SECOND ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE CHIEF OF THE BUREAU OF MILITARY STATISTICS.

STATE OF NEW YORK:

BUREAU OF MILITARY STATISTICS, }
ALBANY, February 2, 1865. }

To the Hon. GEORGE G. HOSKINS, Speaker of the Assembly.

Sir—Chapter 51 of the Laws of 1864 requires that “An annual report shall be made by the Chief of this Bureau as soon after the meeting of the Legislature as the condition of materials will permit.”

In compliance with this requirement I submit herewith my second annual report.

I have the honor to be, with great respect,

Your obedient servant,

LOCKWOOD L. DOTY,

REPORT.

STATE OF NEW YORK:
BUREAU OF MILITARY STATISTICS, }
ALBANY, February 2nd, 1865. }

The objects of this Bureau are declared by law to be:

I. To collect and preserve in permanent form the name of every person who has volunteered or been mustered, or who may hereafter volunteer or be mustered, into the service of the General Government from this State, since April 15, 1861, and the personal history of such person while in such service, so far as the same can be ascertained.

II. A record of the services of the several regiments, including an account of their organization and subsequent history; and,

III. An account of the aid afforded by the several towns, cities and counties of the State.

The work thus imposed has been prosecuted throughout the past year with no little success. The manner of accomplishing the above objects is submitted below.

BIOGRAPHIES AND PERSONAL RECORDS.

As required by the act, the names of all officers and men who have entered the service from this State, are being collected for preservation in alphabetical order. The books for this purpose are so arranged as to give the name, regiment, company, rank, when and where mustered, and for what time, a descriptive list, place of residence, occupation, and a brief account of services, with such other facts as are of most interest, as well as a reference to the personal history, outline sketch, newspaper notice, letters or other fuller record on file in the Bureau.

To procure the requisite information for this purpose, and for the more complete biography, muster-rolls and company and regimental records are used; the individual himself, if living, is addressed, or if dead, or absent in the service, his friends are being applied to; pastors of churches, principals of academies, officers of fire companies and of hospitals; and ladies and gentlemen in each town, who were believed to feel an interest in the matter, so far as their names could be obtained, have been solicited to aid in securing records of those entering the service from their societies or localities.

Many thousand personal records are already deposited in the archives of the Bureau; while of other blanks and requests, long since sent, as well as those daily going out, a large number are yet unanswered, though a share, at least, will in due time be returned.

The work grows in interest as well as in extent; for the noble constancy of those who are upholding the good name of our State, gives to their lives an interest as dear as anything that clusters about the closest personal friendship. And it certainly is not claiming too much to say, that no war in any age or in any country has produced higher instances of patriotism, or purer self-sacrifice or personal heroism than the collections of this Bureau already afford. By them every portion of our military history is enriched and exalted.

SERVICES OF REGIMENTS, COMPANIES AND BATTERIES.

Record books containing printed forms for obtaining a complete account of the services of regiments, companies, and batteries, are in use in the Bureau. They comprehend a series of inquiries covering the authority, when and to whom granted, as well as the time, place and circumstances attending the formation; a specific account of each company, where and by whom raised; a record of bounties, and other aid, received from the State, from counties, cities, towns and individuals; the time when recruiting began and when completed; the inspection, term of enlistment, account of flags, departure from the State, assignment to duty, movements, specific details of battles, skirmishes, and other services, casualties, sanitary history, and facts connected with termination of service. The inquiries contemplate a statement so full, as to enable every march to be traced upon a map, and so complete as to afford a satisfactory knowledge of the services of the organization, should everything in memory or tradition pass away.

The regulations of the War Department do not permit access to the army for the purpose of collecting information from regiments now in the field. There, with the records at hand, and the assistance of officers, who from memory could readily connect and explain detached items, a narrative of each regiment, in the highest degree trustworthy and reliable, could have been easily obtained. This privilege denied, the Bureau has been restricted to such sources of information as were accessible. These were not inconsiderable. They consist mainly of the records of our State Military Departments, books of returned companies and regiments, personal recollections of officers and men, diaries and journals, letters from the army, to the Bureau, to personal friends, or to the public through the newspaper press. In addition to these are the connected narratives, in manuscript, prepared for the Bureau by officers of about sixty regiments; some of which, in exactness of detail, are admirable compendiums, alike creditable to those who prepared them and the regiments to whose services they relate. Similar accounts are promised from nearly every organization.

A few of the regiments, whose terms have expired, have deposited all their books and papers with the Bureau. An effort is making to procure the same from all such as have returned.

Newspaper cuttings, to the extent of several thousand pages, have been arranged into regimental scrap-books.

Several of the regiments, formed since the Bureau was organized, are keeping a systematic record of events. This, if carried out to the end, will prove a precious source of history.

There is no regiment, company, or battery, from which we have not a partial record, while of many we have an account so full as to give the main features of its more important services from original materials.

AID AFFORDED BY TOWNS, CITIES AND COUNTIES.

Books for collecting and preserving a detailed account of the aid afforded by towns, cities and counties, have been in use by the Bureau during the past year. The information is systematically sought from official and other sources, and embraces as well what has been done by taxation and loans as by individual liberality and effort, by fairs, churches, schools, academies and other organized means; also the influence of the war upon pauperism and crime, and upon banking and general business interests.

Two-fifths of the towns and counties of the State were visited during the past year for statistics, by agents of the Bureau. From these our account is quite complete down to a period varying from July 1st to December 31st, 1864, but the largely enhanced cost of travel prevented a visit to every town, and we were, therefore, obliged to rely upon correspondence to accomplish the rest. This mode has been only measurably successful. In many instances, supervisors, to whom our blanks were sent, have responded, but in a majority of cases no returns have as yet been made.

Gov. Seymour was so good as to address the following letter to such supervisors as were not visited :

“ It is important, therefore, that supervisors, who are not called upon personally, should supply the information asked for in the blanks sent out to them from the Bureau, and forward it to Col. DORR as promptly as possible.

“ Public spirited citizens are invited to assist the supervisors in the work of making up a complete report of the aid afforded by their towns in men and means since the commencement of the war, and also to interest themselves in furnishing the Bureau with biographies, or materials for biographies, of officers and soldiers. The work justly claims the attention of all.”

The experience of eighteen months clearly proves, that so long as it is not made the duty of these and other officials to furnish the information sought by this Bureau it will not be done. Other and more pressing claims will engage their attention. But if made their duty, a record could soon be prepared that would be of incalculable value and convenience for official and historical uses hereafter as well as now.

I venture, therefore, to ask that a suitable change in this respect be made in the law.

THE COUNTY OF NEW YORK.

New York, with its usual liberality, some months ago established “The New York County Bureau of Military Statistics,” an organization auxiliary to this Bureau. Its objects are to collect the personal records of those entering the war from that city ; a systematic account of the services of the regiments, Volunteer and Militia, raised or belonging there, together with a complete account of the great part which that metropolis has taken in the present war, both as respects the aid afforded by the individual citizen, and the municipality. The gentleman appointed to superintend its operations possesses every quality to accomplish the purpose of this wise and generous undertaking.

CASUALTIES OF THE SERVICE.

The compilations of the Bureau embrace the number killed in battle, died of wounds, of accidents, or of sickness, number dismissed and discharged, resigned, transferred, deserted, prisoners, unaccounted for and returned.

Sickness and exposure lead to the discharge of many who, under home care, are restored to health; while not a few of those disqualified by wounds for military service are able to return to former pursuits.

From a partial summary, it appears that of those in active field service, not to exceed six per cent. are killed in battle. This proportion, it is believed, is much below the popular estimate of the losses in action.

FLAGS AND TROPHIES.

The Trustees of the Capitol have provided a small fire-proof repository in rear of the building occupied by the Bureau, for flags and trophies. This is already insufficient, however, for the rapidly growing War Museum. Should no other provision be made, a few hundred dollars would furnish a suitable addition for a display of the flags. But I shall better perform my duty by inviting every member of the Legislature to visit the rooms, for these war-worn standards can best make their own appeal. Other countries provide munificently for the keeping of the State jewels, which gold will restore if lost. But these flags, the jewels of our State, if lost, are gone forever. Gold can not buy back the deeds that have immortalized them, nor restore the lives of those of their defenders, "whose dust is mingled with the urns and sepulchres of mortality." Their tattered folds have survived the flame of battle; they have witnessed deeds of noblest heroism; the blood of the bravest of the brave has stained them; and, precious though they now are, and much as we love the old flag to-day, time will add to their value, for time alone will more fully reveal the mysterious influence of that flag, its mighty agency in linking the people's hearts, and thus spanning the dark chasm of secession.

