WESLEYAN PRAYER MEETING every week day morning at 8 o'clock in the Session room of the First Presbyterian Church, corner Church and Baldwin streets. All are invited to attend.

Elmira commemorated the victories recently achieved by our brave armies last evening by a grand parade and speeches in the public park, and later in the evening by a grand Firemen's torch-light procession.

About 6½ o'clock the various fire companies formed in front of the Court House, and headed by Updegraff's Band proceeded up to Church-st., when, soon after, everything being pronounced in readiness, the whole took up the line of march; after the fire companies, Pier's Band, followed by the village trustees and citizens and guests from abroad, walking three and four abreast, and a squad of Sprague's Cavalry on foot, and a long line of carriages filled with discharged sick and wounded soldiers, a large number from the hospital at this rendezvous being allowed to participate in the ceremonies. Their bleached faces, the air of suffering endured, and the maimed limbs only reminded too deeply of the sacrifices and human afflictions wrought by our unholy war. The route of march was down Church to Conongua, thence to Water, up Water to Main to the Park, the roar of cannon at frequent intervals, the shouts of the multitudes and the thronged streets adding to the joy and enthusiasm. After the Committee of Arrangements and Speakers had taken their places on the stand, some delay ensued while waiting for the Presiding Officer, the interval being enlivened by music from the Bands, after which PHILLO JONES called the assembly to order and announced that Rev. Mr. HERMANS would lead in prayer. After the address to the Throne of Grace, the first speaker was called upon, Maj. A. S. DIVEN, then in order, Rev. A. C. GEORGE, Rev. T. C. LINCOLN, JOHN MURDOCH, CHARLES HULETT and GEORGE S. MELLVILLE, the Bands furnishing their usual excellent music between the speeches. Col. HOFFMAN now ascended the stand and announced the route of the torch-light procession, and invited all citizens to join in and bear a hand at carrying two hundred extra torches which the Firemen could not use.—The procession was soon under way, in the same order as it marched to the Park, and proceeding down Main, through Water to College Avenue and up to West Union, down to Main, thence to Church, down Church to High, along High to Water, over the Lake-st. Bridge, along South Water to South Main, over the Main-st. Bridge, along Water to Lake to the point of starting and then disbanded. The houses along the route were for the most part illuminated. We noticed beautiful transparencies at Rev. Mr. LINCOLN's, Dr. J. CONKEY's and D. T. DUNN's, while the brilliant lights from foundation to dome rendered the display magnificent from a large number of residences. Flags also formed many beautiful and appropriate adornments. In the business part of the town, the display from the Brainard House, KELLOGG & HEVENER's Drug Store, the Press office and THOMAS JOHNSON's new store was very fine. The whole three stories front of the latter was illuminated, while a beautiful transparency was placed over the entrance with the motto, "Our Country forever; American Watches and Sewing Machines."

We were pleased to notice a large number of citizens present from adjoining towns. No better indication of the spirit of the occasion could have been given than in the three hearty cheers which went up from the great audience, making the whole welkin ring, after the closing of the speeches and as the processoin broke up. It was a magnificent fete and gala time for Elmira, while rejoicing over our National victories.

MAJOR A. S. LEE AMONG THE WOUNDED.

—The Elmira Press says: "We are much pained to learn that Major Arthur S. Lee, of the 2d U. S. Infantry, and who so long and honorably filled the station of mustering and disbursing officer at this Military Depot, was wounded in the ankle during the recent battles at Gettysburg.—We sincerely hope that the Major may not be kept long out of saddle."

NEW YORK VOLUNTEERS.—The Elmira Advertiser says that about five hundred men are now quartered at the military depot in that village. The arrival of companies and parts of companies is now quite frequent, and it will undoubtedly be but a short time before the number of troops there will be counted by thousands.

From the Western Rendezvous, ELMIRA, May 1.

Gen. Van Valkenburgh and Assistant Quartermaster-General Walker are busily at work day and night, preparing accommodations for volunteer companies ordered to rendezvous at this military depot.

