelphia and Reading, Baltimore and Ohio, and Cincinnati Southern Railroads to Chickamauga Park, Georgia. The regiment traveled in three sections, the first, under the charge of Colonel Hardin, with Companies A, B, C, and D, arriving at the park in the afternoon; the second, under the charge of Lieutenant-Colonel Lloyd, with companies E, F, G and H, in the evening of May 20th, and the third, under the charge of Major Lester, with Companies I, K, L and M, on the morning of the 21st of May. The regiment camped near Lytle station, and on the 21st the camp was moved to the southeastern part of the National Military Park, just north of the intersection of the Thedford Ford road with the Dalton Ford road. Here the regiment was assigned to the Second Brigade (Colonel Hardin), First Division (General L. H. Carpenter), Third Army Corps (General Wade); May 21st the Second Nebraska Volunteers, and later the First District Columbia Volunteers, were brigaded with the regiment.

May 30th, the regiment received orders to proceed to Tampa, Florida, and at 6 a. m., June 1st, marched to Rossville, with twenty-nine 4-mule teams, drawn a few days before; the march was by way of the Viniard House and the Lafayette road, arriving at Rossville at 9 a. m. The loading of the mules and wagons commenced at once, and the regiment moved in three sections, the first section with Colonel Hardin and Companies E, F, G and H, at 6 p. m.; the second section with Major Lester and Companies I, K, L and M, at 8.20 p. m., and the third section with Major Collin and Companies A, B, C and D, at about 10 p. m. The first section arrived at Tampa at 3 p. m., June 3d, and pitched camp at Camp Brooke, an old army post on Hillsborough Bay; the second section arrived at 2 a. m., June 4th; the third in the afternoon, and the wagon train at night of that day.

At Tampa the regiment was assigned to General Carpenter's (Second) Brigade, General Snyder's (Second) Division of the Fourth Corps, and was brigaded with the First District Columbia, Fifth Maryland, and Sixty-ninth New York Volunteers, the latter being soon transferred. June 4th, a regimental flag was received from the Sons of the Revolution.

June 5th, the regiment was ordered to prepare to go on transports at Port Tampa as part of the first Cuban expedition under General Shafter. Ten days' rations and 100 rounds of ammunition per man were issued, and the horses embarked, but no final orders were received and the horses came back. It was reported that the capacity of the transports had been over estimated.

June 13th, under orders of the War Department, a recruiting detail was ordered to the home stations to recruit the companies to the maximum; these details returned in due course of time with 318 recruits.

June 21st, the regiment left camp at 4.15 p. m., on a practice march to Tampa Heights, a distance of three miles, where it arrived about 5 p. m., bivouacked, drilled next morning and then returned to its regular camp.

June 24th, the regiment went on another practice march, observing the same routine as before; at 7.45 p. m., however, a severe storm came up, the camp was struck by lightning and Private Fred P. Nichols was killed, and about twenty others were injured, who, however, all recovered within a few days.

June 25th, orders were again received to prepare to go aboard transports fully equipped; preparations were made, but no embarkment; and when July 2d the First Regiment District Columbia Volunteers left for Santiago, hopes to get to the front were given up.

July 6th, notice was received that transportation to Santiago was on hand for two battalions. The (First), Major Lester, the (Second), Major Collin, were selected. The (Third), Major Yates, was to follow as soon as practicable, and Lieutenant-Colonel Lloyd was to remain in charge of recruits, etc.

July 12th, similar orders were again received and all preparations made accordingly. No final orders came in either instance, each resulting in disappointment. An effort was then made to obtain a more salutary camping ground about Tampa, but also without effect.

July 24th, the regiment was transferred from the Second Brigade, Second Division, to the First Brigade, Third Division of the Fourth Army Corps, and brigaded with the Fifth Ohio and Thirty-second Michigan Volunteers.

July 26th, it left its camp at Tampa at 5 a. m., and proceeded in two sections on the Florida Central and Peninsula Railroad to Fernandina, where it arrived in the forenoon of the 27th, establishing its camp about three-quarters of a mile east of the village of Fernandina.

August 21st, the regiment was relieved from duty with the Third Division, Fourth Army Corps, transferred to the department of the East, and ordered to Troy, N. Y.

August 24th, camp was struck and the regiment entrained in three sections, left for home via Everett City, Fla., Columbia, S. C., Charlotte, Danville, Va., Washington, D. C.

August 27th, the first section arrived in Albany at 10.47 a. m.; the second section at 2, and the third section at 3 p. m.; all arriving together in Troy soon after 4 p. m. The regiment remained in Troy over night.

August 28th, the regiment moved to Averill Park, where it pitched camp near Sand Lake.

September 15th, the regiment received a furlough for thirty days and the muster out of the regiment took place as follows:

October 25th, Companies A, B, C and D; October 26th, Company M; October 27th, Companies I and L; October 28th, Company K; October 31st, Companies E and F; November 1st, Companies G and H; November 2d, the regimental field and staff.

THIRTEENTH REGIMENT, NATIONAL GUARD.

The Thirteenth Regiment, National Guard, having volunteered its services, was one of the regiments selected in General Orders, No. 8, General Headquarters, State of New York, dated Adjutant-General's Office, Albany, April 27, 1898, to enter the service of the United States as a volunteer regiment.

The regiment, which consisted of ten companies, was in the same order required to recruit and organize as a twelve-company regiment.

In Special Orders, No. 72, A. G. O., May 1, 1898, the regiment was directed to report at the Flatbush avenue station of the Long Island Railroad, Brooklyn, at 10 o'clock a. m., May 2d, to take train there for Camp Black, Hempstead, L. I., and on arrival at the camp to report to Major-General Charles F. Roe, commanding National Guard and the camp. The regiment arrived duly at Camp Black.

General Orders, No. 11, General Headquarters, State of New York, dated Albany, May 3, 1898, directed the regiments ordered to the camp to perfect their organization, so that each should consist of twelve companies, of 81 enlisted men each. In this the regiment failed.

May 7th, it was ordered back to its home station, excepting such of its members as had meanwhile positively volunteered to enter the service of the United States. These men were organized in four companies, under the command of Major George D. Russell, and were formed into a battalion, and as such assigned May 9th to the Twenty-second Regiment, forming Companies D, F, L and M of that regiment. They were mustered out with the Twenty-second Regiment, November 23, 1898.

FOURTEENTH REGIMENT, INFANTRY, NEW YORK VOLUNTEERS.

The Fourteenth Regiment, National Guard, having volunteered its services, was one of the regiments selected in General Orders, No. 8, General Headquarters, State of New York, dated Adjutant-General's Office, Albany, April 27, 1898, to enter the service of the United States as a volunteer regiment.

The regiment at the time consisted of ten companies, and at once commenced recruiting to fill its companies and to organize two additional ones.

Special Orders, No. 72, A. G. O., May 1, 1898, ordered the regiment to report at 10 a. m., May 2d, at the Flatbush avenue station of the Long Island Railroad, Brooklyn, there to take train for the camp at Hempstead, and on arrival at the latter place to report to Major-General Charles F. Roe, commanding National Guard and the camp. This order was duly carried out.

Recruiting was continued to fill up and replace the men rejected by the medical officers, and the regiment was fully organized as a twelve-company regiment under the provisions of General Orders, No. 11, A. G. O., Albany, May 3, 1898; it was mustered in the service of the United States as follows: Companies A, G, K and M, May 13th, the other companies, May 16, 1898, and became thereby the "Fourteenth Regiment, Infantry, New York Volunteers."

Pursuant to telegraphic instructions dated War Department, Washington, D. C., May 15, 1898, the regiment left camp at Hempstead on May 17th, and proceeded by rail to Camp George H. Thomas, Chickamauga Park, Ga., where it arrived on May 20th, and was assigned to the First Brigade, First Division, Third Army Corps. The regiment remained in this camp, undergoing equipment, instructions, etc., until September 3, 1898.

While in camp at Chickamauga Park, Ga., recruiting officers were sent in June to Brooklyn, who returned to the regiment early in July with 302 recruits.

Pursuant to General Orders, No. 41, First Division, Headquarters Third Army Corps, August 31, 1898, the regiment proceeded September 3d, by rail to Camp Shipp, at Anniston, Alabama, arriving there on September 4th, where it went into camp with the remainder of the brigade and division.

September 5th, the regiment received orders to prepare for muster out and to proceed as soon as preliminary steps could be taken to corner Eighth avenue and Fifteenth street, Brooklyn, N. Y., where the officers and men would be granted leaves of absence and furloughs for 30 days, after which they would be mustered out of the service of the United States. It left its camp at Anniston, Ala., September 14, for Brooklyn, via Seaboard Air Line to Richmond and Washington, and via Pennsylvania Railroad to Jersey City, arriving at the armory in Brooklyn, September 16th, where it was mustered out of the service of the United States, October 27, 1898.

SIXTY-FIFTH REGIMENT, INFANTRY, NEW YORK VOLUNTEERS.

The Sixth-fifth Regiment, National Guard, having volunteered its services, was one of the regiments selected and designated in General Orders, No. 8, General Headquarters, State of New York, dated Adjutant-General's Office, Albany, N. Y., April 27, 1898, to enter the service of the United States as a volunteer regiment.

The regiment then consisted of eight companies, which were immediately recruited to the required numbers; three new companies, K, L and M, were organized, and the Thirteenth Separate Company of Jamestown was attached by Special Orders, No. 65, A. G. O., dated April 29, 1898, and designated as Company E.

In accordance with Special Orders, No. 72, A. G. O., May 1st, the Thirteenth Separate Company left Jamestown at 3 p. m., and the Sixty-fifth Regiment, Buffalo, at 5 p. m., of the 1st of May en route to the camp established at Hempstead Plains, L. I., where the regiment arrived on May 2d, and reported to Major-General Charles F. Roe, commanding National Guard and the camp.

Companies K, L and M ordered to remain at Buffalo, pending their completion, were later ordered to leave Buffalo on the 10th, and joined the regiment at Camp Black at 4 o'clock p. m., on the 11th.

Recruiting was continued to replace the men rejected by the medical officers of the regiment, and the regiment was mustered into the service of the United States as the "Sixty-fifth Regiment, Infantry, New York Volunteers," May 17, 1898. Total strength 50 officers; 980 enlisted men, the full number required.

Under orders of the War Department, the regiment moved from Camp Black at one o'clock p. m., May 19th, 1898, camp equipment and ten days' field rations, en route for camp near Falls Church, Virginia, afterwards designated as Camp Russell A. Alger, leaving Camp Black Station via Long Island railroad on two trains at 1.40 and 1.50 p. m., respectively. Detrained at Long Island City and took ferry for Pennsylvania railroad station, Jersey City, arriving at 6 o'clock p. m., and departing in three sections at 7.30, 7.40 and 7.50 p. m. First section arrived at St. Asaph, Virginia, at 3.15 a. m.; second and third sections arrived at Washington at 3.00 and 3.15 a. m.

The several sections reached Dunn Loring Station, Virginia, where regiment detrained as follows: First 9.30; second 10 and third 10.20 a. m. All companies except G and I marched to camp under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Chapin. No corps, division or brigade headquarters had been established. There was no officer present to report to, or to assign location of camp. Through the courtesy of Major M. C. Martin, Depot Quartermaster at Dunn Loring, a location was secured about three and one-half miles from the station into which the command moved at 3 o'clock p. m. The commanding officer remained at Dunn Loring with Major Babcock and Companies G and I to arrange for transportation of baggage to camp. The amount of transportation being entirely inadequate the work was not finished until 5.30 p. m., May 21st, at which hour the detachment left Dunn Loring, arriving at camp at 6.45 p. m.

May 24th, the regiment was by General Orders, No. 2, Headquarters Second Army Corps, attached to the First Brigade,

First Division, Second Army Corps. The regiments composing the brigade were the First, New Jersey; Seventh, Ohio; and Sixty-fifth, New York. The brigade was commanded by Colonel E. A. Campbell, First New Jersey, until July 16th, on which day Brigadier-General Joseph W. Plume assumed command, and continued until disbandment of the brigade.

June 6th, a recruiting party of three officers and twelve enlisted men was sent to Buffalo. This party recruited 333 men for the regiment and returned in detachments, the last arriving in camp July 8th, 1898. During the month twenty-six members of the regiment were transferred to the Hospital Corps of the Army.

June 7th, the location of the camp was moved about three-quarters of a mile to ground formerly occupied by the Fourth Regiment, Missouri V. I. The command remained on this ground until August 8th, when camp was moved about two miles to the Chittenden farm. During its stay at Camp Alger the regiment participated in four reviews and performed the usual camp duties; drills and schools were held daily except Saturday and Sunday.

September 4th, pursuant to orders from Headquarters, First Division, Second Army Corps, the regiment marched from Camp Russell A. Alger at 10.30 a. m., en route for Buffalo. Left Dunn Loring Station via Southern Railway in four sections, the first starting at 11.40 a. m., proceeded to Buffalo via Pennsylvania, Northern Central and New York Central Railroads arriving at 10 a. m., September 5th. The regiment paraded through the principal streets, preceded by a military and civic escort, arriving at the armory of the Sixty-fifth Regiment, N. G. N. Y., at 1 p. m. Orders were issued constituting the armory a military post and naming it Camp Joseph W. Plume, in honor of the commanding general, First Brigade, First Division, Second Army Corps. An order was issued granting all officers leave of absence and all enlisted men furloughs for thirty days.

October 6th, the regiment assembled upon expiration of leaves and furloughs; preparations for muster out were begun and continued until the 19th day of November, 1898, on which day the regiment was mustered out of United States service.

During its service the regiment lost one officer (Second Lieutenant Samuel Miller Porter, Company E), and eighteen enlisted men; causes of death, typhoid fever, fifteen; other diseases, three; railroad accident, one.

SIXTY-NINTH REGIMENT, INFANTRY, NEW YORK VOLUNTEERS.

The Sixty-ninth Regiment, National Guard, having volunteered its services, was one of the regiments selected and designated in General Orders, No. 8, General Headquarters, State of New York, dated Adjutant-General's Office, Albany, April 27, 1898, to enter the service of the United States as a volunteer regiment.

The regiment at that time consisted of ten companies, and at once commenced recruiting to fill its companies, and to organize two additional companies.

Special Orders, No. 72, A. G. O., May 1, 1898, directed the regiment to report at foot of 34th street, East River, New York city, at 10 a. m., of the 2d of May, there to take boat to Long Island City, and from thence to proceed via Long Island Railroad to the camp at Hempstead Plains, L. I., and on its arrival to report to Major-General O. F. Roe, commanding National Guard and the camp. These orders were duly carried out.

Under the provisions of General Orders, No. 11, A. G. O., Albany, May 3, 1898, recruiting was continued to replace the men rejected by the medical officers, and the regiment was mustered in the service of the United States as the "Sixty-ninth Regiment, Infantry, New York Volunteers," May 19, 1898.

After the ceremony of mustering on May 19th, the regiment was presented with a handsome stand of colors by the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick of the city of New York, the presentation address being made by Judge James Fitzgerald of New York city. The stand consisted of the National and State emblems, and the historic green flag of Ireland.

Friday, May 20th, the regiment received orders to proceed to Chickamauga and report to General Brooke, U. S. Army, and on Tuesday, May 24th, it moved, passing en route through the streets of New York city from Thirty-fourth Street Ferry on the East River to Twenty-third Street Ferry on the North River. Embarking on Baltimore and Ohio cars at Jersey City, the regiment started forward in three sections. En route it passed through Philadelphia, Baltimore, Wheeling, W. Va., Cincinnati, and Lexington, Ky.

Friday, May 27th, the regiment arrived at Chickamauga National Military Park and reported to General Brooke, and was assigned camp site about two miles from Lyttle Station on the Southern Railroad, where tents were pitched the same evening. At Chickamauga Park the regiment was equipped with a wagon train, consisting of thirty wagons and one hundred and twenty-one mules, and while at Chickamauga it was attached to the Second Division, Third Army Corps.

Monday, May 30th, orders were received from Major-General Brooke to proceed to Tampa, Florida, and there report to General Carpenter.

The regiment struck its camp at Chickamauga Park, Ga., June 2d, 1898, took train in three sections at Rossville Station, Ga., for Tampa, Fla., where it arrived June 6th, 1898, pitching its camp at Palmetto Beach on the same day. It was assigned to the Second Brigade, Third Division, Fourth Army Corps.

While in this camp recruiting parties were sent north, and in due time returned to the regiment with 303 recruits.

July 24th, 1898, the regiment broke camp at Tampa, and in the afternoon embarked at Ybor City en route for Fernandina, where it arrived on the 25th and encamped about half a mile north of the town on the 26th.

August 12th, the regiment received orders to proceed to Huntsville, Alabama, and there go into camp.

August 27th, the regiment broke camp and in the evening took train for Huntsville, Ala. The regiment was separated into two sections as it left Fernandina, but at Montgomery the railroad found it necessary to form three sections on account of the heavier grades to be encountered. On leaving Montgomery, Companies E and G occupied the first five cars of the first section and had proceeded about eight miles west of Birmingham, Alabama, to a point near the town of Newcastle on the Louisville and Nashville, R. R., where about 5 o'clock in the afternoon the five cars above mentioned left the rails while at a high rate of speed and were dashed to pieces.

The wreck occurred in a "cut" and the cars were thrown against the side of it with such force that they shot high into the air and then turned bottom up.

It was found on examination that Private Peter Farley, Company G, had been instantly killed, and that Sergeant Frank Glennon, Company G, was dying. In addition, twenty-six other non-commissioned officers and privates and one civilian teamster were more or less injured. Sergeant Glennon died on the train while being sent to the hospital at Birmingham.

The injured men were immediately sent back to Birmingham for treatment, and were installed at Wilson and Brown Infirmary, a private institution. Fifteen of them were found to be in such condition as to make their detention there necessary; all but three of these have since rejoined their regiment.

Considering the complete manner in which the five cars were wrecked, it is providential that the casualty did not assume greater proportions.

Monday, August 29th, the regiment reached Huntsville and was put into camp about a mile west of the town in a beautiful farming valley. The soil is a red shale and is covered with a short thick growth of grass. The encampment drains well and judging from appearances the location should prove a healthy one. The water is particularly good, being furnished through mains from a magnificent spring which is one of the principal attractions of this part of the State.

In November, the regiment was assigned to the Second Brigade, First Division, Fourth Corps.

SEVENTY-FIRST REGIMENT, INFANTRY, NEW YORK VOLUNTEERS.

The Seventy-first Regiment, National Guard, having volunteered its services, was one of the regiments selected and designated in General Orders, No. 8, General Headquarters, State of New York, dated Adjutant-General's Office, Albany, April 27, 1898; to enter the service of the United States as a volunteer regiment.

The regiment at the time consisted of ten companies, and at once commenced recruiting to fill its companies and to organize two additional companies,

April 29, 1898, Company H was ordered and proceeded to Hempstead Plains, L. I., as a guard to the State property, arriving there for the establishment of a camp which was later known as Camp Black.

Special Orders, No. 72, A. G. O., May 1, 1898, directed the regiment to report at foot of 34th street, East River, New York city, at 10 a. m., on the 2d of May, there to take boat to Long Island City and from thence to proceed via Long Island Railroad, to the Camp at Hempstead Plains, L. I., and on its arrival to report to Major-General Charles F. Roe, commanding National Guard and the camp. These orders were duly carried out.

Under the provisions of General Orders, No. 11, A. G. O., Albany, May 3, 1898, recruiting was continued to replace the men rejected by the medical officers, and the regiment was mustered in the service of the United States as the Seventy-First Regiment, Infantry, New York Volunteers, May 10, 1898.

On the evening of May 11th, orders were received from the War Department to proceed south immediately, and at 3 p. m., on the 12th, the regiment struck camp; took train at 4 p. m., arriving at Long Island City at 7.30 p. m. The baggage was transferred to lighters and the regiment proceeded at 3 a. m., May 13, down the bay, and embarked on the transports "City of Washington" and "Seneca." Remained at anchor until the 14th, when orders were received to disembark and proceed south by rail; disembarked at the dock of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Jersey City, and after vexatious delays the regiment left Jersey City by train in three sections, the first under the command of Colonel Greene, the second under the command of Major Smith, and the third under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Downs. It arrived at Lakeland, Fla., on the morning of the 17th of May, and went into camp on the shore of Morton Lake, one-half mile from Lakeland. There it was temporarily assigned to the Second Cavalry Brigade, Brigadier-General S. B. M. Young.

May 25th, the regiment was assigned to the First Brigade, (Colonel M. A. Cochran) First Division, (Brigadier-General Jacob F. Kent) Fifth Army Corps, (Major-General Wm. R. Shafter).

May 28, 1898, Colonel F. V. Greene received notice of his appointment as brigadier-general, and left the regiment for San Francisco the same day.

May 30, orders were received to proceed to Tampa Heights, and May 31st the order was carried out, the regiment going by rail to Ybor City, marching from there to the Heights and establishing its camp at a very desirable point at that place, three miles from railroad station at Ybor City.

From May 31st, to June 7th, the regiment was in camp at Tampa Heights, Fla. During this period the work was directed towards preparation for active duty in the field. June 6th, an order was received that the regiment should be ready to move on board the transport at a moment's notice. June 7th, an order was received from Corps Headquarters to strike camp and proceed by train to Port Tampa and there embark on transport. Tents were struck at 7 p. m., baggage, ammunition, etc., taken to depot at Ybor City and loaded on baggage train. The regiment was formed and marched out of camp at 1.30 a. m. Work was continued throughout the night and the entire regiment and baggage loaded on the train at 5 a. m., June 8. The train left Ybor City at 6 a. m., arriving at Port Tampa at 7.30. The transport "Vigilancia No. 23," was assigned to the regiment and at 3 o'clock p. m., of the same day, the regiment boarded the vessel. The regiment was kept on board the transport in the harbor until June 14th, when the entire fleet sailed at 5.45 p. m., for Cuba. The voyage was without incident, the sea being calm and the health of the men excellent.

The fleet arrived at the mouth of the harbor off Santiago de Cuba on June 20th.

On the night of June 23d, orders were received direct from General Shafter that the regiment should commence to debark at Siboney and continue the work throughout the night until completed. Three days' rations issued and 100 rounds of ammunition. The work commenced at 11 o'clock p. m., and was completed at 5 a. m., June 24th. The regiment remained in camp at Siboney from June 24th until June 27th. June 26th an order was received for the regiment to move to the front on the following morning. June 27th, the regiment broke camp at 4 a. m., joining its (the First) brigade on the main road leading to Santiago; marched a distance of eight miles, going into camp in an open field at a point called Seville, about four miles from Santiago. June 30th, an order was received to move to the front on the following morning.

July 1st, the regiment broke camp at 4 a. m., moving towards Santiago, joining the Sixth and Sixteenth Regiments which composed its (the First) brigade. During the day the regiment participated in the capture of San Juan Hill. During the night of July 1st, the regiment worked continuously digging trenches and building breast works preparatory for the work for the following day.

At daylight, July 2d, the work was completed, just in time, as the firing opened at dawn. The battle continued throughout the day, the regiment holding its position in the trenches; the First and Second Battalions being in the trenches on the right of the block house and the Third Battalion being held as a support to the Twenty-Fourth United States Infantry, which occupied the trenches on the left of the block house.

On the night of July 2d, an attack was made by the Spaniards. The regiment held its position in the trenches and the firing was kept up for three-quarters of an hour.

July 3d, the fighting continued until noon, when orders were received to cease firing and a flag of truce was sent out by the corps commander. The regiment continued to occupy its position in the trenches on San Juan Hill at the right of the block house until Tuesday, July 5th, when it was withdrawn and sent to a position on the left to be in touch with the Sixth and Sixteenth United States Infantry regiments, parts of its brigade.

Friday, July 8th, orders were received from Division Headquarters for the regiment to report to General Lawton at daylight on the following morning.

The regiment broke camp at 2.30 a. m. Saturday, July 9th, then marched four miles and reported as ordered. It was assigned to position in the trenches, the First Battalion occupying those vacated by the Fourth United States Infantry, the Second Battalion occupying those vacated by General Garcia's troops, the Third Battalion those vacated by the Second Massachusetts Volunteers. The regiment continued in this position until after the surrender and until orders came on August 8th for it to break camp and board the transports for the United States.

The Second Battalion and Companies B and L of the Third Battalion left camp at 4 p. m., on August 8th, marching two and one-half miles to Santiago and boarding the transport "Grande Duchess." The transport sailed on Wednesday, July 10th. The balance of the regiment left camp on the morning of July 10th, the First Battalion boarding the auxiliary cruiser "St. Paul," and Companies E and K the auxiliary cruiser "St. Louis." The regiment proceeded to Montauk Point, Long Island, where the last of its companies were disembarked on Friday, the 19th; each detachment was detained in the Detention Camp for five days and then transferred to the permanent camp.

Friday, August 26th, orders were received for the regiment to prepare to proceed to its home station at its armory, corner of Thirty-fourth street and Park avenue, New York city, and there to be furloughed for a period of sixty days. The regiment broke camp and left Montauk Point, at 6 o'clock a. m., on Monday, August 29th, proceeding by rail to Long Island City, thence by ferry to South Ferry, New York city. It landed and proceeded up Broadway in cable cars to Waverly Place, where the regiment formed. From this point it was escorted up Fifth avenue by the Veteran Association and Lafayette Post, together with the officers of the One Hundred and Seventy-first Regiment, N. G. N. Y., reaching its armory at Thirty-fourth street and Park avenue at 4.30 p. m. The regiment was dismissed and furloughed immediately. Thursday, October 27th, 1898, the regiment assembled at 9.30 a. m. and work was commenced preparatory to mustering it out of the United States service. This work was completed and the regiment finally mustered out November 15th, 1898.

NAVAL MILITIA IN THE SERVICE OF THE UNITED STATES.

February 24, 1898.

Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the United States Navy, under date of February 23d, addressed the following to this office:

"The Department forwards to you, under a separate cover 'General instructions governing the inspection of vessels for the auxiliary naval service' and the following blanks: 'Form No. 6 N. M.,' 'Form No. 7, N. M.,' 'Form No. 8, N. M.'"

"These instructions and forms will be sent to such divisions of the Naval Militia as, from their location, will be able to collect the information desired."

The request contained in the foregoing was carried out and the proper officers were directed to collect the desired information, as far as within their power and means.

March 25th.

The following telegram, dated March 25th, was received from Captain J. W. Miller, commanding Naval Militia of this State:

"In answer to a second message from Washington have telegraphed as follows: 'Naval Militia ready for any duty twelve hours' notice. Will you need volunteers to go to Philadelphia to-morrow? If so will send them. Have repeated your message to Albany.' Will you please have Governor volunteer whole force? Massachusetts I understand has done so."

To which answer was made as follows:

March 26th.

"Governor has received no information that the Naval Reserve is to man monitor. Telegraph fully upon what information you base request for two officers to go to League Island and what they are to do when there."

Captain Miller replied:

"Your telegraphic orders relative to reporting information to headquarters received and will be obeyed, would like permission to send two officers to League Island to prepare monitors."

And,

March 27th.

“No further information; simply want permission for myself or one or two others to go to Washington or Philadelphia if in my judgment necessary, so as to prevent hurry at last moment. If granted we leave State in unofficial capacity entirely.”

The permission requested was granted this day.

March 28th.

The Assistant Secretary of the Navy, under date of the 26th, received to-day, addressed this office:

“Commander Horace Elmer, U. S. Navy, has been directed to prepare a scheme for utilizing the available resources of our Atlantic Coast in the formation of a mosquito fleet. His headquarters will be at the navy yard, New York, N. Y.

“You are requested to forward to Commander Elmer, as soon as possible, the names of such vessels belonging to the seaports of your State as can be most readily fitted out as improvised gun vessels, rams, or torpedo boats; also information as to the possibility of securing the services of the present captains and crews. The Naval Militia organizations have been furnished with blanks and full particulars of information desired.”

The following instructions were sent to the commanding officer of the Naval Militia:

“I have the honor to enclose copy of a letter from the Assistant Secretary of the U. S. Navy dated 26th instant, and relating to the formation of a mosquito fleet, and to inform you that the Governor desires you to communicate with Commander Horace Elmer, U. S. These monitors are now at the navy yard, League Island, Pennsylvania, and the department requests that volunteers of the New York Naval Militia be detailed for duty in connection with bringing these monitors from League Island to New York. The department has received assurance from Captain J. W. Miller, that the Naval Militia of New York will volunteer for this duty.

"Inclosed herewith are the complements of the U. S. S. 'Nahant' and the U. S. S. 'Jason,' prepared by the Bureau of Navigation. It consists of nine officers and ninety-five men for each vessel.

"These officers and men are to be selected from the Naval Militia. In case the men are not available for the artificer branch and the engine-room force, they may be hired at the rate of pay given the same ratings in the Navy. This may be necessary in case of firemen and coal heavers. The department will make all the necessary arrangements for the transportation and subsistence of these volunteers, and will inform you, by telegraph, when it wishes the services of the Naval Militia. This will probably be within the next week. The Naval Militia should be prepared to move on twenty-four hours' notice.

"You are requested to confer with the Governor of New York, with a view to having all details carried out and the Department kept informed of the progress of the same."

Pursuant to the foregoing, the following was addressed to the commanding officer of the Naval Militia :

"I have the honor to enclose copy of letter received from the Assistant Secretary of the Navy, dated March 26, 1898, and numbered 149 H. K.

“If, in the judgment of the executive officers, the services of any head of department are required at League Island, in connection with fitting out, the Governor is requested in like manner to authorize them to proceed to League Island and report to the commandant of the Navy Yard.

“When the monitors are reported ready to receive their officers and crews, you will be informed by the department, and the necessary instructions will be forwarded to you.”

To which reply was sent as follows :

“I have the honor, by direction of the Governor, to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the first instant, and to inform you that under his direction I have ordered the four officers of the Naval Militia to proceed at once to League Island, Pa., and to report to the commandant of the Navy Yard for duty; also, to say that if these officers at any time deem the services of any head of department necessary, in connection with fitting out, they will also be promptly directed to report for duty at that place."

April 3d.

Telegram to commanding officer Naval Militia:

"Roosevelt thinks request for cruisers may be granted, but he cannot yet say."

April 11th.

Assistant Secretary of Navy sent message:

"Nahant will be ready for volunteer officers and men from the New York Naval Militia to-morrow; transportation will be furnished by Pennsylvania railroad. Embark militia foot of West Twenty-third street, at 7.50 to-morrow morning."

Which information was communicated to the commanding officer of the Naval Militia for his action, who,

April 12th,

Reported that detail for the "Nahant" left New York at 7.50 a. m., and

April 15th,

That the Nahant was reported to have left for New York at 1.15 p. m.

The following letter, dated April 15th, was received from the commanding officer of the Naval Militia:

April 16th.

"Will you kindly obtain permission from the proper State authorities for the signalmen of the First Naval Battalion to temporarily occupy one of the cottages at Fire Island, in case they should be ordered there; also, right to put up a signal pole on State property.

"2. Also, permission from Admiral F. V. McNair, President of Light-House Board, Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., for permission to sleep five men temporarily in the engine shed at Montauk light.

3. Also permission from the General Superintendent, Life Saving Service, Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., for authority to sleep five men temporarily in life saving house, Quogue, L. I."

And the following communications were dispatched by me, in the interests of establishing signal stations along the coast:

"Admiral F. V. McNAIR, U. S. N.,

*President Light-House Board, Treasury Department,
Washington, D. C.*

"SIR:—I have the honor to request that permission be granted to seep five men of the Naval Militia of this State in the engine shed at Montauk Light, in the event of hostilities, until proper accommodations can be otherwise provided."

“DR. ALVAH H. DOTY,

Health Officer, Port of New York,

Quarantine, Staten Island, N. Y.

“SIR:—I have the honor to request that permission to temporarily occupy one of the cottages of Fire Island, may, in the event of hostilities, be granted such members of the Naval Militia of the State as might be ordered there on duty.”

April 21st.

Captain J. W. Miller, Naval Militia, reported the arrival of the “Nahant” at navy yard in the afternoon of the 20th, and Naval Militia detail still aboard.

April 23d.