MATERIALS FOR HISTORY.

While the leading objects of the Bureau, are kept prominently in view, nothing is rejected that has a bearing upon the war. Newspapers, diaries, tracts, pamphlets, placards, songs, pictorial sketches, indeed all matter, printed or written, is held to be well worthy of preservation. The brilliant pages of Macaulay are proofs of the value of these as sources of history. Official persons and gazettes take general cognizance of affairs, or if special, then restricted to the particular instance, or class, or condition. To newspapers then, and to the other sources mentioned, must we look for ampler materials. If ever important to save these, it is doubly so now, not only because the events of each hour are so momentous, but specially because of the danger of their all but total destruction. The high price, and the growing scarcity of paper stock, daily increase the demand for printed matter and to such an extent, that the paper-mill, by its inordinate consumption of valuable materials, is rendering the province of the historian exceedingly arduous.

NEWSPAPERS.

Sixty-five newspapers are regularly received through the mail at the office. Of these ten are dailies. Of the whole number, forty-eight are donations.

The files of the Cooper Union, with some exceptions, are purchased. They embrace about seventy different papers, of which thirty-six are dailies. The files of the Young Men's Association of Albany are also purchased. They number fifty, of which thirty-seven are dailies. The exchanges of the two leading journals of Albany, as well as other newspaper files, are regularly received at old paper rates.

The regular receipts of newspapers by the Bureau, from the several sources, except exchanges, are as follows :

Dailies	83
Weeklies	114
	<hr/>
	197
	<hr/> <hr/>

The proprietors of the Rochester Evening Express have contributed a complete file (of which four volumes are bound), of that valuable paper for four years, commencing with January, 1861. Complete files of several of the leading weeklies have likewise been donated. These are particularly acknowledged elsewhere.

GENERAL ORDERS.

Pains have been taken to obtain the General Orders of all the Commanders of Military Departments, the orders and circulars of the War Department and of its several Bureaux. A good measure of success encourages the hope that the effort will be successful. The value of such a collection is obvious.

DIARIES AND JOURNALS.

Several manuscript diaries kept by officers and soldiers, during their service, have been placed in the Bureau, while others have been loaned, that copies might be made. It is very desirable that the collection of these be largely increased, for it would not be easy to place too high a value upon this interesting class of records, both as a means of perfecting individual, regimental, and company histories, and for general historical purposes.

RECRUITING PLACARDS, HAND-BILLS AND POSTERS.

These, as well as others of a patriotic character, are collected with care, and will be duly arranged for future reference. They are sought for in every direction, and will be thankfully acknowledged to any who may favor the Bureau with copies.

PAMPHLETS AND SPECIAL PUBLICATIONS are carefully preserved. They embrace biographies, sermons, speeches, essays, opinions and arguments on the many topics connected with the war.

MUSIC AND SONGS.

Patriotic music and songs are being collected and arranged.

PHOTOGRAPHS AND ENGRAVINGS.

A valuable gallery of Portraits is being formed. In addition to this, a large number of photographic views, engravings and pencil-sketches of war subjects have been donated, and the collection is being constantly enriched.

OTHER STATES.

The publications by Congress, and messages of the Governors of the States not in rebellion, as well as the reports of their staff officers, the military reports of legislative bodies, in a word, all official publications, relating to the war, are sought for. The Library of the Bureau already contains a valuable collection of these useful official papers.

SUPERVISORS' REPORTS.

The annual volumes published by order of the board of supervisors of the several counties, containing the journal of their proceedings, are being collected and bound. The design is to make the series of these, for each year, quite perfect.

COMMON COUNCILS.

The printed records of proceedings of common councils are also preserved. They afford an official account of the action of those bodies, in respect to bounties, support of soldiers' families, and matters connected with the war.

CHURCHES.

Interesting reports of aid furnished to soldiers' families, and to army hospitals, as well as the personal records of those who have volunteered from their respective churches, have been received from pastors. Could every pastor feel the importance of making a similar report, it is certain that the few hours labor it requires would never be regretted.

FIREMEN.

Reports prepared by officers of fire engine companies, giving the military record of members, have, to a considerable extent, been furnished. An account embracing the services of all of this patriotic class is much desired.

NUMBER OF MEN FURNISHED BY THE STATE.

The returns to this Bureau from towns, cities, and counties, when revised by the official record, will afford a more accurate account of the number of men furnished by this State than has yet been given to the public. But as these returns are still incomplete, no figures are now given.

EDUCATIONAL STATISTICS.

The inquiries of the Bureau addressed to the officers of colleges and academies, relate mainly to the numbers that have entered the service therefrom, and the immediate effect of the war upon those institutions. No little interest has been manifested by those officers in supplying this information.

CRIMES.

The abstract of convictions for criminal offences presents the following comparisons:

For the four years preceding the war	3,947
For the four years of the war	2,916

The difference occurs mainly in the higher crimes.

For instance, burglary, prior to 1861	886	;	since,	501
grand larceny, "	1,054	"	"	954
robbery, "	81	"	"	66
rape, "	50	"	"	49
forgery, "	379	"	"	320
manslaughter, "	140	"	"	137

The statistics of the Bureau show the like general results. When completed the latter will exhibit the offences specially growing out of the war, as well as other facts of interest.

PAUPERISM.

Reports of correspondents show that pauperism has decreased since the war commenced, and at the same time they present other interesting facts connected with this subject.

GENERAL BUSINESS INTERESTS.

The following extract from a valuable return of a correspondent contains the substance of reports to the Bureau respecting business interests: "Laborers have diminished in the country, and their wages have increased. Since the commencement of the war, more old debts have been paid than usual, and less money has been loaned on bond and mortgage, while many liens on land have been canceled." The farmer is prepared for "hard times," should they come, and if the farmer is free from debt, all others must feel the good effects of his emancipation from financial thralldom.

BOUNTIES.

From returns made to the Bureau by counties, cities and towns, and from the books of the Comptroller, the following statement has been compiled. Returns are still wanting from the county of Monroe, and from the cities of Albany, Auburn, Buffalo, Elmira, Hudson, Syracuse and Utica.

Bounty paid by 59 counties:

COMMUTATION.

In connection with the foregoing statement, it is proper to add that under the draft of 1863, about four and a quarter millions of dollars was paid in this State for commutations. The returns to this Bureau are not sufficiently complete to fully determine what proportion of this sum is already included in the reports of city officers and of supervisors, though the fact will be ascertained in due time.

FAIRS IN 1864.

Of the great fairs held in 1864, in aid of the United States Sanitary and the Christian Commissions, we have received returns from the following:

	Gross receipts.	Net receipts.
Albany, including Troy and Schenectady.....	$114,000 00	$82,000 00

ADDITIONAL VOLUNTARY AID.

The returns from 440 towns, mainly of the rural districts, representing a population of 871,000, reporting wholly or in part give the following results:

Amount raised by individual subscriptions to promote enlistments	$816,638 03
Commutation subscribed to aid drafted men in 1863	125,879 00
Aid furnished by churches, schools or individuals to families of volunteers	107,098 27
Aid from churches, schools and academies to soldiers in hospital or service	7,232 81
Aid sent to hospital by associated effort, or by individuals	340,289 96
	<hr/>
	$1,397,138 07

SOLDIERS' FAMILIES AND OTHER AID.

The inquiries of the Bureau embrace an account of whatever has been raised by taxes or loans, by voluntary effort or otherwise, for the relief of soldiers' families, and for sanitary objects or other purposes, but the returns of these are not sufficiently complete to include in this report.

An idea of the extent of this aid may be gained from the following figures. There was raised by tax alone, for the relief of soldiers' families, by the cities of Buffalo, Rochester, Poughkeepsie, Syracuse and Brooklyn, an aggregate of no less than $1,186,503-42. This is independent of all other classes embraced in this report.