Four companies from Auburn, one from Oswego, and one from Seneca Falls are quartered here. It is thought that by Monday or Tuesday the number of troops here will be increased to 3,000.

Comfortable accommodations have been fitted up for the 74th Regiment of Buffalo, which is expected on Friday.

The extensive barracks for additional troops will be commenced to-morrow, and finished in time for the Rochester and Syracuse Regiments, expected within a few days.

Three companies have been raised here, and accepted. They will be mustered into service this week.

Ten thousand dollars have been raised for the families of volunteers.

THE WICKED FLEE WHEN NO MAN PURSUETH.—This truth was verified a few evenings since in our village. One of our citizens whose conscience perhaps convicts him, for his agency in the troubles which now afflict the country, was wending his way through Railroad street towards Water at a late hour. Walking in the middle of the street with cautious tread and suspicious manner, his mind busy in conjuring up "spooks" and imaginary robbers, his conduct excited the suspicion of the night watchmen and by them he was narrowly watched. The person alluded to, walked slowly and timidly peering into the darkness, as if to escape observation. Suddenly when near the corner of Cross-st, he was confronted in imagination by an army of hobgoblins. He turned and ran with the speed of a deer towards the Depot, and turning into one of the cross streets, pursued his way toward Baldwin-st. This last movement satisfied the watchman, that there was some dishonest project on foot, and like a faithful officer as he is, concluded it was his duty to arrest the suspicious personage. Giving immediate chase he overhauled his customer near the Post Office, and seizing him by the collar demanded the reason of his strange conduct. An explanation was given, which was so strange as to be unsatisfactory until another officer came up when a recognition took place and the frightened, timid individual was allowed to depart. His imagination had conjured up rioters and assassins in every stone and object by the wayside, until he was nearly beside himself with fright.

GEN. QUINBY AT ELMIRA.—The Elmira Advertiser announces that Gen. Quinby is in Elmira to take command of the conscript camp at that place.

Knocked Down.

The Democratic Era, a copperhead journal published at Belmont, says "A prominent Republican in Cuba was slightly knocked down a couple of times the other night, by a returned soldier for his abuse of McClellan."

All abusers and defamers of our military men, as well as the copperheads who slander every loyal man, whether of the military or of the Government, will do well to haul in their horns, and make themselves scarce, when returned soldiers are around. One of these returned soldiers, a stranger in this locality, a few mornings since knocked down a copperhead at the depot in this village, for his abuse of Gen. HOOKER. A day or two after, some four of the returned soldiers from this village took a ride to Almond. While there the copperheads improved the opportunity to insult the soldiers, and one of them to add to the insult, repeatedly announced himself a copperhead; whereupon one of them, (Brewer COLLIER) struck the fellow a severe blow over the head with a chair, laying him out sprawling. We do not feel disposed to encourage these summary facts of the soldiers, but if disloyal men feel disposed to make themselves conspicuous by their insults and treasonable abuses, they need not expect to escape merited consequences.

TUESDAY OCTOBER 29, 1861.

LOCAL AND MISCELLANEOUS NEWS.

GRAND REVIEW.—IMPOSING MILITARY ARRAY.—FOUR THOUSAND TROOPS IN LINE.—Pursuant to order of Brigadier General VAN VALKENBURGH, the review and parade of the Regiment at this rendezvous took place yesterday. It was propitious day. The weather cool and bracing with a clear, bright October sun—it was a fortunate day for the manœuvring of the troops—and the immense concourse of people assembled to witness the ceremonies.

THE REVIEW.

Precisely at two o'clock all the Regiments had arrived on the grounds at Barracks number three. The fence west of the Barracks had been removed, giving ample space for the marching of the troops. Col. THOMAS J. PARKER, commander of the parade, immediately on the arrival of the Regiments, formed them into line of battle, the line extending half a mile in length—presenting a magnificent appearance—and such an array of soldiers, and the “pomp and circumstance of war,” as never before witnessed in Western New York. General VAN VALKENBURGH accompanied by his Staff reviewed the line, passing round in front and rear, after which the troops paraded around the General and Staff.

THE MARCH.