The Assistant Secretary of the Navy was telegraphed to as follows:

“Captain Miller reports that signal details equipped left early this morning. Fire Island station will be manned at ten, Quogue at ten thirty a. m., Montauk at two p. m.”

The following letter of the navy department dated April 22d, received this day was telegraphed to the commanding officer of the navy militia for his compliance therewith:

“1. The department has directed that, before entering into service aboard naval vessels, all enlisted men of the Naval Militia shall be discharged from their enlistment in that body and be re-enlisted for service in the navy by a naval recruiting officer, for a period of ‘one year, unless sooner discharged.’ All officers of the Naval Militia will, before being called into service, receive acting appointments as officers of the navy in the grades in which they are to serve. On board the monitors which have already been commissioned, these provisions will be put into effect immediately.

“2. While enlistments will be made for general service, it is to be understood that members of the same Naval Militia organization will always, if practicable, be detailed for service in a body, and that their organizations will not be broken up, unless the exigencies of the service imperatively demand it.

"3. It is requested that you will cause this information to be made known immediately to the officers and men of the Naval Militia of your State, so that you will take appropriate steps looking to the discharge of the men prior to their entry into the naval service."

The following orders were also telegraphed to the commanding officer of the Naval Militia :

"Prepare full complement to go on board Yankee, but wait orders which will come between two and three o'clock to-day."

And

"Commander-in-Chief directs in accordance with request of Navy Department that the complement of officers and crew for the 'Yankee' be sent at once to Brooklyn navy yard."

And to the Assistant Secretary of the Navy, the following information :

"Commanding officer of the Naval Militia has been directed to send officers and crew for Yankee to Brooklyn navy yard at once."

The following instructions were sent also to the commanding officer of the Naval Militia (the letter referred to therein was telegraphed earlier in the day to the commanding officer) :

"I have the honor to transmit herewith copy of letter of Chief of Bureau of Navigation, dated April 22, 1898, and numbered S. C. H. 103132, relating to enlistment of Naval Militia into the United States naval service, for your information and guidance.

"The Commander-in-Chief directs that officers entering the United States service should tender their resignations, and enlisted men should be honorably discharged, or receive a full and honorable discharge, if entitled thereto, by reason of entry into the service of the United States.

"Officers and enlisted men should be required to turn in all State and United States property, including uniforms, in their possession."

In connection with the foregoing, the following was addressed to the Assistant Secretary of the Navy :

"Sir:—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of communication of Bureau of Navigation of the 22d instant, No. S. C. H. 103132, and to request information, as follows: Are the men of the Naval Militia, who enlisted for one year, to be uniformed and equipped by the State?"

April 24th, 1898.

I telegraphed to the Assistant Secretary of the Navy as follows :

“ Referring to your directions to discharge officers and men of the Naval Militia, who enter the navy for one year, the Governor proposes, in place thereof, to give them leave of absence for the period of such service. The law of this State places the militia, on entering the United States service, beyond the control of the Governor ; this action will, therefore, answer the purpose and be more satisfactory to the men than to discharge them. Will this be satisfactory ? ”

April 25th, 1898.

The following telegram was received from the Navy Department, in response to that of yesterday :

“ Where Naval Militia are called into the naval service, it is recommended that they be marked as absent with leave for a period of one year.”

And at once communicated to the commanding officer of the Naval Militia.

The following letter of the Navy Department, dated April 23d, was received this day :

“ Sir:—It is requested that you will please furnish the Department, as soon as practicable, with a list of officers of the Naval Militia of your State who are to serve on board vessels of the U. S. Navy in the event of war, and who desire to be commissioned acting officers of the U. S. Navy, or Warranted Acting Officers of the U. S. Navy, in order that they may be examined to ascertain their qualifications for acting appointments or acting warrants.

“ Your attention is invited to the following paragraph from the Paymaster-General of the U. S. Navy :

“ That such of the paymasters of the U. S. Naval Militia as will be ordered into service may be prepared to enter upon their duties immediately upon being called out, it is recommended that they be examined and given acting appointments at once and directed to file their bonds.”

The commanding officer of the Naval Militia was instructed accordingly and the information desired transmitted to the Navy Department.

April 29th.

The following telegram was also received this day from the commanding officer of the Naval Militia :

“Admiral Bunce, Commandant Navy Yard, requests me to muster into the U. S. service to-morrow volunteer crew of Nahant, heretofore detailed for that vessel. Shall I comply with his request?”

To which,

April 30th,

reply was sent to comply with the request.

May 1st.

The commanding officer of the Naval Militia was ordered to comply with the request of Rear Admiral Henry Erben, U. S. Navy, in charge of Coast Defence System, to send details to Willets Point to assist in protecting the mine fields, as the Admiral had no men for this duty.

May 2d.

The commanding officer of the Naval Militia received the following instructions :

“Telegram from Navy Department wants for Yankee an additional complement of eighteen seamen, twelve ordinary seamen and twelve landsmen, making total of complement of two hundred and sixty-seven (267). If vacancies are created by rejection of men send others to replace them. Governor directs compliance with this.”

May 4th.

The following telegram was sent this day to the Assistant Secretary of the Navy :

“By direction of the Governor, I have the honor to advise that the Naval Militia of this State, recruited to the full strength allowed by law, are assembled in their armories, ready to respond to any call.”

To which, this reply was received by this office :

May 5th.

“SIR:—The Department is in receipt of your telegram of May 4th, stating that the Naval Militia of the State of New York are recruited to full strength and ready for immediate duty. I believe we shall shortly be able to make use of them all."

May 7th.

The Governor authorized the commanding officer of the Naval Militia to establish a patrol of the lower bay and Throggs Neck for five days, to take care of the mine fields, and protect incoming and outgoing commerce, the general government not having sufficient vessels in this district.

May 12th.

The following was received from the commanding officer of the Naval Militia, dated the 11th :

"Confirming my telegram of to-day, I have just come from a long interview with Captain W. L. Field, U. S. N., Admiral Erben's representative, and he informs me that the work of the Naval Militia on patrol duty has been most efficient and thorough. He also states that there were four yachts at the Navy Yard which he hopes to get soon; also one or two tugs at Key West which are ordered north to report to Admiral Erben, but as yet he only had the yacht "Free Lance," and she will not be able to leave the yard for some days. I have therefore hired the present tugs for a second five days in accordance with my option. I do not think my expense will be over $8,000, for the ten days, and perhaps less."

The action of the commanding officer of the Naval Militia was approved by the direction of the Governor.

The following communication of the Bureau of Navigation of the Navy Department, dated May 11th, was received at this office :

"1. You will be pleased to send to the U. S. Monitor Jason, League Island, Pa., her detail of officers and men, as per complement as already forwarded to you. Instruct the senior officer of the contingent to report to the commandant of the League Island Navy Yard for duty on board the Jason, where the commanding officer has been instructed to receive him and enlist the crew and forward the names of the officers.

"2. For this purpose, be pleased to give them one year's leave, the time for which they will be enlisted, unless sooner discharged.

"3. The Pennsylvania Railroad agent has been ordered to confer with you as to transportation, they having the contract from New York to League Island; and it is suggested that you have your men ready to catch the early train, about 8.13 a. m., 14th instant, at Jersey City, which will put the force in League Island in time for dinner."

Instructions were given to comply with the foregoing.

May 16th.

The following telegram was received from Major G. H. Doty, Health Officer of the Port of New York:

"I am officially informed that the patrol service in the harbor now in charge of the New York Naval Reserve is to be discontinued to-morrow at noon for lack of appropriation. This service is extremely important and is needed to prevent danger. In addition it is a great aid to the work of this Department, and to commerce generally. Will it not be possible to continue it?"

May 17th.

Instructions as follows were telegraphed to Captain J. W. Miller, commanding the Naval Militia:

"The Governor directs that the patrol fleet be continued for another five days."

May 18th.

The following, dated May 17th, was received from the commanding officer of the Naval Militia:

"Confirming my telephone communication with you to-day, I have to report that the second five days of the contract terminated to-day, and, not hearing from the Governor by noon, I called the patrol fleet in, first asking Commander Field, who is the District Superintendent under Admiral Erben, if he could take care of the mine fields. He informed me that he would have three vessels this afternoon for the work, but, on visiting him at 4 p. m., I found that he had only succeeded in obtaining two from the Navy Yard, with the promise of another to-morrow. I then gave him the Governor's compliments, and told him if he needed vessels to-morrow that I could probably arrange with the Governor to let him have them, provided Admiral Erben expressed the wish. He is to give me an answer before 11 a. m.

“The Naval Militia is willing to do anything to help the country and the State in this crisis, but, under ordinary circumstances, I think you will agree with me that it would not be wise to have divided authority afloat on different boats. The naval officers on board the improvised yachts doing patrol duty are junior to Lieutenant Commander Forshew, and there might be trouble, although our officers will use their customary tact. There is a rumor going about that a large steamer has just run over the mine fields at Sandy Hook.

“In this connection, I have just visited the police boat ‘Patrol,’ which is lying at Pier A, N. R., ready for service. She is altogether the best vessel that can be used for harbor or off-shore work by the Naval Militia, being very fast and built of steel, with plenty of room for the men and space on deck for four small guns, or two four-inch guns. She has little work to do for the Police Department at present. I urgently recommend that the Governor, if consistent, ask the Police Commissioners to turn her over to the Naval Militia. I think I shall have saved $5,000 out of the $12,000 on the patrol up to the present. This would pay off the salaries of the men and the coal on board the ‘Patrol’ for a long time. I am also in negotiation for two dynamite guns, which, perhaps, I can obtain, if I had a boat, for nothing. It is most essential for me to get the men hardened by preparatory work around the harbor, and to instruct them in artillery and mining operations in case any stray Spaniard should appear off the port. It will be necessary to act quickly in this matter, as the Government has made some overtures, I understand, looking towards the purchase of the ‘Patrol.’ Before they could accomplish this I would like to have her in the service of the State, and then, if the Government wishes her, we can turn her over to the Government fully manned and equipped with our own men. Trusting that the above will receive your earnest consideration, I remain.”

And the following telegram was sent to the Hon. Secretary of the Navy:

“Governor Black directs me to say that he is ready to man with his Naval Reserve five or six boats and place them under the direction of Admiral Erben, or elsewhere, as you may direct, for the safety of the harbor of New York. He awaits your reply."

May 20th.

The following letter was addressed to the Assistant Secretary of the Navy :

"SIR:— I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your communication of the 19th instant, and to say that I have this day, in the name of the Governor, directed the commanding officer of the Naval Militia of this State to man five boats with Naval Militiamen, same to be under pay of the State, and report for duty to Admiral Erben. Further instructions have been given them to discontinue after five days, during which time I trust that the passage of the bill will enable the United States Government to use our force as its own. An acknowledgment of this is requested."

The telegram from this office referred to above was as follows :

"HON. ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF THE NAVY,

Washington, D. C.

"The State will man four or five boats with its Naval Militia for five days, officers and men to be under State pay, but report and subject to orders of Admiral Erben."

May 23d.

The commanding officer of the Naval Militia writes as follows under date of May 21st :

"Referring to your communication of the 20th instant, ordering me to man five suitable boats for patrol, I would respectfully state that they were ordered and manned at once, but on reporting to Admiral Erben, he informed me that they were not needed and that he could not accept them, which circumstances were reported to you by telegraph and telephone yesterday, and I subsequently received orders from you to delay manning them for the present."

And under date of May 22d, as follows :

"I have the honor to enclose herewith copy of a letter and list of vacancies on board the 'Yankee' received from Commander Brownson. I can probably fill these vacancies from men of the First Naval Battalion and Second Naval Separate Division, and would request your permission to do so."

The enclosure referred to herein, follows :

U. S. S. "YANKEE," }
OFF BLOCK ISLAND, R. I., May 17th, 1898. }

SIR:—I enclose herewith a list of the vacancies that exist in the complement of this ship, and have to request that you have, if possible, ready to send on board on our arrival in New York, probably in about ten days, the men necessary to fill them. I have to earnestly request that, if possible, you send me men who have had some experience at sea — the more experienced they are, the better.

I would be obliged if before they arrive on board you will see that they are fitted out, as were the first draft sent me.

I shall within a few days send you a check to settle the ration account of the crew of the "Yankee," while subsisted on board the "New Hampshire," after they had enlisted in the navy.

Very respectfully,

W. H. BROWNSON, Comdr., Com'dg.

Captain J. W. MILLER, Commanding Naval Militia, New York,
U. S. S. "New Hampshire," New York.

W. H. BROWNSON,
Commander, Commanding.

To which the following reply was sent, addressed to the commanding officer of the Naval Militia:

“SIR.—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your communication of the 22d instant, relating to filling of vacancies existing on the ‘Yankee,’ and to inform you, by direction of the Adjutant-General, that the Commander-in-Chief authorizes you to fill the vacancies you mention, and suggests that you employ in doing so as many of the Second Separate Naval Division as may be practicable.”

May 25th.

The following letter of the Assistant Secretary of the Navy, dated May 23d, was received this day:

“SIR.—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 20th instant, turning over five boats, with Naval Militiamen, to be under pay of the State, and to report for duty to Admiral Erben, at New York, and have advised Admiral Erben this date of your generous offer.”

The commanding officer of the Naval Militia was informed this day “that the Commander-in-Chief authorizes the detail of ten men from the Second Separate Naval Division to complete the number required to fill the vacancies aboard the U. S. S. ‘Yankee,’ as requested in yours of the 24th instant.”

May 27th.

The Assistant Secretary of the Navy, under date of May 25th, wrote to this office:

“I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your favor of the 24th instant, advising this office of the correspondence with Admiral Erben, of New York, with respect to the use of vessels for patrol duty.

“This Department desires to extend thanks to you for your courtesy in this matter.”

June 2d.

Under date of May 26th, the Secretary of the Navy addressed the Governor as follows:

“SIR.—The consideration of the value to the country at large and to the Navy in particular, of a Naval Militia, in case of war was based upon the expectation of a body of well-drilled officers and men capable of being taken into the service when wanted, and prepared to endure the regular work of the Navy during the war, the officers and men being taken together.

“The exigencies of the present war have demonstrated that insufficient drill has been given to both officers and men, especially of the seaman branch, who have not had previous naval training, and it is only by making regular enlistments for one year, unless sooner discharged, and then selecting such details as seem best suited to the wants of the Department, that the greatest efficiency can be obtained.

“The recent passage of the Auxiliary Naval Force Joint Resolution now gives an opportunity for a more general employment of the Naval Militia, and in order to secure the largest number of men it is suggested that the Adjutants-General of the different States be instructed to rendezvous their Naval Reserves for examination and enlistment of such as may be found qualified.

“The officers and men should be informed that, while the intention is that their services shall be used as far as practicable for necessary coast defence, yet inasmuch as they are men mustered in, to receive the same rank and pay as those of the regular Navy, they must be prepared, in case of special emergency, to serve wherever the Department deems their presence most necessary.

“In order to save the State useless expense, and the men unnecessary loss of time, Rear-Admiral Erben, 39 Whitehall street, New York city, will be instructed to arrange with the Adjutant-General as to the time and place for holding examinations and making enlistments of those who may volunteer to serve under the above-mentioned conditions.

“Those passing the examinations, physically and professionally, shall be recommended for appointment to the grades or enlisted for the ratings for which they may be found best qualified, and when mustered into the service they will be sent to the nearest receiving ship or station, from which regular details can be drawn as required, which, as far as practicable, will be made up of men from the same State and organization.

“In this manner all the States' Naval Militia can be utilized, and the same opportunities can be offered to all alike.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE ENLISTMENT OF AUXILIARY NAVAL FORCE.

1. Officers and men must be given one year's leave from the State authorities.

2. At the top of the first and main sheets of the enlistment records must be noted, in red ink, “Auxiliary Naval Force.”

3. The enlistments must be made for “one year's general service, unless sooner discharged,” which must be endorsed with red ink on the first and main sheets of the enlistment records.

4. On the same sheets must also be noted, “Discharge will be granted upon request, provided the exigencies of the service will permit.”

5. Officers must be examined for the grades to which they may be appointed, for one year if successful, and according to the duties they will be expected to perform.

6. Men will be examined for the ratings which they will be expected to hold, and will be enlisted according to article 797, paragraphs I and II, Navy Regulations, 1896. Petty officers will then be given acting appointments by their commanding officers.

7. Officers and men will be examined physically, and slight disabilities will be waived, taking into consideration the duties to be performed. Age and height limits will also be waived.

8. All disabilities waived will be entered on the Enlistment Records or attached to appointments.

The foregoing was communicated to the commanding officer of the Naval Militia, and the following letter was addressed to Rear-Admiral Henry Erben, U. S. N., in charge of Coast Defence System, 39 Whitehall street, New York city:

“In accordance with the letter of the Secretary of the Navy to the Governor of the State of New York, dated May 26, 1898, I have been instructed to arrange with you as to the time and place for holding examinations and making enlistments of those who may volunteer from the Naval Militia to serve in the United States Auxiliary Force.

“The Naval Militia of the State of New York is organized as a brigade, and comprises one chief of brigade (with the grade of captain), with a staff; two naval battalions and two separate naval divisions, one of which, the First, is composed principally of professional telegraphers and expert electricians, a total of 1,017 officers and men. Of this number 418 officers and men have already been given leaves of absence to enter the United States Navy, leaving available for duty 599 men, of whom about 550 have expressed their intention to volunteer, so that this last number can be taken as the quota which the New York Naval Militia can supply the auxiliary naval force. If the exigencies of the service require, a large number of men who are at present awaiting admission to the Naval Militia, or have signified their desire to enter the auxiliary naval force, can be enlisted.

“I would suggest that for the purpose of convenience and to save useless expense, and unnecessary loss of time, that the chief of brigade and staff, the First Naval Battalion, and the First Separate Naval Division, should rendezvous on board U. S. S. 'New Hampshire,' foot East Twenty-eighth street. The Second Naval Battalion at their armory, corner Flatbush avenue and Hanson place, Brooklyn, and the Second Separate Naval Division at their armory, Charlotte harbor, Rochester. In the case of the Second Separate Naval Division, this will necessitate the sending of the enlisting officer and surgeon to Rochester; but I urge the adoption of the plan because it will save the expense of transporting the men who may not be accepted.

"The letter of the Secretary of the Navy, already referred to, does not make plain as to whether the State or Navy Department is expected to incur the subsistence, pay and transportation of the men until they are enlisted under the joint resolution.

"If these suggestions meet your views, I will issue the necessary orders and have the men assembled in twelve hours after receipt of notice from you either by telegraph or mail.

"By analogy to the procedure in the case of men from the Naval Militia enlisted in the United States Navy prior to this time, I take it for granted that the enlistment will be dated from the day of their examination and acceptance, and their pay and rations begin from the same date."

June 6th.

The following telegram was sent to the Secretary of the Navy:

"Our Naval Militia is impatiently waiting to be mustered in. If you can consistently hurry along mustering officers, etc., it will be appreciated by the Governor of this State and every member of the sea forces."

June 7th.

The following telegram from the chief of staff of the captain commanding the Naval Militia was received:

"Admiral Erben informs me that he does not desire any patrol tugs, and that his remaining vessels can do the work efficiently until more are ready for service."

And

June 8th.

The following communication:

"I have the honor to report that, in compliance with your orders by telephone on 7th instant, I called at Admiral Erben's office, but did not reach him until some time after by telephone as he had gone to the Navy yard, Brooklyn.

"He states that he regards the vessels left in the patrol fleet as sufficient to do the work; and that he was opposed to the use of tugs manned by the Naval Militia of the State in connection with patrol vessels belonging to the Navy. He also stated that other vessels were in course of preparation for the service, and, pending their completion, his present vessels were, in his opinion, able to protect the mine fields.

"I telegraphed you immediately after my interview with Admiral Erben, as per copy inclosed."

June 10th.

The Assistant Secretary of the Navy wrote under date of June 9th, received this day:

"SIR.—In reply to your telegram of the 6th instant, I have the honor to send you the following copy of a letter from Rear Admiral Erben, which explains the apparent delay in the mustering into the service of the Naval Militia.

"I herewith return a telegram from Adjutant-General Tillinghast, addressed to the Secretary of the Navy, dated June 6, 1898.

"In answer to your letter of the 7th instant, I have the honor to inform you that an answer from the State of New York to the Department's circular to the Governors of the States, requesting volunteers for the auxiliary naval force, was received Saturday, June 4th, being the ninth State to report, and three days later than most of the States.

"The board of examination for this district is at work enlisting the Naval Militia in the State of Connecticut, which was the first State to report.

"On Monday, June 6th, I authorized the officers of the New York Naval Militia to report to the New York Navy yard for examination, and a special board was created to enlist the men."

"On the same date the Adjutant-General of New York was instructed to assemble a part of the Naval Militia for enlistment, and in compliance with such instructions the Second Naval Battalion, consisting of three-fourths of the volunteers of the New York Naval Militia, were assembled at Brooklyn, and are now being enlisted into the auxiliary naval force.

"Everything is being done to hurry this matter up as much as possible."

June 12th.

The following telegrams were sent this day:

"Rear Admiral HENRY ERBEN, U. S. N., Army Building Whitehall Street, New York City:

"The Governor of this State instructs me to say that the U. S. S. 'New Hampshire' is at the service of the United States whenever and for whatever purpose required. Instructions to this effect have been sent to commanding officer Naval Militia, S. N. Y."

"COMMANDING OFFICER, Naval Militia, N. Y., U. S. S. 'New Hampshire,' foot East Twenty-eighth Street, New York City:

"The Governor directs you to place the U. S. S. 'New Hampshire' at the disposal of Admiral Erben for United States services when required by him. Substance of this has been telegraphed the Admiral."

And

June 14th.

"Admiral HENRY ERBEN, Army Building, 39 Whitehall Street, New York City:

"Have instructed commanding officer Naval Militia to detail surgeon immediately to assist your surgeon and report result to you."

And

June 15th.

“CAPTAIN CROWNINSHIELD, United States Navy, Washington, D. C.:

“The ‘New Hampshire’ was ordered to be turned over to Rear Admiral Erben on the 12th, and by advice we have this morning she has been turned over in accordance with instructions.”

June 23d.

The following was received, dated June 22d, from Rear Admiral Henry Erben, U. S. Navy, in charge of coast defence system:

“SIR.—In equipping the Naval Militiamen for services in the auxiliary naval force, rifles, cutlasses, belts, pistols, ammunition and equipments other than uniforms, mess gear, hammocks complete and rubber blankets will not be required.”

July 2d.

The following telegram was sent to the Assistant Secretary of the Navy:

“The Second Separate Naval Division, N. Y., of Rochester, volunteers for general service in the United States Navy. Do you want them?”

And

July 7th.

To the commanding officer of the Second Separate Naval Division, Rochester:

“The Navy recruiting officer will be at Rochester to-morrow for the purpose of examining and enlisting your naval division as requested. It is understood that they apply for general service in the Navy.”

The number of officers and enlisted men of the Naval Militia of the State, who entered the United States service by being commissioned or enlisted in the United States Navy, is 851, or over 80 per cent. of the whole force. Of these the men on the "Yankee" were under the fire of the enemy and engaged with the latter.

For further particulars as to the service of the Naval Militia, attention is invited to the following reports:

First, of Captain J. W. Miller of service of Naval Militia in the war with Spain;

Second, of same officer of service in guarding mine fields in New York harbor;

And, third, report of service in guarding the mine fields, by Lieutenant Commander Forshew.

Report of the Captain of the Naval Militia, N. Y., on the War with Spain.

HEADQUARTERS, NAVAL MILITIA, N. Y.,
31 NASSAU STREET,
NEW YORK, October 10th, 1898.

The Adjutant-General,
General Headquarters,
Albany, New York.

SIR:—I have the honor to submit the following report on the Naval Militia during the war with Spain:

The operations of the State naval forces were divided into two periods—one of preparation, and one of active service—and into two officially distinct duties, that in the Navy proper, and that in the Auxiliary Naval Force.

1. About the first of March, the Naval Militia of New York consisted of forty-nine officers and five hundred and four men. On March 26th, orders were received from General Headquarters, to call for volunteers to proceed to League Island, Pa., to man the monitors "Jason" and "Nahant." On March 31st, the men were ready to proceed; but the detail for the "Nahant" did not leave until April 12th, as the vessel was not in condition, until that date, to be put into commission. During the early days of April, however, Commander Duncan, and other officers and men, had gone to League Island, to help push the work on the monitors. The "Nahant" arrived at New York on April 17th, manned by the First Naval Battalion (with the exception of her commanding officer, Lieut. C. S. Richman, U. S. N.). This vessel was the first of all the monitors ready for actual coast protection. The officers and men were complimented by the Commandant of the Navy Yard for prompt and efficient work, and Commander Duncan merits the thanks of the State for his intelligent energy during the whole period of preparation of the First Naval Battalion for service afloat. Lieut. R. J. Beach, and the crew, of the Second Naval Battalion, who were fitting out the "Jason," also did their duty well; but that ship was delayed at League Island through no fault of the Naval Militia. On March 31st, you informed me that the Honorable Secretary of the Navy had requested the Governor to enlist the Naval Militia to its full strength. Recruiting was started, and no difficulty was experienced in obtaining men; uniforms and equipments were supplied to them, by the State authorities, with extreme promptness, and the force increased to 1,068 officers and men.

On the day of the arrival of the "Nahant" at New York, April 17th, the First Naval Battalion was called upon to furnish a crew for another vessel, the "Yankee." The orders were obeyed, and one hundred and fifty-five men were ready within six hours.

On the following day, preparatory orders were received to man the U. S. Signal Stations at Montauk Point, Quogue, and Fire Island. Lieut. F. B. Anderson had previously been in communication with Capt. C. F. Goodrich, U. S. N., and had made preliminary contracts for equipment and stores for all the Atlantic coast. Lieut. Anderson's forethought and preparation left little to be done, and the stations were manned, under orders from Washington, on April 23d, this State being the first to report.

On April 22d an increase of fifty-four petty officers and men of the First Naval Battalion was authorized, in order to properly man the engine-room of the "Yankee." Through the untiring efforts of Engineer Lieut.-Comdr. A. B. Fry, they were at once enlisted, and on the following day the "Yankee's" crew was ordered on board the "New Hampshire" for duty. On April 26th her complement was again increased by seventy men. On April 28th the "Yankee's" crew was mustered into the Navy.

Prior to this date the Honorable Assistant Secretary of the Navy had suggested the propriety of recruiting a torpedo and electrical division. I therefore obtained authority from you on April 25th to create such an organization, to be known as the First Separate Naval Division, and its formation was at once begun; the command was given to Lieut. W. H. Wetmore, who showed great energy and ability in perfecting the division. A large portion of its men entered the Navy as telegraphers and signalmen, while some were assigned to cruising vessels.

On April 29th the crew of the "Nahant" was mustered into the Navy.

On April 30th Lieut.-Comdr. R. S. Sloan was appointed on the Staff of the Captain, and until June 17th, when he entered the Navy, rendered most loyal and able assistance in helping to organize the Auxiliary Naval Force.

On April 29th and 31st, at the request of Rear Admiral Henry Erben, U. S. N., in charge of the Coast Defence System of the United States, I sent details to Willets Point, by your authority, to assist in protecting the mine fields, as Admiral Erben had no one to fulfil this duty. These men were volunteers, and it is respectfully suggested that the General Government be asked to defray the expense incident thereto. On May 7th the Governor ordered a patrol of the lower bay and of Throggs Neck, to consist of eight tugs, one steam launch, and a yacht (kindly loaned by Mr. Alfred Carr), the General Government not having sufficient vessels in this district to take care of the mine fields, and protect incoming and outgoing commerce. Seventeen officers and 112 men of the Second Naval Battalion, ably commanded by Lieut. Commander R. P. Forshew, performed this duty in a most creditable manner for ten days, the State assuming the expense of the tugs and the pay of the men.

I would respectfully call your attention to the large amount of work done by the Naval Militia during the preceding dates; the total interval being less than a month. The organization was doubled in strength: over four hundred recruits were fully equipped and uniformed: three large naval vessels were manned and officered; signal stations were established, and the commerce of the harbor of New York protected for ten days. These labors were accomplished by the State. Our organizations were not recognized, as such, by the Navy Department; both officers and men laboring as individuals without pay from the Government. They were compelled to stand examinations of a high standard, and while adjusting their business affairs had no promise that they would be given a reward for their patriotic self-sacrifice. As one of the many instances of that self-sacrifice, the "Nahant's" crew served from about the 1st of April to the 29th of that month before it was mustered into the Navy, and certain of the officers who had been on board the vessel from the time she left League Island did not receive their orders to the monitor until June 14th. Again, the rations for the Coast Signal Service had to be supplied by the State, for many days, after the men were on their stations. These facts are mentioned not in criticism of the past, but to prevent a repetition of such errors in future war, and to show the preparedness of the Military Department under your charge.

The Second Naval Battalion is especially worthy of commendation for its activity in recruiting and its steadfastness to duty. It was a new organization without suitable headquarters, had to overcome many obstacles incident to novel conditions, and there was great uncertainty as to whether its men would be accepted by the Government. I respectfully urge that the Borough of Brooklyn be requested to provide the Second Naval Battalion with a proper armory on the water front at the earliest possible date.

On May 14th the Navy Department reported that the monitor "Jason" was ready for sea. Seven officers and sixty-five men from the Second Naval Battalion, and one officer and ten men from the Second Separate Naval Division left the following day to man that vessel at League Island. She arrived at New York on May 23d; thence proceeded to Fisher's Island Sound, and remained near that locality until the close of the war.

II. WORK OF THE AUXILIARY NAVAL FORCE.*

Up to this time only about one-half of the Naval Militia had been called into war service, and little had been done, except by the Coast Signal office in Washington, to place the organization in the field of duty for which it had been especially trained. Through the persistent and intelligent efforts of Capt. H. L. Satterlee, assisted by Lieut. Aaron Vanderbilt, Congress had passed, in June, a law creating an Auxiliary Naval Force, to consist of members of the Naval Militias of the states, and other persons; and on June 14th the U. S. S. "New Hampshire" was transferred to the Navy. From that date to the close of the war she was used as a receiving ship and for the headquarters of the Third District. Capt. John R. Bartlett, U. S. N., was appointed chief of the U. S. Auxiliary Naval Force, and all the states are indebted to him for his appreciation of the proper sphere of the Naval Militia, and for his untiring efforts in its behalf.

The appendices show that up to this date only 521 of the Naval Militia had entered the Navy. The Second Separate Naval Division of Rochester had not been recognized by the Navy Department; although a recruiting office had been opened at Buffalo. The men of this Division had been mustering daily at their armory, but no orders were received from Washington. At my request Captain Bartlett succeeded in getting recognition for this organization, and 64 officers and men were allowed to enlist. Lieut. Walbridge and his division accepted any duty on any ship or station.

On July 5th I had the honor of receiving a commission as Lieut.-Comdr, U. S. Navy, and on July 8th was ordered as Assistant to Chief, U. S. Auxiliary Naval Force, in charge of the Third District.

* The Auxiliary Naval Force, although an addition to the navy, was part of the regular service. The officers received the same commissions as other volunteers and the men were enlisted into the United States Navy.

The District extended from Newport, R. I., to Seabright, N. J., and included the following vessels :

New Hampshire,	Lieut.-Comdr. J. W. Miller, Commanding.
Nahant,	Lieut. E. M. Harmon, Commanding.
Jason,	Lieut. Gardiner I. Jones, (*) Commanding.
Aileen,	Lieut. W. R. Addicks and Lieut. W. H. Stayton, Commanding.
Freelance,	Lieut. T. C. Zerega, Commanding.
Elfrida,	Lieut. (J. G.) M. A. Orlopp, Commanding.
Enquirer,	Lieut. W. H. Stayton, Commanding.
Huntress,	Lieuts. F. Parker () and W. R. Addicks, () Commanding.
Restless,	Lieut. A. H. Day, (*) Commanding.
Kanawha,	Lieut. F. F. Fletcher, (*) Commanding.
Sylvia,	Lieut. W. G. Ford, Commanding.
Viking,	Cadet B. B. Wygant, (*) Commanding

The "Kanawha," "Sylvia" and "Viking" were almost immediately detached and sent to Cuba. The "New Hampshire" became a school of instruction, and the cutters supplied by the State were useful in exercising boat crews for "distant service." Lieutenant R. P. Forshew rendered valuable service as executive officer of the "New Hampshire."