It should be borne in mind, that the heads given in this report do not cover all the items of expenditure for purposes connected with the war. Statistics already received, although partial, indicate other classes of details for which money has been raised, voluntarily or by tax, and spent for objects incident to the rebellion; and there are yet others of which no record has been preserved, although it will be practicable to obtain an account of the latter which will approximate correctness. So far as possible the several classes of disbursements referred to will be carefully collected and the result published hereafter.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

Assessors of Internal Revenue have furnished the annexed statement for the year ending with June, 1864. Reports have not been obtained from the 9th, 10th, 12th, 18th, 21st and 29th districts. It will be remembered that the revenue for the year ending in June next, will be largely enhanced by the special tax of five per cent :

I. Licenses	$2,023,251 06
II. Manufactures and slaughtered animals	9,475,263 99
III. Distilled spirits, ale and lager beer	5,946,771 56
IV. Tobacco, cigars and snuff	1,744,806 82
V. Income	5,808,473 36
VI. Carriages, silver, &c.	180,587 14
VII. All others	5,602,785 06
	<hr/>
	$30,881,938 99
Twentieth district not classified	321,418 30
Aggregate of 26 districts	$31,103,357 29

CONDITION OF MATERIALS.

The collections of the Bureau are arranged in such manner as to be readily available for official and historical purposes. While the war continues the materials must be incomplete at best. It is impossible, therefore, to publish either the biographies of all who have entered the service, the history of every regiment, or a complete record of the aid afforded by towns, cities, or counties. Should it be the desire of the Legislature, however, a given number of personal records might be printed each year, as well as outline histories of certain of the regiments, and the efforts of towns, cities and counties, by years.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Are eminently due to Governor Seymour for his uniform and ready aid in carrying out the objects of the Bureau. Governor Morgan, too, who created the Bureau, has constantly befriended it in a manner to redound to its highest advantage. The Honorable Erastus Corning has also been its invaluable friend. Others have rendered efficient aid.

I have elsewhere acknowledged the favors of several of the railroad companies of the State, as well as of the steamboat companies on the Hudson, and of the American Express Company.

CLERKS OF THE BUREAU.

To the ability and zeal of these gentlemen is the enterprise mainly indebted for its measure of success; and it affords me no little satisfaction to thus publicly thank them for their untiring labors and the large degree of interest they have uniformly manifested in the objects of the Bureau.

APPENDIX.

The appendix embraces the following papers:

- I. Names of those who have furnished personal records.
- II. Memoranda about regimental records.
- III. Reports of counties.
- IV. Bounty reports.
- V. Flags in the custody of the Bureau.
- VI. Acknowledgments of donations and other favors.
- VII. Names of clerks.

CONCLUSION.

It need not here be said that the vast scale on which the war is conducted is drawing largely upon the personal services of the sons of New York, as well as upon the valuations of our imperial State. But attention cannot be too often drawn to the extent of voluntary aid. Of this no official record is made, except what will be found in this Bureau. Millions have been given for the care of the sick and wounded in the field, to the families of volunteers, and to other objects growing out of the war, and the end is not yet. Nor is the golden stream lessened; nay, it is rather increased.

Our returns show that pauperism has diminished, crime decreased, our resources unimpaired, and that our educational interests are still flourishing. If carefully collected statistics present this hopeful aspect, after four years of war, surely we need not now despair when, under Providence, the gigantic strength of the rebellion is surely giving way before the power of our armies. The ability of our people to conduct a long war, and yet successfully to prosecute the vast enterprises of peace, is truly marvelous, and this generation well deserves that no fact should be lost which goes to illustrate the spirit, the patriotism, the liberality, and, most of all, the heroism of this period. I therefore bespeak your continued favor for this Bureau, to the end that, so far as this State is concerned, there shall be placed before the future legislator and historian every thing connected with the origin, progress and results of the Great Rebellion.

LOCKWOOD L. DOTY,

Chief of Bureau.

MEMORANDUMS—RECORD OF THE SERVICES OF REGIMENTS, COMPANIES AND BATTERIES, FROM ORIGINAL SOURCES.

The following memorandums, enumerating the original papers furnished to the Bureau by officers and others, give the sources of the present state of information about the services of regiments, companies and batteries. Original papers only are embraced in the list.

In addition to these the returns from towns, cities and counties give further valuable, statistical and other facts about the organizations raised in the respective localities.

It is proper to add that the order books and other records of the State military departments are used in making up the official records of regiments, companies and batteries so far as the State has official relation with them.

Newspaper cuttings in regard to each organization are preserved and are being arranged in regimental and company scrap books, and will be suitably indexed.

REPORTS OF COUNTIES.

Reports have been received from the following counties:

Allegany	By D. D. Gardiner, county treasurer.
Clinton	Wm. P. Mooers, county treasurer.
Herkimer	Floyd C. Shepard, county treasurer.
Lewis	F. B. Hough.
Livingston	Chauncey Metcalf, county treasurer.
Montgomery	John C. Smith, county treasurer.
Niagara	John J. B. Spooner.
Ontario	Gideon Granger.
Orange	Geo. W. Millspaugh and others.
Queens	Lewis W. Angevine, county treasurer.
Saratoga	Henry A. Mann, county treasurer.
Seneca	Reuben D. Hurlbert, county treasurer.
Schuyler	Jacob Fitzgerald, county treasurer.
Yates	James Burns, county treasurer.

Orange is given at length, first, for the purpose of showing the manner in which that county has met the demands upon it; and, second, to show that with proper labor, a report can be furnished by every county; for it may be safely asserted that facilities equal to those afforded Mr. Ruttenber are everywhere open.

The same hand that prepared the county report has also furnished a town report from every town in Orange county. Of this series the annexed return from the town of Newburgh, will show the value of Mr. Ruttenber's labors in this direction, while proving the practicability of completing the records of localities in the manner contemplated by the Bureau.

 ORANGE COUNTY.

To Col. L. L. DOTY, Chief of Bureau of Military Statistics :

The people of the county of Orange, without distinction of party, have been prompt in complying with every requisition made upon them by the government. The following table embraces the number of volunteers and militia sent to the field prior to July, 1862, and also the volunteers since that period. The returns prior to July, 1862, are not complete. The number given is less than the credit to which the several towns are entitled. The returns for the subsequent periods are from official sources, and are believed to be correct.

Subscriptions have been raised in nearly all of the towns for purposes other than those named; but no record has been preserved of the amounts.

Moneys raised by Bonds.

The amount for which bonds have been issued by the county for the payment of bounties, is $421,000. Of this sum $35,700 has been assessed upon towns having a surplus on the calls prior to July, 1864, and who received a county bounty for the volunteers composing such surplus at the rate of $300 for each volunteer.

The amounts raised by tax and by the issue of bonds by the several towns, have been as follows :

Newburgh, 1863,	$21,250 00
Newburgh, 1864,	154,850 00

This expenditure has been made by a population of 63,812, (census of 1860,) on a valuation (1864) of $28,769,403. For the purpose of comparison, I may state that the town and county bonds of Westchester county amount to the sum of $1,981,688.22, on a population of 99,497, and a valuation of $43,767,924.

Expenses for support of the Poor.

While the demands upon private charity have been greatly increased for the relief of the families of those upon whom the burthen of the war has been especially laid by service in the field, the public expenses for the support of the poor have not kept pace with the enhanced prices for provisions and the increase in population. The following are the official figures for the support of the poor in the town of Newburgh:

YEAR.	No. of inmates in alms house.	Increase caused by the war.	Expenses of alms house.	No. granted temporary relief.	Increase caused by war—families.	Expenses of temporary relief.	Total expenses for alms house and for temporary relief.

	$28,419 93	$26,258 97	$25,425 65

During the winter of 1863-4, a considerable amount was expended in each town for the relief of families of volunteers, under the special act of the Legislature. The amounts are not reported, except as town charges.

Orange County Criminal Statistics.

The apparently necessary conflicts of opinion and of prejudice, attending a war of the character of that in which we are engaged, have been so tempered and restrained by the better judgment of the people, that there has been but one public outbreak in opposition to the laws. In the case referred to, a colored man, already sentenced to confinement for criminal offence, but granted certain out-door privileges in view of the immediately approaching termination of the period for which he had been sentenced, enticed an emigrant woman to a secluded place, and there effected, as was charged, the crimes of robbery and of rape. These crimes appealed with peculiar force to those whose nationality had been outraged in the person of one of their kindred, and, in the frenzy of the hour, led them to effect a forcible entrance of the public jail and to cause the death of the offender.