The line of march was then taken under command of Colonel PARKER, of the 64th Regiment, in the following order:

Brigadier General R. B. VAN VALKENBURGH.

STAFF.

Colonel H. S. Fairchild, of the 54th Regiment, N. Y. S. M.

Lieutenant Colonel Arden, of Major General Morgan's Staff.

Captain A. T. Lee, of the 8th Infantry, U. S. A.

Major G. L. Smith.

Major Wm. H. Gregg.

Captain E. P. Graves.

Captain Ira Davenport, Jr..

Adjutant Wm. Rumsey, 1st Artillery, N. Y. V.

Band.

REGIMENTS.

Col. G. D. Bailey, Artillery Regiment, on the right

Col. B. P. Bailey, “Steuben Rangers.”

Col. T. J. Parker, 64th Regiment N. Y. S. M.

Col. Uriah L. Davis, Lieut. Colonel Belknap in command.

Col. John C. Robie, “Dickinson Guards.”

Col. J. C. Lemon, “Porter Guard Cavalry.”

The unattached companies at Barracks No. 2, on the left, under command of Capt. J. A. Reynolds.

In this order the column moved through the principal streets of the city, which were everywhere thronged with people—ladies and gentleman, children on foot and in arms, horses and wagons mixed up promiscuously. It was as lively as in State Fair days. The ladies waved handkerchiefs and the soldiers responded with hearty cheers. The troops bore themselves handsomely in their various evolutions, and exhibited much proficiency in drill considering the short time they have been under military discipline. It was the greatest military display ever witnessed in this section of the State, and the largest body of men moved in battle array here, since General SULLIVAN's army passed through the Chemung Valley in pursuit of Indians nearly a century ago.

—Col. PARKER conducted the parade in a manner reflecting much credit on him as a soldier and officer. If a trial of his abilities are ever brought to a test on the field of battle, we have faith to believe that he will prove himself equal to any emergency. Without appearing invidious we might say that the noble bearing and soldierly appearance of some of the officers excited the admiration of the people—especially of Capt. LEE, Col. ARDEN, old army officers, and Col. BAILEY, of the Steuben Rangers, with his silver gray locks, and Colonel BAILEY, of the Artillery, on his splendid black charger.

—Everything passed off successfully and harmoniously during the parade, notwithstanding the great crowd of people rushing to and fro to see everything going on at once.

ARRIVALS AT THE SOLDIERS' HOME IN ELMIRA.
 —The following named soldiers have arrived at the home for sick and wounded soldiers in Elmira: G. B. Dippy, Co. B, 138th N. Y., from Dansville; E. McIntel, Co. K, 1st N. Y. Battery, Albion; J. McIntyre, Co. D, 8th N. Y. Cavalry, Geneva.

IMPORTANT MILITARY ARRIVALS FROM ELMIRA.—Two detachments of military arrived in this city last evening about eight o'clock, over the New York and Erie Rail Road, from Elmira. The first was the Invalid Corps, numbering 274 men, in command of Major G. S. Jennings, and composed principally of men formerly of Gen. Rosencrans army. The following are the officers accompanying the corps :
 Adjutant Frank D. Garrity, formerly of 15th Kentucky.
 Co. A.—Capt. Hiram Yoho, 35th Ill. ; Lieut. Bowers, 35th N. Y.
 Co. B.—Capt. Henry H. Reed, 35th Ill.
 Co. C.—Capt. Thompson, 105th Pa. ; Lieut. Rowe, 4th Mich.
 Co. D.—Capt. Culver, 49th Ohio ; Lieut. Dart, 4th Pa. Cavalry.
 The corps bore with them their arms and all their accoutrements of warfare. The other detachment was a company of cavalry, under command of Capt Morgan, and numbering 90 men. They bore with them their sabres, and will be equipped with the inevitable rifle at this place. They formed in line on Exchange Street after debarking, and afterwards marched up Exchange to Main, and up Main to the front of the Provost Marshal's office where they were brought to a halt. They were then marched to Fort Porter, where they will remain as Provost Guard during the draft. Of the men constituting the force we must say that they presented all the appearance of veterans which they really are.