When I took command of the District, all the above vessels, except the "New Hampshire" and the two monitors, were under repairs at the New York Navy Yard, but through the exertions of their officers five of them were on their stations by July 15th. The duty assigned was to protect the mine fields at Sandy Hook, the Narrows, and Throgg's Neck, and to patrol the entrance to New York Harbor. The importance of this duty was self-evident, the vessels were scouts to announce the approach of the foreign foe, but more especially were they necessary for the guidance of domestic and deep-sea vessels through the intricate mine fields. The commerce of the great port of New York needed protection at every moment, while the mines had to be maintained intact, ready for instant use. The officers assigned to these vessels required, in addition to seaman-like qualifications, an intimate knowledge of inland waters, as well as decision of character to properly enforce the harbor regulations, and to deal with the merchantmen. The Captains of the patrol boats fulfilled these requisites, and performed their duty with a thoroughness which was highly commendable. Many of the officers in addition to their cruises along shore during the previous years, while in the Naval Militia had had ten days' experience from May 7th to May 17th in the service, when the Governor had ordered them to tugs patrolling the same mine fields.

About the end of July, the danger from an enemy's fleet having disappeared, the army removed most of the mines, and on July 30th, I proceeded from New York with the "Elfrida," "Freelance," "Aileen" and "Restless" for a cruise of instruction through Long Island Sound; the "Huntress" joining the squadron on August 2d. It was a most valuable experience for all. The squadron was kept at close distance most of the time, and the various commanders vied with one another in perfecting fleet evolutions; the target practice was fair, and the night attacks at Fishers Island showed that the men were alert, and could be soon taught to appreciate war conditions. The vessels were handled well, especially in going in and out of harbors at night. The squadron returned to New York on August 9th.

The next service performed by the Naval Militia, composing the Auxiliary Naval Force, was the patrol work at Montauk Point. On August 11th the "Aileen," Lieut. W. H. Stayton commanding, was sent to Fort Pond Bay to report to Passed Asst.-Surg. Macgruder, U. S. Quarantine Hospital Service, and on August 14th I arrived there on the "Restless." The proper courtesies were exchanged with the army officials on shore. Subsequently, on August 24th, the "Restless" was relieved by the "Elfrida." Relative to the duty performed at Montauk, I quote from the excellent report of Lieutenant Stayton submitted to me. "The work was of various characters, as follows :

"1. Establishing Quarantine Grounds. After consultation with Surgeon Macgruder, the quarantine grounds were selected and buoyed off just to the westward of Rocky Point. All incoming transports, numbering more than thirty, were met and conducted to their anchorage by the auxiliary vessels. The transport fleet was kept anchored in proper and convenient formation, the loaded transports nearer the harbor, and those unloaded, but still in quarantine, well to the westward. Instructions were given and all preparations made for conducting the transports to safe anchorages in the event of a blow.

"2. Maintaining Quarantine Regulations. Both by day and night the transports were prevented from communicating with other vessels or with the shore. This required active service, as many as thirty or forty vessels having been met and warned daily.

"3. Establishing and Maintaining Harbor Regulations. After consultation with Surgeon Macgruder and the Transportation Department of the Army, regulations upon this subject were established and enforced. There were but two wharves, one used for quarantine and the other for general purposes. All incoming vessels were stopped and directed to the proper wharf. They were required to anchor in proper formation at convenient points until the facilities for landing permitted the vessel to go to the wharf, due regard being paid to seeing that troops and perishable stores were first landed.

"4. Attending to the Landing of Troops. The vessels were in constant attendance and rendered assistance when requested, and whenever the service could be performed without danger of infection.

"5. Carrying Stores to Transports. Many transports came in short of stores, provisions and medicines. We supplied them with army, Red Cross and stores received from individual contributions. We also met each incoming transport, ascertained the needs of those whose troops could not at once disembark, and to the best of our ability supplied them. The patrol vessels also performed all possible service for the Red Cross, purchasing, carrying and distributing stores necessary for the immediate relief of the sick.

"Various miscellaneous services were also performed, such as transporting sick officers, taking the convalescents out for air; carrying general officers to places they desired to visit officially; taking dispatches to and from men-of-war in quarantine. This latter item, while seemingly unimportant, resulted in getting the 'St. Paul' and 'Harvard' away from Fort Pond Bay sooner than they would otherwise have left. Telegrams could not be sent on board the vessels, and would have remained at the office for days. We took the telegrams, opened them, and delivered them by megaphone, saving many days charter price of the American liners.

"In conclusion, I have the honor to report the very valuable services of Surgeon J. C. MacEvitt, of the 'Jason,' who went ashore, and, during that vessel's stay, performed arduous and valuable service in charge of a ward in the hospital. Maj.-Gen. Young, U. S. A., requested me to specially mention Surgeon MacEvitt's services and requests your commendation thereof. Lieut. Jones was indefatigable in his efforts to relieve the sick, and was very successful. I trust you will commend him for his zeal, faithfulness, and humanity. A better estimate can be made of the extent of the services of the patrol fleet at Fort Pond Bay, when it is mentioned that the vessels averaged more than eighteen hours per day under way."

In drawing your attention to the excellent service of Surgeon MacEvitt and Lieut. Jones, mentioned by Lieut. Stayton, I would state that Lieut. Stayton's indefatigable work at Fort Pond Bay was worthy of the highest praise. He was ably assisted by Lieut. M. A. Orlopp, commanding the "Elfrida," and subsequently by Lieut. T. C. Zerega, who relieved Lieut. Orlopp.

About the end of August the Auxiliary Fleet was put out of commission, and the monitors returned to League Island. Prior to this, however, the efficiency of the Naval Militia had been further tested, when, on July 16th, the cruiser "Buffalo" and the transport "Rainbow" were ordered to New York from Norfolk. No regular officers were at the time available. Lieut. W. H. Stayton was ordered to command the former vessel, and Lieut. E. N. Harmon the latter. Lieut. R. P. Forshew, Ensigns E. N. Walbridge, F. P. Hill and S. L. Crossing joined the "Buffalo," and Ensign E. N. Robinson the "Rainbow." This was the first instance when vessels of large tonnage had been completely officered by the Naval Militia. The work was creditably performed; the vessels made quick passages to New York, and the officers were complimented on the manner in which the ships were handled.

While the New York Signal Stations were not officially under the charge of the commanding officer of the Third District, of the Auxiliary Naval Force, their headquarters were on board the "New Hampshire," and Capt. Bartlett was also Chief of that service. Through his courtesy, I had ample opportunities of judging how its duties were performed. Lieut. H. L. Satterlee (formerly captain on the Governor's Staff) and Lieuts. F. B. Anderson and E. C. Weeks, and Assistant-Paymaster W. L. Sawyer, were on the staff of Capt. Bartlett at Washington, while Lieut. Alexander Duane and Ensign W. H. Gunning were stationed at New York. Capt. Bartlett repeatedly informed me that these officers performed most intelligent and loyal duty. The outlying stations at Montauk, Quogue and Fire Island were in charge of petty officers, who were left greatly to their own discretion at remote points, and fulfilled the requirements of the positions to the satisfaction of the Navy Department.

All the duties mentioned under this caption, namely, on board monitors, converted yachts, and in the Coast Signal Service, were those to which the State had trained its Naval Militia, under suggestions from Washington.

III. THE CRUISE OF THE U. S. S. "YANKEE."

It should be remembered that, during April, current opinion, as expressed in many newspapers, still maintained that the "Maine" had been blown up by an interior explosion, and that the modern battleship was an intricate piece of mechanism, which might prove most disastrous to its crew in time of action. Consequently, the Navy found it extremely difficult to obtain recruits, and called upon the Naval Militia to man sea-going vessels. New York volunteered for the "Yankee," and this merchant vessel was converted into a man-of-war and placed on her station in eleven days after her crew was mustered into the Navy. The "Yankee" was the first of her type to be ready for sea; her crew was mustered into the Navy twelve days before any National Guard organization entered the Army from this State. She was the first vessel manned by Naval Militiamen to be under fire; the last ship to leave action at the Santiago battle of June 6th; and the naval force of New York was in an engagement before any other volunteer organization of the United States.

The thanks of New York are due to Commander W. H. Brownson, U. S. N., for his qualities as a fair and just commanding officer, and for the opportunity he gave the "Yankee's" men to show the excellent gunnery which won the applause of Sampson's fleet. Their previous training had been confined to coast-defence exercise, but they soon mastered ship technicalities, and left the Navy, on September 2d, with an unexcelled record, amid the plaudits of their fellow-citizens. Appendix K is the report of Commander Duncan, and gives the details of the "Yankee's" cruise.

IV. THE LESSONS TO BE DERIVED FROM THE WAR.

1. The general line of policy pursued by this State during the past should not be changed. The personnel of the Naval Militia is well fitted to defend the immediate coast of the State. If it be desired to perfect the officers and men for deep-sea duty, the general government must provide suitable tools, in the way of modern ships. This has been recommended by me in many annual reports.

2. If the general government provides these ships, it would naturally expect a high standard of excellence both in officers and men. This standard can be obtained by the enactment of a National Naval Reserve Law. All naval militiamen who pass the examinations should belong to the Naval Reserve.

3. There would thus exist two forces, progressing together towards the perfection set by the Navy; that of the State, sufficient in the future, as in the past, to protect its own harbors; that of the government, to form in time of war its auxiliary naval force. The former to be an organization. The latter a collection of individuals, professionally developed from the State force and from the merchant marine.

4. The National Naval Reserve should have its own ranks and ratings, and they should be distinct from those of the Navy. No one should be entitled to enter the Navy as an officer in time of war unless he has served in the Naval Reserve. All officers and men of the Naval Militias, who served in the late war, should be eligible for the Reserve: their ranks and ratings to be determined by a standard Government examination.

5. The general government should standardize the Naval Militia of the various States, by refusing to give arms or equipments unless a certain minimum of excellence was reached. The scope of examinations for entrance to the Naval Reserve should be published, and a certain proportion of the Naval Militiamen of each State should have passed it before any aid was supplied by Congress. A special examination should be given to men wishing to join the Signal Service.

Some of our best officers were not able to enter the Navy, although experts in the branch which the Navy Department had encouraged. The country thus lost the services of many of our most enthusiastic and intelligent rank and file, for the reason that they could not pass the strict requirements of an ensign's or lieutenant's examination.

Others, who were the first to volunteer, received commissions far below their deserts. The case of Lieut. S. D. Greene was especially noticeable. He graduated with the highest honors at the Naval Academy, and had served in the Naval Militia of the State since it was organized. Notwithstanding this record he was given a commission as junior lieutenant on board the "Yankee;" the reasons assigned by the Department being that the complement of that ship permitted no higher rank, and that certain members of his class were only junior lieutenants. Many non-graduates, who held lower positions in several different states, and who subsequently entered the navy, were given higher grades. The inference from the department's ruling would naturally be that it is a detriment to graduate as a "star" at the Naval Academy, and to promptly offer one's services to the country. Such examples of injustice can under a proper system be avoided in the future.

6. The experience of the war has shown that certain minor changes should be made, such as the following: Uniform of enlisted men should be that of the Navy, as far as material is concerned, and similar in design to the regulars, with the addition of a suitable State and organization distinguishing mark, which can be removed, if necessary, in time of war. The uniform should be purchased from the Navy, thereby saving a large expense to the State. Paymasters should be bonded, and their duties should be the same as those in the regular service. The physical examination should be that of the Navy.

7. Although superficially not germane to this report, I have considered it my duty to dwell upon the subject of Federal and State relationship, as the question will undoubtedly be brought up in official quarters at Washington. The attempt may be made to centralize all military and naval power at the Capital, and to minimize the service which the volunteers have rendered the country. Certain members of the Naval Militia are in favor of this proposition, but others who have also seen duty in the Navy still believe most firmly that the nine years of effort spent in building up the State naval forces have been productive of excellent results, even when tested by service and a war, for which the whole country was but partially prepared. They feel positive that the quick, patriotic response of the Naval Militia to every call made upon it, that the sentiment developed for the Navy by those who had long interested themselves in marine study, far outweighed any technical short-comings, which were quickly obliterated after a few weeks' service afloat.

I, therefore, respectfully suggest that the State of New York continue its generous support to the Naval Militia, and that it urge upon Congress the immediate organization of a National Naval Reserve on the plan outlined above, not to take the place of the present State force, but to supplement it. There will thus still exist local organizations as schools for naval education; continuing the coast defense training until the individual members can graduate into a national corps. Such a process of evolution accords more with the spirit of our institutions rather than that revolutionary one which centers all power in the general government; for the government works slowly, and at a distance, in times of peace; and does not always feel the pulse of the people who must naturally be relied upon to furnish volunteers in time of war.

In addition to the persons previously mentioned in this report, thanks are due to the Red Cross Society and to the Naval Reserve Association for hospital stores and supplies, and to the Sons of the Revolution for colors presented.

Passed Assistant Surgeon J. S. King, and Assistant Paymaster A. R. Pardington were most faithful and zealous in the performance of the duties of their Departments.

Mention should also be made of those officers who volunteered and who were not accepted by the Navy, although they were well fitted for coast defence duty. Actuated by the highest motives of patriotism and without official reward, they performed many days of unostentatious service at a time when certain civilians, manifestly unfit for government positions, were clamoring for high military place and reward. The officers of the Naval Militia of this State, with one exception, stood by their men and received junior commissions, or not, as their country saw fit to bestow. The lesson thus set should not be forgotten.

Respectfully,

J. W. MILLER,

Captain, N. M.

HEADQUARTERS FIRST NAVAL BATTALION, NEW YORK,
Foot East Twenty-eighth Street,

U. S. S. "NEW HAMPSHIRE,"

NEW YORK, September 22d, 1898.

Captain J. W. Miller,
Commanding Naval Militia,
New York.

SIR:

I beg to submit my report of the work performed by the detail, from the First Naval Battalion of New York on the U. S. S. "Yankee."

I received orders on April 23d to send a detail of officers and men to the Navy Yard, New York, who were willing to volunteer for duty on the "Yankee," and on April 26th sent the detail as ordered. The men all enlisted, and the officers passed their examinations and were duly commissioned, having been granted leave of absence by the Commander-in-Chief, New York State.

The crew of the "Yankee," with the exception of the commanding officer, executive officer and navigator, was entirely composed of men furnished by the First Naval Battalion of New York.

The only casualties occurring were the death of Landsman T. C. Le Valley from appendicitis at the hospital, Key West, after an operation had been performed by the surgeons at the hospital, and the wounding of Landsman S. P. Kennedy in an engagement with a Spanish gunboat at Cienfuegos, June 17th. The latter was transferred to the hospital ship "Solace," and has recovered. When the ship's company were paid off at Philadelphia, September 2d, 1898, there was no one on the sick list, and the battalion marched across to the "New Hampshire" with 100 per cent. present, which of itself shows the care and attention that was paid to the health and comfort of the men by the regular officers in charge of the ship.

I inclose abstract of the log of the "Yankee." We joined the ship May 6th, and left the yard May 9th, and proceeded to sea May 11th, and from that time on were continuously on duty on the Northern Patrol until May 29th, when she sailed from New York for Cuba, and from that date until the ship arrived in New York August 28th we were actively engaged in Cuban waters.

I am glad to report that during the whole cruise there were no serious infractions of regulations, and nothing but very light punishments were found necessary by the commanding officer of the "Yankee." When the men first went aboard the "Yankee" they were absolutely unaccustomed to sea life and to looking after themselves in the messes or elsewhere, and the exigencies of the service were such that they were sent on a ship hurriedly and incompletely fitted out, and the day after leaving the Navy Yard the ship went to sea on patrol duty, which kept the ship constantly at sea, and gave no chance for the usual shaking down. All this made it very hard on the crew, and it took longer for them to get in shape. As to handling the battery, that was picked up at once, and the men were always ready and keen at any time to jump to their guns. While in Southern waters they were called on to coal ship several times night and day, which was work of a very trying character, and work which they never had been called on before to do, but it was done without any complaints, irrespective of time or temperature, and to the best of their ability.

♣ The only criticism that has been made of the officers and crew was the fact that they were not seagoing men, and in this respect I would state that in January last I was unofficially in Washington, and while there called at the Navy Department and asked if they could tell me, supposing we had trouble with Spain, what the men of the First Naval Battalion, New York, would be required to do. I was told that we would be on the second line of defense, and I endeavored to get ready on that line. When the war did break out I was ordered, on very short notice, to furnish a crew for the U. S. S. "Nahant" and U. S. S. "Yankee," besides manning the signal stations. These crews were furnished when required. I respectfully suggest that if the Naval Militia, of New York State, is expected to furnish full crews for ships in times of war, the United States Government should supply them with a seagoing vessel, capable of berthing at least one hundred men, and mounting a few modern rapid-fire guns, which vessel could be taken out on short cruises in summer, and would give the officers and men a chance to familiarize themselves in time of peace with the duties they would be called on to perform in time of war.

In conclusion, I beg to state that the officers and men of the First Naval Battalion, New York, have responded to every call of the Government, have performed all the duties that were required of them cheerfully and to the best of their ability.

Very respectfully,

W. B. DUNCAN, JR.,

Commander.

Exrtact of Log of the U. S. S. "Yankee."

April 14th, 1898: The U. S. S. "Yankee," formerly the Morgan liner "El Norte," was placed in commission in the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

April 19th: Comdr. Williard H. Brownson joined the "Yankee" and took command of her.

May 6th: Naval Militia joined the ship, and commenced taking on ammunition and stores.

May 8th: United States Marine Guard came aboard under the command of Lieutenant Pendleton.

May 9th: The "Yankee" left the Navy Yard and proceeded to anchorage off Tompkinsville, where we remained until May 11th: Proceeded to Provincetown, Mass., arriving there on the evening of the same day. That night received orders to proceed with the U. S. S. "Columbia," to the vicinity of Block Island, and in company with that vessel to establish a patrol from Block Island to Henlopen. This duty we performed in conjunction with the "Columbia," for a portion of the time, and over the whole route from Block Island to Henlopen for the remainder of the time until May 26th: Proceeded to New York for coal. The orders under which we were acting, while on patrol duty, made it necessary for us to report every day, either at Block Island or Henlopen. In order to accomplish this, it was necessary for us to run at a high rate of speed, day and night, generally through thick and foggy weather. At night we were not allowed to show any lights or sound the whistle, so that this duty was a particularly dangerous one. This latter fact is evidenced by the accident the "Columbia" met with, shortly after we had returned to New York, when the British tramp ran into her, ramming a large hole in her side and sinking the Englishman.

Sunday, May 29th, 1898: Sailed from New York, passing Sandy Hook at 5.00 P. M.; steamed to the southward.

Monday, May 30th: While at target practice, Corporal John James Murray was killed, and Private Jesse Fuller, both of the Marine Guard, was wounded by an accident at the forward-port six-pounder, due to an unusually long hang-fire, with the English cordite. At sunset Corporal Murray was buried at sea with appropriate ceremonies.

Thursday, June 2d: Arrived at Mole St. Nicholas at 5.30 P. M., and sighted in the dusk two suspicious steamers, when we cleared ship for action and steamed slowly into the harbor, the two suspicious steamers turning out to be the "St. Louis" and the collier "Justin." We all left the Mole that night.

Friday, June 3d: Arrived at Santiago early in the morning, the "Justin" coming in after us. We found the fleet off Santiago de Cuba to consist of the following: The flagship "New York," "Brooklyn," "Iowa," "Massachusetts," "Oregon," "Texas," "New Orleans," "Dolphin," "Mayflower," "St. Louis," "Porter," "Marblehead" and despatch boats. We at once reported to the flagship and took up our position with the fleet.

On Friday, June 3d, in the night about 11 P. M., the "New Orleans" being stationed next to us, sent up three red rockets, and signalled that she had seen a torpedo boat putting off from the harbor. The "New Orleans" at once started blazing away at the torpedo boat, and the "Yankee" quickly followed suit; signals were sent up summoning the entire fleet, and in a few minutes the whole squadron was bearing down upon the "New Orleans" and "Yankee," and amidst a terrific bombardment the torpedo boat disappeared; on Saturday morning the "Porter" picked up two expended torpedo tubes.

Saturday, June 4th: In the afternoon we received a signal from the flagship to "Clear ship for action," and to take up our position preparatory to bombarding the forts; we at once prepared to engage the enemy, the "Yankee" having the best position nearest the forts and the shore. When close inland we discovered a small battery, and the Captain, Commander Brownson, signalled to the flagship for permission to bombard the fort near the railway trestle and reduce it, but the Admiral signalled back, "You may not reduce the forts," much to the disgust of all the officers and crew. About 5 P. M. the Admiral signalled that the forts were not to be attacked to-day, and the fleet retired, each ship resuming its original position.

Sunday, June 5th: Lying in our position with the fleet.

Monday, June 6th: At 5 A. M. all hands were called, and at 7.30 the bombardment of the forts and batteries of Santiago de Cuba commenced. The "New York" was nearest the shore, and next to her and between her and the "New Orleans" the "Yankee" took up her position. The bombardment lasted three hours, during which time all the batteries were silenced. During the latter part of the bombardment the "Yankee" had the closest position to the batteries and shore. The "Yankee" and "New Orleans" also silenced the small battery near the railway trestle. About noon the "Dolphin" noticed a train running along the railway near the coast, and promptly opened fire on the train with its small guns, killing, it is reported, 112 men, and tearing up a great deal of the track. The "Yankee" was the last ship to retire from the bombardment.

Tuesday, June 7th: The "Yankee," "St. Louis" and "Marblehead" all sailed for Guantanamo, or Fort Cumberland, arriving there about 5 in the morning, when all hands were called, and we at once started in bombarding a block-house and small village near the entrance of the harbor; the block-house was entirely destroyed, as was the village, by the "Yankee," and we, (the "Marblehead" and "Yankee,") then proceeded further up the harbor, until we sighted a Spanish gunboat, at which we took several shots, but were unable to hit her, owing to the fact that she retired behind the fort; we then sent several shots into the fort, and returned to the "St. Louis," which had been left at the entrance of the harbor to cut the cables. This she succeeded in doing, cutting both cables, the "Marblehead" cutting the third and a smaller one; the result being that Santiago de Cuba is now without cable connection of any kind, and is unable to communicate either by mail or cable with Spain or the rest of the world. At 10 P. M. the "Yankee" sailed for Santiago de Cuba, arriving there early.

Thursday, June 9th: Left Santiago de Cuba about midnight of Wednesday, arriving at Mole St. Nicholas at noon; on the way we overhauled two steamers—one turning out to be the "Norse," a Norwegian steamer, and the other the "Ely," an Englishman. We fired a blank shot from our forward six-pounder to bring these vessels to. The papers of both were examined and found to be correct. A bumboat came alongside from the Mole, and we were able to buy oranges, alligator pears, and other fruit. Heat terrific. The troops of the fort at the Mole were parading in our honor. We left the Mole about 7 P. M., and at 10 P. M. sighted a light off our port bow; later on more lights were discovered, one of them being a very powerful search light; and it was supposed that we had run across the Spanish fleet. We put on full steam and eventually succeeded in getting away from the fleet and arriving safely at Santiago de Cuba early.

Friday, June 10th: We reported our experience to the Admiral, and a boat was sent ashore to inquire definitely whether the Cervera fleet was still in the harbor. We left Santiago at noon and arrived at Port Antonio, Jamaica, at 7 P. M., leaving there.

Saturday, June 11th, at 1 A. M., and arriving at Montego Bay, Jamaica, at 8 in the morning. We found in the harbor the English cruiser "Indefatigable," and our Captain went on board, later in the day Captain Primrose returning the visit.

Sunday, June 12th: Left Montego Bay Saturday evening, arriving at Santiago de Cuba early Sunday morning. At noon to-day we sailed from Santiago and proceeded along the southern coast of Cuba in search of the Spanish steamer "Purissima Concepcion," arriving at Cienfuegos.

Monday, June 13th, in the morning: At 1.15 P. M. we sighted a steamer near the entrance to the harbor, which proved to be a gunboat, apparently coming out of the harbor to capture what she thought to be an American merchantman; we trained our guns aft to keep up the illusion, and started for her at full speed. As soon as we were close enough to her we opened fire upon her, which she immediately returned with good aim; the forts and batteries at the harbor also opened on us, the shells from both the forts and the gunboat falling close around us. Another boat, a smaller one, at this time came out of the harbor and assisted the first gunboat and forts; eventually we succeeded in driving both the enemy's boats into the harbor after a hard fight, and we ourselves retired to a safe distance. During the engagement Landsman Kennedy was seriously wounded in the left shoulder. We dropped several shells into the forts, exploding a magazine. We afterwards learned from the Cubans that we had hit the gunboat, killing four men and wounding seven, and the boat itself had to be beached as soon as it got to the river.

Tuesday, June 14th: Sighted a man-of-war coming out of the harbor; immediately cleared ship for action, and gave chase; she turned out to be the German cruiser "Geira"; we spoke her, and she proceeded on her way. Returned to Cienfuegos, and continued the blockade of the fort.

Wednesday, June 15th: Still off Cienfuegos watching for Spanish merchantman; but as she did not put in an appearance by noon, we started at 1 P. M. for Santiago de Cuba, arriving there Thursday, June 16th, at 1.30 P. M., too late for the bombardment of the forts, which had taken place earlier in the day. The "Vesuvius" having been successful in dropping several dynamite shells into one of the batteries, creating great damage.

Friday, June 17th: Left Santiago at 11 A. M. for Guantanamo, where we arrived at 2.30 P. M., finding in the harbor the "Oregon," "Dolphin," "St. Paul," the "Solace," and several other American ships. The American flag flying over an encampment occupied by the marines, and the Cuban flag flying over the village destroyed by us on our last visit there. Kennedy, Whitman and Bogert were transferred to the "Solace," the hospital ship.

Saturday, June 18th: Coaled all Friday night and Saturday at Guantanamo, where we were joined by the "St. Paul," the "New York," and other ships. Left here 6 P. M. bound for Cienfuegos.

Sunday, June 19th: En route for Cienfuegos. Overhauled and boarded the British schooner "Union," bound from Montego Bay to Trinidad, Cuba. A small fire was discovered in one of our bunkers, which was extinguished. Overhauled a Norwegian bark, and also overhauled and boarded the British steamer "Adula," of the Atlas Line, with a number of Spanish refugees from Cienfuegos, bound for Kingston, Jamaica. Arrived off Cienfuegos in the evening.

Monday, June 20th: During the night we arrived off Casilda harbor and discovered a steamer in the harbor; also a dismantled gunboat. We opened fire on the steamer at 9.30 A.M., and she came out for a short time, rapidly retreating back to the harbor again under our fire; a small gunboat also came out and fired at us without effect; we shelled the fort with shrapnel and did some damage, but, as we were unable to enter the harbor we could not destroy either the gunboat or steamer. We ceased firing at 12.30.

Tuesday, June 21st: Whilst coasting along the coast to the west of Cienfuegos, about noon, we saw a small party of Cubans, and sent a boat ashore to communicate with them. The boat brought back three of their leaders, one of them being the Governor of Matanzas, Col. E. V. Zegueira, and we supplied them with provisions, medicines, tobacco, etc. The Cubans also told us that we sunk the gunboat that came out of Cienfuegos harbor on the 13th of June and attacked us under cover of the forts. They said that the gunboat was riddled from stem to stern, and took fire and burned the moment she got back to the wharf. Four of her men were killed and seven wounded. Whilst the whaleboat was being hoisted after taking the Cubans ashore, it was dropped, and all the men were pitched into the sea; fortunately they were all saved. In the evening we sighted our sister ship, the "Dixie," and our Captain went aboard her.

Wednesday, June 22d: Off Casilda harbor. Tried to make an entrance into the harbor, sending a whaleboat ahead of us to mark out the channel with buoys; but finally decided that it would not be safe to take such an unwieldy and cumbersome boat up the harbor. The "Dixie," Commander Davis, threw some shells into a small fort near to Casilda, the fort answering once or twice, but without effect.

Thursday, June 23d: Still blockading Casilda and Trinidad de Cuba. Nothing of importance occurred to-day; we sent a whaleboat ashore near Casilda, but were unable to communicate with the insurgents.

Friday, June 24th: Off Trinidad de Cuba. At noon, whilst cruising along the coast, five miles to the west of Trinidad de Cuba, we discovered a Cuban flag on the shore; a whaleboat was sent in, and brought off a lieutenant of the Cuban army, who reported that there was a small force of Cubans in the vicinity. We supplied them with some provisions and tobacco, and sent them ashore at 4 P.M.

Saturday, June 25th. We left Trinidad de Cuba at dusk on Friday evening, arriving off the coast of the Isle of Pines about noon, where we discovered several small sloops. We fired a blank shot across their bows, but, as they paid no attention to this, we sent a solid one, to which they replied by hoisting the Spanish flag and sailing in close inshore under cover of the reefs. In the afternoon we sent two cutters to the fishing boats; one boat under Lieutenant Cutler and the other under Ensign Dimock. These boats captured the fishing smacks, five in number, and brought them alongside the "Yankee." They had a large quantity of fish aboard, intended for Havana; four dogs and two Spaniards. The dogs and Spaniards were brought aboard, and the Spaniards were allowed to return ashore with their own effects later in the evening. The boats were burned and sunk during the night. In the evening we sighted what was apparently a Spanish torpedo boat, but she disappeared on seeing us, and we saw no more of her.

Sunday, June 26th: Cruising off the coast of the Isle of Pines during the night and early morning. Boarded the American ship "Hollyhock," found her papers were all right and permitted her to proceed on her way to Honduras. Also boarded the British steamer "Bangore Head," bound from Swansea to New Orleans. About 9 A. M. started for Key West, arriving there without any further incident on Monday, June 27th, for coal, provisions, ammunition, etc., at 12.35 P. M., and found already there amongst other ships the following: "Lancaster," flagship "Newark," "Amphitrite," "Terror," "Miantonomoh" and "Puritan."

Tuesday, June 28th: Commenced taking on coal at 7 A. M. Transferred seamen LeValley and Fowler and coal passer Mackin to the marine hospital at Key West.

Wednesday to Saturday, July 2d: Taking on coal and provisions at Key West. On Friday, July 1st, seaman LeValley died at the marine hospital, Key West, from appendicitis.

Monday, July 4th: Fired a salute of 21 guns at noon. Bound north for New York on account of the report that LeValley died of yellow fever contracted on board this ship.

Wednesday, July 6: Arrived off Tompkinsville at 9 A. M. having passed Quarantine without any trouble.

Wednesday, July 6th, to Tuesday, July 12th: Taking on coal for ourself, and ammunition for ourselves and the ships constituting Watson's squadron. The crew was granted 24 hours shore leave, the port watch going ashore on Friday and the starboard on Saturday.

Tuesday, July 12th: Sailed from Tompkinsville at 3 P. M., and after a very rough night arrived at Hampton Roads Wednesday, July 13th, at 4 P. M., proceeding straight to the Navy Yard, Norfolk, where we arrived at 6.50 P. M.

Thursday, July 14th: Taking on ammunition for Watson's Squadron and making a few changes in the ship. Commander Brownson went to Washington in the evening, returning Sunday, July 17th, in the morning. Sailed from Norfolk at 3.50 P. M., bound for Santiago de Cuba.

Wednesday, July 20th: Overhauled and boarded the British steamer "Brookline," of the Boston Fruit Company Line, bound from Kingston to Boston, with mails aboard. Had to fire two solid shot across her bows before we could bring her to. Court-martial held to-day on an oiler and fireman for refusing to obey orders. On Monday, July 18th, a board was convened consisting of Lieutenants Cutler, Greene and Passed Ass't Surgeon J. P. McGowan, to inquire into the circumstances of the death of Private W. W. Smith, U. S. M. C., who shot himself in the pilot-house of the "Yankee" on July 8th, and the Court found that Private Smith committed suicide by shooting himself in the head with a revolver.

