Official Report of the operations of the 59th Regt. N.Y. Vols on May 3^d & 4th 1863

Suit Driver A.A.A.S.

2^d Brigade 2^d Division 2^d Army Corps

Sir

I have the honor to report, by orders received from your Hds. on May 2^d 1863 the Regiment struck camp, and found to take up the line of march with the Brigade which was done at 12 o'clock midnight. The Regiment being fourth in line following the 20th N.Y. Vols. and being followed by the 127th Pa Vols.

The Regiment marched with the Brigade to the Lucy House where it arrived at 1.30 A.M. and rested until dawn, when soon after we started for the embankment of the river where we waited for another half hour until the pontoon bridge was completed. When this was done the Brigade was first to enter the city marching up Princess Anne Street until we came to Charles street when the Regiment was counter-marched and halted for about fifteen minutes when the Brigade marched to the right of Fredericksburg.

Having passed the Bridge over the mill run the Brigade formed column by Battalions right in front when the Brigade drew fire from the enemy's Batteries which threw shell and shrapnel with great accuracy into our lines. Soon after we advanced to a stone fence about one hundred and fifty yards ahead from which I advanced skirmishers to the front by your order who were voluntarily commanded by Capt. Horace P. Regg. Lt. Jacob Snyder and Lt. W^c Kelley. A small fight ensued between the two lines of skirmishers but was soon stopped.

About midday we followed the Brigade through Princess Anne and Williams street to the enemy's first line of fortifications which we assisted in taking under a heavy artillery fire from the enemy.

We advanced with the Brigade to the second line (outh) of the enemy's fortifications from where we were soon withdrawn to the city. My Regiment took position near the Gordon House north of the church yard guarding the outlet from that side of the city and bivouacked for the night

At 6:30 A.M. May 4th 1863 struggling parties of troops belonging to the 6th Army Corps returned in disorder with the cry "the enemy are coming" and I saw two heavy columns of Infantry coming from the left towards the first line of fortifications. Without waiting for orders I quickly formed my Regiment and threw it into the church yard behind a brick wall four feet high guarded in front by the mill race over which only a narrow dam connects with the opposite heights on which the enemy's first line of fortifications are situated.

I ordered Cos. C & H under command of Capt. McFadden
Lt. Snyder and Lt. Pohlman to the left of the road in a block house in which loop holes were made at once, also in the brick wall of the church yard. Three companies from the 19th Mass Vols under command of Capt. Boyd were sent to my assistance. On the right I kept connection with the 7th Mich Vols. I felt confident I could hold my position as long as my ammunition lasted and therefore gave orders that no unnecessary waste of ammunition should be made.

Until 10 o'clock A.M. the enemy made no other demonstration than in filling his rifle pits. His strength did not appear to me to exceed three thousand men Infantry without Artillery.

At 11 A.M. he advanced sharpshooters to points nearer my position which annoyed us somewhat as I was not able to reach their hiding places with my Enfield Rifles. At 12.30 P.M. a company of U.S. Sharpshooters came to my assistance, and from that time until 6 P.M. a brisk engagement was kept up. but I am happy to say I did not lose a single man either killed or wounded during the whole day. At night I advanced my pickets as far as possible on the dams.

On the 5th of May at dawn I withdrew to the pontoon bridge by your order and arrived on the north side of the river at 6.30 A.M. and marched with the Brigade back to the old camp near Falmouth.

Besides the praiseworthy conduct of the beforenamed officers during the two days fight. I must mention the gallant assistance rendered me by Adjt Geo H. Crawford Capt. B.W. Vanderpool. Lieut John H. Murphy, and all other Officers and men of my command.

Col. William Northeridge being under arrest the command devolved upon me.

I have the honor to be Very Respectfully
Your Obedt Servt.

Max J. Thompson