The excitements of the conscription, which led to the great outbreak in New York, were not sensibly felt. Elections have, in most cases, been conducted more in accordance with the dignity and the privileges of a people entrusted with the responsibilities of self government.

Convictions for criminal offences have not materially increased. The following statistics are from official sources:

Business Interests.

The agricultural, mechanical and commercial interests of the people of the county have been greatly prospered. New sources of mineral wealth have been opened, and new avenues of commerce established. In common with other sections of the State, there has been a scarcity of labor in some branches of industry, but this scarcity has not been so great as to seriously interfere with the cultivation of the soil or with the prosecution of mechanical enterprises.

The following statement exhibits the increase in the banking capital of the county:

The people of Orange county have no occasion to conceal the history which they have made. The heroic field of Minisink, and the glowing history of West Point, were theirs in the past. The noble contributions which they have made, in the baptism of blood which the nation is now receiving, will be an additional crown of honor in the future. The banners borne by their sons have shared the triumphs of every principal battle-field of the army of the Potomac—the soil of States, kindred to them by revolutionary memories, is now more sacred, as containing the ashes of the thousand jewels that they have sacrificed.

Trusting that through your Bureau the people of the county will contribute to preserve even the most minute details of the part which they have taken in this great conflict,

I am, yours, &c.,

E. M. RUTTENBER.

Warren, Esq., president, &c., Newburgh; Odell S. Hathaway, Esq., late supervisor, Newburgh; Hon. Robert Denniston, Blooming Grove; J. D. Walsh, Esq., New Windsor; Wm. C. Miller, Esq., superintendent, &c., Newburgh; J. N. Weed, Esq., Newburgh, and by yourself, through the reports of correspondents and supervisors to your Bureau.

TOWN OF NEWBURGH.

VOLUNTEERS FURNISHED FOR THE SUPPRESSION OF THE REBELLION.

Information in regard to the number of men furnished by the town of Newburgh, at the outbreak of the war and prior to the July and August calls for volunteers in 1862, is necessarily imperfect, as no record was kept of the enlistments during that period, nor, in many cases, of the regiments or companies in which enlistments were made. The principal number of volunteers, however, were in the 3d, the 36th, and the 56th regiment, the 7th Independent battery, and the 71st and 19th militia. An analysis of the muster-rolls of these regiments supplies the following facts, viz :

1. Company B, 3d Regiment N. Y. S. V.—This company was recruited in Newburgh, in March and April, 1861—was accepted April 15, reported at Albany April 22, and mustered into the service of the United States, May 14, for two years. It had 77 men—officers, non-commissioned officers and privates—all of whom, with the exception of three, may be claimed as from Newburgh. Its muster-roll is appended.

2. Company B, 36th Regiment N. Y. S. V.—This company was recruited in Newburgh in May and June, and was mustered into the service of the United States, June 17, 1861, for two years. Its first muster-roll contained the names of 77 men—officers, non-commissioned officers and privates—but by subsequent recruits was increased to 111, of which number 82 resided in Newburgh, of whom 67 were recruited in 1861. A full roll of its members is appended.

3. Company I, 71st Regiment, N. Y. S. M.—This company was recruited in Newburgh, principally from company L, 19th militia. It was attached to the 71st regiment, June 28, 1861, for three months service, and was in the first battle of Bull Run, where the first of Orange county's heroes, Samuel O. Bond, one of its members, was killed. It also accompanied the 71st regiment for three months service in June, 1862. Its muster-roll, for both periods is appended.

4. Fifty-sixth Regiment N. Y. S. V.—Companies A and B of this regiment, were recruited in Newburgh; and also parts of companies C, D, E and G. The regiment was recruited between the 1st of July and the 28th of October, 1861, for three months service. So far as can be ascertained, by inquiry of officers, 139 volunteers were furnished to this regiment. A list of the names is attached.

5. Seventh Independent Battery N. Y. S. V.—This battery was principally recruited in the towns of Newburgh, New Windsor and Cornwall. Fifty-four of its original members were credited to Newburgh on re-enlistment in the winter of 1863–64.

6. Companies D, E, F, I and L, 19th Regiment N. Y. S. M.—These were uniformed militia companies of the village of Newburgh, with the exception of Company I, which was recruited for the service. They went out for three months, with the regiment, June 4, 1862, with a total of 357 men. The muster-rolls of the companies are appended.

7. Miscellaneous Enlistments.—It is impossible to give the exact number or the names of men recruited for regiments and organizations prior to July 1862, not embraced in the foregoing statement. As far as ascertained, there were 111 volunteers of this class, whose names, and the regiments to which they were attached, are appended.

8. Enlistments in the Navy.—The names of fifty volunteers in the navy, for whom the town has not been credited, are appended.

Under the calls of July and August 1862, the quota of the town was 470. The number furnished was 501, viz :

To 124th regiment three years	217
To 168th regiment nine months	166
To 166th regiment nine months	41
To 3d regiment three years	22
To 36th regiment three years	13
To 2d cavalry three years	11
To miscellaneous organizations	31
Total	501

The quota of the town under the call of July 1863, (draft, Oct. 7, 1863,) was 443—which number, with an addition of 50 per cent.

(total, 552) was drawn, of whom 90 commuted, entered the service personally, or furnished substitutes.

The total of quotas under the merged calls of July and October 1863, and of February, March and July, 1864, was 756. Total number furnished (including 90 credited by draft, as already stated), 827—71 of whom were not credited to the town. The enlistments during this period were:

Colored	65	26th cavalry	1
5th artillery	10	2d vet. cavalry	1
6th artillery	2	56th infantry	85
7th artillery	30	63d infantry	20
9th artillery	1	98th infantry	51
15th artillery	9	124th infantry	6
16th artillery	11	128th infantry	4
7th battery	92	Rainey's volunteers	28
1st engineers	4	Navy	64
Mounted rifles	2	Miscellaneous	28
15th cavalry	50
16th cavalry	1	Total	827
18th cavalry	6

Totals of men furnished:

1861-2	922
1862	501
1863-4	827
Total	2250

By vote of subscribers balance paid to the Soldiers' Aid Society for relief of families of volunteers.

Statement showing the amount of money raised by the sale of town bonds for the payment of bounties, and the manner of its appropriation.

First. At a meeting of the electors of the town, held Dec. 24, 1863, it was resolved that $15,000 be raised by the sale of bonds for the purpose of paying a bounty of $75 "to each of the number of 200 men who shall hereafter volunteer and be mustered into the service of the United States," and credited to the quota of Newburgh.

Second. At a meeting of the electors of the town, held Jan. 21, 1864, the additional sum of $6,000 was authorized; and,

Third. At a meeting held Feb. 20, 1864, the sum of $250 was voted for interest on the $15,000 raised Dec. 24, 1863.

Bonds were issued Feb. 26, 1864, for the sums thus voted, and were taken as follows:

Bank of Newburgh.....	$5,000
Highland Bank.....	5,000
Quassaick Bank.....	5,000
O. S. Hathaway.....	4,750
H. McCutcheon.....	1,500
Total.....	$21,250

Fourth. At a meeting of the electors of the town, held July 22, 1864, it was voted that $75,000 be raised by the sale of bonds for the payment of bounties to volunteers under the call for 500,000 men, and that the board of town officers have full power to fix the amount of such bounties.

On the 23d day of July, the town board fixed the bounty at $300 for three years men, and $50 hand money to the person bringing the recruit.

At a public sale of bonds, July 27, $25,000 were disposed of at a premium of $142.50.

At a meeting of the town board, Aug. 11, it was voted that a bounty of $550 be paid for one year men; $650 for two years men; $750 for three years men, and $100 hand money to the person bringing the recruit.

At a meeting of the town board, Aug. 16th, it was voted that a bounty of $550 be paid for one, two or three years men, and $100 hand money.

At a meeting of the town board, Aug. 25th, the resolution of Aug. 16th was rescinded.

Fifth. At a meeting of the electors of the town, held Aug. 25, 1864, it was ordered that $110,000 be issued in bonds, and that principals furnishing substitutes be entitled to the bounty and hand money allowed to volunteers under the resolution of the town board of Aug. 11, 1864.