Thursday, July 21st: Arrived off Santiago de Cuba at 9.15 A. M. Commander Brownson went on board the U. S. F. S. "Brooklyn" immediately. At noon we proceeded to Guantanamo, having in tow the converted yacht "Yankton," which had arrived off Santiago with only one ton of coal in its bunkers. We arrived at Guantanamo Bay at 4 P. M. and found assembled there the flagship "New York," the "Oregon," "Indiana," "Iowa," "Vulcan," "Vesuvius," and a large number of colliers and supply ships.

Friday, July 22d: Commenced unloading the ammunition and supplies we had brought from New York and Norfolk for distribution among the fleet.

Saturday, July 23d: Still unloading ammunition.

Sunday, July 24th: The crew split up into visiting parties and went to see the other ships.

Monday, July 25th, to Thursday, July 28th: Unloading ammunition and taking on 400 tons of coal. On Thursday night the following official bulletin was posted on the gun deck, having been received from the flagship "New York": "The following telegram has been received from New York by way of Santiago: Washington official bulletin states that Spain formally sues for peace through the French ambassador." The bulletin was read with much enthusiasm by the crew.

Friday, July 29th: At 7.15 A. M. the Commander-in-Chief of the North Atlantic Squadron, Rear Admiral William T. Sampson, with his Chief of Staff, came aboard, and at 8 o'clock the "Yankee" left Guantanamo Bay, steering to the westward past Santiago de Cuba and, viewing the wrecks of the "Maria Theresa" and "Oquendo," returning to Guantanamo Bay, reaching there at 5.30 P. M. The Commander-in-Chief left the ship.

Saturday, July 30th: Lying in Guantanamo Bay.

Sunday, July 31st: Still at anchor in Guantanamo Bay. Visiting parties went to Camp McCalla and to the various ships in the afternoon.

Monday, August 1st: At 8 P.M. hove up anchor and left for Ponce by the Admiral's directions, with ammunition for the "Massachusetts."

Tuesday, August 2d: At 3 in the afternoon met the "Dixie," and upon Commander Davis informing us that the "Massachusetts" had left Ponce, Porto Rico, on Monday, bound for Guantanamo, we reversed our course, returning to Guantanamo. At 11 P.M. we overhauled and boarded the British steamer "Burton," but finding her papers all right, permitted her to proceed on her way.

Wednesday, August 3d: About 9 A.M. sighted the Norwegian steamer "Marie," overhauled her and sent an armed boarding crew with Lieut. Cutler to examine her papers; these and her cargo being suspicious, Lieut. Cutler and his crew remained on board in possession and brought her in behind the "Yankee" to Guantanamo, where we arrived at noon. Immediately upon our reporting to the Admiral our catch, and the overhauling of the "Burton," he sent us out to sea again to endeavor to catch the latter ship, which we succeeded in doing about 3.30 P.M. that same afternoon, and putting Lieut. Duncan with an armed boarding crew aboard her, the "Yankee" reaching Guantanamo at 6 P.M. and the "Burton" about two hours later.

Thursday, August 4th: Lying in Guantanamo Bay. At 11 P.M. the Admiral notified the "Burton" that she might proceed out of the bay at her own will; the "Marie" still held. At 10.30 P.M. the following signal was flashed from the flag ship: "Secretary cables negotiations pending for peace. You will not sail until further orders."

Friday, August 5th, to Wednesday, August 10th: Lying at anchor in Guantanamo Bay. On Wednesday, August 10th, at 9.40 P.M., the following message was flashed from the United States flag ship "New York": "Associated Press dispatch states that peace protocol has been agreed upon." On August 8th the Norwegian steamer "Marie" was permitted by the Admiral to go to Santiago and unload her cargo.

Thursday, August 11th: Got under way and stood out of Guantanamo Harbor at 5.45 P.M., bound for the Crooked Channel, which we, together with the "Dixie" and "Brooklyn," were to patrol in search of the blockade runner "Montserrat." We remained off the Crooked Channel until Sunday evening at 6 P.M. without finding the "Montserrat."

Sunday, August 14th: At 6 P.M. started for Guantanamo, and at 10.20 P.M. passed the flag ship "New York" with a number of other ships bound for home. The "New York" signaled to us: "Hostilities have ceased—blockade raised—we are bound to New York—proceed to Guantanamo." To which we replied: "Congratulations on going to New York."

Monday, August 15th: Came to anchor in Guantanamo Bay at 8.30 A.M., Commodore Watson in command of the "Badger."

Tuesday, August 15th, to Wednesday, August 24th: Lying at anchor in Guantanamo Bay with the fleet under the command of Commodore J. C. Watson. On Tuesday evening, August 23d, at 6 P.M., we received orders to proceed the next day to Tompkinsville.

Wednesday, August 24th: At noon left Guantanamo Bay, homeward bound.

Sunday, August 28th: Arrived off Tompkinsville at 10.35 A.M.

Tuesday, August 30th: At 11 A.M. got under way, bound for the League Island Navy Yard, Philadelphia, where we were ordered by the Department to proceed and be mustered out. Arrived there early

Wednesday, August 31st, and on Friday, September 2d, were mustered out, paid off and sent via the Pennsylvania Railroad to New York.

Captain Miller's Report of Service in Guarding Mine Fields.

HEADQUARTERS NAVAL MILITIA, N. Y.,

NEW YORK, May 23, 1898.Adjutant-General, General Headquarters, Albany, N. Y.:

SIR.—I have the honor to enclose herewith the detailed report of Lieutenant Commander Forshaw, commanding the patrol fleet of tugs employed by the State in guarding the mine fields in Gedney, Swash and Main Channels off Sandy Hook, at the Narrows and between Willetts Point and Throggs Neck. The service performed by this detail from the Second Naval Battalion was most arduous and it was accomplished in a most creditable manner. The nature of the duty called for the exercise of most excellent judgment on the part of the officers, and the benefit derived not only by the army authorities engaged in laying and protecting the mines, but by the commerce of this port, has been incalculable.

I have personally received assurances from interested parties, indicating a full appreciation of the service performed by the State in the emergency which required immediate action in order to protect both lives and property.

Respectfully,

(Signed) J. W. MILLER,
Captain N. M.

Lieutenant Commander Forshaw's Report of Service

HEADQUARTERS SECOND NAVAL BATTALION, N. Y.,

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 18, 1898.Commander W. H. STAYTON, Second Naval Battalion, N. Y.:

SIR.—I have the honor to make the following report of the tour of duty performed by a detachment of the Second Naval Battalion patrolling the mine fields at the Eastern and Southern entrances to New York Harbor, acting under orders of Captain J. W. Miller of May 6th, and your orders of May 7th, 1898. Together with these orders were forwarded to me the following papers:

1. Copy of "Regulations for the Navigation of the Eastern and Southern entrances to New York Harbor in time of War."

2. Copy of letter from Rear Admiral Erben, U. S. N., dated May 7, 1898.

3. Memorandum, entitled "Signals for patrol vessels."

4. Copy of letter from Commander W. L. Field, U. S. N., dated May 7, 1898.

5. Copy of letter from Captain J. W. Miller, dated May 7, 1898.

I enclose copies of all the above papers.

The detail assembled at the Armory at 3 p. m., May 7, 1898, where equipments and one day's rations were served out. Detail left Armory about 5 p. m., upon receipt of your final instructions through Lieutenant W. G. Ford, and left Jewells Wharf, Brooklyn, at 6.20 p. m. on the following tugs:

"Charm," Lieutenant Commander R. P. Forshew, Ensign L. E. Tuzo.

"Health," Lieutenant R. J. Beach, Lieutenant and Surgeon J. C. Macevitt, Ensign Charles Hall.

"Raymond," Lieutenant W. G. Ford, Engineer Lieutenant R. E. Hall.

"Dalzell," Lieutenant Howard Patterson, Lieutenant and Paymaster A. R. Pardington, Ensign E. J. Welch.

"Moore," Lieutenant M. A. Orlopp, Acting Ensign F. Bloodgood.

"Excelsior," Lieutenant E. M. Harmon, Lieutenant (J. G.) C. E. Braine.

"Starbuck," Lieutenant (J. G.) B. E. French, Acting Ensign E. F. Haubold.

"Atwood," Lieutenant (J. G.) T. R. Beal.

Battalion Launch, Lieutenant (J. G.) C. B. Reid, Ensign F. R. Hirsh.

The "Health" and Battalion Launch were ordered to Willets Point, the "Dalzell" to Naval Militia Headquarters, and the other tugs to duty in Lower Bay.

Upon arrival at Fort Hamilton, about 7.30 p. m., Lieutenant Ford and myself landed and called upon Colonel Ramsey to consult about patrol of mine fields. At 9 p. m. the tugs were detailed to stations as follows: "Charm," to upper end of Narrows; "Excelsior" to lower end of Narrows; "Starbuck" to inner end of Swash Channel; "Moore," inside of Sandy Hook; "Raymond" and "Atwood," outside of Sandy Hook.

On account of severe weather, limited knowledge of location of mines in Lower Bay, and the fact that all lights were extinguished, except at Sandy Hook and Navesink, the "Raymond" and "Atwood" were ordered not to go outside of Sandy Hook until daylight.

The weather during Saturday night was very severe, with wind, rain and heavy sea, and the officers and men were on duty all night.

Sunday morning, May 8th, the 12-hour boats, "Moore," "Excelsior" and "Charm," transferred their crews to other tugs and returned to the city, returning to the patrol fleet about 6 p. m. This was done every day we were on duty. The bad weather continued during Sunday and Sunday night, but the tugs were able to take their assigned stations. The above stations were continued during our tour of duty, excepting that tugs occasionally exchanged stations for purposes of relief, and in order that officers and men might obtain better knowledge of the different parts of the harbor. Reported at Naval Militia Headquarters for further instructions. Commander W. H. Stayton visited the patrol fleet and arranged a set of signals between the forts and the patrol.

On Monday, May 9th, orders were issued to the officers commanding tugs to see that men stood their trick at the wheel, and were instructed in signals, channels, lights, buoys and ranges in Lower Bay, the use of the lead, and practice with rifles and revolvers. This instruction to continue whenever possible and during continuance of our duty. Signal practice was held with Fort Hamilton.

Tuesday, May 10th, the tug "Raymond," Lieutenant Ford, picked up a mine adrift in Lower Bay and returned it to the officer in command at Fort Wadsworth. The "Dalzell" reported for duty from Headquarters during the day and remained with us during the remainder of tour.

Through the generous offer of Mr. Alfred Carr, of New York, the steam yacht "Llewellyn" was placed at the disposal of the Second Naval Battalion for service during their tour of duty. A detachment of men was sent to Manning's Basin, with an additional detail sent from the Armory, and the yacht was put in commission and reported to me on Wednesday morning, May 11th, at 2 o'clock. The use of this yacht was of great benefit to us and enabled us to more efficiently perform our duty. The "Llewellyn" was used as flagship of the patrol fleet during the balance of our tour.

Thursday, May 12th, the flagship reported at Naval Militia Headquarters and took Captain J. W. Miller and staff, and Commander W. H. Stayton, on a tour of inspection of stations in Lower Bay.

Friday, May 13th, a detail of officers and men detached to join a larger detail sent to Philadelphia to join the monitor "Jason" and bring her to New York.

Mines were placed mid-channel at the Narrows near the middle buoy by the army officers and a tug was stationed there to keep passing vessels from fouling the mines. These mines were removed from the channel on Saturday morning.

Saturday, May 14th, about noon the steamer "La Tourraine" in passing out of the Main Ship Channel fouled a boat containing men working at the mines and two of the men were drowned. Two of our tugs immediately steamed to the scene of accident but were too late to be of service. About 8 p. m. the tug "Raymond" picked up a small boat containing three men on the mine fields and turned the men over to the authorities at Fort Hancock.

Sunday, May 15th, the "Llewellyn" reported at Naval Militia Headquarters and took Captain Miller down to the patrol fleet.

Monday, May 16th, I reported for duty at the Armory leaving Lieutenant W. G. Ford in command of patrol with orders to withdraw patrol at 3 p. m. Tuesday, and to notify the authorities at the forts before leaving.

Tuesday, May 14th, contract for tugs having expired, the detachment returned to Armory, excepting engineer's force and five petty officers and men who remained of the "Llewellyn" to put her out of commission.

Our active work for each day began about 3.30 a. m., when vessels anxious to get in or out of the harbor began to approach the channels through mines, in order to get through as soon as possible after 4 o'clock, the time when channels were opened. The next four hours were very busy ones trying to straighten out the ever increasing fleet of vessels trying to get through, each one impatient at any loss of time, and many willing to violate the regulations if a little time could be saved. Vessels were hailed, given directions for passing through, and if possible a tug proceeded them, and at times vessels were towed out of the fields.

Several times buoys were carried away by vessels and were replaced by us if possible, or if not the Light House Service was notified to replace them. This work continued until 8 p. m., when channels were closed, and we began our all-night cruising across the entrances and from Navesink to Rockaway, keeping all vessels from passing out or in, or anchoring within the prescribed limits from Sandy Hook.

The weather, for the most part, was execrable, accommodations for the officers and men cramped, and for the first three days but few were able to remove their clothing at any time, yet all performed their duty cheerfully and well.

From time to time there has been forwarded to you reports of vessels violating the regulations of the harbor.

Lieutenants Beach and Reid who were in charge at Willett's Point, having been ordered to Philadelphia, no full report has yet been obtained from that end of the line. The last few days the detail was in charge of Acting Ensign F. Bloodgood. When Mr. Bloodgood reported to Major Knight at Willets Point that detail was to leave, Major Knight took occasion to express his appreciation of the work of the detail and his regret at their departure. I judge from this that their work must have been satisfactory.

The authorities at the forts assisted us in every way possible and I would suggest that a letter conveying our thanks be sent to them. The attendance reports following will show the names of officers and men attached to detail for all or part of our tour of duty.

Respectfully,

R. P. FORSHEW,

Lieutenant Commander 2d N. B.

Approved May 21, 1898.

Respectfully forwarded to Headquarters Naval Militia, N. Y., I request that Lieutenant Commander ForsheW be officially commended for his excellent and expeditious work in organizing and employing this detail.

Very respectfully,

Commander 2d N. B., N. Y.

EQUIPMENTS AND UNIFORMS.

In another place has been shown what was taken into the United States service by the volunteers of the State. It became absolutely necessary to replace this property to keep the National Guard in a serviceable condition and to arm and equip the new organizations. To do so 10,000 Springfield rifles, calibre 45, and 500,000 rounds of ammunition, same calibre, were obtained from the United States government, and there were purchased cartridge belts, Merriam packs, wall and conical wall tents, blankets, ponchos, leggings, overcoats, blouses, trousers, canteens, haversacks, cooking outfits, mess articles and a full supply of medical stores. Provisions will yet have to be made, however, for quite a quantity of uniforms for the portion of the National Guard now returning, or about to return, from the United States Volunteer service.

BUREAU OF RECORDS OF THE WAR OF THE REBELLION.

Information as to the record and service of volunteers of this State in the War of the Rebellion is still called for as heretofore, and inquiries are already beginning to come in for similar information as to volunteers of the State in the Spanish-American War.

The work commenced five years ago, of transcribing, collecting and completing the records of New York Volunteers, binding the same in substantial shape for safe-keeping and reference, and filing the old records for preservation, has been continued, and the records of the men who served in the First, Fifteenth and Fiftieth Engineers; the Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth and Tenth Independent Companies of Sharpshooters; the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Sixth, Seventh, Seventh Veteran, Eighth, Ninth and Tenth Regiments of Infantry, have been completed as far as it has been practicable.

Arrangements have been entered into to obtain from the United States Navy Department the records of the men who served in the United States Navy and Marine Corps during the War of the Rebellion; they are, however, not yet fully perfected. It is estimated that these records will cover about 53,000 men.

The collection of military relics in this Bureau continues still an object of great interest to the many visitors of the Capitol. In the course of the year there were received from the War Department, for deposit in the Bureau, a color of the One Hundred and Thirteenth Regiment (Seventh Artillery) and One Hundred and Fourth Regiment, New York Volunteers.

In accordance with chapter 545, Laws of New York, 1898, two battle flags of the Ninety-seventh Regiment, New York Volunteers, were delivered to the Trustees of the Munson Williams Memorial Hall, in the city of Utica.

More suitable and larger quarters are urgently needed for the Bureau.

CLAIMS AGAINST THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.

In another place has been given a list of property taken by the volunteers of the State into the United States service; of this, property to the amounts set forth below is State property, and claims have accordingly been made on the several staff departments of the United States Army, as follows:

Quartermaster-General, U. S. Army..	$325,588 05
Chief of Ordnance.....	49,581 26
Surgeon-General	5,627 25
Total.....	$380,796 56

Of other expenses incurred on account of the volunteers from this State and paid from the War appropriation, all vouchers of accounts which should be reimbursed by the United States government have been turned over to the State agent for prosecuting claims against the United States, Hon. Richard Crowley.

The first installment prepared by him and presented to the United States auditing officer amounts to $309,290; there have been since then a number of accounts collected and more will no doubt yet be received to make the total amount of claims to be presented at least $320,000.

To this is to be added, as another installment, the pay of New York Volunteers received by them from the State, including the expenses incurred in making these payments, and the pay of officers who were on duty with, but not of, the National Guard organizations until the latter were mustered in the United States service, amounting in round numbers, no doubt, to $180,000.

The total charge of this State against the United States will, therefore, amount, in a round sum, to $880,000.

THE GOVERNOR'S STAFF.

I take satisfaction in recording the work done by your staff during the war between Spain and this country.

Brigadier-General Edward M. Hoffman, Inspector-General of the State, went out as colonel of the Third Regiment, Infantry, New York Volunteers.

Brigadier-General William M. Kirby, General Inspector of Rifle Practice, accompanied him as lieutenant-colonel of same regiment.

Colonel Albert J. Myer, A. D. C., left this State at the outbreak of hostilities as regimental adjutant, with grade of captain, of the Third Regiment, Infantry, New York Volunteers, and later became major of the Two Hundred and Second Regiment, New York Volunteer Infantry.

Brigadier-General Howard Carroll, Chief of Artillery, had, in May, charge of the transportation of troops from the railroad depots and armories in New York city to Camp Black and Camp Townsend, and performed this duty in such manner that there was no delay or loss or accident. General Carroll later, by your orders, made a tour of inspection of the volunteers of the State in their camps in the South.

Brigadier-General Henry Taylor Noyes, Commissary-General, was in general charge of procuring subsistence for the troops at Camps Black and Townsend until they were mustered in the United States service.

Brigadier-General Warren Mansfield Healey, Paymaster-General, was on duty as instructor and inspector in the Fourth Brigade, of the new organizations, early in May, and since then in paying the troops and settling claims for pay.

Brigadier-General Marshall Orlando Terry, Surgeon-General, was on duty at Camps Black and Townsend, while troops of the State were on duty there, and until they were mustered in; later he made a tour of inspection of sanitary matters at the camps in the South where New York Volunteers were stationed, and his findings were accepted by the Medical Department of the Army.

General William Barclay Parsons, Chief of Engineers, was on duty in charge of the grounds at Camp Townsend while the latter was occupied by the First United States Volunteer Engineers.

Colonel Harrison Burtis Moore, Jr., and Colonel John Francis Doyle, Jr., both A. D. C., were on duty with the chief of ordnance in the early part of May.

Colonels John Francis Doyle, Jr., and Fred Cleave Ham, both A. D. C., were on duty with the new organizations in the First and Fourth Brigades, respectively, in June and July, to assist in hastening recruiting and organizing.

Colonel Henry Woodward Sackett, A. D. C., was on similar duty with the Second Brigade in June, and in July as assistant to the paymaster-general, paying troops in the field.

Colonel Edward Earl Britton, early in May, was on duty with the chief of ordnance, and later became colonel of the One Hundred and Fourteenth Regiment.

Captain (Naval) Herbert Livingston Satterlee, A. D. C., was most instrumental in securing the passage of the bill which created the Auxiliary Naval Force, and later he entered the United States Naval service as an officer. Captain John. R. Bartlett, Chief of the United States Auxiliary Force, speaks of him in his report to the Assistant Secretary of the Navy as follows:

“ I esteem myself particularly fortunate in having had the assistance of Lieutenant Herbert L. Satterlee, U. S. N., as my chief of staff. For years past he has been identified with the most progressive efforts for the practical development of the Naval Militia and its advancement in efficiency. In the present emergency he has labored day and night with untiring energy, and his services have been of the highest value in the aid he has rendered in connection with the management of the details of the work. Through his assistance, also, I am enabled to make the present report much more full than, with the pressure of other duties, would otherwise be possible. I would suggest that the Department avail itself, whenever practicable, of Lieutenant Satterlee's familiarity with Naval Militia matters.”

In addition to the foregoing I desire to bring to your special notice for their great services, rendered promptly and intelligently:

The Commanding Officer of the National Guard, Major-General Charles F. Roe, especially in organizing and commanding Camp Black, and

The Commanding Officer of the Naval Militia, Captain Jacob W. Miller, who, in the report of Captain Bartlett, already quoted, is highly mentioned, and to whom the successful services of the Naval Militia are primarily due.

CONCLUSION.

The Constitution of the United States gives Congress authority only "to provide for calling forth the Militia to execute the laws of the Union, suppress insurrection and repel invasion."

The National Guard of this State is part of its Militia, and no State can have a military force except Militia.

The National Guard (Militia) cannot be called out by the United States in a war against a foreign nation, except to repel invasion, and it cannot therefore be required to serve beyond the limits of the United States, unless the repelling of invasion should necessitate crossing into foreign territory.

The President of the United States in his first call on the States for volunteers, expressed through the Secretary of War the desire that the call be filled by the organized militia of the States as far as practicable, "because they are armed, equipped and drilled."

In response to this call, although plans had been carefully matured for recruiting strictly volunteers, and giving the members of the National Guard an opportunity to volunteer as officers, it was decided, because of the strong request of the President, and also because a decided desire on the part of the National Guard organizations had become manifest, to allow these organizations to go out as such and respond to the first call of the President.

Accordingly steps were taken to ascertain how many members of the National Guard organizations desired to volunteer. The response to this inquiry was prompt, satisfactory and creditable, and based on the reports received, selections were made of organizations, as far as the total required by the government allowed, and those selected ordered to prepare for volunteer service.

Your orders were particularly explicit on the point of allowing freedom of action to each individual man, making it plain that no one should be allowed to go whose presence was required at home, and that neither unreasoning public opinion or a false spirit of pride should compel volunteering when it would be a hardship either to the individual or to those left behind.

Notwithstanding these instructions and the strong effort made to secure only voluntary service, men went who could ill be spared, and their having gone must be attributed to the unfortunate condition of the public mind at that time.

The organizations selected were promptly mobilized and assembled in camps with all their arms, equipments and uniforms, and what was still needed to perfect their outfit, as far as time permitted, was procured for them.

Experienced officers were placed in charge of the camps and over the troops.

Everything was done that reasonably could be to provide for the health and comfort of the men in the camps. The State, not the United States army, ration, cooking and mess kits, medicines and medical supplies, tents, blankets, and many other necessities were supplied.

The conditions under which the National Guard of this State has to be managed so as not to exceed the ordinary appropriation annually made for it, does not permit the carrying of property in stock in such quantities as were then suddenly required, by reason of recruits taking the places of rejected men and new companies being added to all the regular regiments. By reference to the list of State property transferred to the United States, given in another place, it will be seen that notwithstanding all drawbacks met at the time, the State succeeded in equipping the enlisted force required under the first call, about 11,800 men.

Your visits to the State camps before the troops finally left for the front convinced you personally of their condition, and it need only be added that when complaints came of the condition of camps in the Southern States, you not only sent General Carroll of your staff and the Surgeon-General of the State to correct evils if any existed, but you personally made a complete and careful inspection of them. Everything was done that the State could do to lessen the suffering reported, even medicines were furnished.

To provide for adequate protection at home and to have a force on hand, while twelve State regiments and two troops of cavally were in the field, new organizations were formed to take their places at home; they were uniformed, armed and equipped and had internal trouble arisen, the interests of the State would have been satisfactorily protected. To the accomplishment of this much credit is due to the indefatigable work of those officers, who undertook the arduous duty at a time when excitement ran high and critics were very much in evidence.

At the second call for volunteers made by the President the National Guard organizations were not asked for, neither was it required that the troops should be uniformed, armed and equipped, and they were raised, consequently, in much the same manner as was originally intended and they left our State in a very creditable condition. The vast majority of officers in these three last regiments came from the National Guard.

Your keen interest in National Guard affairs was evidenced by your hearty co-operation in securing the adoption of the new Military Code, most of the provisions of which had been frequently asked for by the best informed men in the Guard, and it is greatly to the credit of your administration, that it has finally become a law, ready for the test time and experience will give it.

In the expenditure of the war appropriations, as far as the latter have been expended, every fair and reasonable account and expense was paid and care taken that no onerous charges should fall on officers engaged in recruiting volunteers or National Guard organizations. The policy was to be liberal with due justice to the State.

The many criticisms made against the State authorities were unfounded, uncharitable and generally based on misconceptions, personal interests or political grounds.

In conclusion, I have no hesitancy in saying, that everything within reason has been done for the National Guard and New York State volunteers in the war with Spain. Time must elapse—how long I cannot say—before a just history of your military administration will be written. I believe that in the future the National Guard, because of its experience during the last year, will be stronger, more compact and more efficient, than ever before in its history; but to assure this its higher officers must be spared the public assaults, which it has been the lot of many in the past to bear.

The National Guard is to-day as efficient, if not more so, than when you became its Commander-in-Chief; if it be not, it is due to the fact, that public defamation of its ranking officers was encouraged by persons who had their own ends to serve.

From personal observation at the Camp of Instruction at Peekskill (Camp Townsend) and based upon the lessons taught by the war with Spain, I feel that the present usefulness to the National Guard of the Peekskill camp is past, and in its place brigade or, if possible, division camps should be established—arranged so that every officer and enlisted man can, once in two years, spend from ten days to two weeks under canvas, and have the encampment conform in every respect to army life in actual field service. In that way men and officers will acquire the experience and practical knowledge of “papers,” subsistence, etc., which because of lack of opportunity in the past was made so apparent at the outbreak of the last war.

I am still of the opinion that for strictly National Guard work, the Springfield, .45-calibre rifle, is entirely satisfactory, but the cartridge should be charged with smokeless powder.

Your attention is also invited to the reports accompanying this as appendices.

Respectfully,

CHARLES WHITNEY TILLINGHAST, 2d,

Adjutant-General.

Report of the Inspector-General.

STATE OF NEW YORK:

INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,

ALBANY, December 31, 1898.

The Adjutant-General, S. N. Y.:

Sir.—I have the honor to submit the following report of the operations of this Department during the past year, for the information of the Commander-in-Chief.

General Orders, No. 1, Adjutant-General's Office, dated Albany, January 12, 1898, directed the inspection and muster of all organizations of the National Guard, of the arsenals, armories, camps and all the military property of the State. The officers of this Department proceeded with the work immediately, and completed so much of it as was possible between the time of receipt of the order and the time of the departure of the organizations from the State to enter the Volunteer Service of the United States May 1, 1898, after which time no inspections could take place on account of the absence of the organizations. The time being so short, only a comparatively small portion of the usual inspections could be completed.

All of the regiments were inspected so far as pertained to the care of property and to their general appearance on the date of inspection. In a few cases the books and records of regimental headquarters and of the companies of the regiments were inspected, but the inventory of property in the hands of regiments was not taken as contemplated in General Orders, No. 1. None of the drills of companies or battalions of regiments were inspected for the reason above stated. Fourteen of the separate companies were thoroughly inspected as to discipline, drill, general appearance, care of property, books and records.

The departure of the organizations of the National Guard from the State to enter the Volunteer Service of the United States left much of the work of the Department unfinished, and, owing to the absence of the organizations, it was impossible to complete the work, but such portions of it as could be caught up and finished since the return of organizations have been completed. Detailed reports of all inspections are submitted herewith.

Reports of boards of survey of property lost, destroyed or damaged, that have been held by me from time to time under General Orders, No. 1, current series, have been submitted; also the reports of the inspection of property submitted to me at the annual muster and inspection, with my recommendations, have been forwarded immediately after such inspections.

The reports of Colonel George Porter Hilton and Major Anthime Watson LaRose covering inspections of repairs and improvements, which have been made during the year to the armories and arsenals, and the report of Major Frederick Ross Lee covering the inspection of uniforms, equipments, etc., purchased by the State, are also transmitted.

Considerable improvement in the matter of cleanliness is noted in such of the armories as were inspected, as compared with the inspections of 1897, and certainly much improvement has been made in that particular.

In connection with the care of armories, it is proper to state that there is great difference in the number of employees engaged in the work of caring for the buildings. In the regiments the numbers are nearly equal, but the number in separate companies varies from one to five men steadily employed. It is suggested that some means should be adopted, whereby the expense of caring for the different armories should be more nearly equal, one employee being unable to properly perform all the labor required, and it is not thought necessary that there should be as many as five in any of the separate company armories.

As a general rule the State's property is thoroughly well cared for, and the facilities for its care are generally sufficient, but a few instances exist, and have been reported upon in detail, where it is possible for the property to have better care, even with the facilities which are at hand in those armories. Where such a state of affairs exists, it seems to arise from the want of attention on the part of commanding officers, and their attention has been called to the matter in every case.

In accordance with telegraphic instructions received April 29, 1898, I proceeded immediately to Buffalo and reported to Brigadier-General Doyle, Commanding Officer Fourth Brigade, to take command of the Third Regiment, New York Volunteer Infantry, which was composed of Separate Companies of the Fourth Brigade. I retained command of this regiment in the United States Service and until its return to home stations and muster-out of the service.

Observations made during this tour of duty suggest several criticisms and comments which may be made upon the National Guard of this State, so far as its equipment and instruction may be considered in fitting it for service in time of war. The detailed instruction had at the armories and at the State Camp of Instruction is shown to have been all good and practical and of the greatest value so far as it went, and it should be the aim in the future to supplement this work with a well-considered system of service in the field, which shall give staff officers and commanding officers, as well as the soldiers, greater experience in the things which are necessary to know when called into such service as the National Guard of this State has had to perform during the year 1898, in camps, on marches, etc.

There should also be a comprehensive system of instruction in the clerical work and the keeping of records, and the blanks and forms in use, as well as the methods of procedure, should conform as nearly as possible to those which obtain in the United States Army, in order that instruction so received may be available upon entering the United States service.

The uniform and equipment issued by the State was found to be serviceable and practicable, and, excepting in a few minor particulars, it corresponded to that issued to and used by the United States Army. A comparison between the quality of cloth used in the different articles of uniform issued by the State and that used by the United States government in the manufacture of uniform demonstrates the fact that that issued by the State is far superior, both in looks and in wearing qualities, to the government issue. Instances being recalled where one uniform of the State issue wore longer than two uniforms of the government issue. This experience and study of the subject leads me to the conclusion that it would be difficult, if not impossible, to improve upon the quality of cloth used by the State and established as its present standard of quality.

The medical department was found to be in excellent condition in nearly all the organizations, and it is much to be regretted that the hospital corps of the regiments could not have been taken into the United States service just as organized under our State laws.

The equipment of the hospital corps was found to be complete and the personnel, so far as I was able to judge, was found to be of a high character, efficient, capable and interested in their work.

In concluding my term of office as Inspector-General, I desire to express my appreciation of the efficiency, promptness, faithfulness and ability with which the assistants in the Department have performed all duties assigned to them during the past two years. They have been found capable at all times and have performed their work thoroughly and well in every instance.

Respectfully,

EDWARD M. HOFFMAN,

Inspector-General.

APPENDIX "B."

Report of General Inspector of Rifle Practice.

STATE OF NEW YORK:

DEPARTMENT OF RIFLE PRACTICE,

NEW YORK, December 31, 1898.

Adjutant-General, State of New York:

Sir.—The following is submitted as the report of this Department for the year ending December 31, 1898:

The routine work of this Department has been greatly interfered with, owing to the large number of National Guardsmen who volunteered their services to the United States for the war with Spain.

The three regiments and ten separate companies not ordered out have had their regular practice, also a small number of "century" organizations.

The season for rifle practice was extended one month, to December 1st, to give those troops returning home from the volunteer service during September, October and November, an opportunity to practice, but owing to the delays incident to their muster-out of the United States service, only individuals were enabled to take advantage of it. Owing to the above state of affairs no figure of merit was given and no competitions in rifle practice were held this year; and to each volunteer who had previously qualified or who may subsequently qualify for the marksman's decoration, will be issued a bar, to be attached to this badge, with the inscription 18—U. S. V.—98 thereon; this bar was authorized by General Orders, No. 19, Adjutant-General's Office, dated December 9, 1898, and is issued in lieu of the usual qualification.

The Springfield rifle, with which the Guard was armed in the fall of 1897, caliber, .45, proved to be much better than the larger .50 caliber which it superseded, principally owing to the fine sights, but it seems to be the consensus of opinion that all large caliber arms using black powder are obsolete, and I would strongly recommend that steps be taken toward arming the Guard with a .30 caliber arm, using smokeless powder.

The issue of the regulations for small arm practice appear to have given general satisfaction, but as they have not yet had a thorough test no changes are recommended.

No repairs have been made on any of the various ranges throughout the State, with the exception of Creedmoor.

New ranges will have to be constructed next season at Watertown, Malone, Oswego and Hornellsville; and the ranges at Utica, Elmira and Syracuse will have to be extensively repaired.

I desire to call attention to the fact that pistols were issued to the officers by the State in 1894, since which time the issue has been discontinued; officers qualify under the regulations for the marksman's decoration with the pistol.

As many officers have turned in their pistols to the United States upon being mustered out of the volunteer service, either a new issue should be made or officers required to equip themselves with them.

During the season of 1897 there qualified 264 experts, 558 sharpshooters, 8,545 marksmen, total 9,367. During the season of 1898 there qualified 155 experts, 371 sharpshooters, 3,230 marksmen, total 3,756; the decrease being for the reasons stated above.

Respectfully,

W. M. KIRBY,

General Inspector of Rifle Practice, S. N. Y.

APPENDIX "D."

Annual Report of the Surgeon-General.

OFFICE OF THE SURGEON-GENERAL,

UTICA, December 15, 1898.

Major-General C. WHITNEY TILLINGHAST, 2d, Adjutant-General of the State of New York:

Sir.—The annual report of the Surgeon-General for the year 1898 is herewith most respectfully submitted. As the code does not provide for a Surgeon-General in the future this will naturally be the last report of a Surgeon-General, as has been provided for in the past.

If the Medical Department of the National Guard has continued its growth, improving in various ways, it is due largely to the thoughtful consideration of the Adjutant-General of the State and his prompt action upon questions brought to his notice pertaining to its welfare. The climax of the work of the Surgeon-General during the four years of his administration of the duties of this office it is considered has been reached in the bringing out of what is now recognized as the "Terry Field Case," adopted by the State of New York, and first named by the Adjutant-General, in recognition of its modern features in the line of a surgical field kit for the medical officer, equal to the best case now in use by the surgeons connected with the hospitals in this country. It is with extreme pleasure that it is noted that the United States Government has brought out a case since the adoption of this case constructed on similar principles and modern in character. The field case of the State of New York was brought to the notice of the United States Government during the month of May, 1898.

The First Inspection of the Medical Department.

Last year the Surgeon-General had the honor to make a suggestion in reference to the inspection of the Medical Department throughout the State in line with the work of the Inspector-General, and the Adjutant-General of this State kindly made it possible for him to do so. War rumors in March became so serious that he determined at once to ascertain the condition of the Medical Department.

The following report was received from Col. Nelson H. Henry, Assistant Surgeon-General, N. G. N. Y., in response to a letter sent him by the Surgeon-General, dated March 4, 1898:

14 EAST TENTH STREET,

NEW YORK CITY, April 11, 1898.

The Surgeon-General, N. G. N. Y.:

Sir.—I have the honor to forward my report upon the inspection of the Medical Department and hospital corps of the First, Second and Fifth Brigades, in compliance with the following instructions and orders:

UTICA, March 4, 1898.

Col. NELSON H. HENRY, Assistant Surgeon-General, N. G. N. Y.:

Sir.—I have the honor to request that you at once begin an inspection, and report on the condition of the equipment, of the Medical Department of the First, Second and Fifth Brigades. Order also requisitions to be made by medical officers whenever necessary.

Please report specifically on every organization, sending in your observations as early as possible.

Kindly advise the Brigade Commanders to notify the Brigade Surgeons of the date of your visit.

Major-General Charles F. Roe is pleased to have the work suggested carried out.

Respectfully,

M. O. TERRY,

Surgeon-General.

14 EAST TENTH STREET,

NEW YORK CITY, April 22, 1898.The Surgeon-General, S. N. Y.:

The personnel of the Hospital Corps is excellent; one a physician, the remaining medical students, three graduating this year.

Equipment.—One medical and surgical chest, N. Y. S. model; one surgical chest, Senn model; two surgical field cases; eight hospital corps knives; two medical officer's orderly pouches; six hospital corps pouches; one hospital knapsack; one case medicines; three litters, N. Of the above one Hospital Corps pouch; one surgical field case; one hospital knapsack; one Hospital Corps knife were on the Nahant. I found the rest of the equipment in good condition with the following exception:

One case surgical instruments issued August 2, 1893, missing.

Correspondence with Headquarters has been held in regard to this matter.

In Senn surgical case two metal cases have been damaged, due to some corrosive action; this equipment was made by Truax, Greene & Co., Chicago.

I do not consider, in view of communication received from Surgeon-General of the Navy, that any further equipment is called for at present.

Should, however, the State be called upon to equip other auxiliary cruisers, I would consider further equipment as per state issue called for, viz.: Field surgical cases, pouches, litters.

HOSPITAL CORPS.

Out of 53 Hospital Corps men, 40 were found to have passed their examinations. The Tenth battalion is without a hospital steward. Some companies, the Twenty-third of Hudson has no Hospital Corps men at present. The Twenty-second of Saratoga I cannot report upon as it having no medical officer I did not visit it. The Twenty-seventh, Thirty-ninth and Fortieth were also not visited. I reported this fact to you, Sir, and you considered that they had better be left on account of the probability of the guard being ordered out before the inspections could be completed.

In all places I found the medical stores in good condition and ready for service.

The various companies having now been put into battalions and a battalion surgeon being appointed, the question was often asked if all medical officers would be ordered out. Not knowing what policy was to be pursued I could give no information. It is respectfully suggested that all medical officers in this brigade be directed to hold themselves in readiness for service, but that only the battalion medical officers be ordered on duty with their commands, unless a battalion is on a detached duty and then it is suggested that the Assistant Surgeon of some one of its companies be also directed to join so that a relief may be present. I found all the medical officers anxious and willing to go with their commands and was repeatedly asked to see that they were not left behind if orders to move came.

In case these battalions, or any of them are formed into a regiment for a longer or shorter period, it is suggested that the senior battalion surgeon be the acting medical officer of the regiment and that an assistant surgeon of one of the companies of his battalion be detailed to that battalion. With the number of men that now go to make up a regiment four medical officers are none too many.

While almost all the pouches of the Hospital Corps were filled and ready for service the supplies carried in them are not sufficient for the command in the field. The medical and surgical chest now issued to the service, a most excellent equipment, should be issued at the rate of one to each battalion. This would give all the stores necessary until arrangements had been made for the filling of requisitions.

It was found that each company was provided with a litter. While this is well for the company as long as it is on duty by itself, it is suggested that two litters be allowed for each battalion there being but two litter squads of four each in the Hospital Corps of such a command. The other litters which are left at home could be ready for shipment in case one with the command was destroyed.

Unless the service which the guard may be called on to perform is of a protracted nature, or in such surroundings as will cause considerable sickness, the necessity for a hospital steward for each battalion does not appear. If, however, the service is such that dispensing is to be from drugs received in the quantity and not from prepared articles such as tablets, hospital stewards who are apothecaries would be a necessity. It is suggested that medical officers of battalions be instructed to arrange for a hospital steward should one be wanted, taking preferably a member of the Hospital Corps or of one of the companies, if he be a licensed pharmacist.

It is further recommended that surgeons of brigades report at least once in six months to the surgeon of the division the general condition of the medical service in their brigades. Such reports could include the number and standing of Hospital Corps men, the readiness of all equipments and supplies, and any other matter of interest concerning the medical service. And it is further recommended that all changes in the personnel of medical officers in any brigade be reported at the time the change is made, as well as in the semi-annual report. I found in four cases that officers I had written to as assistant surgeons of companies had resigned and in some instances others had been commissioned in their places. But I had no knowledge of these changes as the last official roster did not have them.

I would further recommend that the straps furnished to the litters for fastening them when closed be changed. The present straps are of too light leather and break. It is also suggested that when new straps are issued the button hole for the pin be placed at least an inch back from the end of the strap, giving in this way enough strap for the grasp of thumb and finger when opening the litter.

I directed all medical officers, if there was anything missing from their pouches or if they were short of any supplies, to make requisition at once through the proper channels.

I have the honor to remain, sir, very respectfully, etc.,

LEWIS BALCH,

Major and A. S. G.

To Brig.-Gen. M. O. TERRY, Surgeon-General, S. N. Y.

In regard to the Fourth Brigade it was impossible to make a thorough inspection owing to the shortness of time before mobilization of troops into the volunteer service of the United States, but Col. Floyd S. Crego, of that organization, ascertained the wants and made the proper requisitions, so that nothing was wanting in regard to the department as it entered the service.

The following report of an inspection of Creedmoor and report upon the condition of the equipment by Col. Nelson H. Henry is herewith submitted:

THE NEW CODE AS BEARING UPON THE MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

Although the Commission for the revision of the new code contained the name of no medical officer of the Guard, hearings were given the Surgeon-General and such members of the Guard as he selected, namely Col. N. H. Henry, Col. J. D. Emmet, Major Lewis Balch, Major E. T. T. Marsh and Col. N. S. Jarvis. On these occasions strong pleas were made for a separate organization of the Medical Department. These various recommendations it will be futile to place in this report, and he simply mentions that the conclusions of the Board for the revision of the code have now been incorporated as the law of this state, which does away with the office of the surgeon-general but it has given the majors of the various brigades the rank of colonel. Hereafter the Medical Department will be managed by the medical officer on the staff of the major-general in charge of the division of the State constituting the Guard.

MOBILIZATION OF THE TROOPS AT CAMP TOWNSEND, PEEKSKILL, AND CAMP BLACK, HEMPSTEAD PLAINS, LONG ISLAND.

The Surgeon-General was ordered on duty at the beginning of the mobilization of troops at Camps Townsend and Black. Everything was done that was thought necessary to assist in perfecting the sanitary condition of these camps. The rumor that small-pox had broken out at Buffalo and at Geneva, was promptly investigated and it was discovered that it was the result of a visit from a theatrical troupe and measures were at once instituted to prevent any spread of this disease among the troops at these places. The wire of the Adjutant-General sent to the Surgeon-General showed his interest in this matter:

“Take the necessary steps to have everyone of the National Guard at Geneva and Buffalo vaccinated.”

REQUEST TO SURGEON-GENERAL TO SECURE HOSPITAL CORPS MEN

ALBANY, N. Y., May 10, 1898.

Surgeon-General M. O. TERRY, Utica, N. Y.:

The Surgeon-General of the Army has telegraphed requesting that a sufficient number of candidates for the Hospital Corps be nominated to the mustering officer, so that the medical examining board may be able to select for enlistment 13 hospital stewards, 16 acting hospital stewards and 355 privates. The Governor directs that you proceed to Camps Townsend and Black and see what can be done.

C. WHITNEY TILLINGHAST, 2D,
Adjutant-General.

In order to secure the best men the Surgeon-General wrote to the heads of the various colleges in the State requesting them to send properly qualified persons to the Medical Purveyor, Army building, 39 Whitehall street, New York city, inclosing the following requirements:

The Surgeon-General, S. N. Y., is charged with carrying out of above.

(Official.)

On June 1, 1898, the Surgeon-General received a telegram from the Secretary of War as follows:

“The Secretary of War desires to know whether you will accept a commission as chief surgeon of division, with the rank of major.”

This request which came directly from the President of the United States was a great surprise and much appreciated, but it was thought best to send the following in reply:

UTICA, N. Y., June 2, 1898.

Brigadier-General GEORGE M. STERNBERG, Surgeon-General,
U. S. A.

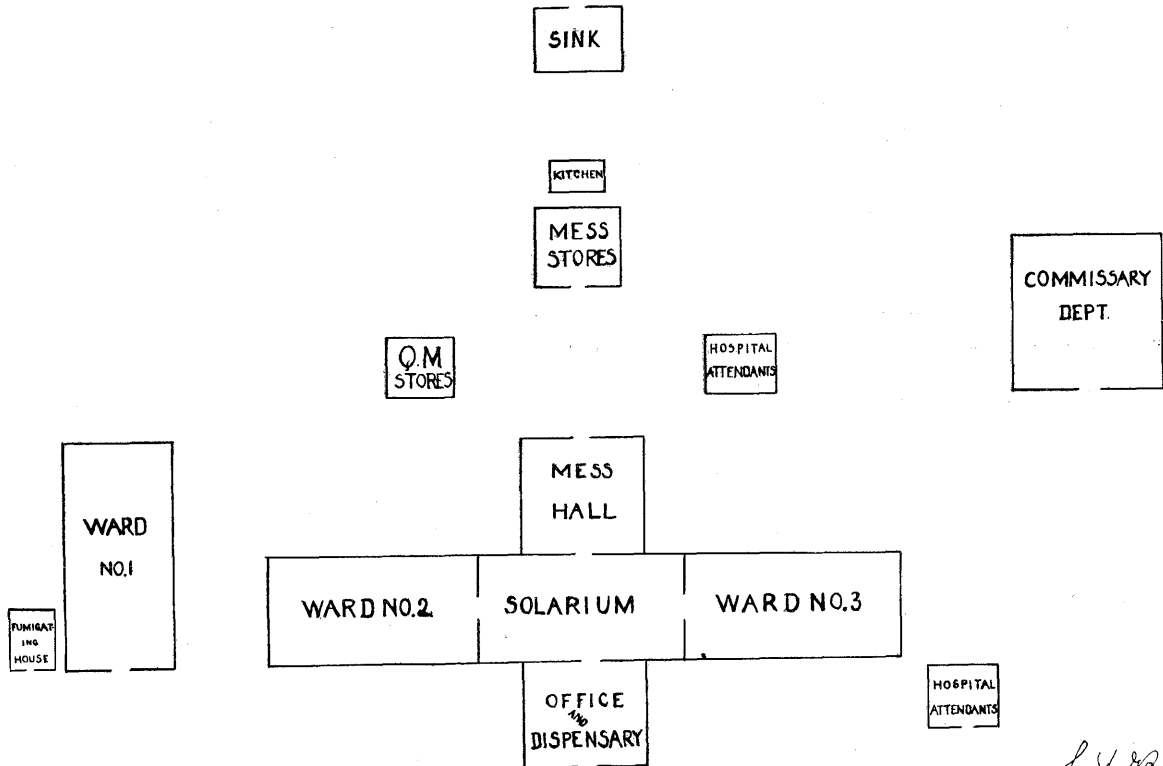

Sir.—I have the honor to state that I regret beyond expression to be obliged to decline the great honor extended to me as the Surgeon-General of the State of New York by the President, the commission as chief surgeon of a division in the United States Army. After considering more fully the duties incident to this office it has been concluded that in the discharge of them I can relieve the Governor of an important branch of the service at a most trying time. If my services in the army were a patriotic necessity, death only would prevent my joining the troops at once.

Kindly convey to the President my most profound appreciation for the compliment paid this department, and I hope you will express to him the fact that the Governor recognizes the thoughtful consideration which inspired the act.

Respectfully,

M. O. TERRY,

Surgeon-General.

FIELD HOSPITAL, CAMP BLACK, N. Y.

THE DISPOSITION OF OUR OLD FIELD CASES.

Surgeon-General Sternberg wired this office June 25, 1898, as follows:

"Will take surgeon field cases you offer. Send by express to this office with bill."

Having thus disposed of the old field cases the State is now equipped with a new one, a fact due to the careful consideration of the question of modern equipment by the Adjutant-General.

MEDICAL OFFICERS GIVEN PREFERENCE.

It is to the credit of the Adjutant-General that he gave preference to the medical officers of the guard at the beginning of enlistment, when medical officers in and out of the Guard were anxious to enter into the service of the United States government.

ARRANGEMENT OF THE FIELD HOSPITAL AT CAMP BLACK.

The following diagram illustrates the arrangement of the wards, etc., at Camp Black, as prepared by First Lieutenant Maurice Ashley, surgeon in charge:

CHANGE OF ASSISTANTS.

Col. N. S. Jarvis having resigned as Assistant Surgeon-General, Col. William E. Spencer was appointed in his place. He was given a leave of absence soon after and appointed surgeon of the 201st Infantry, N. Y. V. Major Lewis Balch also accepted service as surgeon of the Second Regiment, Third Brigade, and by special order was relieved from duty in this medical department to which he was assigned by par. II, of S. O. 142, series 1897. Col. Nelson H. Henry, First Assistant Surgeon-General, became surgeon of the Fourth Division, United States Volunteer service with leave of absence granted. He is also surgeon on the staff of Major-General Charles F. Roe in command of the guard.

NECESSARY QUALIFICATIONS FOR THE MEDICAL OFFICERS.

The following letter and recommendation were sent to the Governor with reference to the eligibility of medical officers:

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, STATE OF NEW YORK,

SURGEON-GENERAL'S OFFICE,

196 GENESEE STREET,

UTICA, N. Y., May 28, 1898.

To His Excellency FRANK S. BLACK, Governor of the State of New York:

Sir.—I have the honor to submit for your consideration and I trust immediate action a preliminary requirement for medical officers who wish to enter the military service of the State of New York. As the Board of Regents has made the standard higher in this state than in any other through the examining boards for licensing all practitioners in medicine, it is desirable that the same high standard be made a test of eligibility for entering the service. A regulation of this character will prevent the introduction in this State of men of inferior education into the medical department of the military service.

Respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

M. O. TERRY,

Surgeon-General.

All applicants for the position of medical officer in any military organization of the Guard of this state must present to the proper authorities a certificate that they are lawfully authorized to practice medicine in New York State before being eligible for an examination.

I hope this recommendation will receive the approval of the Governor and become one of the regulations.

THE SURGEON-GENERAL VISITS PORTO RICO ON THE HOSPITAL SHIP RELIEF.

Col. Nicholas Senn, Surgeon-General of Illinois, and Chief of Operating Staff in the field of United States Volunteers, on his return from Cuba on the hospital ship Relief expressed a warm desire that the Surgeon-General of this state should accompany him on his trip to Porto Rico. Through the kindness of the war department the Surgeon-General was enabled to make the voyage, being granted a leave of absence by the Governor.

A voyage to Porto Rico on the hospital ship Relief immediately following the first invasion by our troops under General Miles, carried with it an experience which must in the nature of things be unique and interesting. The presence on the voyage of Dr. Rudberg, the representative of the Swedish government, and B. Tomlasuri, Surgeon Imperial Japanese Navy, added greatly to the pleasure of the trip.

The hospital ship is, perhaps, the finest ever constructed for such a purpose. Japan during her last war had two such ships, but not so complete. The Red Cross people of Japan have now made arrangements with ship builders for two ships which are to be so constructed that they can quickly be turned into hospital ships in case of necessity. For this privilege the Red Cross people paid one-fifteenth of their value for 15 years when the same arrangements for new ships will be made again.

The hospital ship Relief is too high above the water, as it rocks considerably, but aside from that criticism little is to be desired. Two hundred and fifty patients can be taken on this ship with a good degree of comfort. We brought from Porto Rico 225 cases of typhoid fever and malaria, besides the injured and convalescents. The convenience of the ship may be studied by taking one ward in which are accommodated 72 patients. The beds are arranged double, the one above the other; made of iron tubing, painted white in harmony with the ward. There is a record chart, wire basket, little bag for comb, etc., and cup for each bed. There are electric lights, electric fans, portable bath tubs and on each side of the room opposite the rows of beds racks for glasses. At one end of the room is a long table containing all sorts of things, as thermometers, ammonia, whiskey, alcohol, dressings of every variety and a large medicine case containing an excellent selection of the remedies calculated to meet every emergency. At the other end is an enameled iron bath tub with adjustable taps for hot and cold water, so that it is impossible for one taking a bath to get the water too hot. The tub is nicely screened by an adjustable rubber curtain, so the patient is entirely cut off from the room. There are two female nurses in each ward during the day besides an acting hospital steward and three male nurses. None but male nurses are on duty at night. To attend properly to 72 typhoid fever cases in the ward necessitates the taking of the temperature two or three times a day, frequent baths by spongings and immersions, a careful diet for each, besides other individual never ending duties.

The surgical feature of this floating hospital must naturally be the pride of the modern surgeon, for with the large sterilizer, electric lights so bright as to make night operations preferable to daylight; beautiful iron and glass cases, with shelves and racks for a complete set of instruments; a large battery and a radiograph for diagnostic purposes, such as for the finding of bullets and detecting bone injuries of all sorts; two large operating tables, dressings of all sorts in abundance, a machine for distilling water from the ocean, as well as for manufacturing ice, and a large disinfecting apparatus gives you an idea simply of the completeness of the outfit and the resources of the surgeon on board of the hospital ship Relief to cope with imperative duties incident to the sick and wounded.

The Relief carried to Porto Rico a great variety of supplies, such as medicines, antiseptics, bandages, plaster-of-paris, oil silk, thermometers, ointments, hypodermic needles, splints of felt, perforated tin and light wood, 10,000 first aid bandages, 12,500 gauze sublimate, 1,875 iodoform gauze, adhesive plasters, cat gut and other ligatures, condensed milk, tea, rubber cushions, crutches, racks to support clothes over injured parts, stretchers, foot stools, pajamas, small and large tents, fruit and delicacies, slippers, etc., so it will be noted the ship carried comforts to those in the field and returned those unable to remain in a most careful manner.

HOSPITALS IN PORTO RICO.

At Ponce the Spanish Military Hospital occupies a whole square in an elevated position above the city. It gives one an extended view of the surrounding country. Three hundred soldiers were being cared for at the time of our visit, most of them being typhoid patients. It was at this Spanish hospital that the Surgeon-General of this State accompanied Colonel Senn and wrote up the history for him of 176 cases of typhoid fever. This occupied two days, beginning at 9 o'clock in the morning and continuing until 9 o'clock in the evening in going from cot to cot, in an atmosphere anything but hygienic and amidst soldiers it is to be regretted poorly cared for and not dietically managed in accordance with their condition. Colonel Senn was determined to locate the cause of the difficulty, and, therefore, he instituted this thorough method of examination and of making a record of cases. The typhoid fever which prevailed at this place was easily traced in most instances to Chickamauga. The report based on the history of the cases was considered so important that General Miles cabled it as presented by Colonel Senn to the Secretary of War. Colonel Greenleaf on reading the report of Colonel Senn ordered a consultation to consider not only the typhoid fever questions, but all others pertaining to the medical department there. Those present at this consultation were Colonel Greenleaf, chief of the medical department in the field, Col. Nicholas Senn, chief of the operating staff in the field, Major Dailey, on General Miles's staff, Major Torney, of the hospital ship Relief, and General Terry, Surgeon-General of the State of New York, unofficially. The report of the conclusions of this council were cabled to General Sternberg at Washington to be acted upon.

Colonel Greenleaf, chief of the medical staff in the field, while en route on board the Yale for Porto Rico, July 24th, issued circulars of instruction to the medical officers bearing on the medical department in relation to our men on these islands. The sanitary condition, inspection, disinfection and prevention and dissemination of infectious diseases by ship were questions of the greatest importance. His instructions show careful consideration of the entire subject. Any criticism, therefore, in regard to his part of the work, would hardly be just, for he urged the immediate organization of the field hospital on land; that medical officers should report supplies needed, requesting extreme vigilance in regard to sanitary matters, gave advice in regard to the first dressing of wounds and dealt with the question of inspection and isolation of ships containing infectious diseases in a most thorough manner. It is not for me to say why the instructions were not properly carried out at the Spanish Military Hospital.

The little hospital at Guayama, about three and a half miles west of Ponce, was visited and it was exceedingly interesting to see the Spanish wounded soldiers, guerrillas and our troops in the same room. The Spanish prisoner unable to understand English carried an anxious look in his countenance, while the American soldier exhibited a quiet, confident smile of content, which made the comparison an interesting psychological study.

Arroya, about thirty-five miles east of Ponce, was visited and at the small hospital a number of sick American soldiers were taken on board. At the last stopping place Mayaguez the converted hospital from an opera house was visited by our medical officers and quite a number of sick soldiers placed on board.

The sanitary condition of Porto Rico was quite a surprise, being much better than was expected. The beautifully macadamized roads running between the large cities and the excellent condition of the surface sewers was quite noticeable from a sanitary point of view. Especially was this the case in Mayaguez, where the drains were made of well laid brick with clear water running through them constantly. When we consider the extreme cleanliness of the streets,—better than any we have seen in this country,—offset by high walled houses, with the exterior colors of light blue, grays and brown, then the marked tropical fertility of the surrounding country we cannot but have much admiration for the island.

The voyage home from Porto Rico was uneventful with the exception of the sad feature of the burial of fourteen of our unfortunate soldiers at sea, all having expired from the results of typhoid fever.

On the return of the Surgeon-General to the city of New York he was requested by the Adjutant-General, in view of the serious reports in regard to the condition of our troops at the various camps at the south, to immediately make a tour of inspection, reporting every hour by wire, if possible, in order that the most exact information might be obtained in regard to our volunteer soldiers, and that the speediest help might be given by the Governor of the State of New York, who was particularly anxious that everything possible within the limits of his power should be done for their comfort and welfare.

The following is the report presented to the Governor, of the tour of inspection of the various camps:

Report of an Inspection, made by Surgeon-General M. O. Terry, of the Camps Occupied by the New York State Volunteers.

To His Excellency, FRANK S. BLACK, Governor of the State of New York:

Sir.—I have the honor to submit my report of a tour of inspection of the various camps in the south, which included Camps Alger, Va., Thomas, in Chickamauga, Ga., and Fernandina, Fla., in accordance with instructions received through the Adjutant-General, immediately upon my return from Porto Rico. I proceeded to Washington with no preparations for such a journey to ascertain the location of the troops of the State of New York enlisted in volunteer service for the war with Spain. I had no specific instructions in reference to my duties other than to ascertain the condition of the troops, to make such suggestions as I thought wise, and to report every hour by wire, if possible, in order to convey the best understanding of the condition of the men and camps to be visited.

At the War Department I ascertained that the 65th Regiment was at Dunn Loring, Camp Alger, the 8th, 9th, 12th and 14th Regiments at Chickamauga, the 69th Regiment and 2d Provisional at Fernandina, Florida.

My first visit was to Camp Alger. I called at once upon Major A. H. Briggs, Surgeon of the 65th Regiment. He informed me that he was the Sanitary Inspector of the Corps and that he and his men were highly gratified over the fact that the Governor of New York had sent the Surgeon-General of the State to inquire into their condition. Major Briggs gave me every attention necessary for ascertaining everything pertaining to the welfare of the troops.

The site of the camp was a most excellent one and the soil sandy, which made it possible for the construction of excellent sinks. The entire policing of the camp was the finest I have ever seen. I had absolutely no criticism to make. The system adopted was a guard being placed at the sinks and a shovel at each one so that dirt was constantly applied after the use of the sink, which, with the aid of a small quantity of lime, prevented the disgusting odors prevalent at such places in the various camps. Usually camps are policed three times a day. This is not sufficient for sanitary purposes. This I consider was the model camp of the entire army. I am pleased to give the credit to the State of New York for it was under the sanitary management of Major A. H. Briggs, of the 65th Regiment, U. S. V., that this system was established.

The water supply of the camp was defective for drinking purposes. It had to be brought a distance of three-quarters of a mile to two miles.

The marked amount of sickness present was mainly due to two causes: malarial influence, more particularly prevalent at this season of the year, and typhoid fever, which had been brought into camp and which was still developing to some extent.

To ascertain the causes of the disease prevailing, to suggest measures of arresting them and to report the result of my inspection to Your Excellency in order that you might send all of the relief desired seemed to be the summary of my duties.

The vital question at issue, the cause of typhoid fever, has been considered as carefully as time would permit. It was my privilege to be at the first meeting of the board, suggested by Surgeon-General Sternberg, composed of Majors Shakespere, Vaughn and Reed. Major Briggs was the witness on that occasion. Water, milk, the sources of the same, location of camps, and the use of various fruits were considered. Nothing definite was arrived at as to the causation of the typhoid fever and diarrhoea so prevalent.

The Division Hospital was over crowded, as in most cases, and Major Briggs retained soldiers just coming down with fever in quarters for two or three days giving them the proper remedies and treatment for diagnostic purposes. In that time the fever would either disappear or else its continued form would clear the diagnosis as to its typhoid character.

The army regulations do not provide for regimental hospitals and, therefore, this method of painstaking diagnosis is prohibited and I have evidence of its being censurable.

The requisition which I gave to the Surgeon-General, in Washington, after my visit to this camp, (Dunn Loring, Camp Alger) was for remedies used in this sort of way. There was manifest fear upon the part of some of the surgeons in making requisitions for some of the equipments necessary for the temporary regimental hospital, knowing it was not allowed. Many remedies needed on this occasion had been ordered for three weeks in succession without their being obtained. In asking the question of the Surgeon-General why it was that the government did not have a supply on hand he seemed vexed, surprised and irritated in regard to the matter and desired my list. Besides the remedies on the list, tents were needed. Fearing that they would not be forthcoming for the purposes intended I wired Your Excellency for them. Surgeon-General Sternberg subsequently wired me, after I had sent him a telegram asking him if the order had been filled, the following day:

"Supplies have been ordered. You have no further responsibility in the matter."

The red tape feature, so-called, involved in procuring articles in such emergencies and the arbitrariness of orders in Washington in preventing the surgeon taking charge of the men in his regiment temporarily led me to act as I have described.

The Surgeon-General has written me since my return showing he has thoroughly investigated my complaints, as he inclosed various reports. As I supposed, the men showed fear when the list given me was shown and discrepancies exist therefor. Men are brave before bullets, but fear the penalty of using their brains outside of orders, even though they know such orders are against the welfare of the sick soldier. It has been done right along in many instances and I shall certainly take up the case and show up any high official who will dare prosecute any of our humane surgeons who have given their personal attention to any of the regimental organizations by detention and treatment for a few days in regimental hospitals, should it be the pleasure of Your Excellency to allow it to be done.

I am fully convinced of the good intentions of the Surgeon-General of the army, and that he wrote out precautions in the form of circulars for the prevention of fevers and gave sanitary instructions early in the late war.

After the meeting of the board appointed by Surgeon-General Sternberg I requested Major Briggs to show me the previous camps occupied by the troops and to show me the source of infection if possible. I visited with him Fairfax Manor. The house was built one hundred and sixty-three years ago and is located, perhaps, at a distance of fifty feet and at an elevation of six feet higher than a box reservoir constructed about two feet square, said to be a spring, but judging from the odor constantly given off from it, a drain, although the water was comparatively clear. In juxtaposition to this small reservoir was one constructed twice its size from which the soldiers obtained the water for drinking purposes as they could get no other water, when they first located on Camp Alger.

The sickness in the 65th Regiment and in the Vermont Regiment began in this camp. A chemical analysis later may determine the character of this poisonous water.

It should be stated in defence of Surgeon-General Sternberg that he stated to me on the evening of August 20th, when I saw him at his house, that he had not been consulted in reference to the location of the camp.

THE CHICKAMAUGA CAMP.