Bonds were sold at public and at private sale, and on the 1st of September the town board voted to issue bonds to principals furnishing substitutes for the amounts to which they were entitled. The amount expended, as per report of board, was $154,850.

Public relief of the families of Volunteers, under the act of the Legislature of 1863.

It may not be inappropriate to state that under the act of the Legislature authorizing special appropriations for the relief of the families of volunteers, the authorities of the town of Newburgh expended, in the winter of 1863-4, the sum of $1,075.50. The number of families applying for relief was seventy-two, of whom the application of fifty-nine was granted. The cost of making examinations was $355. Total expenditures, $1,430.50.

Several valuable contributions were made to the Sanitary Fair in New York, in the spring of 1864, of which no record has been preserved. Prominent among the articles, however, were two elegant paintings by Charles W. Tice, Esq., which were contributed by the Fire Department; and a very beautiful model of Washington's head-quarters (for exhibition), by John Little, Esq. The patronage of this fair from Newburgh was quite heavy. Several very valuable historical relics were contributed to it (for exhibition) from Washington's head-quarters.

Regretting my inability to present a more complete report, and trusting that the citizens of the town will give to the collection of its military statistics the assistance which their historic value demands,

I am, yours, &c.,

E. M. RUTTENBER

IV. BOUNTY REPORTS.

The annexed Schedule embraces returns from fifty-nine counties (leaving Monroe still to report), from six of the thirteen cities, and from 771 towns (leaving 169 towns yet to report). There is reason to believe that a few of the town returns are incorrect. These will be corrected, while all the returns will be carefully revised by the town and county records, to the end that the statements of bounty moneys filed in this Bureau may be accurate.

An effort is making to obtain the returns from the remaining towns and cities. If successful, a supplemental report will be made to the Senate covering the aggregates of bounties paid in the State, by years.

ABSTRACT OF REPORTS FROM SUPERVISORS OF THE SEVERAL TOWNS IN THE STATE, BY COUNTIES, SHOWING AMOUNT OF MONEY PAID FOR BOUNTIES.—TOWNS MARKED WITH AN ASTERISK (*) HAVE NOT REPORTED.

LIST OF FLAGS IN THE CUSTODY OF THE BUREAU
OF MILITARY STATISTICS, FEBRUARY 1, 1865.

First Regiment Vol. Infantry—Two flags and two guidons.

(A.)—Regimental banner, silk, much worn. Presented to regiment by the city of New York.

(B.)—National flag of regiment, silk.

(C.)—Two guidons.

Fifth Regiment Vol. Infantry—Two flags.

(A.)—National flag, silk; streamers attached are embroidered as follows: "Fidèle à l'ontrance," on the red. Presented to regiment. The staff is half cut in two by a shot.

(B.)—National flag, silk; inscription upon a silver plate on the staff—"Presented by the City of New York, 1863."

Sixth Regiment Vol. Infantry.

(A.)—National flag, silk, with the following inscriptions: "Santa Rosa, Fort Pickens, Nov. 22 and 23, and Jan. 1; Pensacola, Irish Bend, Vermillion." On the staff is a silvered plate with the following engraving: "Presented to the 6th regiment, Col. Wilson's Zouaves, by several ladies of New York city, June, 1861.

(B.)—Banner. Presented by the city of New York, bearing upon each side the city arms, inscribed with the following words: "Fort Pickens, Nov. 22 and 23, Jan. 1; Santa Rosa, Pensacola, Irish Bend and Vermillion.

(C.)—Two guidons. Presented to regiment by T. C. Burns.

Tenth Regiment Vol. Infantry.

(A.)—National flag, silk. It was the first American flag raised over the Custom House at Norfolk, Va., after its recovery by Union troops, and was borne in the seven days before Richmond, 2d Bull Run, Antietam and Fredericksburgh. At the latter place it was shot from the hands of the bearer. Several of the guard were killed under it.

(B.)—Regimental banner, with staff and spear-head—the latter struck by a shot. This flag was captured by a Georgia regiment in the second battle at Bull Run (August, 1862), and was taken to Milledgeville, where it was displayed in the capitol as a trophy. It was recaptured by Gen. Slocum's column of Gen. Sherman's army, on the march from Atlanta to Savannah. Col. Rodgers, of Gen. Slocum's staff, removed the flag from the capitol, and transmitted it to the Bureau of Military Statistics through Maj. Gen. Daniel Butterfield.

Twelfth Regiment Vol. Infantry—National flag, silk, faded, much worn. Presented to the regiment by the ladies of Syracuse, May 2, 1861; upon their departure for the field, and placed in the State archives after their return, upon their expiration of service. The 12th was in the following battles: Blackburn's Ford, siege of Yorktown, Hanover Court House, Gaines' Hill, Savage's Station, White Oak Swamp, Malvern Hill, 2d Bull Run and Fredericksburgh.

Thirteenth Regiment Vol. Infantry.—Three flags, two the national colors and one an embroidered banner, have been returned by the 13th regiment to the custody of the State for preservation.

(A.)—The regimental banner, silk, rich, was presented by the ladies of Rochester, embroidered with United States arms; motto, "God and our country," in gold letters.

(B.)—The new national flag was carried in the first battle of Bull Run only. The holes in the Union were made upon that occasion.

(C.)—The old national flag was carried habitually on the march and in action.

It participated in the first battle of Bull Run, siege of Yorktown, battles of Hanover Court House, Mechanicsville, Gaines' Mill, Turkey Bend, Malvern Hill, second Bull Run, Antietam (in reserve), Shepardstown and Fredericksburgh.

Fourteenth Regiment Vol. Infantry—One flag, national, bunting. The 14th regiment received this banner from the hand of Governor Morgan, on its departure for the field, and on the expiration of its term of enlistment, it was returned to Gov. Seymour soiled and tattered, but not dishonored. It was in the siege of Yorktown and battles of Hanover Court House, Mechanicsville, Gaines' Hill, Malvern Hill and Fredericksburgh.

Sixteenth Regiment Vol. Infantry—Two flags. These flags were presented by Mrs. Joseph Howland, of Fishkill, N. Y.

(A.)—The banner in June, 1861.

(B.)—The national flag, at Camp Franklin, near Alexandria, in March, 1862, when Colonel Howland assumed command of the regiment.

These flags have been borne in eighteen battles, skirmishes and reconnoissances, the principal of which were West Point, Va., Gaines' Mill, and the six following days of fighting and marching; Crampton Gap, Antietam, 1st and 2d Fredericksburgh. At Gaines' Mill the color bearers were three-times shot down, and every one of the color guard was either killed or wounded, except one. The staff of the regimental flag was struck by a ball, while in the hands of the color bearer, and the ferule indented so that it could not be moved on the staff. At Crampton Gap, corporal Charles H. Conant was instantly killed by a minnie ball through the head while holding one of the flags, and corporal Robert Watson, of the color guard, was shot through the leg. In this action the regiment, in charging upon the enemy, captured a rebel battle-flag from an Alabama regiment.

Upon the expiration of its term of two years, the 16th regiment returned with its colors, which were presented to his excellency, the Governor, to be deposited in the Bureau of Military Statistics, the pledge given by the regiment to the donor, to "stand by, defend and preserve them," having been faithfully and honorably redeemed.

Seventeenth Regiment Vol. Infantry—Three flags. One national flag and two banners have been returned by this regiment.

(A.)—The national flag, much worn, was presented to the regiment by eight lady friends of Col. Lansing.

(B.)—The blue silk banner by the city of New York.

This regiment, sometimes known as the "Westchester Chasseurs," was organized in New York, and participated in the siege of Yorktown, and battles of Hanover Court House (where it captured the first cannon taken from the enemy by the army of the Potomac), Groveton (where it lost 13 officers and 250 men, killed and wounded), Antietam, Fredericksburgh and Chancellorsville.

Eighteenth Regiment Vol. Infantry—One flag, national, silk. Was presented to the 18th regiment, Col. Wm. A. Jackson, by his lady friends of Albany, June 1, 1861, shortly before departure for the field. It bears the inscription, "Rally around them."