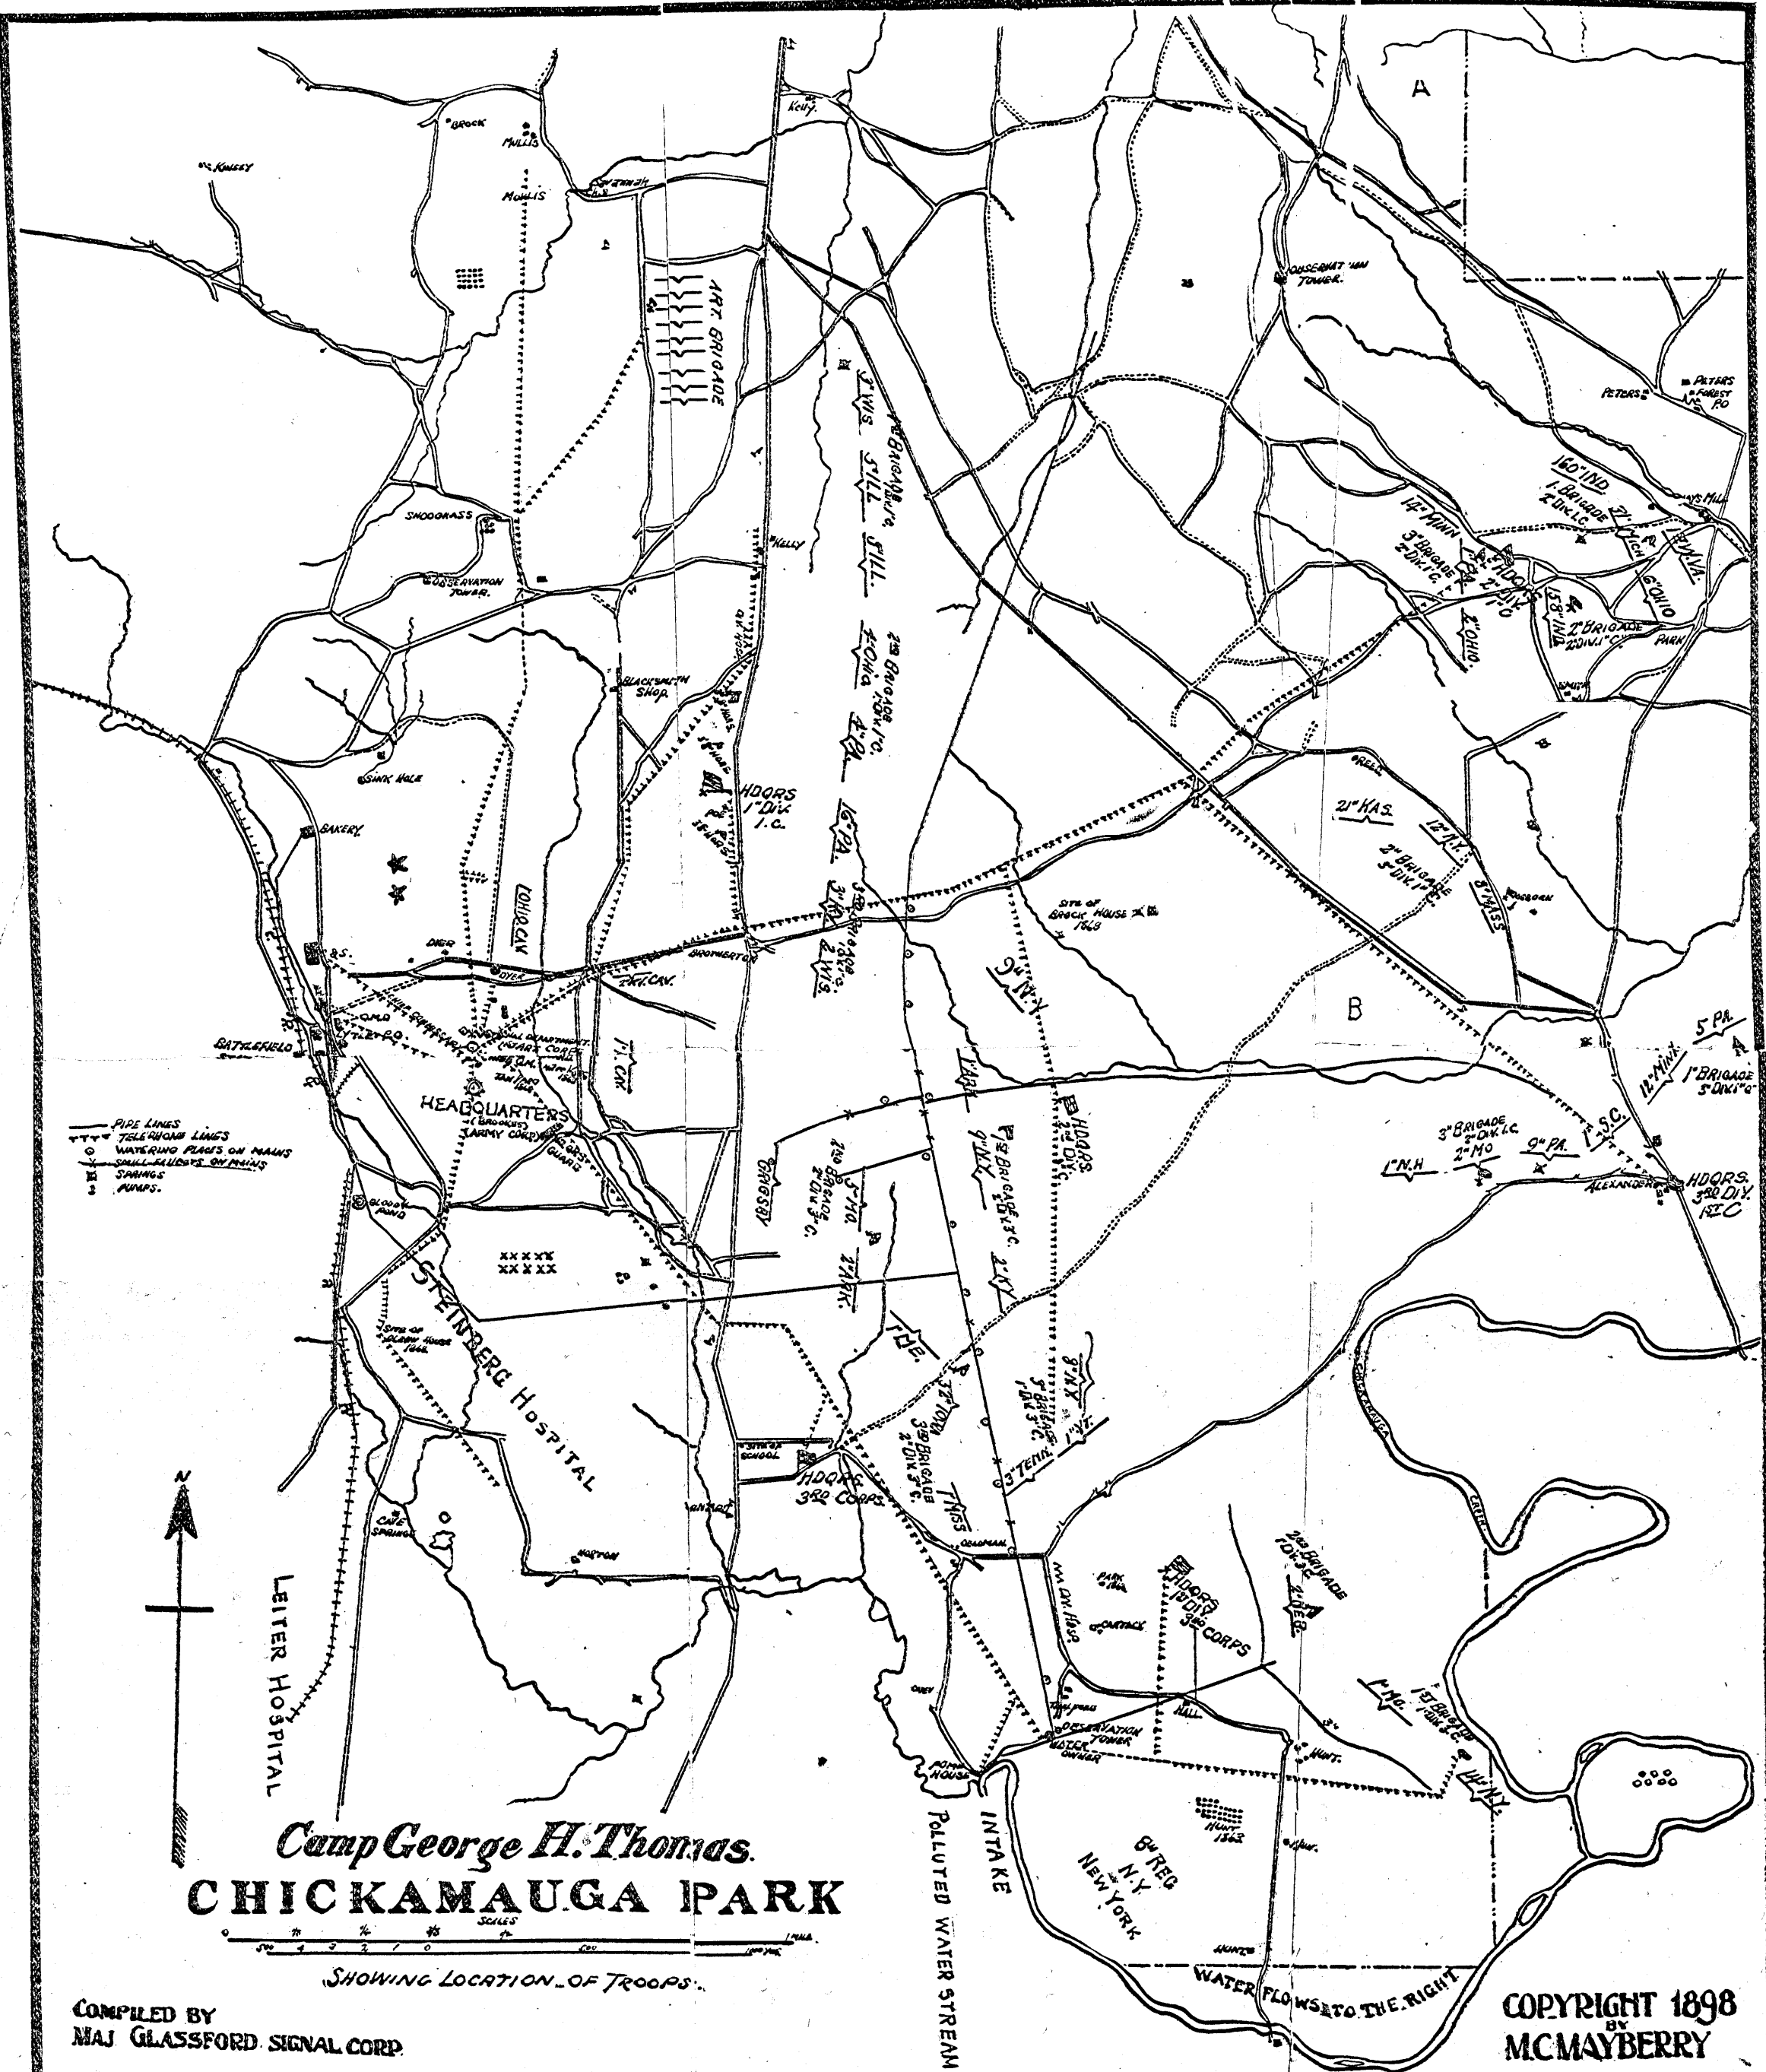

On August 22d I arrived at Chattanooga. My first inspection was that of the 8th Regiment, N. Y. V. They were located in that part of Chickamauga Park known as Hunt's Field. This organization belonged to the Third Brigade, First Division, Third Army Corps. Lieutenant-Colonel Jarvis was in charge, Colonel Chauncy having gone home ill.

Major K. Neff, surgeon of the regiment, gave me the facts wired to Your Excellency at Albany in regard to the needs of the regiment, which were corroborated by Colonel Jarvis. He stated that there were 101 sick in the Division Hospital, three in Sternberg Hospital, four in Fort McPherson, one in Insane Asylum, Washington, and three in Leiter Hospital that there were also 194 in quarters not able to be received in hospitals and that he considered about forty per cent. were ill with typhoid fever. There had been five deaths since they came to Chickamauga Park. To impress me with the sad condition of the regiment a special sick call was made before the colonel's tent. I shall never forget the scene, as the soldiers came from every street slowly, some being assisted, until they formed a double line. I certainly did not count them, as too much pain, sorrow and weakness was presented to my view to allow them to remain any length of time. After a hasty examination along the line I had them dismissed as rapidly as possible fully convinced of the sad condition of the Eighth Regiment.

I examined the sinks and found them badly kept. The excuse given was that the shovels had been taken away with details of men outside of the regiment for work elsewhere and that, therefore, they could not keep the sinks in a proper condition.

Upon an examination of the tents it was found that the men were sleeping on the ground with only a rubber blanket under them. The only cots in the possession of the soldiers were those given by the State of New York, now used for hospital purposes, and those were about worn out. The hospital tent in use was borrowed from the Anheuser Brewing Company. Major Neff and Colonel Jarvis stated that the tents were not large enough to admit of the cots necessary for the men; that they needed 182 wall tents, three hospital tents and 1,250 cots, 75 shovels and 12 axes, besides the list of remedies wired, which could not be procured. It was said that an order had been issued for an out-march of sixty miles of ten days duration for Wednesday. As it was now Monday I knew that vigorous action would be necessary in order to prevent such an outrage upon these poor sick and forlorn men. I therefore wired Your Excellency requesting that what seemed an unnecessary hardship should be prevented. I also saw General Breckenridge in regard to the matter and stated that if such an out-march were taken it would be a barbarous act in view of the number of sick in the Eighth Regiment and that they would be obliged to be left in quarters on account of being unable to be admitted in the Division Hospital. The order was rescinded before 12 o'clock the following day.

The water procured by this regiment was from Blue Spring, two miles distant. It was said to be good water. Major Neff stated that it was his opinion that ninety-nine out of every one hundred wished to go home at once. All of those whom I met in this organization seemed grateful to Your Excellency for sending the Surgeon-General of the State of New York to look after their welfare. The reasons given for their desire to go home was the amount of sickness, lack of accommodations and care, the overwork and calls upon them for outside service and the lack of consideration shown them in their pitiable condition.

THE FOURTEENTH REGIMENT.

The next call I made was upon Colonel Wilder of the Fourteenth Regiment. Fortunately this regiment had means to purchase a distilling apparatus, costing $300 and which produced from one thousand to fifteen hundred gallons of water per day, quite equal to the demands of a regiment for drinking and cooking purposes.

Colonel Wilder and the assistant surgeon accompanied me while I made an inspection of the camp. The sinks were poorly policed. In one of them I found a piece of meat, weighing about fifty pounds, in process of decomposition and covered with flies. This was floating in the contents of the sink. When I criticised this condition remarking that it furnished an excellent source for the propagation of typhoid fever germs a young surgeon replied that typhoid fever was not spread in that way. On the suggestion then being made that flies were excellent carriers of poison the discussion ceased. It is difficult to understand, in view of the generally well known ability of the fly to communicate diseases, why sinks should not be cared for properly. When I say "cared for properly" I refer to policing such as was carried out only at Camp Alger under the sanitary inspector, Major A. H. Briggs of the Sixty-fifth New York Volunteers. It was the constant attention to these sinks, keeping all sorts of elements of decay under the cover of earth by use of spades, the same being placed at each sink and a guard on duty to see that it was done, which made Camp Alger a model in this respect.

The health of the Fourteenth Regiment was exceptionally good as only 82 cases were reported to me, 16 of which were of typhoid and those, I was informed, were the product of three days of neglect in reference to the use of boiled and distilled water.

I do not understand why it is that colonels cannot keep in touch with the minds of their men. In my inspection and investigation for instance in the Fourteenth Regiment Colonel Wilder gave me the impression that the Fourteenth Regiment men were happy, contented and willing to remain in the service where they were, or wherever they might be directed to go. On returning with the colonel, from a tour of inspection, I asked to be excused in order that I might interview the men alone in regard to some matters. I entered seven tents in a promiscuous sort of a way, appearing as a private citizen, fearing that the position of Surgeon-General if announced might prevent my obtaining the actual mental status of our soldiers. My salutation was usually, "Hello, boys! Are you happy?" The reply in every instance in all the seven tents which I visited, "We want to go home; the war is over. We didn't enlist for garrison duty. We will walk home if you will let us go." When I made this statement to the colonel he appeared very much surprised.

If the head of the medical department in the various camps depend upon reports entirely instead of visiting places of importance to see if his sanitary instructions are not fully carried out, whether through his subordinates or by circular, it is quite possible and fairly probable that there will be broken links in the chain by incompetent officers which will interrupt the current of completion which has to do with the welfare and the lives of the men. The head medical officer, therefore, may receive beautiful reports satisfactory in every detail calculated to convince him that all sanitary measures have been properly carried out. The conditions may be as erroneous as the opinion held by the colonel in reference to the desire of his men to remain in service.

THE TWELFTH REGIMENT.

The Twelfth Regiment was next visited and it was found that they were just sending home 100 men and had 108 in the hospitals. They were obtaining water from Blue Spring in barrels which was then boiled and filtered for use. They were going soon to Lexington, Kentucky. Their camp was found to be in excellent condition, but the sinks were not taken care of as they should be, although much better than some others which were seen.

A few pipes attached to the water mains furnished baths for the men. There was also an incinerator built of rock for the purpose of disposing of garbage.

The Ninth and Twelfth Regiments were making many improvements for the comfort of the men, which reflects great credit upon their commanding officers, Colonels Green and Leonard.

THE NINTH REGIMENT.

The Ninth Regiment camp was in excellent condition and better than others in many respects. They were using 1,500 gallons of water brought each day from Blue lake. This required three teams constantly occupied.

A bath house had been constructed for the men and officers at a cost of $360. Money was obtained by each man paying twenty-five cents and each officer two dollars. This gave the men forty shower baths and the officers six and two tubs. Seventy-five thousand feet of lumber had been purchased out of the regimental canteen fund for the purpose of flooring the tents. The water used in this camp was carefully boiled and filtered. These various comforts are the result of the kindly attention and painstaking interest of Colonel Green who ever has under consideration the welfare of his men. The sinks I am obliged to state were not policed as they should be.

CHICKAMAUGA CREEK.

Chickamauga, or "River of Death," was well named by the Indians, for the death-dealing potion of its creek is still more contaminated by polluted streams of surface water. It is difficult, indeed, to understand in the selection of a camp why the question of water should not be considered of the greatest importance of all, for it is through it that the germs of typhoid fever, that direful disease of camp life, is usually introduced and propagated among the soldiers. It is too apparent in looking at this water that it is unfit for use; no one should think of using it for drinking purposes, or even for preparing food, as the water is so impregnated with vegetable matter and the chemical products of the soil. It is absolutely yellow in color.

The question most important to be considered, however, aside from the disagreeable features of the water itself, is the source of its pollution. Chickamauga Creek is a stream of water which received, until August 8, 1898, surface water from one-half of Chickamauga Park at the intake. I was in Camp Chickamauga on August 22d and although this had been a camp for our soldiers for a long time, a polluted stream, which emptied into Chickamauga Creek, had only just been cut off by a dam of earth hardly fifteen feet in width. Strange to say it was scarcely fifty feet away from here that the water was pumped into pipes for the purpose of supplying the soldiers in the park with water and this water was used at the Division Hospital for various purposes. It is true that much of the water was being boiled and filtered. It is also true that where the boiled and filtered water was used at one of the Division Hospitals I saw the dishes were being washed in polluted water. If flies can communicate disease by their delicate footsteps alighting on food, surely dishes washed in polluted water will be sufficiently contaminated to infect food and, therefore, take away any advantage there might be in drinking pure water.

Much credit is due Col. John V. R. Hoff for the completeness of the Sternberg Hospital of which he is the originator. This is the finest and best equipped tent hospital we have in the field. Everything was new, the arrangement of the tents systematic, a large corps of trained nurses were in attendance, wooden pavilions were being erected for additional wards, operating rooms and for office work. They have also a large plant for distilling and filtering water. In fact, but little, if anything, is wanted to make this an ideal camp hospital.

LEITER HOSPITAL.

The Leiter Hospital is a hospital converted from a summer hotel about three and a half miles out from the Sternberg Hospital. It answers the purpose very nicely having a capacity of about two hundred and seventy-five beds. It is under the care of Dr. Carter. It is well managed, having electric lights, electric fans and other features of the modern hospital.

CAMP FERNANDINA.

The location of the Fernandina Camp, occupied by the Sixty-ninth Regiment, I consider an excellent one, but warm, of course, as one might expect. The water supply is obtained from wells seven hundred feet below the surface. It is drawn through rock strata by pumping. It is clear, does not decompose rapidly, is impregnated with free sulphureted hydrogen which disappears, however, after a few hours and aeration causes it to disappear more rapidly.

The Sixty-ninth-Regiment had twenty-one men in the hospital and fifteen in quarters. Reported on sick list were seventy-seven under treatment. Of the total number only fourteen were typhoids, malarial ten, dysentery two, diarrhoea four, other conditions seven.

The sinks were not properly policed although the soil was favorable to keeping them in excellent sanitary condition. Colonel Duffy was very much interested in the method of policing described at Camp Alger and assured me he would institute the same system.

The camp is located about a mile and a quarter from a beautiful beach. One of the methods of caring for the sick was to place them in ambulances and drive them along the beach which was perfectly smooth and was also quite an extended one, thus giving the soldiers the benefit of refreshing sea air. Another method for keeping up the spirits of the men and improving their health was a march ending up at the beach after which the troops broke ranks and then were at liberty for any sport or rest.

My official duties ending here in the South I took a train for Jacksonville thinking it necessary to catch a fast train for Washington. The few hours I was in Jacksonville I decided to inspect General Lee's camp. Colonel Maus, his chief surgeon, showed me the first and second division camps. General Lee had given him entire charge of the medical department so that he was able to make changes for the betterment of the service. When he found men occupying places unfitted for them he had been able to arrange the medical service in places adapted for the men.

I am convinced that the confidence imposed in Colonel Maus, the chief surgeon, was not misplaced and that General Lee showed an unusual amount of wisdom in placing the medical department in the hands of Colonel Maus, holding him responsible for the work in question.

The location of the Jacksonville Camp was on a sandy soil among the pine trees. Colonel Maus arranged his division hospital in a unique manner. It was in the form of a wheel, the wards representing the spokes, the hub the court and two of the spokes the dispensary and the medical officers' tent, from which place he had a view through the different aisles of the wards of his division hospital. The tents were artistically connected, the branches of the pine trees forming an arbor or fly.

There was under progress of construction a number of tents each to contain four patients only, especially for severe typhoid cases. The sinks could not be policed owing to certain regulations in Jacksonville. Tubs were placed within wooden shelters and carted away three times a day. Quantities of disinfectants, such as carbolic acid and lime were used. Flies in abundance massing in these quarters made me feel ill at ease in regard to their contaminating influence over the kitchen service.

The per cent. of sick was very light, however, which might be credited to the good fortune of not having previous contamination as was the case in many instances. I have only words of praise, however, for Colonel Maus for the great amount of pains he was taking in ascertaining the condition of the troops and for the watchfulness and interest manifested in his important department.

Maps are inclosed herewith showing Chickamauga Park, Chickamauga Creek, the polluted stream, its point of entrance into the creek, near the steam pump which throws the water into the pipes which distribute it throughout the camp.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

In view of the condition of the troops and that the stimulant of war has been removed, leaving them in service, in most instances without heart, but with an intense desire for home, I most respectfully recommend that the same be returned and mustered out if possible rather than to send them to any camp.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Dated UTICA, N. Y., September 1, 1898.

Report of Inspection of Camp Black, made September 7, 1898.

GENERAL C. WHITNEY TILLINGHAST, 2d, Adjutant-General, S.N.Y.:

Sir.—I have the honor to report the following in regard to Camp Black:

This camp has excellent surface drains and is well taken care of by a system of flushing. This is done half an hour after the various uses of water in the morning. The drains, in some instances, have chloride of lime sprinkled all along them. This is an excellent system in addition to flushing as the water is received in cesspools or reservoirs in a disinfected condition. A second reservoir is dug beyond the first one and the drain switched off into it in order to allow the first one to absorb its contents through the porous earth. The reservoirs are in sizes varying from 38x27 and 24x30. Colonel W. E. Spencer instituted this sanitary drain. These cesspools, with relief provided, have their sides scaled and chloride of lime again applied when the absorbing surface fails to take up the kitchen and washing sewage.

SINKS.

The sinks need constant policing as recommended by Major Briggs at Camp Alger. They are well disinfected three times a day however, but flies are well represented and some provision should be made for their exclusion at these places in order to prevent contamination of food in the kitchens. A thick solution of lime is poured over the sinks each morning. All food is supposed to be covered in this camp with burlap soaked in a solution of salt water. Every 24 hours garbage is taken out of the camp and in some instances it is buried 18 inches below the surface of the ground, while in other cases it is burned.

THE SICK ON SEPTEMBER 7, 1898.

There were 161 sick in the field hospital and 248 in quarters, including 33 with typhoid, all doing well. Mortality: three from typhoid since July 14. One from tetanus following vaccination.

THE WATER.

(An analysis.)

BOARD OF HEALTH, NEW YORK,

September 7, 1898.

No typhoid bacilli were found. Other bacteria to the number of 10,000 per c.c. were discovered, probably due to delay in transmission and the excessive heat.

LEROY W. HUBBARD, M. D.,

Acting Asst. Director, Diagnosis Bacteriological Laboratory.

WANT OF MEDICAL SUPPLIES.

Col. W. E. Spencer, surgeon of the 201st, stated that he had made repeated requisitions for phenacetine for more than one week and it was stated by Major Timothy E. Wilcox in charge of the commissary that it was not in stock. I saw Major Wilcox before leaving camp and demanded an explanation for allowing Colonel Spencer to leave Camp Black for Camp Mead without the remedies he desired, which were listed. He shifted the responsibility on the railroad company, stating it took five days to get goods from New York. My advice was to order five days ahead. I left, giving him the impression that he would be reported to the surgeon-general, U. S. A.

It was noticed that some of the surgeons were not supplied with field desks by the government in Camp Black. In place of them they had taken boxes and constructed some sort of an arrangement which really seemed unnecessary in view of the complete supply of medical and surgical equipment said to be on hand by the surgeon-general, U. S. A.

CAMP WIKOFF.

Unofficially I visited this so-called fine camp. On my way to the train I met a four mule team driven by a colored man. The dust was flying in clouds over his wagon with its high board sides. He had a load of bread, as one draws wood, uncovered, and exposed to the dust. An analysis of this dust would be interesting, in view of the effects which various bacilli, such as typhoid and tubercular, have on the healthy man or soldier.

There are too many malarial cesspools in this camp and the sink system is too imperfect to expect it to be a healthy one. The camp should have been drained of cesspools before being occupied.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The following order coming from the office of the Adjutant-General at the end of his services for the state gives the Surgeon-General no little degree of satisfaction as an assurance of the complete re-equipment of the Medical Department following the war. This is but another manifestation of the watchfulness and interest of the Adjutant-General in this department. The following is a copy of the order for the re-equipment of the Medical Department:

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS STATE OF NEW YORK,
ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
ALBANY, November 3, 1898.

Special Orders, }
No. 198. }

EXTRACT.

I. The Chief of Ordnance, after consultation with the Surgeon-General, is authorized to purchase 18 medical and surgical chests, 15 surgical field cases, 80 orderly pouches, 125 Hospital Corps pouches, 200 Hospital Corps knives, 80 litters and 275 non-commissioned staff officer's belts and plates.

By Order of the Commander-in-Chief.

C. WHITNEY TILLINGHAST, 2d,
Adjutant-General.

THE HOSPITAL CORPS.

The Surgeon-General is unable to report "upon the condition and efficacy of the Hospital Corps" owing to the fact that the war with Spain has completely disorganized this arm of the Guard. So few reports have come in that it seems inadvisable to submit them. It is to be hoped that an organization which was most complete and efficient in every detail at the opening of the war will be again placed in the proud position it previously occupied, for it is the opinion of the Surgeon-General that no better organization existed among the various states. At the state camp the greatest of care was taken to give the men practical and theoretical training and at their respective armories the medical officers carried on the work during the winter season enthusiastically and with marked thoroughness in most instances.

CAMP TOWNSEND.

It is the opinion of the Surgeon-General that the Guard will gain more practical information by being given tours of duty as a whole each season than to occupy the state camp. The location is not a good one, if a state camp is to be continued, and the mess hall is objectionable; it is too much like a picnic to dine in such a manner. Summer tours should be practical in every detail and the state camp is defective in that men do not get the practical working of a campaign tour. Then Camp Townsend is exposed to malarial emanations from below which cannot well be removed. Every year men have left the camp nursing a run of malaria, which, in many instances, has lingered with them indefinitely. For these reasons it is the opinion of the Surgeon-General that the state camp should be discontinued.

In concluding his services to the state, extending over an interval of four years, the Surgeon-General cannot lay aside the duties, which he has always felt to have been imperative in character, without referring to the pleasant relations which have existed between the medical officers of the entire Guard and the Adjutant-Generals. It is a matter of great satisfaction that amidst the various duties during that period of time no strained relations have existed to break up the pleasure of that fellowship existing between the medical officers and the Surgeon-General. He considers it a great honor to have been at the head of a department of medical officers of such high standing in their profession throughout the state and he looks forward with anticipation of continued growth in a department in which the medical officers of this state have such an inherent pride. It is to be deeply regretted that notwithstanding the fact that more than two-thirds of the medical arm of the Guard were in favor of a separate organization it could not have been allowed. The medical service of the regular army is now more effective and other countries have found that separate medical corps are much to be preferred. There should be given the medical officer an impetus for the sacrifices incident to the duties he is called upon to meet in the service and this can only be obtained through a separate medical corps as in the regular army and as in foreign countries. As now arranged by the new code the Medical Department is so obscured in a routine line that there remains nothing but personal affiliations with organizations, and the loyalty to the state, so inherent with all our citizens, to invite enlistment. It is to be hoped that the state will recognize the fact that medical men are best able to judge of how they can serve her interest and will see to it in the future that they shall have the scope for improvement which they desire, and the independent organized action for growth which seems necessary.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

M. O. TERRY,

Surgeon-General.

APPENDIX "E."

Paymaster-General's Report.

OFFICE OF THE PAYMASTER-GENERAL, S. N. Y., 1654 BROADWAY,

NEW YORK, December 31, 1898.

To the Adjutant-General, S. N. Y., Albany, N. Y.:

Sir.—I have the honor to submit the following report of the operations of this department for the year 1898 to date:

As no troops were ordered to the camp of instruction, or into the field for practice or marches, no payments were necessary from the regular National Guard appropriation, and as I shall have no successor in office, have turned over to you for disposition the balance from 1897, amounting to $1,703.88.

The war with Spain made it necessary, however, to make extensive payments to the National Guard and volunteers, called out by the Commander-in-Chief, under the provisions of chapter 181, Laws of 1898, during the time they were assembled in camp at Peekskill and Hempstead for the purpose of organization, and muster-in to the United States service.

On May 15th this department received your orders to prepare to pay all volunteers. A doubt at once arose as to the date from which the United States pay of volunteers would commence. If from date of muster-in, the State should pay at the rate prescribed by the code, but if from the date of enrolment, there would be a period during which the soldier would be in receipt of pay from two sources, and this would entail a large outlay to be recovered when possible from the United States.

As soon as it appeared that the United States had assumed the pay of volunteers from date of enrolment, I advised that it would be just to pay the difference only between the full State duty pay and the United States rate, and this course was authorized by the Commander-in-Chief. The amount of the United States pay was only authoritatively ascertained from the Adjutant-General, U. S. A., on June 1, being based on the law passed by Congress May 26, and even that enactment was differently construed by various United States paymasters.

No proper payrolls were then in existence, although in some of the organizations the work had been commenced, based on different principles as different commanders entertained views on the subject.

II. The rolls on file in this office, made up in camp, duly signed and sworn to by the commanding officer, comprising both volunteers and non-volunteers, and hereafter to be known as "preliminary rolls," will be assumed as authentic and correct, and will form the basis of payment of non-volunteers, as they already have been the basis of payment of volunteers.