It was engaged in the battles of first Bull Run, West Point, Gaines' Mill, Charles City Cross Roads, Malvern Hill, Crampton Pass, Antietam, 1st and 2d Fredericksburgh and Chancellorsville. Upon the expiration of the term of enlistment, this regiment returned home, and the colors were placed in the custody of the State.

Twenty-second Regiment Vol. Infantry—One flag, national silk. There are forty-six bullet holes in the flag. On the staff is a break where it was struck by a shot; strengthened by a tin band.

Twenty-fourth Regiment Vol. Infantry—One flag, national flag, silk. Inscribed upon one side is "Falmouth, Rappahannock Station, Warrenton Springs, Gainesville, Groveton, 2d Bull Run, South Mountain, Antietam, Fredericksburgh, Rappahannock Crossing, Chancellorsville," and upon the other: "24th Regiment, Iron Brigade, 1st Division, 1st Army Corps."

Twenty-fifth Regiment Vol. Infantry—National flag, silk, no staff; the flag is much worn and torn; it was borne with honor in the following actions: Siege of Yorktown, New Market, Hanover Court House, Mechanicsville, Gaines' Mill, Chickahominy, Malvern Hill, Groveton, Antietam, Shepardstown, Fredericksburgh, and Chancellorsville.

Twenty-sixth Regiment Vol. Infantry—One flag, national, bunting.—This flag was transmitted to the State archives, with the following letter:

"To Gen. J. T. SPRAGUE, Adjutant General, N. Y.:

Sir: I have the honor to return to the custody of the State of New York, the colors carried by this regiment since June, 1861. They have been borne through every battle of Eastern Virginia, and under their folds have fallen five good and true men. * * We return them to the State from which we received them, well knowing they will be cherished as mementoes of the living and the dead. They bear the marks of bullets, and of the blood of those who defended them, and, as such, will always be regarded with respect and veneration by those who are left to mourn the loss of their comrades on the field of battle.

Very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

R. H. RICHARDSON,

Colonel Commanding 26th N. Y. Vol.

Twenty-seventh Regiment Vol. Infantry—two flags.

(A.)—National, silk. The 27th regiment received this flag, May 22d, 1861, from company G, and this company the same day received it from Mrs. Philip Church, of Belvidere. It was borne in the battles of 1st Bull Run, Mechanicsville, West Point, Gaines' Mill, Goldsborough's Farm, Chickahominy, White Oak Creek, Malvern Hill, Crampton Pass, Antietam, and the 1st and 2d battles of Fredericksburgh. The bearer at Gaines' Mill was severely wounded. The flag has been many times struck by the enemy's shot, and the larger holes were made by fragments of shell. A star in the case appended to the lance, was literally shot out of the flag while the regiment was storming the Heights of Fredericksburgh, in May, 1863. It was contributed to the Bureau of Military Statistics by A. L. Van Ness, of Dansville, N. Y., who was the color bearer in that assault.

(B.)—National, silk. Flag presented to Company H, May 16, 1861, by the ladies of Mount Morris; returned by the company to the donors, May 21, 1863, and by the latter presented to the Bureau of Military Statistics, Jan. 9, 1864.

Twenty-eighth Regiment Vol. Infantry—Guidon. At the battle of Chancellorsville, John Otto Swan, of Medina, aged 15 years, (enlisted as a drummer, and then acted as a marker,) displayed great activity and energy. A soldier of company E was shot dead, when the boy took this flag from its staff, put it in his pocket, adjusted upon himself the accoutrements of the dead soldier, and fought gallantly in the ranks, until with 65 men and 3 officers he was taken prisoner. Concealing the flag under the lining of his coat, he kept it with him when taken to Richmond, and managed to bring it away unobserved when exchanged and sent home.

The flag is deposited by the lad's father, as an honorable memorial of the services of a patriotic son.

The other flags of the regiment were lost in the service.

Twenty-ninth Regiment Vol. Infantry—Three flags and two guidons.

(A.)—National flag, silk, new.

(B.)—National flag, silk, much worn. Presented by the city of New York.

(C.)—Banner, silk, bearing the following inscription: "Presented by the city of New York," and bearing on both sides the city arms.

(D.)—Pair of markers or guidons, belonging to the 29th Regiment, and presented to them by the city of New York.

Thirtieth Regiment Vol. Infantry—One national flag, bunting. This regiment participated in the battles of Falmouth, Rappahannock Crossing, Gainesville, Groveton, 2d Bull Run, South Mountain, Antietam and Fredericksburgh. At the last battle of Bull Run, these colors fell, during the engagement, in the hands of ten different soldiers shot dead on the field. Thirty-six balls passed through the stars and stripes, and the staff was shot into splinters. Fourteen out of the seventeen line officers fell upon the field; among them was Col. Edward Frisby, of Albany.

Thirty-second Regiment Vol. Infantry—Two flags.

(A.)—The national flag, silk, was presented to the 32d regiment, June 28th, 1861, by the lady of the Hon. William Laimbier, Jr., of New York city.

(B.)—Banner, silk, by the city of New York, in the fall of 1861; bears the coat of arms of the city. This regiment was engaged in the first battle of Bull Run, West Point, Gaines' Mill, White Oak Swamp, Charles City Cross Roads, 2d Bull Run, Crampton Pass, Antietam, Fredericksburgh and Chancellorsville.

Thirty-fourth Regiment Vol. Infantry—One flag, national, bunting. This regiment was engaged in the siege of Yorktown and in the battles of West Point, Fair Oaks, Seven Pines, Peach Orchard Station, Savage's Station, White Oak Swamp, Glendale, Malvern Hill, South Mountain, Antietam, Ashby's Gap, and Fredericksburgh.

Thirty-fifth Regiment Vol. Infantry—Two flags. Banner, silk, richly embroidered with the State arms and motto, and the following inscription: "Jefferson Co. 35th Regiment N. Y. S. V., "The Union, The Constitution, and The Enforcement of the Laws."

National flag, silk, worn.

Thirty-seventh Regiment Vol. Infantry—Six flags.

Upon the expiration of its two years' term, it placed in the custody of the Bureau six flags, including two guidons and two designation flags, together with all its papers and records.

(A.)—The national flag, bunting, shows the greatest amount of service, was received by the regiment when it arrived in Washington in July, 1861. In camp or in bivouack, it was always before the regimental headquarters, and it was borne in the following battles: 1st Bull Run (in reserve), Williamsburgh, Fair Oaks, Glendale, Malvern Hill, 2d Bull Run, Chantilly, Fredericksburgh and Chancellorsville. It was also with the regiment in the siege of Yorktown, and in several skirmishes on the Occoquan, in front of Yorktown, Richmond, &c.

(B.)—Green banner, silk, rich; was presented by the city of New York, in February, 1862, and was with the regiment in front of Fredericksburgh, and in the battle of Chancellorsville. It is inscribed with the names of "Williamsburgh," "Fair Oaks," "Fredericksburgh," "Glendale," "Malvern Hill."

(C.)—New national flag, silk, companion to the green banner, replaces on the original staff one that was lost at Chancellorsville. The flag was removed by Lloyd, the bearer, and wrapped around his body, as it was liable to be torn in passing through the tangled brush through which he was obliged to creep. This brave and intelligent soldier was killed, and his body was buried without suspecting that the flag was wrapped around his person under his coat. Repeated efforts were made to find his grave, but without success.

(D.)—Two designation flags.

Thirty-eighth Regiment Vol. Infantry—Three flags.

This regiment, known as the "Second Scott Life Guard," was [Assem. No. 64.]

engaged in the siege of Yorktown and the battles of Williamsburgh, Fair Oaks, The Orchard, Glendale, Charles City Cross Roads, Malvern Hill, Bull Run, Chantilly, Fredericksburgh, Chancellorsville, and Gettysburg.

(A.)—Regimental banner of the 38th Regiment N. Y. Vol., silk.

Presented by the city of New York and bearing the city arms.

(B.)—National flag, bunting, worn.

(C.)—Designation flag of headquarters of 1st regiment, 2d brigade, 1st division, 3d corps, used by the 38th regiment.

Fortieth Regiment Vol. Infantry—One flag, national, silk, dark, ragged, with the word "Mozart" inscribed. This flag was presented to the regiment at Yonkers, July 3, 1861, by Hon. Fernando Wood, mayor of New York, in behalf of the Union Defense Committee of the city of New York. The flag has been through the siege of Yorktown, and the battles of Williamsburgh, Fair Oaks, Robinson's Field, Glendale, White Oak Swamp, Malvern Hill, Haymarket, 2d Bull Run and Chantilly, besides minor engagements. A detailed list of the color-bearers and guard accompanied the flag when returned to the custody of the State. Of these 17 are honorably mentioned, of whom 5 were killed in battle, 6 wounded, 2 died of disease contracted in service, and 5 were promoted for gallantry on the field.

Forty-third Regiment Vol. Infantry—One flag, national, bunting.

Forty-fourth Regiment Vol. Infantry—One flag, national, silk, faded, ragged. The followed inscription is engraved on the plate attached to the staff: Presented by Mrs. Erastus Corning, Albany, October 21, 1861; returned to the donor January, 1863, in exchange for a new flag, and by her deposited in the Bureau.

Forty-sixth Regiment Vol. Infantry—Three flags.

(A.)—National, silk, bears the following inscription on the staff:

"Presented to the 46th Regiment N. Y. S. V. Viele's Brigade, by Mrs. E. L. Viele, of the Union Defense Committee, New York, through their commander, Col. Rudolph Rosa, Oct. 12, 1861."

(B.)—Regimental banner, silk, with the arms of the city of New York painted upon each side.

(C.)—National, silk, much worn. The streamers bear the following inscriptions: "Antietam, Md.; Fredericksburgh, Va.; East Tennessee, 2d Bull Run, Chantilly, Va.; South Mountain, Md.; Port Royal, S. C.; Pulaski, Ga.; James Island, S. C."

Fifty-seventh Regiment Vol. Infantry—One flag, national, silk, faded, half gone, shell and bullet holes.

Fifty-ninth Reg't Vol. Infantry—Four flags and two guidons.

(A.)—The regimental banner of the regiment, was presented by ex-mayor Kingsland of New York, on behalf of citizens of that city.

(B.)—National, silk, tattered. Presented by the city of New York.

(C.)—National, silk, worn. Presented by the city of New York.

(D.)—National flag, silk, much worn.

(E.)—Two guidons. Presented by the city of New York.

The regiment has been engaged in the following battles: Malvern Hill, Chantilly, South Mountain, Antietam, first Fredericksburgh, Mayres' Heights, Thoroughfare Gap, Gettysburg, Bristow Station and Mine Run.

The loss at Antietam was very severe. Out of twenty-one officers and three hundred and sixty men, which went into the fight, thirteen officers and two hundred and thirty men were killed, wounded or taken prisoners. Seven of the eight color guard were either killed or wounded, and the remaining one received and brought off the colors of a Pennsylvania regiment.

The top of the staff of one of the National flags was shattered by a shell bursting over it at the battle of Fredericksburgh, Dec. 13, 1862.

Sixtieth Regiment Vol. Infantry—Two flags.

(A.)—Banner, silk, rich. Inscribed, JEHOVAH-NISSI (the Lord my banner; see Exodus xvii, 15, 16).

(B.)—National, silk; faded, worn.

Sixty-first Regiment Vol. Infantry—Two flags.

(A.)—National, silk, tattered. Was presented by the city of New York, and was used as a parade flag until the Peninsular campaign. It was laid aside until the spring of 1863, when it was again used through the season as a regimental flag. It was carried through the battles of Chancellorsville, Gettysburg, Auburn, Bristow Station and Mine Run.

At Gettysburg the color bearer and two of the guard were severely wounded. The loss here was one officer killed and five wounded, and sixty-eight enlisted men killed and wounded. This flag is sent to the State archives for preservation, by Colonel Nelson A. Miles.

(B.)—National flag, silk, union all gone and three-fourths of stripes gone.

Sixty-fourth Regiment Vol. Infantry—Two flags.

(A.)—National, bunting, worn. At Gettysburg, on the 2d of July, 1863, this flag was carried by Chauncey McKoon, of company B, who was severely wounded in the thigh. It was then taken by Edmund Stone, company D, who was killed. It was then raised by sergeant Blackmore, who carried it through the remainder of the battle, and brought it off safe.

(B.)—Banner, silk, two-thirds gone.

Seventy-first Regiment Vol. Infantry—One flag. National, silk, much worn. Inscribed, "Jackson Regiment, N. Y. Vols."

Seventy-fifth Regiment Vol. Infantry—Two flags.

(A.)—Regimental banner, much worn. Received from the ladies of Auburn, embroidered upon both sides with the State military arms and motto.

(B.)—National, silk, three-quarters gone.

* Seventy-sixth Regiment Vol. Infantry—One flag. National, silk, tattered. This flag was presented to the regiment on the steps of the Capitol, in Albany, upon its departure for the field, by Mrs. Campbell, of York Mills, Oneida county, with public ceremonies, and was carried until December, 1863. It received fifteen musket balls and one twelve pound shot through it in action. The color bearer, sergeant Champ, was killed at South Mountain. At Gettysburg the color bearer was wounded just as the regiment was falling back, and came near being captured, but was rescued by private John Stephens, of company H, who left the ranks under the fire of the enemy, and recovered the flag in safety. He was promoted to a sergeant for his gallantry on that occasion.

Seventy-seventh Regiment Vol. Infantry—One flag and one guidon.

(A.)—Banner, silk, rich. This flag was presented, November 29, 1861, by citizens of Saratoga county, resident in New York city. It has been carried in the battle of Lee's Mills, the siege of Yorktown, battles of Mechanicsville, Golden's Farm, Garnet's Hill, White Oak Swamp, Crampton Pass, Antietam, Fredericksburgh, Mayres' Heights and Gettysburg. The bearers were sergeant Isaac Bemis, and afterwards corporal Michael McWilliams. In the charge up Mayres' Heights, one of the color guard was killed, and the flag was torn into shreds by a shell.

The design, painted upon each side, is the State motto and military arms, at the side is represented the surrender of Burgoyne in 1777, upon which occasion the American Stars and Stripes are said to have been first displayed.

(B.)—The guide colors (one of which is attached) were presented at the same time and place, have been used during the same period. That on the right of the line was crimson, and that on the left, blue.

Eightieth Regiment Vol. Infantry—One flag. National, silk, much worn. Nine color bearers fell under this flag at the second battle of Bull Run. The regiment lost 35 killed and 232 wounded in the campaign of 1862, while fighting under these colors.

Eighty-first Regiment Vol. Infantry—Two flags.

(A.)—This flag was used as the storm flag of the regiment. It was flying from the colonel's tent at Seven Pines, when the regiment was driven away from that point, on May 31, 1862. It was left behind, but being remembered, was returned for and recovered. The colonel's tent took fire at North-west Landing, Va., March, 1864, and burned the flag somewhat.

(B.)—National flag, silk; borne by the regiment from Jan. 1st, 1864, to Jan. 1st, 1865. The staff was broken in four parts by shot and shell, one of which (a minnie ball) struck between the hands of the color sergeant, Evan Michaels, and passed through his body, inflicting a mortal wound. The Eagle, surmounting the staff, was carried away by a shot and not recovered. The flag shows thirty-six bullet holes, and in its field are two holes made by cannon shot. It was borne in the following battles: Violet Station, Drury's Bluff, Cold Harbor, Petersburg, Fort Harrison or Chapin's Farm, Fair Oaks, 2d, and in several skirmishes. It is replaced in the regiment by a flag awarded by the major general commanding the department, for gallant services at the battle of Fort Harrison (Chapin's Farm), where the regiment captured a redoubt with a battery of artillery, a large number of prisoners, and two battle flags.

Eighty-sixth Regiment Vol. Infantry.—National flag, bunting. This flag was presented to company B, by the ladies of Addison, Steuben county, N. Y., and was regarded as the property of that company until the battle of Chancellorsville, when its captain, William N. Angle, was killed while gallantly leading the company in a charge on the enemy. It was then adopted by the regiment. It was always used as the battle flag of the regiment until the campaign of 1864, and was in the following battles: Bull Run (2d), Manassas Gap, Fredericksburgh, Chancellorsville, Beverly Ford, Gettysburg, Wapping Heights, Auburn, Kelly's Ford, Orange Grove and Mine Run. Four color sergeants were lost in battle while carrying this flag. The lower red, white, and part of second red stripe is gone, and also ends of stripes, and the flag has about twenty bullet holes in it.