III. Each non-volunteer claiming pay must file with his present commanding officer a claim in the form prepared by this department, consisting of: 1. Affidavit of identity and service. 2. Approval of superior officer. 3. Receipt. The entire claim is to be in duplicate. It is recommended that the amount in the receipt be left blank; for, if incorrectly stated, the claim will be void and the papers will be returned for re-execution. The signature of the claimant must agree with that on the preliminary roll, otherwise the claim will be rejected.

IV. The affidavit of claim may be executed before any field officer of claimant's present organization or before the commanding officer of a separate company, troop or battery. Such officer will forward the claim direct to this office, preserving a record of those forwarded but not tabulating them into a pay-roll, which will be done by this Department.

V. When the claims have been duly audited in this office, checks payable to the order of each claimant will be sent through the officer forwarding the claim.

VI. No application for non-volunteer pay will be considered unless made in the form above prescribed.

STATE OF NEW YORK,

OFFICE OF THE PAYMASTER GENERAL.

1654 BROADWAY, NEW YORK, Aug. 17, 1898.

CIRCULAR No. 2:

I. Pursuant to Special Orders No. 162, General Headquarters, dated the 16th inst., this Department is now authorized to pay all enlisted men who reported for duty at Camps Black and Townsend, whether they volunteered, were rejected or declined to volunteer; and the following regulations will continue in force.

II. The rolls on file in this office, made up in camp, duly signed and sworn to by the commanding officer, comprising both volunteers and non-volunteers, and known as "preliminary rolls," will be assumed as authentic and correct, and will form the basis of payment of non-volunteers, as they already have been the basis of payment of volunteers.

Approval of superior officer. 3. Receipt. The entire claim is to be in duplicate. It is recommended that the amount in the receipt be left blank; for, if incorrectly stated, the claim will be void and the papers will be returned for re-execution. V. When the claims have been duly audited in this office, checks payable to the order of each claimant will be sent through the officer forwarding the claim.

VI. No application for non-volunteer pay will be considered unless made in the form above prescribed.

WARREN M. HEALEY

Paymaster General.

The rolls reaching the department were irregular, and so incomplete that little use could be made of them. This compelled the department to resort to the United States muster rolls, lodged at the State capitol, where a large corps of clerks were taken and copies made from which final payrolls were constructed. It was, therefore, impossible to prepare rolls upon which the differential payments could be made, that is, with safety and justice to all concerned, until after the regiments had left their camps, and in most cases the State.

The work was vigorously pursued with all the clerical help obtainable both by detail of enlisted men, and competent civilians, at one time upwards of forty being so employed.

From this time the payment proceeded rapidly, the first regiment being paid on June 13 and the last June 29, with the exception of part of the Seventy-first Regiment, which was paid at Montauk Point, August 17, 1898.

These payments have been made from Boston, Mass., to Tampa, Fla., necessitating in the volunteers alone nearly 13,000 transactions, each transaction involving four mathematical problems.

The payments to volunteers have aggregated $164,354.92, as shown in schedule A.

General and staff officers, and other troops placed on duty in connection with the volunteer camps were paid upon separate rolls, aggregating $19,571.41, as shown by schedule B.

Under your further order, General Orders, No. 13, I took up the payment of men who volunteered, but failed to pass the surgeon's examination. For this purpose regulations had to be devised to prevent fraud, and at the same time to facilitate payment of just claims. These regulations were embodied in a circular issued with your sanction under date of July 11, copy of which is attached marked "Exhibit No. 1;" also blank affidavit combining receipt alluded to in circular, and marked "Exhibit No. 2."

Your subsequent orders embodied in Special Orders, No. 162, dated August 16, extended the scope of payments to those who declined to volunteer, or for any reason did not enter the United States service, but who had performed duty at Camp Townsend, Peekskill, and Camp Black, Hempstead Plains, necessitating the issuance of Circular No. 2, of August 17, copy of which is attached, marked "Exhibit No. 3," explaining the method of collecting and disposing of these claims.

Memorandum of Errors.

OFFICE OF THE
PAYMASTER-GENERAL, S. N. Y.
1654 BROADWAY,

New York,, 189 .

Memo.

The Claim of

.....
.....
for services in above described organization, as submitted, being at variance with the evidence in possession of the Department, is denied.

.....
Clerk, Pay Department.

The numerous unforeseen and unprecedented cases which arose in these payments required special treatment, and involved the devising of entirely new forms and methods to meet the emergency. Exhibit No. 4, amendatory payroll, is a form found necessary in numerous cases of men whose names did not appear on any pay-roll whatever, yet who upon verbal and other evidence seemed justly entitled to pay. Exhibit No. 5, memorandum of errors, was necessary in calling attention to irregularities, and in rejecting inadmissible claims, many of which were presented, all carefully considered.

Exhibit No. 6, supplemental payroll, is a summarization of the vouchers marked "Exhibit No. 2," and the connecting link between those vouchers and the preliminary rolls.

Total payments to non-volunteers have amounted to $35,625.17, as per schedule C. The total number of payments was 2,118, of which 1,359 were to those rejected upon physical examination and 759 to those who for other causes did not enter the United States service.

These non-volunteers having in the meantime scattered over the face of the earth, had to be sought from Maine to Manila, from Honolulu to Porto Rico, Wyoming to Alabama. Many of these, having removed their physical disability, were serving in the field. A very extensive and laborious correspondence became necessary, with the object in view of carrying out the orders of the Commander-in-Chief, Governor Black, to pay every just claimant as speedily as possible.

The amounts disbursed for the necessary expenses of the pay department, including pay of clerks, postage, stationery, printing, telegraphing, travel, expressage, room rent, light, etc., are shown in schedule D, the total of which is $3,100.15.

The following account summarizes the entire work of the Department under the Volunteer Act:

The Paymaster-General charges himself with the following amounts paid him by the Treasurer of the State upon requisition to the Comptroller:

1. May 17.....	$50,000 00
2. June 16.....	150,000 00

3. September 2	$20,000 00
4. December 22.....	5,000 00
	<hr/>
	$225,000 00
	<hr/> <hr/>

The Paymaster-General claims credit as follows: For disbursements, vouchers for which have been filed with the Comptroller, for the following purposes:

1. Pay of volunteers in the field, Schedule A.....	$164,354 92
2. Pay of generals and staff officers and other troops placed on duty, Schedule B	19,571 41
3. Pay of non-volunteers, Schedule C.....	35,625 17
4. Expenses of pay department, Schedule D.....	3,100 15
Total disbursements	$222,651 65
Amount turned over to the Comptroller December 30, 1898, being unexpended balance.....	2,348 35
	<hr/>
Total of the discharge.....	$225,000 00

I would respectfully call attention to the fact that with the close of the present year the pay department ceases to exist, and that arrangements will have to be made (1) for the preservation of the very valuable records now in my charge, and (2) for the settlement of claims, which, in spite of efforts made to clear them off, are still outstanding, some being for deceased soldiers whose heirs have not yet filed proper letters of administration.

For the above-mentioned reasons, I think it important that consideration be given to the establishment of a bureau for continuing the work of this department, and for the secure preservation of the documents representing nearly a quarter of a million of dollars, on which must rest the State's claims against the National government.

Respectfully,

WARREN M. HEALEY,

Paymaster-General.

HEADQUARTERS NATIONAL GUARD, NEW YORK,

STEWART BUILDING, 280 BROADWAY,

NEW YORK, CITY, December 28, 1898.

Adjutant-General, S. N. Y., Albany, N. Y.:

Sir—I have the honor to submit the following report for the year: General Orders, No. 3, current series, General Headquarters, placed me in command of the Guard of the State, organized into one division. General Orders, No. 7, current series, General Headquarters, revoked General Orders, No. 3, and "placed me in command of the National Guard of this State subject to the orders of the Governor." Personal inspections were made by me of the Seventh Regiment, February 23; Twenty-third Regiment, February 28; Seventy-first Regiment, March 2; Eighth Regiment, March 3; Twelfth Regiment, March 7; Ninth Regiment, March 9; Sixty-ninth Regiment, March 11; Fourteenth Regiment, March 21; Forty-seventh Regiment, March 23; Troop "C," March 25; Thirteenth Regiment, March 28; Twenty-second Regiment, March 30; First Battery, April 1; Third Battery, April 4; Second Signal Corps, April 5; Second Battery, April 7; First Signal Corps, April 8. The troops at all of these inspections were paraded in undress uniform with full field equipment. The majority of the organizations were found in most excellent condition as regards military appearance, steadiness in ranks and general soldierly bearing, and nearly all had complete field equipment.

The report of Inspector-General Hoffman, who attended me, will give the result of the inspections as regards details.

On recommendation of General Oliver, commanding Third Brigade, and myself, General Orders, No. 6, current series, General Headquarters, March 21, was issued, whereby the Separate Companies of the Third Brigade were organized into battalions.

Report of Camp Black previously forwarded.

Receiving a commission as Brigadier-General of United States Volunteers I was granted a leave of absence from the State, per Special Orders, No. 119, current series, General Headquarters. Resigned from United States Service and resumed command of the National Guard in latter part of September. By General Orders, No. 18, current series, General Headquarters, "the re-establishment of the organizations of the National Guard, which have entered the United States Service as Volunteers and are now about to be mustered out, is placed in the hands of the Major-General commanding the National Guard." General Orders, No. 9, Headquarters National Guard, 280 Broadway, extended the time for rifle practice to December 1. General Orders, No. 10, Headquarters National Guard, 280 Broadway, assigned the following supplementary rifle practice days at Creedmoor:

Marksman and Sharpshooters Class—November 5, 12, 19 and 26.

Marksman and Expert Class—November 4, 11, 18 and 25.

A circular and two General Orders, Nos. 11 and 12, were issued upon the subject of re-establishing the Guard. By Special Orders, No. 118, current series, Headquarters National Guard, November 19, the Second Regiment of Volunteers of New York was continued as a regiment of the National Guard, and will be composed of the Sixth, Seventh, Ninth, Twelfth, Eighteenth, Twenty-first, Twenty-second, Thirty-first, Thirty-second, Thirty-sixth, Thirty-seventh and Forty-sixth Separate Companies, with headquarters at Troy, New York.

Special Orders, No. 121, Headquarters National Guard, musters out and disbands the following organizations: One Hundred and Fourteenth Regiment, One Hundred and Sixth, One Hundred and Seventh, One Hundred and Ninth, One Hundred and Twelfth, One Hundred and Eighteenth, One Hundred and Twenty-first, One Hundred and Thirty-first, One Hundred and Thirty-second, One Hundred and Thirty-sixth, One Hundred and Thirty-seventh and One Hundred and Forty-sixth Separate Companies. Paragraph 2, same order, continues Fourteenth Regiment Volunteers as a twelve-company regiment of the National Guard.

Special Orders, No. 123, Headquarters National Guard, disbands Companies L and M of the Seventy-first Regiment, National Guard.

Special Orders, No. 136, Headquarters National Guard, disbands the One Hundred and Thirteenth Separate Company.

Special Orders, No. 208, General Headquarters, November 28, was issued upon my recommendation, authorizing the reorganization and re-establishment of the Thirteenth Regiment under Major George D. Russell, Thirteenth Regiment. At the date of this report the Thirteenth Regiment has 425 enlisted men and 13 commissioned officers.

Special Orders, No. 127, Headquarters National Guard, detailed a court for trial of Captains Bleeker and Meeks, Seventy-first Regiment.

Special Orders, No. 128, Headquarters National Guard, details a court of inquiry at request of Major Smith and Captain Whittle, of the Seventy-first Regiment.

General Orders, No. 20, current series, General Headquarters, combines the Separate Companies of the Fourth Brigade into battalions with headquarters at Niagara Falls, Geneva and Oswego.

I would state that the re-establishing of the National Guard organizations that entered the volunteer service is progressing in the most satisfactory manner. I urgently recommend that the National Guard of the State be armed with the same rifle as the United States army, that the different organizations be provided with a full field equipment, which should be inspected at least once a year. Tentage should be supplied to the entire Guard, which could be stored marked with the number or name of the organization in the State arsenal for all new York regiments, which have not sufficient storage room in the armory.

It is proposed in the future that marches should be made and all that pertains to the practical life of the soldier should be taught in order that the Guard should be placed on a businesslike and soldierly footing.

In closing this report I want to thank all officers and men for their willing, cheerful obedience, and to impress on each that it is an honor to be a member of the National Guard of New York.

Respectfully,

CHAS. F. ROE,

Major-General.

Report of Col. Hurry, Commissary.

1 WEST 38TH STREET, NEW YORK,

December 20, 1898.

Major-General CHAS. F. ROE, N. G. N. Y., 280 Broadway, New York City:

Sir.—I have the honor to make the following report in connection with the subsistence and quartering of recruits for the Two Hundred and First Regiment, Battalion of the Two Hundred and Third Regiment and Fourth and Fifth Batteries, and Company M of the Two Hundred and Second Regiment. Acting under instructions received from Headquarters on June 28, I proceeded to the Twelfth Regiment Armory and made arrangements to quarter and subsist recruits for the Two Hundred and First Regiment. As I was advised that they would be mustered into the United States service as soon as enough recruits were procured to form a company, I arranged to have them fed at a restaurant. Recruiting commenced on the 5th of July, and so many men presented themselves that I found it impossible to feed them in this way; consequently, through the courtesy of Colonel Denney of the One Hundred and Twelfth Regiment, I opened up the kitchen of the armory, and there being a supply of mess kits and cooking utensils for 500 men, I commenced to feed them in the armory, issuing 6,197 rations from July 4, to July 26. On July 18 I received orders to quarter and subsist the Fourth Battery at the armory of the Second Battery at Thirty-third street and Park avenue, and the Fifth Battery at the armory of the First Battery, 334 West Forty-fourth street. I made contracts with caterers at both armories for rations at 65 cents per ration. The Fourth Battery had 862 rations from July 18 to July 27. The Fifth Battery had 1,029 rations during the same period. On August 1, I received orders to provide for the recruiting of Company M, Two Hundred and Second Regiment. This was done in the armory of the Second Battery, and from August 1 to August 8, 567 rations were issued. At the same time the recruiting for the Two Hundred and First was being done, a Battalion for the Two Hundred and Third was being recruited at the Twenty-second Regiment Armory and put under my care. These recruits were marched to the Twelfth Regiment Armory and fed there. The Ordnance Department issued 1,500 mattresses and 1,500 blankets, which were distributed to the different recruiting places as they were needed. From July 5 to August 8, there were 8,655 rations issued at an expense of $5,937.22, making the average cost per ration 68.5 cents. Owing to the presence of such a large number of men at the different recruiting stations there was more or less damage done to the plumbing, glass, etc., and a large amount of cleaning necessary, for which the armorers presented vouchers which were duly paid by the State authorities.

I wish to call particular attention to the courtesy extended me by Colonel Denney and the officers of the One Hundred and Twelfth Regiment, their armory being practically given up during the period of recruiting.

Respectfully,

GILFORD HURRY,

Lieutenant-Colonel and Commissary.

APPENDIX "G."

Report of Brigadier-General Robert Shaw Oliver, Commanding Third Brigade.

HEADQUARTERS THIRD BRIGADE, N. G. N. Y.,

ALBANY, December 1, 1898.

Adjutant-General, State of New York:

Sir—I have the honor to present here with the report of my Brigade for the current year.

Under General Orders, No. 6, Adjutant-General's Office, dated March 21, 1898, the separate companies of this Brigade were organized into seven battalions.

Under General Orders, No. 8, Adjutant-General's Office, dated April 27, 1898, I prepared two regiments for the volunteer service of the United States. As all the organizations of the Brigade had volunteered for service, the selection was somewhat difficult and had finally to be made principally on geographical grounds.

The first regiment was accordingly formed of the Tenth, Twelfth and Sixteenth Battalions. It became necessary, however, to substitute for the Sixteenth Separate Company of the Twelfth Battalion, the Fifteenth Separate Company, part of the Eleventh Battalion.

Colonel Thomas H. Barber, formerly Inspector-General of the State, was appointed Colonel of the regiment; Major Horatio P. Stacpole, of the Tenth Battalion, was appointed Lieutenant-Colonel of the regiment; Major James T. Chase, of the Twelfth Battalion, and Major Walter Scott, of the Sixteenth Battalion, were the Majors of the regiment.

The Second Regiment was composed of the Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth Battalions. Captain Edward E. Hardin, of the Seventh United States Infantry, well and formerly known to the officers of this Brigade, was appointed Colonel of the regiment; Major James H. Lloyd, of the Thirteenth Battalion, Lieutenant-Colonel, and Major James W. Lester, of the Fourteenth Battalion, and Major Austin A. Yates, of the Fifteenth Battalion, were the Majors of the regiment.

Pursuant to the orders of the Commander-in-Chief, new organizations were promptly started about the 3d of May to replace those that entered into the United States service of volunteers. The organization progressed rapidly so that by the 20th of May, the old organizations were replaced by new ones.

May 3, I was ordered with my staff to report to Major-General Roe for duty at the camp near Hempstead. I reported promptly and was assigned to the command of a brigade formed of regiments at Camp Black. I remained on duty at camp until these regiments were mustered into service of the United States, when I was relieved from such duty and returned with my staff to my proper headquarters.

When recruiting parties came from the First and Second Regiments in the field to recruit their organizations to the maximum number, the necessary men were almost at once obtained by the assistance of these new organizations, many of whose members joined these regiments. When new regiments were organized under the second call of the President, a number of men of old and new organizations remaining in the brigade volunteered and joined these regiments, and a large number of officers of these organizations were commissioned by the Governor as officers of volunteers and assigned to these new regiments.

The Governor showed by his action his appreciation of and preference for the National Guard, notwithstanding that the commissioning of these officers would cause embarrassment in the administration of affairs of many companies.

I have been compelled in two instances to detail staff officers to command companies, and many other shifts had to be made in other organizations to provide, at least one officer for a company.

The Second Regiment, Infantry, New York Volunteers, returned to the State September 3, 1898, received a furlough for thirty days, and was mustered out of the service of the United States in the month of October.

November 19, by and with the approval of the Commander-in-Chief, the Second Regiment of the National Guard, organized under General Orders, No. 8, current series, Adjutant-General's Office, for service in the United States Volunteers, as a regiment composed of twelve companies, was by orders of the commanding officer of the National Guard continued as a regiment of the National Guard, composed of the Sixth, Seventh, Ninth, Twelfth, Eighteenth, Twenty-first, Twenty-second, Thirty-first, Thirty-second, Thirty-sixth, Thirty-seventh and Forty-sixth separate companies.

December 10, the One hundred and Sixth, One Hundred and Seventh, One Hundred and Ninth, One Hundred and Twelfth, One Hundred and Eighteenth, One Hundred and Twenty-first, One Hundred and Thirty-first, One Hundred and Thirty-second, One Hundred and Thirty-sixth, One Hundred and Thirty-seventh and One Hundred and Forty-sixth separate companies were mustered out of the service; and December 15, the One Hundred and Twenty-second separate company was also mustered out.

The troops composing this brigade at present are the Third Signal Corps; the Sixth Battery; the Second Regiment; the Tenth Battalion; the One Hundred and Tenth Battalion; the Eleventh Battalion, composed of the Fourth, Eleventh, Fifteenth, One Hundred and Fifteenth and Twenty-third Separate Companies; the Twelfth Battalion, composed of the Fifth, One Hundred and Fifth, Tenth, Fourteenth, One Hundred and Fourteenth, Sixteenth, Twenty-fourth and One Hundred and Twenty-fourth Separate Companies; the Sixteenth Battalion, composed of the Twenty-seventh, Twenty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, Fortieth, Forty-fourth, and One Hundred and Forty-fourth Separate Companies; and the Seventeenth Battalion, composed of the Third, One Hundred and Third, Twentieth, One Hundred and Twentieth, Thirty-third and One Hundred and Thirty-third Separate Companies.

Respectfully,

ROBERT SHAW OLIVER,

Brigadier-General.

APPENDIX "H."

Report of Brigadier-General Peter C. Doyle, Commanding Fourth Brigade.

HEADQUARTERS FOURTH BRIGADE, N. G. S. N. Y.,

BUFFALO, N. Y., September 30, 1898.

Adjutant-General, State of New York, Albany, N. Y.:

Sir—I have the honor to submit herewith my annual report. The past year has been an eventful one in the history of this brigade. In May last there were mustered into the service of the United States the following commands:

Sixty-fifth Regiment, the First, Second, Eighth, Thirteenth, Twenty-fifth, Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth, Thirty-fourth, Forty-first, Forty-second, Forty-third, Forty-seventh, Forty-eighth Separate Companies, aggregating at date of semi-annual return of March 30, 1898, 1,683 officers and men.

The Thirteenth Separate Company was attached to the Sixty-fifth Regiment. The remainder of the separate companies were formed into a regiment known as the Third Regiment, New York Volunteer Infantry. The Seventy-fourth Regiment and Fourth Signal Corps were retained in the State service and they are entitled to great credit for the high state of the efficiency maintained.

During the months of May, June and July there were organized and mustered into the State service the following commands to take the place of those mustered into the United States service:

One Hundred and Sixty-fifth Regiment, One Hundred and First, One Hundred and Second, One Hundred and Eighth, One Hundred and Thirteenth, One Hundred and Thirtieth, One Hundred and Thirty-fourth, One Hundred and Forty-first, One Hundred and Forty-second, One Hundred and Forty-third, One Hundred and Forty-seventh, One Hundred and Forty-eighth Separate Companies, aggregating at date of this report 1,032 officers and men.

On May 2 I assumed command of Camp Townsend, Peekskill, N. Y., pursuant to General Orders, No. 8, current series, Adjutant-General's Office, dated Albany, N. Y., April 27, 1898.

The troops in camp were the Eighth, Ninth and Twelfth Regiments, N. G. N. Y. These commands were mustered into the United States service and left for Camp Thomas, Chickamauga Park, as follows:

Twelfth Regiment, on Friday, May 17, at 10 a. m.

Eighth Regiment, on Monday, May 23, at 10 a. m.

Ninth Regiment, on Tuesday, May 24, at 10 a. m.

The camp was then closed with the usual ceremonies and immediately thereafter I left for my home station, pursuant to your orders.

During the year a fire broke out on the Brigade Range and destroyed one of the target butts. This has been thoroughly repaired and the Range is in good order.

The former organizations of this Brigade who are likely to be soon mustered out of the United States service and back into the State service will then be without arms, equipments and uniforms, and the present organizations, except the Seventy-fourth Regiment and the Fourth Signal Corps, are practically unarmed. I would suggest that they be thoroughly equipped at the earliest possible moment. I would also suggest that they be armed with the most modern arms, that they may be prepared to meet in the most efficient manner any future demands which may be made on their duty and patriotism.

Respectfully,

PETER C. DOYLE,

Brigadier-General, Fourth Brigade, N. G. N. Y.

Adjutant-General State of New York:

The Brigade was formed pursuant to General Orders, No. 4, current series, Adjutant-General's Office, and originally consisted of the First Signal Corps, Second Battery, Seventh, Eighth, Sixty-ninth and Seventy-first Regiments, N. The undersigned was commissioned Brigadier-General March 5, 1898, and assigned to the command of the Brigade by Special Order, No. 4, current series, Division National Guard.

Immediately following the declaration of war between the United States and Spain, and upon the call of the President for 100,000 volunteers, the following named organizations of the Brigade were selected (G. At the date of selection to enter the United States service the Eighth Regiment consisted of eight companies; the Sixty-ninth Regiment, eight companies; the Seventy-first Regiment, ten companies.

Under the call regiments were required to consist of twelve companies; companies to consist of eighty-four officers and enlisted men.

In each of the regiments selected from the Brigade the necessary new companies were at once organized and recruited, and officers were named and their qualifications duly passed upon by the brigade board of examiners.

Preparatory to muster into the United States service the Eighth Regiment was ordered to the State camp at Peekskill and the Sixty-ninth and Seventy-first Regiments to Camp Black, Hempstead Plains, L. I.

Under the second call of the President for 75,000 volunteers the strength of each was augmented to 1,326 of all grades. The enlistment of the additional men to raise each regiment to the maximum was under the supervision of officers detailed from the organization in the field and was conducted at their respective regimental armories in New York city. The Eighth Regiment required 337 men to fill its ranks to the maximum. This number was recruited and the men forwarded to the regimental station in the field on June 21, 1898. The Sixty-ninth Regiment required 301 men. This number was recruited and the men forwarded on July 5, 1898. The Seventy-first Regiment required 307 men. This number was recruited and the men forwarded to Camp Black on July 5, 1898.

Under General Orders, No. 10, current series, Adjutant-General's Office, new regiments were organized to replace the regiments of the Brigade which had entered the United States service.

The One Hundred and Eighth Regiment, consisting of eight companies, to replace the Eighth Regiment; six companies mustered into the State service on June 2 and two companies on July 16, 1898.

The One Hundred and Sixty-ninth Regiment, consisting of ten companies, to replace the Sixty-ninth Regiment; seven companies mustered into the State service on June 3, two companies on June 15 and one company on July 14, 1898.

O'Donohue, Quartermaster; Captain Putnam Bradlee Strong and Captain Charles Elliot Warren, Aides-de-Camp; First Lieutenant DeWitt C. Falls, Seventh Regiment, Acting Inspector Small Arms Practice and Ordnance Officer.

Upon the muster into the United States service of the Sixty-ninth and Seventy-first Regiments the temporary brigade was discontinued and the undersigned relieved and ordered to his home station on May 20, 1898.

The strength of the Brigade at the date of this report, exclusive of organizations in the United States service, is 2,710 of all grades.

Respectfully,

GEORGE MOORE SMITH,

Brigadier-General.

Other requisitions and proceedings of boards of audit will be forwarded to the brigade commander and by him direct to the Adjutant-General. All other communications will be required to pass through the headquarters of the National Guard.

VI. The Chief of Ordnance is authorized to issue for the use of officers on the requisition of the commanding officers of brigades, regiments, battalions, squadrons, batteries and separate companies, cartridge boxes from stock, to carry pistol ammunition.

isting with the approval of the regimental commander, by the commanding officer of the company, and for this purpose transferred to the new companies.

IV. The field and staff officers of regiments composed of separate companies will in like manner be commissioned by the Commander-in-Chief upon the nomination of the brigade commander and the recommendation of the commanding officer of the National Guard.

V. To men, who are not at present members of the National Guard, but who now enlist in order to enter the United States service, may be given the assurance that they will not be held to service for a longer period than two years and that their muster out of the United States service is equivalent to muster out of the State service.

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, STATE OF NEW YORK,

ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE,

ALBANY, April 28, 1898.

General Orders, No. 10.

I. It being the purpose of the Commander-in-Chief, in order to replace the organizations of the National Guard now entering the United States service, to organize new regiments and companies, brigade commanders will at once recommend suitable persons to organize regiments and companies as may be directed later.

II. The officers who may be authorized to recruit these organizations, will be appointed by the Commander-in-Chief under the provisions of M. C. 56, after having passed the required examination.

III. Companies will be recruited to the maximum strength allowed by the M. C. and members of organizations who have not volunteered with their commands, or who owing to excess of numbers were not taken with them, will form the nucleus of these new organizations.

IV. Although under the State law, original enlistments must be for five years, these new organizations will be disbanded, the officers will be rendered supernumerary and the enlisted men honorably discharged, when those entering the United States service return.

V. It is understood that those enlisting in the National Guard under this order will have the first opportunity for volunteering for service in the United States army should a second call be made by the President on this State for volunteers.

By order of the Commander-in-Chief,

C. WHITNEY TILLINGHAST, 2D,

Adjutant-General.

In perfecting this organization only such enlisted men as are in proper physical strength and vigor, and not under eighteen nor over forty-five years of age, can be accepted.

As soon as this organization of a regiment is completed, the fact will be reported to these headquarters and the United States mustering officer in camp, so that the regiment can be mustered in the United States service.

II. When a regiment has been mustered in the United States service, its commanding officer will cause an inventory to be made, in duplicate, of all the property in its possession, obtain the certification of the mustering officer thereto, and forward the inventory in duplicate, to these headquarters.

VIII. Each regiment should carry its colors, regimental desk, medical outfit and two Buzzacott military cooking outfits, No. 4.

IX. The medical outfit of a regiment is to consist of the regimental medicine chest, three surgical field cases, three orderly's pouches, six hospital corps pouches and two litters and slings.

X. Under the United States regulations there is allowed in the field baggage not to exceed, for a field officer, 500 pounds; for a captain, 200 pounds; for a first and second lieutenant, each 150 pounds.

XI. To all mounted officers of regiments and troops, forage is furnished for two horses if actually kept by them in the performance of their official duties in serving with troops in the field.

XII. All surplus property will be turned over to the Chief of Ordnance of the State, by the officers responsible for it, so that their accounts can be adjusted.

XIII. A copy of the muster-in roll of each organization must be forwarded to the Adjutant-General, upon receipt of which commissions as volunteer officers will issue to the officers appearing on the roll as mustered in the United States service. On the muster-in roll, in column of remarks, should be stated, opposite names of men who have not been members of the organization heretofore, "recruit" or "transferred from (such) company and regiment."

XIV. The date of enrollment of those of the National Guard who volunteered is the date of the day on which their organization left its home station; the date of muster in will be the day on which they are mustered in the service of United States.

XV. When mustered into the United States service the regiments will be known and designated:

The First Regiment, formed of organizations of the Third Brigade.

First Regiment, Infantry, New York Volunteers.

The Second Regiment, formed of organizations of the Third Brigade.

Second Regiment, Infantry, New York Volunteers.

The Third Regiment, formed of organizations of the Fourth Brigade.

Third Regiment, Infantry, New York Volunteers.

The Eighth Regiment, National Guard.

Eighth Regiment, Infantry, New York Volunteers.

The Ninth Regiment National Guard.

Ninth Regiment, Infantry, New York Volunteers.

The Twelfth Regiment, National Guard.

Twelfth Regiment, Infantry, New York Volunteers.

XVI. While in the United States service, commanding officers of the regiments and of the two troops will forward regularly a copy of the bi-monthly muster-roll and of the monthly return to this office; also a copy of the muster-out roll. This should not be neglected, as the interests of officers and men are closely connected with it.

XVII. Leave of absence is granted to all officers and enlisted men of the National Guard who are mustered into the service of the United States, as above, for the time they are in such service.

XVIII. The Secretary of War has decided that all absolutely necessary expenses for the subsistence, transportation, sheltering and generally the maintenance of volunteers during the interval between their enrollment (enlistment) and their muster (or being sworn) into the service of the United States, * * * will be met by the Government of the United States from the proper appropriation at the disposal of the several staff departments of the Army. Certified vouchers for all expenditures herein authorized will be forwarded to the War Department for audit and payment. The vouchers should be certified by officers of the proper staff departments and approved by the mustering officer.

XIX. Vouchers and accounts must be drawn carefully, correctly and receipted, so that the War Department will have no occasion to return them for correction. The advice of the mustering officer should be taken by officers on this important subject.

XX. The commanding officers of the camps at Hempstead and near Peekskill are charged with the execution of this order so far as its provisions relate to service under them.

By order of the Commander-in-Chief,

C. WHITNEY TILLINGHAST, 2D,

Adjutant-General.

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, STATE OF NEW YORK,

ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE,

ALBANY, May 4, 1898.

General Orders, No. 12.

I. The provisions of General Orders, No. 10, c. s., from these headquarters are supplemented and in part amended by the following:

1st. The persons who received authority to recruit, will without delay commence recruiting. The necessary blanks will be furnished from these headquarters.

2d. When the minimum number of men has been recruited, the fact will be reported to these headquarters, when an order will be issued for the inspection, muster in and election of officers of the company. The minimum strength of a company of infantry is fifty; of a troop, fifty-one enlisted men.

3d. While the period of service is five years, except in case of re-enlistment, it must be distinctly understood that the organizations recruited under this order and General Orders, No. 10, will be disbanded upon the return of the organizations they are raised to replace.

II. All officers and enlisted men, who did not volunteer with their organizations, will at once report to the persons authorized to recruit regiments and companies to replace their respective organizations, and assist them in their work.

III. An able-bodied man of good character who can read and write and who is a citizen of the United States, or has declared his intention to become such, may be enlisted in the National Guard of this State for a term of not less than five years. (M. C. 71.)