Ninety-first Regiment Vol. Infantry.—One flag. Presented to the regiment by Mrs. J. W. Harcourt, of Albany, on the departure of the regiment for the field.

The regiment was engaged at Irish Bend, Vermillion Bayou, and the three battles before Port Hudson, of May 25th and 27th, and June 14th, 1863. In one of the latter the flag was torn in two, and one portion was brought into a hospital by one of the color guard, who was wounded. The part that remained on the lance, after a lapse of several months, was re-united.

Ninety-second Regiment Vol. Infantry.—One flag, embroidered with the name of the regiment and the words "Excelsior Rifle Blue."

Ninety-fifth Regiment Vol. Infantry.—One flag, National silk, silver band on staff. Bears this inscription: "95th Regiment N. Y. S. V. Presented by the city of New York."

Ninety-seventh Regiment Vol. Infantry—One flag. Presented to the regiment by the ladies of Boonville, and has been carried in the battles of Cedar Mountain, Rappahannock Station, Thoroughfare Gap, second Bull Run, Chantilly, South Mountain, Antietam, Fredericksburgh, Chancellorsville and Gettysburg.

Ninety-eighth Regiment Vol. Infantry—One flag. National, silk, worn ; bearing the name of the regiment in gilt letters.

One Hundred and First Regiment Vol. Infantry—One flag. National flag, silk, much faded and worn.

The regiment participated in the battles of Seven Pines, Peach Orchard, Savage Station, Chickahominy Swamp, White Oak Swamp, Charles City Cross-roads, Malvern Hill, Groveton, Bull Run (2d), Chantilly and Fredericksburgh.

One Hundred and Second Regiment Vol. Infantry—One flag. National flag, silk, inscribed with the words : " Cedar Mountain, The Rappahannock, White Sulphur Springs, Antietam."

One Hundred and Fourth Regiment Vol. Infantry—One flag. Banner, silk, rich, embroidered shield. The words " Wadsworth Guard, 104th Regiment, N. Y. S. V." Was presented to the 104th Regiment (Wadsworth Guard); by Mrs. General James S. Wadsworth, in April, 1862, and was carried through the campaign of 1862, under Pope and McClellan ; and in 1863, on the march into Maryland and Pennsylvania.

One of the bearers was severely wounded at South Mountain, and another at Antietam. At Gettysburg, seven of the sergeants and color guard were killed or wounded in sustaining them, and the corporal who took the national flag being in danger of capture, tore the flag from the staff and stamped it into the ground to conceal it from the enemy's notice. This flag was barely saved by great vigilance.

One Hundred and Thirteenth Regiment Vol. Infantry (7th Artillery)—One flag. Banner, silk, rich, with name of regiment and the United States arms and motto painted on each side.

One Hundred and Fifteenth Regiment Vol. Infantry—Two flags.
(A.)—National flag, silk ; no staff ; much tattered ; three-fifths gone ; lower third of union wanting ; lower half and end of stripes gone.

(B.)—Regimental banner ; no staff ; rent in center ; torn from side to side, across end furthest from staff, at a distance of seven or eight inches from the end; eagle and shield in center, with national motto in scroll beneath, and thirty-four stars in field above. It bears the inscription "115th N. Y. Vol. Regiment Infantry" in scroll.

These flags were presented to the regiment by the citizens of Fonda, N. Y. At Harper's Ferry (September, 14, 1862,) they were with the regiment, but were concealed by a lady who carried them under her garments, and returned them to the regiment after its parole. Subsequently they were in the following engagements: Olustee, Fla.; Chester Heights, Drury's Bluff, Cold Harbor, Petersburg Mine, Deep Bottom, and Fort Fisher.

One Hundred and Twenty-eighth Regiment Vol. Infantry—One flag. Banner, silk; much worn; name of regiment painted on.

One Hundred and Thirtieth-Regiment Vol. Infantry—One flag. Regimental banner, silk, painted with United States arms and motto. On the 11th day of August, 1863, this regiment was changed to the 19th N. Y. Cavalry, and since September 10th, 1863, it has been known as the First Regiment of Dragoons, New York State Volunteers. These colors were borne by the regiment only during its services as an infantry organization.

One Hundred and Forty-third Regiment Vol. Infantry—Two flags.

(A.)—Regimental banner, silk, embroidered on both sides with the state motto and military arms, and the words "Sullivan County"; and also the words, "Presented by the citizens of Sullivan County, Oct. 1862."

(B.)—National flag, silk; worn. Inscribed as follows: "Nansemond, May 30, 1863;" "Look Out Valley, October 28 and 29, 1863;" "Chattanooga, November 23, 24 and 25, 1863;" "Relief of Knoxville, November 29 and December 16, 1863." The belt attached was used by the color bearer.

One Hundred and Forty-sixth Regiment Vol. Infantry—One flag. Regimental banner, silk, with arms of United States painted; without staff.

One Hundred and Forty-eighth Regiment Vol. Infantry.—Regimental banner, silk; outside end of flag ragged and fringe gone; staff broken near spear head and strengthened with splints; eagle with national motto in scroll ; stars in field over the eagle. Inscribed, "148th N. Y. Vol. Regiment Infantry" in scroll beneath.

One Hundred and fifty-first Regiment Vol. Infantry—Two flags.

(A.)—Banner, with United States arms and motto painted upon each side.

(B.)—National, silk, four-fifths gone.

(A.)—Regimental banner, with the United States arms and motto.

One Hundred and seventy-seventh Regiment Vol. Infantry—Two flags.

(A.)—Regimental banner, silk, much worn.

(B.)—The national flag, silk, part wanting ; was received by the regiment while stationed at Bonnet Carrè, La., from Mrs. Merrihew, the wife of an officer of the regiment.

Flag of the ——— Regiment. This was brought from the battle field of Fair Oaks, by the color bearer, who was wounded. He found his way to the hospital at Savage's Station, and concealed the flag under his clothing. It escaped the notice of his captors, and was finally brought off by a surgeon who was allowed to return home without being searched.

Flag of the Tenth Regiment U. S. Infantry. This regiment was raised in New York and New Jersey, for the Mexican war, and commanded by Col. Robert E. Temple, subsequently adjutant general of the state of New York. This flag was presented by ladies of Albany to the regiment.

CAVALRY.

Cavalry Standard—Regiment unknown ; gilt stars, torn across from the staff through the body of the eagle to the outer fringe.

Fifth N. Y. S. V. Cavalry—Guidon, silk. This guidon was presented to the regiment by the city of New York, in January, 1864, and was carried in the following engagements ; Battles of the Wilderness, Po River, Bowling Green, Hanover Court House, Ashland, Wilson's Raid, Ream's Station, Winchester, Fisher's Hill (back road), Cedar Creek, Nov. 12, (back road,) and Cedar Creek, Oct. 19, 1864. Inscription : "N. Y. S. V. 5th Cavalry."

Twenty-fourth Cavalry (dismounted)—Battle flag; all gone but the fringe, and a few tatters hanging from the staff. It was carried through the battles of the Wilderness, Chancellorsville, Spottsylvania C. H., Fredericksburgh, Cold Harbor, Petersburg, June 17 and 18, and July 30; Yellow Tavern, Aug. 19; Weldon Railroad, Poplar Grove Church, Boynton Plank Road, and in every general engagement of Gen. Grant's Army, since it crossed the Rapidan.

ARTILLERY.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

The officers of the following companies have granted valuable favors to the agents of this Bureau, in many instances enabling them to visit towns, cities and counties for statistics, when, had not this been done, the limited means applicable to traveling expenses, would have prevented such visits. This acknowledgment is, therefore, particularly due.

Railroads—the New York Central, New York and Erie, Hudson River, Harlem, Albany and Susquehanna, Saratoga and Whitehall, Rensselaer and Saratoga, Troy and Boston, and Western Vermont.

The following Hudson river steamboat companies have been equally generous: the People's Line, the proprietors of the Vibbard and Drew.

CLERKS OF BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

These officials have rendered no little assistance in communicating with boards of supervisors and in furnishing information to the Bureau. They have also supplied its library with the annual reports of proceedings of supervisors.