IV. No man shall be enlisted who is forty-five years and more of age, or less than eighteen years old, except that men who are sixteen years and more of age may be enlisted as musicians. No minor shall be enlisted without the written consent of his parent or guardian. (M. C. 71.)

V. A man who has served the period of his original enlistment may be re-enlisted for a term of one year or more. No man above the age of forty-five years shall be re-enlisted, except by permission of the commanding officer of the brigade to which the organization is attached. (M. C. 72.)

VI. A man who has been expelled or dishonorably discharged from any military organization of the State shall not be eligible for enlistment or re-enlistment, unless he produce the written consent to such enlistment of the commanding officer of the organization from which he was expelled or dishonorably discharged, and of the commanding officer who approved such expulsion or issued such dishonorable discharge. (M. C. 71.)

VII. Every person who enlists or re-enlists shall sign and make oath to an enlistment paper which shall contain an oath of allegiance to the State and the United States. Such oath shall be taken and subscribed to before a field officer or the commanding officer of a company, who are authorized to administer such oath; but no enlistment shall be valid until it be approved by the commanding officer of the organization to which such company is attached. A person making false oath as to any statement contained in such enlistment paper shall upon conviction be deemed guilty of perjury. (M. C. 73.)

VIII. Physical examination and enlistment papers, and the muster-in rolls should be made out carefully, in legible writing, especially names, and must comply with the provisions of this order and the directions given on them.

IX. The reputation and usefulness of the National Guard depend in no small degree upon the character and qualifications of the men enlisted, and officers charged with the responsible duty of recruiting should therefore fully appreciate its vital importance and perform it conscientiously. (R. 261.)

X. Before a man can enlist or re-enlist he must pass a medical examination as to his physical fitness for the service, and those who desire to enter into a signal corps, as enlisted men, must, in addition, show that they are or have been practical telegraphers, or civil, mechanical or electrical engineers, or that in their education they have received instruction in those branches. (R. 262.)

XI. When an organization has no medical officer, the medical examination of recruits should be made by the medical officer of the nearest organization; in case such officer cannot be obtained it may be made by any one professionally qualified for this duty. (R. 107.)

XII. All men desiring to enlist or re-enlist will be examined in accordance with the following instructions, and will not be accepted unless they pass the medical examination. The medical examination papers will be attached to the enlistment papers. (R. 108.)

1. Less height than five feet four inches should reject. (Height taken in stocking feet.)

2. A chest measurement less than thirty-two inches at the termination of normal expiration, should reject. (Chest taken in undershirt.)

3. A difference between expiration and inspiration of less than two inches, should reject.

4. Weight less than one hundred and twenty-five pounds and greater than one hundred and ninety pounds, infantry and artillery, and greater than one hundred and sixty-five, cavalry and light artillery, should reject.

It is not expected that a literal construction will be made of the requirements regulating the weight of recruits. An applicant who is muscular and vigorous, and in whom adiposity is not a noticeable feature, may be a suitable recruit if he be of little less weight than one hundred and twenty-five pounds. On the other hand, an applicant who may comply fully with the requirements in this respect, is illy fitted for service if general adiposity be a physical characteristic. A recruit of greater weight than one hundred and ninety pounds may be in every way qualified for the service, and whether he be or be not thus qualified will depend much more on his height, chest and abdominal circumference as compared with his weight, than on the mere fact of weight alone. It is proper to say, however, that even under these circumstances a definite rational limit must be established for the guidance and support of those medical officers who, by reason of inexperience or of importunity, may recommend for the service those who are obviously unfitted for it.

5. Qualification or disqualification for service on account of age should be in accordance with M. C. 70.

6. The loss of the sight of an eye, should reject.

Permanent defects of one or both eyes, which impair the vision for proper marksmanship, sentry duty, etc., should reject.

Not only this, but also severe trachoma, entropion, extensive corneal opacities, cataract, inordinate strabismus and nystagmus, should reject, if unrelieved at the time of final examination. However, any defect in vision that can be corrected need not reject. For signal service duty, color blindness should always reject.

7. A degree of deafness that may prevent the proper reception of the countersign should reject.

In making the examination for this degree of deafness, it is well to remember that transient and remedial causes, such as closure of the Eustachian tube, cerumenous collections, polypi, etc., may temporarily seriously impair the hearing of the recruit. However, the previous history, together with a critical physical examination, will soon disclose the true nature of the trouble.

8. Defective articulation that may prevent giving proper alarm and the countersign should reject.

This condition may be caused by congenital and acquired deformities of the soft and hard parts that are necessary for proper speech. Hare-lip, fissure and perforation of the hard-palate, mutilation and disease of the tongue, etc., are among the most pronounced of the illustrations of these defects. However, they need not reject when their bad effects on the speech have been remedied by reliable mechanical or surgical expedients.

9. Chronic rheumatism should reject.

Any history or evidence of this disease should cause final rejection, and the medical officer's attention is especially directed to ascertaining if the applicant has suffered at any time from this affliction.

10. Repeated attacks of acute articular rheumatism should reject.

The best interests of the applicant demand his rejection if he has ever had an attack of this disease, especially if an hereditary influence be present, or if the attack has followed the exposures recognized as causing rheumatism.

11. Repeated attacks of sciatica.

This affliction should reject if it be associated with a suspicion of rheumatic or gouty diathesis, or has been due to exposure. If from other causes, amenable to medical treatment, and not protracted nor of recent occurrence, it need not cause immediate rejection.

12. Chronic bronchitis.

General chronic bronchitis should reject. Chronic bronchitis, complicated with asthma or emphysema should reject. Chronic bronchitis, attended with feeble respiratory murmur; with a markedly increased expectoration after exposure to cold; with severe cough after unusual exercise; or with cough and profuse expectoration on arising, should reject. Chronic bronchitis, with evidence of lung consolidation, should reject.

13. Repeated attacks of pleurisy, should reject.

Repeated attacks of this disease, of whatever form, should cause rejection, especially if the chest has become deformed or crippled in its movements, or if severe pain located there follow continued active effort. Hydrothorax and emphysema, past or present, should reject.

14. Emphysema.

If complicated with asthma, with chronic bronchitis, or with well-marked chest deformities, should reject. Asthma due to inordinate use of the lungs only, need not reject, except it be attended with unusual shortness of breath with moderate exercise.

15. Asthma.

Asthma should cause rejection when complicated with chronic bronchitis, with emphysema or with suspected heart disease. Asthma due to individual susceptibility to various things, as feathers, ipecac, etc., etc., need not reject.

16. Chronic laryngitis.

Persistent chronic laryngitis should reject, especially when attended with severe hoarseness or aphonia. The presence of laryngeal symptoms, without other assignable causes, should suggest the possibility of aneurism, tuberculosis or syphilis.

17. Tuberculosis.

Any evidence of this disease in the lungs, joints or other important portions of the body, should reject. Moderately enlarged lymphatic glands need not reject except they be increasing in number and size. An abnormal increase in temperature, with suspected tuberculosis disease of any tissue of the body, should reject.

18. Diseases of bone.

Caries, necrosis and other diseases of bone causing pain or attended with conditions requiring special attention to cleanliness, should reject.

19. Bright's disease, should reject.

It is proper to say, however, that the fact of the presence of albumen and casts in the urine, as shown by a single examination, should not be deemed conclusive. If, however, albumen and casts be found after repeated examinations, the applicant should be rejected.

20. Aneurism.

That this disease of the large vessels should reject is self-evident. The attention of the examiner should be carefully directed to the large vessels of the chest and abdomen of each recruit, to avoid the enlistment of one thus afflicted. Aneurismal-varix, varicose-aneurism, large and exposed aneurism by anastomosis, also prominent or increasing cirroid aneurism, should reject. Small and non-progressive cirroid and a similar aneurism by anastomosis, need not reject.

21. Valvular disease of the heart.

This should cause rejection if either hypertrophy or dilatation be present. It should reject if the efforts incident to the requirements of a soldier cause unusual shortness of breath or unusual heart action, or if heretofore the applicant has suffered at times from undue shortness of breath after exercise. If the assignable cause for the lesion refer back to a remote period, and no secondary consequent evidence of disease be present, this condition need not reject.

22. Persistently painful and prolapsed hemorrhoids should reject.

No applicant should be accepted who suffers from this form of affliction. Nor should one be accepted who has chronic prolapse of any portion of the rectal structure or acute prolapse of the same after active exercise, or with diarrhoea or other intestinal derangement.

23. Fistula-in-ano.

When painful and offensive, or when associated with suspected tuberculosis of other parts of the body, it should reject.

24. Hernia, irreducible.

Irreducible hernia of whatever variety and wherever located, should reject. However, any variety of reducible hernia that can be held in place with a well-fitting truss, need not reject. It is proper to say, though, that direct inguinal hernia is often retained only with great difficulty and much discomfort. It is necessary always, in all forms of hernia, that the medical officer himself see that the applicant meets this requirement properly before he be admitted to the service.

25. Hydrocele.

A large hydrocele of any variety should cause temporary rejection. If amenable to palliative treatment, it need not finally reject.

26. Gastralgia with indigestion and emaciation should reject.

These manifestations of disease should reject, as they are quite surely dependent on organic disease, and at the best are inconsistent with the proper physical status of a soldier.

27. Hemoptysis.

This should reject if it be associated with symptoms of lung or heart disease or aneurism. Repeated attacks should reject, even though they be due to no directly assignable cause. The history of a recent attack should cause the suspension of judgment to a later period.

28. Hematemesis.

This symptom should reject, when associated with others indicative of disease of the stomach, liver, heart or other important organs of the abdominal or thoracic cavities. If the attacks have been recent and the cause obscure, a second application should be advised at a somewhat remote period. It will not be amiss to inquire if blood have been swallowed, from any cause, prior to the act of blood vomiting.

29. Hematuria.

This symptom of disease should reject, especially if of recent date and of repeated occurrence. It should not be confounded, however, with loss of blood from injury of the urethra. A careful interrogation as to the presence of previous bladder and kidney manifestations of disease will almost certainly justify the rejection of the applicant.

30. Cystitis should reject.

This disease, of whatever form, ought always to reject. It is due the applicant, however, that he be told he may again present himself, whenever a cure shall have been accomplished. This course may save him much subsequent suffering.

31. Persistent jaundice.

While it is true that marked and prolonged jaundice is sometimes associated with gastro-duodenitis and certain other conditions amenable to treatment, still no applicant who is suffering from this symptom should be recruited, except after the fullest assurance that its existence does not depend on permanent structural changes.

32. Hydroperitoneum should reject.

This condition should reject in all cases. If a doubt exist regarding its presence, the attention of the examining officer should be carefully directed to the condition of the liver, heart, kidneys and lymphatic glands, with a view of determining whether or not it may not be present as a complication of disease of these organs.

33. Varicose veins.

Varicose veins and varicose and other ulcers of the extremities which are amenable to palliative treatment need not reject.

34. Epilepsy should reject.

A history of convulsions or "fits" of any kind should reject.

35. Mental aberration.

Any manifestations suggesting the belief of present or prospective disease of the mind should reject.

36. Dislocations, spontaneous.

A recent dislocation of this kind should reject, except it be of a joint, the modification of the functions of which will not incapacitate the soldier for duty.

37. Previous injuries, results of.

These should reject when of such a nature and so located as to impair the fitness of the applicant for the requirements of a soldier.

38. Appendicitis.

Repeated attacks of this disease should reject. If but a single attack have occurred, and there be any evidence of disease remaining, on physical examination, or occasional pains be experienced suggestive of latent trouble, the applicant should be rejected.

39. Oedema of extremities.

The presence of oedema of the extremities, if long standing, should reject. If recent and due to organic disease or irremediable obstruction of vessels, it should reject. If it have occurred or be present, without assignable cause, the applicant should be rejected.

40. Headache.

Severe headache, persistent or recurring, when caused by exposure to the contingencies incident to the requirements of a soldier, or due to rheumatism, gout or venereal disease, should reject.

41. Constipation.

Constipation need not reject, except it be attended with a history of intestinal obstruction.

42. Flat-foot.

When a foot thus deformed has the history of causing a limp or pain while walking; is tender on pressure at the inferior and inner aspect of the arch (Medio-tarsal joint), or painful there with hyperflexion of the tarsus, the applicant should be rejected.

43. Halux valgus.

This deformity of the great toe, when extreme or when complicated with painful bunion, should reject.

44. Joint function.

The permanent impairment, from whatever cause, of the functions of a joint or joints essential to the proper performance of the requirements of a soldier, should reject. A limp with walking should reject. Movable bodies in important joints should reject.

45. Loss of digits.

The loss of the thumb or any two fingers of a hand should reject. A mutilation of the digits or carpus that seriously impairs them for the required purposes of a soldier, should reject. The loss of a great toe should reject.

46. Glycosuria.

The continued presence of sugar in the urine should reject. However, it may be present from time to time in varying amounts as the result of remedial causes, therefore the examiner should exercise a wise discretion in the rejection of applicants for this cause.

47. Chronic diarrhoea and chronic dysentery should reject.

The applicant with a history of having had either of these diseases should be rejected.

48. Dypsomania.

Drunkenness, slovenness and depravity, each of these should reject.

49. Vertigo.

Severe vertigo, at regular intervals, and transient, irremediable attacks of vertigo should reject.

50. Modification of motion and sensation.

Any interruption or continuous modification of the functions of motion or sensation which may unfit one for the requirements of a soldier should reject.

These modifications refer to general and local deviation from the normal of the muscular and nervous systems, including especially chorea and various paralyses of motion and sensation.

51. An irritable cicatrix, or a large and an adherent one, should reject, especially when liable to pressures and to blows by reason of its exposed position.

52. Dyspnoea.

Unusual shortness of breath, with moderate exercise, should suggest the possibility of organic disease. In a degree this may be the result of sedentary habits and of unusual fleshiness; such causes are remediable with proper training. Dyspnoea should cause rejection when due to organic disease and other irremediable causes.

53. Contagious disease.

No applicant should be accepted, nor soldier allowed to associate with comrades, who is suffering from any disease that may be communicated to another by means of agents, requirements or associations common to those who are engaged in military service.

54. Modifications of urination.

No applicant should be accepted who experiences difficulty in voiding or holding the urine or who has frequent calls of micturition. The examiner can judge somewhat of the prominence of this infirmity by the odor and discoloration of the clothes.

55. Deformity of lower limbs.

Extreme knock-knee and bow-legs should reject. Both are objectionable for obvious reasons; the former, principally from the fact that inordinate chafing is of common occurrence in such cases.

56. Disfigurements, deformities, etc.

Any disfigurement or deformity constituting a well-marked blemish of soldiery appearance, or local disease of deep or superficial character, requiring constant attention to cleanliness, should reject.

57. There are numerous diseases and conditions not mentioned in the foregoing which should reject at once. Medical officers will act on the line of inquiry designated in a discreet and intelligent manner.

XIII. It will happen, not infrequently, that a man with a physical defect, who has done excellent service, will desire to re-enlist. If it should appear that the defect alone be the only disqualifying element, and it be of such a nature as to offer no serious obstacle to the fulfillment of the requirements of a soldier, he may be re-enlisted, provided that "in all such cases the defects, and the fact that they have existed prior to re-enlistment, will be noted on the soldier's medical examination paper." (R. 109.)

XIV. Young men between the ages of sixteen and eighteen enlisting as musicians may be passed by medical officers, although they may not in height, chest measure and weight, come up to the standard, provided that such deviation be but slight, and it is apparent that it will be diminished in a reasonably short time; and provided further that the men are in all other respects up to the standard and perfectly sound. (R. 110.)

By order of the Commander-in-Chief,

C. WHITNEY TILLINGHAST, 2D,

Adjutant-General.

HEADQUARTERS NATIONAL GUARD, N. Y.,

ALBANY, June 13, 1898.

General Orders, No. 13.

I. The officers and enlisted men of regiments, troops and separate companies now in the United States service as volunteers, who have not accompanied their commands into such service, are declared transferred to the respective regiments, troops and separate companies raised or being raised to replace the original organizations, and they will without delay report to the commanding officers of the new organizations.

II. Commanding officers of new organizations will, where they have not already done so, take an inventory in duplicate, as promptly as possible, of all State and of all regimental or company property found in the armory; the inventories must be made accurately and fully, and they will be forwarded to these headquarters.

III. Helmets and uniform coats of organizations now in the United States service, will be carefully re-packed and stored in the armory so that no harm of any preventable kind can come to them, and commanding officers will be responsible for the safe keeping of these articles. All other State property will be for use by the new organizations. For regimental and company property which will be subject to use, the commanding officer of the organization using it will be responsible.

IV. The Paymaster-General will pay the officers and enlisted men who were rejected by the medical officers at Camp Black and Camp Townsend, as soon as practicable, the pay due them. These men upon joining and being taken up by the new organizations will report to their respective commanding officers the amount claimed by them, and the latter will communicate this information to the Paymaster-General.

V. Commanding officers of new organizations will promptly turn in to the Chief of Ordnance all woven cartridge belts and plates and Merriam packs and sticks, also all other State property which, after thorough examination, they will find to be un-serviceable, reporting the amount of property so turned in, to these headquarters.

By command of Governor Black,
C. WHITNEY TILLINGHAST, 2D,
Adjutant-General.

HEADQUARTERS NATIONAL GUARD, N. Y.,

ALBANY, June 27, 1898.

General Orders, No. 14.

I. Pursuant to the second call of the President of the United States for volunteers and owing to the fact that unlike the first call, the National Guard is not asked for, this plan will be followed.

One regiment to be known as the Two Hundred and First Regiment, Infantry, N. Y. Vols., will be recruited at the Twelfth Regiment, N. G. N. Y., armory in New York city;

One battalion to be part of the Two Hundred and Third Regiment, Infantry, N. Y. Vols., will be recruited at the same place;

One regiment to be known as the Two hundred and Second Regiment, Infantry, N. Y. Vols., will be recruited at the Sixty-fifth Regiment, N. G. N. Y., armory in Buffalo;

Two battalions to be part of the regiment known as the Two Hundred and Third Regiment, Infantry, N. Y. Vols., will be recruited at the N. G. N. Y., armory in Syracuse.

Recruiting officers will be assigned later.

II. The first preference will be given individual members of the National Guard, although it is the strong wish and desire of the Commander-in-Chief that National Guardsmen shall not leave the State, but remain here to keep intact their respective organizations, for the very honorable task of Home Defense. The remainder required to complete the quota will be recruited from civil life. Further details will be given to the recruiting officers.

III. Enlisted men, as volunteers from National Guard organizations, before leaving their home stations must be thoroughly examined by a medical officer of their respective organizations, and commanding officers will permit none to start except such as in the judgment of the surgeon will pass the physical examination of the United States Volunteer surgeons.

Under these conditions the commanding officers of their respective organizations are authorized to issue to these men orders for transportation from their home stations to the nearest recruiting station only; of which orders three copies must be forwarded to these headquarters.

After acceptance by the United States surgeons the men will be quartered and subsisted by the State until mustered-in to the service of the United States; and will be dropped from the records of their respective organizations by reason of removal, etc. Instructions will be sent to all railroads so that the orders of commanding officers for transportation will be honored.

IV. For the carrying out of paragraph III, commanding officers are instructed to place their surgeons on duty and to relieve them immediately the above mentioned requirements are fulfilled.

V. The State will not furnish arms, equipments or uniforms. All of the above will be furnished accepted men by the United States government. This by direction of the Secretary of War.

By order of Governor Black,

C. WHITNEY TILLINGHAST, 2D,

Adjutant-General.

ALBANY, October 6, 1898.

General Orders, No. 18.

The re-establishment of the organizations of the National Guard, which have entered the United States service as volunteers and are now about to be mustered-out and return to the State service, is placed in the hands of the Major-General commanding the National Guard, and will be based on the following general principles:

1st. Ten days after the muster-out of the United States service, muster-rolls in duplicate must be made of each company and the field and staff of the returning organization, one to be retained and one forwarded to the Adjutant-General through the channel.

2d. On this muster-roll must appear the names of officers and enlisted men, who were regularly commissioned or enlisted members of the National Guard at the time the organization was mustered into the United States service, whether they volunteered or not.

3d. Officers of the National Guard who do not desire to continue in the service of the Guard, should promptly tender their resignations, and enlisted men of the Guard who desire to be discharged from the State service, should promptly make application to the proper officer, after the muster rolls have been made.

4th. Applications of enlisted men, who have been in the volunteer service, for discharge from the State service, should receive favorable action on the part of the officers authorized to grant it, provided the reasons set forth be deemed proper and sufficient.

5th. Commanding officers of organizations, about to be replaced by the organizations in whose place they were organized, will at once prepare muster-out rolls and discharges for the enlisted men of their respective commands, who were regularly enlisted therein, so that when their muster-out is ordered, there need be no delay.

6th. They will also make all necessary arrangements to transfer all State and organization property to the commanding officers of the old organizations, and to close their accounts with the Chief of Ordnance.

7th. Commissioned officers of new organizations when replaced by organizations returning from the volunteer service, will be rendered supernumerary, and the men enlisted in the former organizations will be honorably discharged upon the disbandment of their company or regiment.

8th. Men enlisted in organizations about to be disbanded, if desirous to continue in service, may be transferred to such organizations as they select in place of being discharged, provided that there are vacancies in such organizations for them:

9th. The Commander-in-Chief desires that every encouragement be given to the officers and enlisted men of the volunteer service to join the National Guard, if not already members thereof.

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, STATE OF NEW YORK,

ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S OFFICE,

ALBANY, July 5, 1898.

Circular No. 1.

I. The commanding officers of the Two Hundred and First, Two Hundred and Second and Two Hundred and Third Regiments, Infantry, New York Volunteers, will have charge of the recruiting of their respective regiments, with the assistance of such of their officers as they may select.

II. The officers of the regiments, appointed from National Guard organizations, will be assigned, as far as practicable, to the companies which are formed largely of members of their former National Guard commands. Those who are responsible for State property will turn the same over to an authorized person or officer, take his receipt and settle their account with the Chief of Ordnance.

III. The Quartermasters of the new regiments, after having been mustered-in, will report to the commanding officers of their respective regiments for duty.

IV. The National Guard Officers detailed as commissaries of subsistence, will report for duty to the commanding officers of the regiments at whose depot they are stationed, and are charged with the subsistence and quartering of the men, until the latter are mustered in the service of the United States.

V. Attention is called to General Orders, No. 14, c. s. from these Headquarters, especially to §§ II, III and IV, relating to volunteering of members of the National Guard.

VI. Commanding Officers of National Guard organizations will report to these headquarters by telegraph as soon as the physical examinations are concluded, the number of men of their command who wish to volunteer and who have passed the required examination, and when ordered to move they will prepare transportation orders as prescribed in the order mentioned above. Each enlisted man will be furnished by his commanding officer with a certificate that he is a member of the National Guard and has satisfactorily passed the examination.

VII. Enlistment papers will not be made out until after the men have been accepted by the volunteer surgeons, and the detachments will be moved, on orders from these headquarters, so that they will arrive at the depot as early in the forenoon as practicable.

VIII. The pay of the enlisted men will commence on the day they pass the examination of the volunteer surgeons and are enrolled or enlisted; that of officers will commence on the day they are mustered in, and the pay will come from the United States, not the State.

IX. The State will not allow pay, nor furnish uniforms, arms and equipments; but the National Guard commissaries, detailed for that purpose, will furnish at the depots, quarters, blankets and mattresses, and until mustered in, subsistence.

X. The depot of the Two Hundred and First Regiment is located at the armory of the One Hundred and Twelfth Regiment, National Guard, Columbus avenue and Sixty-second street, New York city; that of the Two Hundred and Second Regiment at the armory of the One Hundred and Sixty-fifth Regiment, National Guard, Buffalo, and that of the Two Hundred and Third Regiment at the armory of the One Hundred and Forty-first Separate Company, Syracuse. Recruits from National Guard organizations will be forwarded to the depot nearest the home station except those from Catskill, Hudson, Albany, Troy, Cohoes, Hoosick Falls, Saratoga, Whitehall and Glens Falls, who will be sent to Syracuse.

XI. When the National Guardsmen have had an opportunity to enter these regiments, and more men are needed, then and not until then, may civilians be accepted.

XII. Officers will bear in mind that men who desire to enlist must be citizens of the United States or have declared their intention to become such.

XIII. A company will consist of one hundred and six enlisted men, i. e.:

- one first sergeant,
- one quartermaster sergeant,
- four sergeants,
- twelve corporals,
- two musicians (buglers or trumpeters),
- one artificer,
- one wagoner,
- eighty-four privates.

SEVENTH REGIMENT.

(Ten Companies.)

(Fifth Brigade.)

Armory, Park avenue and Sixty-seventh street, New York city.

Companies A, B, C and D were organized during the excitement created by the firing of British at American vessels off Sandy Hook in April, 1806, as the first, second, third and fourth companies, and June 25th they were officially recognized by the State as part of the uniformed militia of the State, and attached to the battalion of artillery commanded by Major Andrew Sitcher. April 5, 1807, the battalion, in the organization of the Third Regiment of New York Artillery, became its Second Battalion. When war with England became imminent in 1807, these four companies, with other volunteers, were temporarily organized as a regiment, commanded by Colonel Peter Curtenius, and remained thus detached until April 20, 1809. In 1812 the Third became the Eleventh Regiment of Artillery, the four companies remaining the Second Battalion. August 25, 1824, the Battalion was named "Battalion of National Guards" (its distinctive name until, in 1862, the Legislature appropriated it for the uniformed militia), and in December, 1824, the fifth company was organized, and Captain Stevens' company, of the Eleventh New York Artillery, transferred to it as the sixth company. In January, 1825, the battalion was transferred to the Second New York Artillery. October 1, 1825, the battalion was detached and organized as a separate and independent battalion, and during the month the seventh company was organized. May 4, 1826, the organization of the eighth company was completed, and May 6th the battalion was organized into a regiment, the Twenty-seventh Artillery. April 17, 1838, a troop of cavalry was admitted to the regiment, which, in 1861, became the ninth company. In 1843 the State furnished the regiment with arms, it having heretofore provided them itself. July 27th the designation of the regiment was changed to Seventh Regiment. In April, 1849, an engineer corps was organized, which, in 1861, became the tenth company. The regiment was frequently ordered to hold itself ready for service, and did active service for the United States, the State and New York city, as follows: In United States service from September 15 to December 15, 1812; from September 2 to December 2, 1814; from April 19 to June 3, 1861; from May 26 to September 5, 1862; from June 17 to July 21, 1863. In support of State or municipal authority: Execution of James Reynolds, November 19, 1825; at the election riots, April 10, 1834; abolition riot, July 11 to 12, 1834; great conflagration in New York city, December 17, 1835; stevedore riot, February 24, 1836; flour riots, February 6 and March 6, 1837; anti-rent war, December 9 to 10, 1839; Croton water riot, April 22 to 23, 1840; fire in New York city, July 19 to 21, 1845; Astor Place riot, May 10, 12 and 14, 1849; police riot, June 16, 1857; dead rabbit riot, July 5, 1857; Quarantine war, January 3, 1859; preserving order at camp of Spinola Brigade, September 12 to 19, 1862; draft riots, July, 1863; Orange riots, July, 1871; labor riots, July, 1877, and at Brooklyn during motormen's strike, January, 1895.

SIXTY-NINTH REGIMENT.

Armory, Third Avenue and Seventh street, New York city.

The Sixty-ninth Regiment was organized October 12, 1851. In 1858 it was reorganized as an artillery regiment, doing duty as infantry. It was mustered in the United States service May 9, 1861, at Washington, D. C., to serve three months, and mustered out August 3, 1861, during which service it took part in the actions at Blackburn's Ford and Bull Run. In August, 1861, about 800 men of this regiment joined the Sixty-ninth New York Volunteers, to serve three years. The regiment was again recruited and re entered the service of the United States May 26, 1862, to serve three months; it was mustered out of service September 3, 1862. On the return from this service, again the major part of the regiment entered the service of the United States for three years as the Sixty-ninth National Guard Artillery or One Hundred and Eighty-second New York Volunteers. The regiment having been reorganized was mustered in the service of the United States for thirty days from June 25 to July 25, 1863. July 6, 1864, it was again mustered in the United States service for three months, and mustered out October 6, 1864. The regiment has rendered the State service during the quarantine riots in 1858, the draft riots, 1863, and the quarantine disturbances in 1892. It was reduced, December 6, 1893, to a battalion of five companies, A, C, D, I and K. The battalion was on duty at Brooklyn during the motormen's strike in January, 1895. New companies were organized for the battalion as follows: Company B, June 5, 1894; Company G, June 10, 1895; Company E, June 11, 1895. The battalion was reconstituted a regiment September 4, 1895. April 28, 1898, the regiment received authority to organize as a twelve company regiment, preparatory to its entry in the United States service, in which service it was mustered May 19, 1898, as the Sixty-ninth Regiment, Infantry, New York Volunteers, and wherein it still continues.

* The pay of a man who has ever re-enlisted under the act of August 4, 1854, and who re-enters the service more than three months after discharge, commences with amount stated in this column.

† Enlisted men of this corps are entitled to increased pay for length of service, the same as other enlisted men. Hospital Stewards rank with Ordnance Sergeants and are entitled to all the allowances of that grade; Acting Hospital Stewards to be detailed from privates of the Hospital Corps; Privates of the Hospital Corps are entitled to the allowances of a Corporal of the arm of service with which they are on duty.—[Act March 1, 1887, G. O. 29, A. G. O., 1887.]

‡ Only one Veterinary Surgeon, at $75 per month, allowed each of the cavalry regiments, from the First to the Sixth Regiment, inclusive; two, one at $100 and one at $75 per month, allowed each of the Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, and Tenth Regiments; the senior in date of appointment entitled to the higher grade.—Decision of Adjutant General of December 3, 1874.

§ An additional $1 per month for each subsequent period of five years.

¶ CLOTHING.—Will be settled six months after the date of enlistment, and thereafter on June 30 and December 31, of each year.—[General Orders, No. 42, Adjutant General's Office, series of 1890.] Balance found due the United States to be charged soldier on the muster rolls of those dates. Balance due soldier to be carried forward on company books credited to his current clothing account; any balance remaining due him at discharge to be credited on final statements.—[Section 1302, Revised Statutes.]

For causes of withholding retained pay on discharge of the soldier, see paragraph 10, General Orders, No. 51, series of 1872; No. 95, series of 1888; G. O., 70 and 127, series of 1890; G. O., 56, series of 1891, and paragraph 1369, Army Regulations, 1895.

The enlisted force of the Signal Corps shall hereafter consist of fifty Sergeants, of whom ten shall be of the first class, with the pay of Hospital Steward.—[Act October 1, 1890; G. O., No. 124, series of 1890.] The remaining forty Sergeants have the pay of Engineer Sergeants.—[Act June 20, 1878; G. O., No. 41, series of 1878.]

Enlisted men (retired) are entitled to three-fourths of the monthly pay allowed by law to them in the grade they held when retired, with commutation of the clothing and rations.—[Act February 14, 1885; G. O., 55, A. G. O., 1885.] Not entitled to traveling allowances on retirement, but to transportation in kind by the Quartermaster's Department.

A certificate of merit entitles the soldier to $2 per month additional pay, commencing on the date of rendering "distinguished service" and continuing May through all subsequent service as an enlisted man.—[Sections 1216 and 1285, Revised Statutes, and Act of February 9, 1891.] The Court of Claims decided May 29, 1893, that the act of February 9, 1891, is retroactive and entitles to pay from date of the service, not merely from the date of the act.

The period within which soldiers may re-enlist with the benefits conferred by sections 1282 and 1284, Revised Statutes, is extended to three months.—[Act August 1, 1894.]

Hereafter every enlisted man in the Army shall be entitled to all the benefits conferred by sections 1281 and 1282, Revised Statutes.—[Act August 1, 1894.]

Hereafter all enlistments in the Army shall be for the term of three years.—[Act August 1, 1894.]

Traveling allowances are forfeited when soldier is discharged, by order of the Secretary of War, for disability caused by his own misconduct.—[Act March 16, 1896.]
